John Sorum of 2194 Novato Boulevard, Novato, cradles 14-year-old Winifred Pritchard of 25 San Joaquin Place, Novato, in his arms after removing her from overturned car in which she and two other teenagers were injured at 6:40 p.m. yesterday. Sorum ran to the crash scene at Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue, near his home. Car driven by Gregory C. Edward, 16, of 2385 Dominic Drive, Novato, missed curve, took out 50 feet of wooden fence and turned end-over-end. California Highway Patrol said it was third accident on or near Eucalyptus Avenue Bridge this week. Edwards was unhurt, but Winifred; her sister Lynn, 15, and Robert Pratt, 16, of 16 St. Johns Court, Novato, were treated for cuts and bruises at Novato General Hospital. Coup, Counter-Coup Create Indonesian Palace Confusion

Mystery Strong-Man Claims Foiling U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Indonesian Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution has crushed an uprising against President Sukarno and both he and Sukarno are safe and well, Radio Jakarta reported Friday night (Jakarta time.)

The broadcast announcement came a few hours after a revolutionary council led by Lt. Col. Untung, a battalion commander in Sukarno's bodyguard, announced it had seized power and proclaimed itself "the source of all authority."

The Malaysian government radio in Kuala Lumpur, which has been monitoring Jakarta broadcasts, said army units under Gen. Suharto, loyal to Sukarno and Nasution, were instrumental in smashing Untung's power move.

All conflict evidently had not ended. Radio Jakarta said the fighting spread to central Java and the Indonesian army command called on its forces to resist the rebels.

The Jakarta Radio said "those responsible for the coup have been arrested," Malaysian officials reported.

Untung's revolutionary council, during its bid for supremacy, had declared that Sukarno, 64, was "under protection" of the council. This led to speculation that the strongman had been removed. There was no immediate report of Sukarno's whereabouts.

Untung, in a broadcast before the government's countermove, had said he took the action because a number of generals and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency had planned an anti-Sukarno coup.

Radio Jakarta at that time appeared to have been under his control.

An earlier broadcast by Radio Jakarta announced formation of a new, 45-member cabinet laced with perhaps a dozen Communists, but D.N. Aidit, leader of Indonesia's 3 million-member Communist party, was not on the list.

The revolutionary council said it had arrested a number of generals.

Kuala Lumpur radio monitors said Nasution and Suharto, using the crack Siliwangi division, captured the Jakarta government radio station after some fighting.

The Siliwangi division played a major role in putting down rebellions by army colonels in Sumatra in 1958. It recently moved into the city, ostensibly to take part in the armed forces day observances next Tuesday. Untung charged in one broadcast that army generals planned to seize the government before armed forces day.

The Jakarta broadcast anoucing Nasution's victory also said Maj. Gen. Achmad Yani, army commander, and five other loyal generals had been captured by Untung's forces and

CREDIT CARD USE SNAG IS REVEALED

Officials Unsure Which County Employees Are Using Cards; Thorough Checking Due

BY RICHARD LYTTLE

Some Marin County employees hold county gasoline credit cards, and those responsible for keeping track of the cards do not know for sure who holds them.

All cards may be cancelled and new ones issued to tighten controls.

County Garage Supt. Mario T. Balestrieri said today that Shell Oil cards with no cancellation date were out among some employees before he took over his job two years ago.

The county also uses Standard Oil Co. cards. These have a cancellation date and Balestrieri knows who holds the few he has permanently assigned. The sheriff's office has four, two for investigation and two for transportation of prisoners. All other Standard cards are distributed only on a temporary basis for special trips, Balestrieri said.

Though he cannot account for all the Shell cards, the Shell stations get little use, according to Mrs. La Verne Robinson, supervisor of accounting services in the department of public works.

She and Balestrieri are responsible for the credit cards. She has assigned only five on a permanent basis.

LARGEST AREA

Storer, who represents the Fourth District, the largest in area, makes by far the most use of his credit card.

Lindelli uses his only in the winter when called out on emergency road or drainage problems. This comes to about five times a month during the winter at the most, Mrs. Robinson said.

Frost uses his about twice a month during the winter, also when called out on night emergencies, she said. Knutson, who holds both Standard and Shell cards said he used one of them just once during the year and is thinking of turning both cards in to Mrs. Robinson.

TOTAL PURCHASE

Storer, the only supervisor assigned a permanent card, has used it 35 times from January to the end of the last billing period in August, according to public works records. This amounted to purchase of a total $155.36 in gasoline.

He has made purchases with the card while on trips in his county car to a Redwood Empire Assn. meeting in Grants Pass, Ore., to a California Supervisor's Assn. meeting in

District Attorney Bares Twisted Trail Leading To Slaying Charge

By ROSS DAVIS

The "break" in the slaying case of San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari came about in a vague chain of information and a solid jolt of luck, it was revealed today.

The series of events, starting with a conversation by a San Rafael businessman with a district attorney's investigator in the child support division, resulted in filing of murder charges against two former prison parolees, Jack Gorman, 36, and Marc Charles Osuna, 30.

Both were scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the businessman, who wished to remain unidentified, first approached Lee Ahern of the child support division about two days after the Labor Day slaying of Ferrari at Mission Inn in San Rafael.

The man named two persons he believed were involved, and who had left Marin County for San Jose.

Bales said the information was given in such a manner that even the San Rafael Police Department was not notified. He said he put his own investigators on the matter.

The pair—both associated with a Hell's Angels motorcycle group—were located.

Both denied any connection, Bales said, but one said he might obtain information. He returned shortly afterward and provided the name of a man who had reportedly been involved in an attempt to obtain weapons.

Bales said this man, in turn, was quizzed by his investigators and provided names of ex-convicts residing in Halfway House in San Francisco, an establishment which helps former inmates in rehabilitation.

At this point, the district attorney said, San Rafael police were advised of developments and telephoned the San Francisco house, requesting several residents, including the persons named, to appear in San Rafael for a "line-up."

Among those coming to the line-up was Harold Frank Percell, 24, a parolee whose later

Girl In Labor Day Slaying Was Friend Of Owner

Mystery of a young girl, key witness in the Labor Day slaying at Mission Inn in San Rafael, was partially dispelled today by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

He declined to name her, but said the 20-year-old brunette was a friend of Leo Albertoni, 49-year-old owner of the inn, and has been grilled several times by his investigators and by San Rafael police.

Bales said the Marin County girl, who once was placed in a San Francisco home as a runaway, had prior knowledge of the Mission Inn's operation, its safe which the robber-killers attempted to have Albertoni open, and the bar's receipts and operation.

However, he said evidence is that the girl did not participate in the crime, and no charge is planned against her.

He said she will be a key witness in trial of Jack Gorman and Marc Charles Osuna, both of whom she knew prior to the killing of bartender Mario Ferrari.

State Department Denies CIA Plot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today denied charges that the Central Intelligence Agency was involved in the Indonesian government upheaval.

Telephones Link French, U.S. Aquanauts

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Aquanauts 205 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean today completed a historic underwater telephone conversation with six men submerged 330 feet in the Mediterranean Sea.

The call took place between the 10 aquanauts of Sealab 2, submerged off the coast here, and the "oceanauts" in Jacques Consteau's diving bathyscaph who have been living underwater in Monte Carlo Harbor since Sept. 17 at a depth of 330 feet.

The call, placed through the Benthic Communications Laboratory, was a three way conversation between the oceanauts, the aquanauts and Sealab medical officer Capt. George Bond and astronaut - aquanaut M. Scott Carpenter on the surface.

Carpenter returned to the surface last weekend after spending 30 consecutive days underwater in the Sealab.

Grape Festival Set For Day In Fairfax

It's festival time again in Marin.

Tomorrow the 66th anual Sunny Hills Grape Festival will transform the grounds of Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax into an old-fashioned country fair swarming with thousands of festival goers from all over the Bay Area.

Gates will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

More than 1,000 members of the 38 Sunny Hills guilds have been working the year around making their traditional products of straw, felt, ceramics, plastics and any material that stimulates the imagination.

Mrs. Ernest Guy, Grape Festival chairman, said moving to the new location at Marin Town and Country Club presented problems, "but with the help of the Seabees and Marin's Marines, we were able to have booths transported to the grounds and constructed ready to occupy."

The colorful booths will accommodate 64 different features sponsored by Sunny Hills guilds, Junior Auxiliary and various community organizations.

Some of the products featured are: knitted articles by Belvedere Guild 1, items made of straw by Belvedere Guild 3, Children's room accessories by Belvedere Guild 5, decorative articles of plastic crystals by Belveron Gardens Guild, dolls by Hilldale Guild, paper and oriental goods by Kent Woodlands Guild, Children's room accessories made of felt by Lucas Valley Guild, Christmas decorations by Marinwood Guild, straw hats by Roos-Brookwood Guild, aprons and pot holders by Ross Valley Guild, Togs for Tots by

Cambodia Condemns U.N. But Says It Won't Walk Out

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Cambodia announced today it is withdrawing from all but nominal participation in the work of the United Nations.

Cambodian Ambassador Huot Sambath said in a speech to the General Assembly that his government has become disillusioned with the United Nations. He said the U.N. "no longer corresponds to the great hopes we placed in the organization."

"Cambodia does not intend to leave the United Nations," he declared. "We still have hopes that wisdom will prevail. But we are conscious of our powerlessness.

"After stating our point of view, we shall sit in the General Assembly but shall not take part in its commissions, its committees or accept any post suggested to us."

Today, Sambath renewed his government's bitter attacks on the United States and Thailand and appealed once again for U.N. recognition of Communist China. He said the presence of Nationalist China here was "an absurdity."

The United States —not Communist China —is an aggressive power, he asserted.

Five Executed In Market Place

SAIGON (UPI)—Five Vietnamese criminals not identified with the Viet Cong were executed by a firing squad today. It was presumed the Communists would not use the occasion for reprisal slayings of U. S. war prisoners.

The five were put to death in the Central Market Place in downtown Saigon. They had been convicted of such crimes as murder, rape and robbery but were not known to be members of the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong early this week announced they had executed two American prisoners of war in reprisal for the execution last week in Da Nang of three Viet Cong agents.

More than 300 white-uniformed police and army troops surrounded the market place, ringed with shops and stalls.

Special Mass Set

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council today ordered a special Mass in St. Peter's Basilica for the success of Pope Paul's mission to the United Nations.

Soldier Injured In Bolinas Crash

Pvt. Robert P. Kyllo, 18, stationed at Fort Ord, suffered multiple cuts and bruises at 4:30 p.m. yesterday when his motorcycle crashed on Shoreline Highway at Mesa, Road, Bolinas, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Kyllo told the patrol he was traveling south from Oregon en route to Fort Ord when his motorcycle went off the pavement on a curve, skidded in the gravel and crashed.

He was in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital.

Taal Volcano Shows Signs Of Erupting

MANILA (UPI) — Scientists today detected new alarming signs from Taal Volcano as rescue teams pressed ahead with the grim task of recovering victims of last Tuesday's violent eruption.

There were conflicting reports of casualties. The official tally from government relief agencies stood at 150 confirmed dead. But scattered field reports from police said 589 bodies had been recovered.

Officials in Batangas province estimated that at least 2,000 persons died.

A UPI team flew over the volcano this morning and spotted smoke pouring from the rim of the main crater for the first time. The Tuesday eruption came from a new crater on the southwest corner of Taal Island.

The weather bureau's geophysical observatory confirmed that smoke has been detected for the first time in the main crater. It also said two minor tremors were recorded last night and early today.

Chief Vulcanologist Arturo Alcaraz, who has been conducting regular ground and aerial surveys around the volcano for the past three days, said the danger of new and deadlier eruptions remained.

Farm Bureau To Fete Teachers

The combined Tomales-Novato center of the Marin County Farm Bureau will hold its annual dinner welcoming new teachers at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the cafeteria at Tomales High School.

This dinner to welcome teachers of Tomales Bay and Tomales High School Districts has been an annual affair of the Tomales center of the Farm Bureau. The Novato center has been combined with the Tomales center.

Guide Dogs for the Blind will present a program after the dinner.

Castro Repeats Open Exit Claim

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro said today he was throwing exit gates from his Communist island completely open and challenged the United States to cooperate through diplomatic channels.

The Cuban prime minister said he would let anyone on the island leave for exile after Oct. 10—a considerably broader offer than the one he made Tuesday.

Castro's promise Tuesday to lift Cuba's sugar cane curtain involved only relatives of persons already living in the United States.

While some dinosaurs were vegetarians others were considered the most vicious meat eaters that ever roamed the earth.

McNamara Cuts Down Army Reserve

WASHINGTON — The organized Army Reserve faced a bleak future today under the Pentagon's plan to bring to combat readiness 145,000 citizen soldiers for possible duty in Viet Nam.

To carry out the new plan, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced yesterday that he had ordered the dissolution of 751 Army Reserve units—including all six of the Reserve's infantry divisions — containing 55,000 men.

He said the "high priority" units selected for intensive training will comprise 135,000 men from the National Guard and only 15,000 from the organized Reserve.

Thus, in effec, what McNamara did was to push ahead with a plan Congress refussd to approve under his proposed merger of the Reserves and the National Guard. Congress rejected this on grounds it should not be carried out in the midst of an emergency such as the Viet Nam war.

But he told his news conference that the new plan was different in that no merger of units is involved. In addition, he said, key members of Congress approved the action in advance.

He got support for this stand from Chairman F. Edward Herbert, D-La., of the House armed services reserves subcommittee. Hebert, issued a statement saying "the action now being taken by the department is within its statutory authority and under the law does not require further congressional action."

The men of the 751 Army Reserve units ordered dissolved now can join other Reserve units or the National Guard. If they don't do either, they will lose their drill pay, which amounts to about six weeks' worth of the pay they would draw at their rank in the regular Army.

A total of 982 units were designated for accelerated training. This involves 72 two-hour drills a year instead of the present 48.

Among units affected is the 63rd reserved division in California.

Treaty For Salt

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Nepal has signed a three-year agreement with India under which India will supply Nepal with 55,000 tons of salt per year.

President Asks New Look At World Monetary System

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told finance ministers and central bankers from scores of countries today "the international monetary system merits a new and imaginative look" to improve the system of currency reserves.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Johnson noted that other countries for nearly 20 years have been increasing their reserves at the expense of the United States—because of large annual deficits in the U.S. balance of payments position.

"The long period of large U.S. deficits has come to an end," Johnson said. "If growth is to continue and trade is to expand, we must provide an effective and adequate substitute."

Turning to another subject, Johnson urged that the World Bank and IMF consider the possibility of joining an American-initiated attempt to combat ignorance and illiteracy throughout the world—a plan Johnson will send to Congress next year.

Heavy Bloodshed In Viet Delta Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Government troops killed at least 68 Viet Cong guerilllas in all-night fighting in the Communist-dominated Mekong Delta 50 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The estimated 1,500 Vietnamese troops attacked a force of almost 1,000 guerrillas yesterday and chased them across the delta rice paddies until early this morning, the spokesman said.

The Communists left 68 bodies behind and may have carried off scores of other dead and wounded. Government casualties were "light," the spokesman said.

Strategic Air Command (SAC) B-52 bombers based on Guam meanwhile attacked a suspected Viet Cong concentration 320 miles northeast of Saigon around noon today. It was the 36th mission of the war for the big U.S. bombers.

The Viet Cong may have been trying to move men and equipment in the area at the time of the attack, the U.S. spokesman said.

Other U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew support for the operation in the delta. A U.S. spokesman disclosed earlier today that two Air Force jets had been shot down yesterday over Communist North Viet Nam, one of them presumably by a Soviet-supplied surface-to-air missile.

If true, it would mark the fourth American plane brought down by one of the missiles known to be in North Vietanamese hands.

Two License Plates Stolen

Thefts of two rear car license plates have been reported in Tiburon.

Mrs. Charles F. Hochgesang of 46 Lower North Terrace reported Wednesday the theft of the rear license plate stolen from her 1962 Oldsmobile parked at her home.

The same day, Ruth A. Levin of 2211 Mar East Street, reported the rear license plate missing from her 1961 Plymouth parked at her home.

High, Low

NEW YORK (UPI) —The highest temperature reported to the U.S. Weather Bureau yesterday, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 95 degrees at Clewiston, Fla., Thermal, and Monterey, Calif. Lowest temperature reported today was 28 degrees at Zuni, N.M., Ely, Reno and Elko, Nev., and Old Town, Maine.

Tuberculin Tests Given Parochial Pupils, Faculty

Of 322 children tuberculin tested this week in Mill Valley's Mount Carmel Parochial School, the one recorded reaction is believed because of prior medication to be a "false positive."

The Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. today reported the reactive child had been vaccinated as an infant with BCG, a vaccine widely used in other counties and one which causes a positive reaction to the tuberculin skin test.

Of the school's total enrollment of 369, only 47 were not tested or did not have tests read. The majority were absent, a few were reported by parents to be known reactors, and several had been tested within recent months.

Also tested were 54 adults who make up the school's full-time and volunteer staff. As of late yesterday, 11 positive reactions had been recorded and 16 tests were yet to be read.

The tests were given Monday by Dr. Patricia Hallinan, assistant county health officer, and Dr. Lorraine McBain. Reading was done yesterday by Dr. Hallinan and Mrs. June Nelson, Health Department clinic nurse.

Saigon Boss Launches 'New Society' Drive

SAIGON (UPI)—Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky today announced a government shakeup he said would bring a "new society" to Souh Viet Nam. He said the war was being won on the battlefield and efforts must be made to improve the lot of the peasant through "social revolution."

Ky named former Defense Minister Brig. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co to head a new "super ministry" of war and rural reconstruction. The bureau will send thousands of officials into the country side to try to win the loyalty of the peasants, who comprise 80 per cent of the population.

"The victory is now with us," Ky declared in reviewing the military situation. "Now, our new society should start with the poorest people."

Observers of the Vietnamese political scene believed Ky's blueprint for South Viet Nam was likely to win support from the people.

Reunion In Korea Marred By Tragedy

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Last week Sgt. 1.C. William F. Hays arrived here for duty with the U.S. Army advisory group in Korea. Thursday night he left aboard a U.S. military plane, accompanying the body of his son home.

His son, Sp. 4 John M. Hays, 20, drowned last weekend in Inchon harbor, 15 miles west of Seoul, while trying to help a stranded boat, a U.S. Army spokesman said.

This is an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

As you can see, this wagon is loaded with reasons for owning a Volkswagen Station Wagon.

There's too much stuff, and not enough wagon. Only about 85 cubic feet worth.

If you owned a box-shaped Volkswagen, you could take all that stuff off the roof and put it inside where it belongs.

The VW holds 170 cubic feet; about twice as much as most regular station wagons.

Which means you can seat 9 people and still have room for all their luggage. (All their luggage means 13 pieces. And you can load it through five big doors.)

Aside from capacity, you also get a sensible little engine that averages 23 miles on a gallon of regular.

And you never have to pay for antifreeze or radiator repair.

There isn't any radiator.

So every time they make a conventional station wagon, they also make an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

(Secretly, we wish them every success.)

$300,000 Settlement Ordered In Divorce

Janet Jones late yesterday was awarded both an interlocutory and final decree of divorce and a $300,000 settlement against her husband, San Leandro lighting fixture manufacturer Preston Jones.

She also was awarded custody of the son, Preston Daren Jones, 10, and $250 monthly support for the boy. Jones, 52, received "reasonable" visitation rights.

The divorce, granted by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner on grounds of extreme cruelty, ends a legal wrangle which came to trail last Dec. 1. The case involved charges of sexual promiscuity, use of private detectives and tape recorders, and allegations of "fanny pinching."

The settlement also awards Mrs. Jones, 42-year-old former airline stewardess, a half interest in the home at 16 Marina Way, San Rafael, all furnishings at the home, and a Pontiac Grand Prix automobile.

Jones keeps his businesses, retains half interest in a Squaw Valley cabin, and has ownership of The Crystal Bay Motel in Crystal Bay, Nev.

Judge Gardiner ordered Jones to pay federal and state income tax for both Jones and Mrs. Jones for the years, 1959-64; to pay her $70,000 attorney fees, $8,250 to a private detective, and about $80,000 in accounting costs and other expenses.

The couple wed Dec. 23, 1952, in Mexico. They separated in September, 1962.

Army Catches AWOL Soldier In Marin

An AWOL 17-year-old army private, who escaped yesterday from a work detail at the Presidio of San Francisco, was caught last evening when he jumped out a motel window in Stinson Beach.

Patrick Robert Johnson was back in confinement today at the Presidio.

Johnson was nabbed by officers of the Army's criminal investigation detachment as he left Apartment 2 of the Fern Motel at 5:25 p.m.

The private, who went AWOL from Fort Gordon, Ga., Sept. 10, then allegedly made his way across country, stealing two cars en route, walked away from the work detail in San Francisco at 8:40 a.m. yesterday.

He then walked two blocks and entered a house where he attempted to get some civilian clothing. However, a woman occupying the house discovered Johnson and, according to Sausalito police Lt. Ted Zink, "he took off running."

This was similar to the soldier's Sausalito escapade one week ago today.

He reportedly entered the home of Steven M. Ramsey, 214 Bulkley Avenue, and was caught by Mrs. Ramsey ransacking bedroom dresser drawers.

Questioned, he said "I live here" and that he was looking for some clothing. Mrs. Ramsey said the house was hers, whereupon he ran. He was caught by police shortly afterward at Bridgeway and Pine Street.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

CARDS

Ukiah, and to a junior supervisors' training session in North Sacramento.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who began investigating the situation after the Independent-Journal made inquiries, said that he has found no abuses of the credit card use, "but the operation definitely needs to be tightened up."

The investigation brought to light heavy increase in credit card use by the sheriff's office since the underground gasoline tank at the sheriff's parking area went out of service due to leaks early in June.

In the billing period generally covering the month of May, the sheriff's department used credit cards only 23 times. In the period covering June and July, this use rose to 177, Mrs. Robinson reported.

When gasoline is purchased at a service station, the county loses the advantage of its bulk rate price, plus paying 3 cents per gallon of federal tax not charged on the bulk purchases by the county.

Balestrieri said that a county credit card is now permanently located at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael for use of sheriff's cars.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen also drive unmarked county cars. Kettenhofen's car has been loaned to him for only a few weeks by the public works department, pending his purchase of another auto of his own.

Gnoss makes an effort to fill his tank only at the county garage. He will borrow a county credit card when making a trip out of county.

Supervisors have the option of either driving their own cars and collecting 8 cents a mile while on county business or of getting a county car.

Board members without county cars also receive $25 a month in addition to their $800 monthly salary for road inspection. This in theory, covers 250 miles at 10 cents a mile, Mitchell explained. Only when they travel more than 250 miles on county business in one month may they put in for additional mileage. This supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker have not done.

Actor Misses Date

Movie actor Brock Peters, scheduled to appear on Tamalpais High School campus to meet with students yesterday, did not show because of laryngitis. He plans to visit the school next Thursday.

Latin Americans Growl Over House 'Gunboat Policy'

Congressmen's Anti-Red Stand Stirs Ants' Nest Below Border

By DANIEL JAMES
Advance News Service

MEXICO CITY — No recent U. S. act, not even the Dominican intervention, has provoked such widespread indignation in Latin America as a House of Representatives resolution approving armed intervention in any hemispheric country threatened by communism.

Latin American parties and leaders of all shades of opinion, leading newspapers and some national legislatures have all strongly protested. They see in it an increasingly belligerent U. S. policy toward this region.

In Mexico, for example, four major newspapers all usually moderate and friendly toward the United States, published editorials on the same day condemning the House resolution passed Sept. 21.

Most Latin Americans are wondering, as one editorial asked, whether the United States is reverting to the hated Monroe Doctorine and accompanying gunboat diplomacy.

Respected and moderate Latin leaders appear taken aback by the House action. They realize it represents merely an expression of the House and is not an act of legislation. Nevertheless, they have the feeling that in some way it reflects administration thinking. There is a tendency here to associate the resolution with the "true sentiments" of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Moderates feel it cuts the ground out from under them, sinec it confirms in many Latin minds the frequent communist charge that the Yankees are at bottom imperialists and wish to ride roughshod over the southern

Possibly the strongest reaction has come, paradoxically, from two of the countries hardest pressed just now by communist guerrilla attacks and communist subversion in general—Peru and Colombia. The Peruvian Chamber of Deputies approved a formal protest. In Colombia, both houses of Congress did.

In Chile, the senators belonging to the dominant Christian Democratic Party also protested formally the House's "unusual resolution," and charged it was designed to torpedo the cherished Latin American principle of self-determination.

The nearest to an official Mexican reaction has come from former Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, who commands great influence in high councils as chairman of the Mexican senates foreign relations committee.

Tello issued a statement which constitutes a polite but strong repudiation of the American congressmen.

"We do not recognize unilateral intervention nor do we subscribe to the thesis that collective intervention is not intervention," it said.

Tello's statement was not only a slap at the House but also a reaffirmation of Mexico's opposition to a resolution passed at the 1961 conference held by the Organization of American States at Punta del Este, Uruguay. It authorized American nations to take action "for their individual or collective self-defense" against "threats or acts of aggression, subversion or other dangers to peace and security resulting from the continued intervention in this hemisphere of Sino-Soviet powers."

Had the House merely reiterated that resolution, some circles here believe, there would have been little outcry. But what galls so many Latins is that part of the U. S. Congress has given the impression of wanting to dictate what Latin America shall or shall not do—as if it owned this part of the world.

American officials here tend to consider the Latin reaction to the resolution as milder than expected but concede that if the 312 votes favoring it express an American consensus then Washington may be in for trouble.

It came at a time the White House is striving to patch up hemispheric relations tattered by the Dominican intervention.

The resolution, passed without debate, was introduced by Rep. Armistead I. Selden Jr., D-Ala., chairman of the House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee. Selden later stoutly defended the Johnson administration against the attack of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., on its Dominican role.

Trouble may occur at the frequently postponed OAS conference scheduled for Rio de Janeiro in a few weeks. Some Latin circles believe that the resolution may aggravate the schisms likely to appear there over the issue of the Dominican intervention.

Dragnet Out After Killing On Muni Bus

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police today pressed a widespread manhunt for a suspect in the shotgun death of a passenger aboard a crowded Municipal Railway bus.

An all-points bulletin was issued last night for David Hastings, 45, San Francisco. Officers said the suspect boarded a Haight Street bus near Scott Street about 6:30 p.m. carrying a 12-gauge shotgun.

Passengers said the man brushed past the driver, pointed the gun at the chest of Sammie Lee Brown, 42, San Francisco, and shouted, "I thought I told you to leave my wife alone."

Brown tried to push the weapon aside but his assailant yelled, "I'm tired of calling my wife and now I'm gonna shoot you." He pulled the trigger and the blast hit Brown in the chest.

Then the gunman ejected the shell on the floor, got off the bus and into a parked car and drove away.

Investigators said that earlier in the day Hastings had visited his estranged wife, Audrey, 27, at her residence.

He found her talking on the phone to Brown, became angered and left.

Mrs. Hastings told officers she saw her husband get a shotgun from his car. About 30 minues later, Brown left his apartment and went to the bus stop. He was apparently folowed by Hastings, Patrolman Harold Suslow said.

Judge Tells Why Bail Set In Theft Case

An 18-year-old Sausalito youth was free on only $550 bail set in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a grand theft complaint despite his already facing another felony charge — receiving stolen goods—filed just 10 days ago.

He had been released on his own recognizance on the first complaint, now pending entry of plea before the court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith, who set the $550 bail for Marc Torvend Ford of 405-A Pine Street, said today he was aware of the other felony charge at time of bail setting. But that purpose of bail is mainly to insure a defendant's appearance, rather than to penalize him for previous charges.

He admitted, however, that maybe he should have set a higher bail, $1,000 or $1,500, because bail setting also reflects a duty to protect the county's residents.

Ford and Wilbur John Lum, 19, of 126 Buchanan Street, Sausalito, are charged with theft of $337 cash from Marin Theater in Sausalito on Wednesday. Both were arraigned before Judge Smith yesterday. Ford is scheduled to enter plea Oct. 8. Lum was to plead this afternoon.

Lum is in county jail in lieu of $1,100 bail.

Bales said although none of the men in the line-up was identified or connected with the Mission Inn robbery-killing, Percell voluntarily admitted previous knowledge of the planned holdup—a statement Bales termed as sheer luck.

Osuna and Gorman were arrested shortly afterward.

Bales said today that on a basis of his own investigation of Percell's participation, he has no intention of filing a murder charge against him. He said he is convinced only Gorman and Osuna were actually involved.

Further investigation, however, will determine if any other charge is lodged against Percell, already found to be a parole violator, Bales said.

Purse Snatched, Airman Arrested

An 18-year-old airman was arrested on suspicion of strongarm robbery last night, 30 minutes after a San Rafael woman reported her purse snatched at F and Latham Streets.

A/3C Kyle Robertson Shakesnider Jr., was stopped by Novato police on Highway 101 at Vallejo Avenue at 11 p.m. as he returned to Hamilton Air Force Base.

The arrest was made at request of San Rafael police after Mrs. Lee Newman, 24 Latham Street, reported the theft of the purse containing an undetermined amount.

Shakesnider was booked at Marin County Jail later and no bail was fixed.

Bullet Wounds Stroke Victim

George Gotelli, 62, of 195 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, was listed in poor condition in Marin General Hospital today from a gun shot wound in his body which police said apparently was self-inflicted.

Gotelli suffered a stroke about 15 years ago which left him partly paralyzed and unable to speak.

Police said that after he was wounded early today, he managed to communicate with Mrs. Stella O'Brien, owner of the property, who called police.

$300,000 Settlement Ordered In Divorce

Janet Jones late yesterday was awarded both an interlocutory and final decree of divorce and a $300,000 settlement against her husband, San Leandro lighting fixture manufacturer Preston Jones.

She also was awarded custody of the son, Preston Daren Jones, 10, and $250 monthly support for the boy. Jones, 52, received "reasonable" visitation rights.

The divorce, granted by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner on grounds of extreme cruelty, ends a legal wrangle which came to trail last Dec. 1. The case involved charges of sexual promiscuity, use of private detectives and tape recorders, and allegations of "fanny pinching."

The settlement also awards Mrs. Jones, 42-year-old former airline stewardess, a half interest in the home at 16 Marina Way, San Rafael, all furnishings at the home, and a Pontiac Grand Prix automobile.

Jones keeps his businesses, retains half interest in a Squaw Valley cabin, and has ownership of The Crystal Bay Motel in Crystal Bay, Nev.

Judge Gardiner ordered Jones to pay federal and state income tax for both Jones and Mrs. Jones for the years, 1959-64; to pay her $70,000 attorney fees, $8,250 to a private detective, and about $80,000 in accounting costs and other expenses.

The couple wed Dec. 23, 1952, in Mexico. They separated in September, 1962.

Army Catches AWOL Soldier In Marin

An AWOL 17-year-old army private, who escaped yesterday from a work detail at the Presidio of San Francisco, was caught last evening when he jumped out a motel window in Stinson Beach.

Patrick Robert Johnson was back in confinement today at the Presidio.

Johnson was nabbed by officers of the Army's criminal investigation detachment as he left Apartment 2 of the Fern Motel at 5:25 p.m.

The private, who went AWOL from Fort Gordon, Ga., Sept. 10, then allegedly made his way across country, stealing two cars en route, walked away from the work detail in San Francisco at 8:40 a.m. yesterday.

He then walked two blocks and entered a house where he attempted to get some civilian clothing. However, a woman occupying the house discovered Johnson and, according to Sausalito police Lt. Ted Zink, "he took off running."

This was similar to the soldier's Sausalito escapade one week ago today.

He reportedly entered the home of Steven M. Ramsey, 214 Bulkley Avenue, and was caught by Mrs. Ramsey ransacking bedroom dresser drawers.

Questioned, he said "I live here" and that he was looking for some clothing. Mrs. Ramsey said the house was hers, whereupon he ran. He was caught by police shortly afterward at Bridgeway and Pine Street.

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

1:56 p.m., Tamalpais — Grass fire burned one-half acre at 1001 Erica Road; cause unknown.

2:12 p.m., Bolinas—Fire burned about 300 square feet of leaf mold under redwood trees at the roadside of Bolinas-Fairfax Road at Alpine Road intersection; cause unknown: county and Bolinas volunteers units responded.

3:33 p.m., San Rafael—Washdown of gasoline leaking from car owned by Vivien Washburn, 27 Sequoia Road, Fairfax, in front of 4 Laurel Place.

5:02 p.m., San Rafael—Grass fire burned spot at Nova Albion Way and Esmeyer Drive, started by 11-year-old boy.

5:06 p.m., Fairfax — County units put out smoldering dump site on the Smith Brothers Ranch on the east side of White's Hill; caused by spontaneous combustion.

5:49 p.m., San Rafael—Illegal burning of weeds at 6 G Street backyard by Mark Litchfield, 10 G Street.

8:10 p.m., Marin City—Fire in seat of junked auto behind building C-19; probably caused by spark from wrecker's torch during the day; no loss.

11:47 p.m., Tomales — Grass fire burned one-half acre on Tamba Ranch on Twin Bridge Road; cause unknown.

TODAY:

2 a.m., Point Reyes Station—Fire at Point Reyes Station dump burned over quarter acre area, required two bulldozers and two trucks to extinguish; caused by spontaneous combustion.

7:15 a.m., Tamalpais — Spot leaf loam fire near 651 Glenwood Avenue; believed caused by neighbors dumping hot ashes over fence.

11:16 a.m. Sausalito—Spark from trashburner in kitchen stove ignited paper box, then scorched floor and wall paint at home of Mrs. Lila Staggs, 421 Litho street; $100 damage.

County Parks Office Filled Temporarily

Walter Horchler, on loan from the Marin County planning staff, today took over as acting county park and recreation director, replacing Kelvin J. Nelson, who left county employ yesterday to take another job.

Applications for the post of park and recreation director are being taken by the county personnel office through this month.

CARDS

Ukiah, and to a junior supervisors' training session in North Sacramento.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who began investigating the situation after the Independent-Journal made inquiries, said that he has found no abuses of the credit card use, "but the operation definitely needs to be tightened up."

The investigation brought to light heavy increase in credit card use by the sheriff's office since the underground gasoline tank at the sheriff's parking area went out of service due to leaks early in June.

In the billing period generally covering the month of May, the sheriff's department used credit cards only 23 times. In the period covering June and July, this use rose to 177, Mrs. Robinson reported.

When gasoline is purchased at a service station, the county loses the advantage of its bulk rate price, plus paying 3 cents per gallon of federal tax not charged on the bulk purchases by the county.

Balestrieri said that a county credit card is now permanently located at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael for use of sheriff's cars.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen also drive unmarked county cars. Kettenhofen's car has been loaned to him for only a few weeks by the public works department, pending his purchase of another auto of his own.

Gnoss makes an effort to fill his tank only at the county garage. He will borrow a county credit card when making a trip out of county.

Supervisors have the option of either driving their own cars and collecting 8 cents a mile while on county business or of getting a county car.

Board members without county cars also receive $25 a month in addition to their $800 monthly salary for road inspection. This in theory, covers 250 miles at 10 cents a mile, Mitchell explained. Only when they travel more than 250 miles on county business in one month may they put in for additional mileage. This supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker have not done.

Latin Americans Growl Over House 'Gunboat Policy'

Congressmen's Anti-Red Stand Stirs Ants' Nest Below Border

By DANIEL JAMES
Advance News Service

MEXICO CITY — No recent U. S. act, not even the Dominican intervention, has provoked such widespread indignation in Latin America as a House of Representatives resolution approving armed intervention in any hemispheric country threatened by communism.

Latin American parties and leaders of all shades of opinion, leading newspapers and some national legislatures have all strongly protested. They see in it an increasingly belligerent U. S. policy toward this region.

In Mexico, for example, four major newspapers all usually moderate and friendly toward the United States, published editorials on the same day condemning the House resolution passed Sept. 21.

Most Latin Americans are wondering, as one editorial asked, whether the United States is reverting to the hated Monroe Doctorine and accompanying gunboat diplomacy.

Respected and moderate Latin leaders appear taken aback by the House action. They realize it represents merely an expression of the House and is not an act of legislation. Nevertheless, they have the feeling that in some way it reflects administration thinking. There is a tendency here to associate the resolution with the "true sentiments" of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Moderates feel it cuts the ground out from under them, sinec it confirms in many Latin minds the frequent communist charge that the Yankees are at bottom imperialists and wish to ride roughshod over the southern

Possibly the strongest reaction has come, paradoxically, from two of the countries hardest pressed just now by communist guerrilla attacks and communist subversion in general—Peru and Colombia. The Peruvian Chamber of Deputies approved a formal protest. In Colombia, both houses of Congress did.

In Chile, the senators belonging to the dominant Christian Democratic Party also protested formally the House's "unusual resolution," and charged it was designed to torpedo the cherished Latin American principle of self-determination.

The nearest to an official Mexican reaction has come from former Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, who commands great influence in high councils as chairman of the Mexican senates foreign relations committee.

Tello issued a statement which constitutes a polite but strong repudiation of the American congressmen.

"We do not recognize unilateral intervention nor do we subscribe to the thesis that collective intervention is not intervention," it said.

Tello's statement was not only a slap at the House but also a reaffirmation of Mexico's opposition to a resolution passed at the 1961 conference held by the Organization of American States at Punta del Este, Uruguay. It authorized American nations to take action "for their individual or collective self-defense" against "threats or acts of aggression, subversion or other dangers to peace and security resulting from the continued intervention in this hemisphere of Sino-Soviet powers."

Had the House merely reiterated that resolution, some circles here believe, there would have been little outcry. But what galls so many Latins is that part of the U. S. Congress has given the impression of wanting to dictate what Latin America shall or shall not do—as if it owned this part of the world.

American officials here tend to consider the Latin reaction to the resolution as milder than expected but concede that if the 312 votes favoring it express an American consensus then Washington may be in for trouble.

It came at a time the White House is striving to patch up hemispheric relations tattered by the Dominican intervention.

The resolution, passed without debate, was introduced by Rep. Armistead I. Selden Jr., D-Ala., chairman of the House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee. Selden later stoutly defended the Johnson administration against the attack of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., on its Dominican role.

Trouble may occur at the frequently postponed OAS conference scheduled for Rio de Janeiro in a few weeks. Some Latin circles believe that the resolution may aggravate the schisms likely to appear there over the issue of the Dominican intervention.

MARIN MAY TRY FARM PRESERVES

Proposal Would Give Farm, Ranch Operators An Assessment Roll Break

The Marin County Planning Commission Monday will hold a hearing on a proposal to create an agricultural preserve of the 860-acre Green Gulch Ranch in southern Marin.

With creation of the preserve, owners Mr. and Mrs. George Wheelwright can sign a contract with the county assuring agricultural use for at least 10 years. This will allow the assessor to ignore development potential in assessing the land.

Supervisors have asked the planning commission to also consider a master plan for the entire county, designating other lands that could go into agricultural preserve under the recently adopted state law.

The commission meeting begins at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The agricultural preserve hearing is number 15 on the agenda.

The commission is also to review the land division ordinance as requested by supervisors, and hold a second hearing on the master plan of the Farr property west of Fairfax, where cluster housing is proposed with an over-all density of 20,000 square feet per home.

American Society Film Showings Set At Redwood

The school day is being extend by 20 minutes and class periods by five minutes at Sir Francis Drake High School on four dates this fall.

The rare change is being made in conjunction with the showing of four documentary films surveying contemporary American society.

Students in junior English and senior government courses will view the series, called "America's Crisis."

It includes "The Young American," to be shown this week, "The Parents" will be shown during the week of Oct. 25-29; "The Individual," during the week of Nov. 15-19, and "The Community," date for which is undecided.

Wall Covering Taken From School Site

Theft of $270 worth of new white vinyl material from Gallinas School in Santa Venetia was reported by sheriff's deputies.

Robert Baker, superintendent for Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma said the material was for covering walls of a new kindergarten classroom at the school. Entry was by prying a door.

Ecumenical Council Slates Recess Before Going Home

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council, moving quickly towards conclusion will take a week-long vacation later this month and then hold a public session for Pope Paul VI to put into effect various decisions of the gathering.

The more than 2,000 prelates gathered in St. Peters Basilica for today's session were told that there would be a recess from Oct. 17 to 24. In addition, on Nov. 1 there will be a public session "for the pontiff to promulgate any documents which are ready."

It appeared that the documents on "the pastoral duties of bishops" and "on religious orders" would be ready. In addition, an important schema dealing with non-Christians — which includes the much debated section on Jews —probably will be ready, although a final vote has not yet been taken.

It also was publicly announced at the meeting that Pope Paul would address the gathering at their session on Tuesday following his return from the United Nations in New York.

Davidson School To Name Officers

San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School will elect student body officers in balloting next Friday; campaign speeches will be heard Thursday.

Candidates for president are Bebe Anderson, John Bauer and Lowell Widmer, all eighth graders; for vice president, Paul Balestracci, Bill Jacobs and Kathy Kenyon, all seventh graders; for secretary, Dana Jones, Vivian Miller and Barbie Patterson, all eighth graders, and for treasurer, Sherry Gelphman, Larry Hanson and Joann Shortino, all seventh graders.

The first steam-powered water pump designed to fight fires operated in England in 1829. Its debut was met with laughter from onlookers who called it the "steam squirt." Sparks from the smoke stacks of these early horse-drawn fire engines were a fire hazard themselves.

CLERIC'S SLAYING CASE NOT ENDED?

Alabama Official Outraged At Acquittal, May Seek New Charges Against Gunman

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—Special Deputy Thomas Coleman, acquitted of manslaughter charges in the slaying of a New England civil rights workers, today still faced an assault charge and possible further action by Alabama's outraged attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers declared he was "appalled" at the freeing of Coleman and an aide said Flowers was studying whether any further "legal avenues are available" for prosecution.

Coleman, 52, was cleared of manslaughter charges yesterday by an all white jury in the Aug. 20 shotgun killing of Episcopal seminary student Jonathan Daniels, 26, of Keene, N.H. Coleman still faces trial on an assault charge in the wounding of the Rev. Richard J. Morrisroe of Chicago, a Roman Catholic priest, in the same incident.

Flowers, who attempted unsuccessfully to delay Coleman's trial so he could try for a murder indictment, said the acquittal represented "the democratic processes going down the drain of irrationality, bigotry and improper enforcement of the law."

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach said such acquittals "are the price we have to pay for the jury system.

"I think this kind of result is expected from time to time," Katzenbach said. "It is difficult to get convictions in some areas."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said the verdict shows that "justice is almost an impossibility in the South" and again points out the need for federal anti-lynch legislation.

He said the acquittal "will encourage others to perpetrate violence with impunity upon Negroes and civil rights workers."

The American Civil liberties Union (ACLU) in Washington asked Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black to halt all court proceedings in Lowndes County, pending a hearing on charges that Negroes and women are excluded from the county's juries.

The assault charge still pending against Coleman carries a one-year sentence on conviction but there was the possibility the state might ask for another grand jury to return a stiffer charge of assault with intent to kill.

Daniels was killed and Morrisroe wounded in front of a general store here after their release from jail, where they had been held for a week on charges stemming from their participation in a civil rights demonstration at nearby Fort Deposit.

Dixie Police End Bus Blockade

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) —State police dragged Negro demonstrators from a street today when the group lay down in an attempt to block school buses carrying white children.

Eleven Negroes, some of them with school books, dropped to the wet pavement when three yellow school buses started to leave for nearby towns where the white pupils attend school. A light rain fell.

When they refused to move, the troopers dragged them out of the street. None was hurt and the demonstrators quickly got up and returned to their cars.

Ecumenical Council Slates Recess Before Going Home

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council, moving quickly towards conclusion will take a week-long vacation later this month and then hold a public session for Pope Paul VI to put into effect various decisions of the gathering.

The more than 2,000 prelates gathered in St. Peters Basilica for today's session were told that there would be a recess from Oct. 17 to 24. In addition, on Nov. 1 there will be a public session "for the pontiff to promulgate any documents which are ready."

It appeared that the documents on "the pastoral duties of bishops" and "on religious orders" would be ready. In addition, an important schema dealing with non-Christians — which includes the much debated section on Jews —probably will be ready, although a final vote has not yet been taken.

It also was publicly announced at the meeting that Pope Paul would address the gathering at their session on Tuesday following his return from the United Nations in New York.

Davidson School To Name Officers

San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School will elect student body officers in balloting next Friday; campaign speeches will be heard Thursday.

Candidates for president are Bebe Anderson, John Bauer and Lowell Widmer, all eighth graders; for vice president, Paul Balestracci, Bill Jacobs and Kathy Kenyon, all seventh graders; for secretary, Dana Jones, Vivian Miller and Barbie Patterson, all eighth graders, and for treasurer, Sherry Gelphman, Larry Hanson and Joann Shortino, all seventh graders.

The first steam-powered water pump designed to fight fires operated in England in 1829. Its debut was met with laughter from onlookers who called it the "steam squirt." Sparks from the smoke stacks of these early horse-drawn fire engines were a fire hazard themselves.

CLERIC'S SLAYING CASE NOT ENDED?

Alabama Official Outraged At Acquittal, May Seek New Charges Against Gunman

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—Special Deputy Thomas Coleman, acquitted of manslaughter charges in the slaying of a New England civil rights workers, today still faced an assault charge and possible further action by Alabama's outraged attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers declared he was "appalled" at the freeing of Coleman and an aide said Flowers was studying whether any further "legal avenues are available" for prosecution.

Coleman, 52, was cleared of manslaughter charges yesterday by an all white jury in the Aug. 20 shotgun killing of Episcopal seminary student Jonathan Daniels, 26, of Keene, N.H. Coleman still faces trial on an assault charge in the wounding of the Rev. Richard J. Morrisroe of Chicago, a Roman Catholic priest, in the same incident.

Flowers, who attempted unsuccessfully to delay Coleman's trial so he could try for a murder indictment, said the acquittal represented "the democratic processes going down the drain of irrationality, bigotry and improper enforcement of the law."

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach said such acquittals "are the price we have to pay for the jury system.

"I think this kind of result is expected from time to time," Katzenbach said. "It is difficult to get convictions in some areas."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said the verdict shows that "justice is almost an impossibility in the South" and again points out the need for federal anti-lynch legislation.

He said the acquittal "will encourage others to perpetrate violence with impunity upon Negroes and civil rights workers."

The American Civil liberties Union (ACLU) in Washington asked Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black to halt all court proceedings in Lowndes County, pending a hearing on charges that Negroes and women are excluded from the county's juries.

The assault charge still pending against Coleman carries a one-year sentence on conviction but there was the possibility the state might ask for another grand jury to return a stiffer charge of assault with intent to kill.

Daniels was killed and Morrisroe wounded in front of a general store here after their release from jail, where they had been held for a week on charges stemming from their participation in a civil rights demonstration at nearby Fort Deposit.

Dixie Police End Bus Blockade

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP)—State police dragged Negro demonstrators from a street today when the group lay down in an attempt to block school buses carrying white children.

Eleven Negroes, some of them with school books, dropped to the wet pavement when three yellow school buses started to leave for nearby towns where the white pupils attend school. A light rain fell.

When they refused to move, the troopers dragged them out of the street. None was hurt and the demonstrators quickly got up and returned to their cars.

Novato Mother, Child Injured

Mrs. June McDonough, 34, of 596 Arlington Circle, Novato, and her son, Tommy, 4, suffered minor injuries yesterday in an auto crash on Point San Pedro Road south of Main Drive in unincorporated San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. McDonough told the patrol she was northbound at 25 miles per hour at 5:15 p.m. when a truck coming from the opposite direction in the wrong lane forced her car into a ditch.

She and her son were to see their own physician.

Bolinas, Inverness Firemen To Remain

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom announced today that his department's one-man outposts in Bolinas and Inverness will not be abandoned.

"We had intended to do this," Bloom said, "but because of the large number of protests, particularly from Sea Haven, we will not do it at this time."

Sea Haven, north of Inverness, is not within the Inverness Public Utilities District, which provides fire protection.

Early last month, Bloom announced he planned to close the station and pointed to the state division of forestry's refusal to recognize the one-man operations.

The state division supports the larger stations with up to 80 per cent of the crew's salary, Bloom explained.

Bloom said residents of Bolinas asked for more time to study the matter before the one-man operation here is withdrawn.

"These men are in the budget until next July," Bloom said. He said they will remain in Inverness and Bolinas at least until then.

Marin Firm Gets Planting Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ivy, shrubbery and trees from Australia, Japan and Algeria as well as native Californian will be used in landscaping the new San Mateo-Hayward Bridge toll plaza.

The $58,632 landscaping contract was awarded yesterday by the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings to Watkin and Sibbald Associates of San Anselmo.

More than 45,000 shrubs, plants and trees will be set out.

State Reservoirs Still Hold Plenty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's water picture currently is excellent, with a record total storage reported in major reservoirs, State Water Resources Director William E. Warne said today.

"Even though the heavy rains of December 1964 produced one of the most devastating floods in California's history, they also provided most of the state with an abundant supply of water," Warne said.

The overall outlook is so bright, said Warne, that even if rainfall in the next 12 months were to approach the minimum ever recorded, "careful management would preclude the occurrence of critical water shortages next summer . . . "

State Water Project Ahead Of Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Brown said today construction of the $2 billion dollar State Water Project is moving ahead on schedule and when completed, it "will make the Panama Canal pale by comparison."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Commonwealth Club here, the governor predicted the taxpayer's investment in the project "will be returned one hundred-fold . . . "

Bank Merger Gains With Action In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Banking subcommittee approved today a compromise bank merger bill that would end antitrust action against three of six merged banks involved.

The subcommittee acted after a parliamentary power play that cut off further hearings. Some members had complained that Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex. was prolonging these to stall off any action by Congress. The prospect of final action this year, however, remained dim in view of the number of legislative steps still required.

The bill would provide that, in future, the Justice Department would have to act within 60 days if it wished to intervene in a bank merger. Three eastern banks were thus involved.

The Justice Department action against Crocker Citizens National Bank of San Francisco and two others would not be blocked. The distinction is based on a decision rendered in a Philadelphia case after the first three of the six mergers were carried out. In the view of some members, this decision put banks contemplating mergers on notice of the chances they were taking.

Patman opposes any relaxation of antitrust laws applying to bank mergers. The Senate has voted to relax these laws and Patman has been accused in some quarters of stalling hearings in hopes Congress will adjourn without final action.

Even if the subcommittee agrees promptly, the legislation would still have to be approved by the full committee and the House, a conference would have to resolve differences with the Senate and both chambers would have to approve the result.

Unless Congress remains in in session longer than is now expected, there is little change for final action this year.

Mask Rule Eased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has lifted a rule requiring airline pilots to wear oxygen masks while flying above 35,000 feet. From now on, one mask only at altitudes above 41,000 feet — a height at which the airlines seldom fly.

Rail Crossing Now In Hands Of State

A complicated legal question of who should pay for installation and maintenance of a railroad crossing signal north of the Marin Civic Center was left in the hands of the State Public Utilities Commission yesterday in San Francisco.

Lawyers for the county and for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad were asked to submit briefs by Oct. 15 after arguing yesterday.

About a year ago the county agreed to install the signals but that the railroad must maintain them.

The signals, not yet installed, would protect a crossing of a road to be built leading from the Civic Center north to the Terra Linda interchange at Highway 101.

The railroad's attorney, Harold S. Lentz, said a new state law requires that in the case of any signal installed after Oct. 1, maintenance costs must be shared between a public agency and the railroad in the same proportions as the installation cost.

The county claimed the new law should apply only to crossings approved by the PUC after Oct. 1.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Visiting Fireman Means Chance To Catch Up On What's Current

There is nothing quite like having a house visitor from out of town to help you brush up on your dining out routine — especially when it's number one and only son, home for a few days after several long years in the halls of ivy.

Naturally his visit last week was an occasion to celebrate, with sorties into the dineries and night spots of Marin. It was our first chance in many a semester to show him off.

The only trouble was—there weren't enough days in his brief stay here to make all the rounds.

An expressed interest in the celestial food of China led us to Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate one night. The last time he was at home Northgate was only a blueprint. There, too, we hoped to catch the organ music of Bill McCoy, forgetting it was the time of year for name organists to gather at their convention at Hoberg's.

So we missed out on Bill, but he is back now—and also playing the Baldwin in a program direct from Lin Fa Gardens featured each Thursday over KTIM from 12:30 to 1:45 p.m.

Anyway — after a thorough testing of Lom Hin's dishes, from lobster Cantonese to won ton to delicate, bite-size bits of beef, Larry graded them all A-plus. He put us to shame with his obvious mastery of the chopsticks and the food before him vanished with almost Eastern magic. It is truly remarkable what broad fields of learning are encompassed in a Ph. D. these days.

And who else but a doctor of chemistry would be so precise in his formulas as to require that half a banana be crushed and blended in his daquiri?

IT WAS at Ondine the following night that in some measure we were able to demonstrate our own research experience. He had never before tasted a Margarita. For that matter, neither had his sire—in just that form. The joint father and son experimentation that ensued resulted in a pronouncement of excellence.

But it was at the table we were able to score our biggest impression—thanks to chef Alfred Roblin's sublime sauce on the fish and the smooth blending of a fresh spinach salad by maitre d' Gilbert Barthe. We had a moment or two of concern when the entree was served, since Larry had never been known to be overly fond of either lamb or stringbeans in his younger years.

We need not have worried. He ate both with gusto, and even the announcement that Shirley Temple Black was sitting two tables away from us, or the view from the window of Frank Werner's yacht moored at the dock below failed to spark as much enthusiasm. I had told him once that only the French know how to cook lamb. Now he's convinced Pop was right.

Later, downstairs in the Trident, we managed to find seats to hear Jon Hendricks, who I must admit does show originality and skill in his vocals. (He's still booked there.) And even in Madison, Wis., it seems they have heard of Sally Stanford. Ergo, nothing would do but that we should stop at the Valhalla.

NOW IN THE PROCESS of being sold is De La Montanya's in San Geronimo. Dean and Irene, who have had this about 14 months, are going back to ranching. The transaction was handled by Bob Rivers.

The buyers are Dee and Raymond Brunal of San Francisco, both of whom are experienced in the restaurant business. It's quite likely Dee will be dining room hostess and Ray will handle the bar. No change of ownership, of course, until transfer of the liquor license is approved. That should be around the end of October.

The Brunals have no plans yet for operational changes, but the place will have a new name—or perhaps an old one. It may be known again as the Oak Tree Inn—same as it was before the De La Montanyas and before the Lucchesis had it. Dee and Ray will move to Marin from San Francisco.

IT GIVES ME no small amount of personal pleasure to report that a pair of my favorite people at Franchini's Chateau became man and wife last Friday.

The ceremony was held in Carson City and the participants were Roy J. Franchini and Bess Scofield. You should be able to offer them your congratulations and best wishes sometime this weekend when they return from the honeymoon.

LAST YEAR, Nave Lanes in Ignacio presented its first "Fiesta Italiana" for Columbus Day and brought in something like 350 people to celebrate.

On Oct. 11, it's to be offered again. The price of $3 per person includes a choice from about 35 restaurant dishes on an all-you-can-eat basis. And this is one time when Bill Nave Sr. puts on an apron and does the cooking. His list of dishes looks like it was printed in Milano.

It's a festive occasion with Italian music and merriment. Reservations will have to be made for this extravaganza, and three separate times are scheduled for the tables—5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

NOW FEATURED by chef and co-owner Gordon Jones at Rubini's in Fairfax are abalone steak and filet of sole — both Mornay and Florentine.

I UNDERSTAND that all the ground clearing between Second and Fourth Streets, San Rafael, east of Rudy's Liquor Store and Bob's Mobil Service at the beginning of the Miracle Mile is preparation for a new pancake house—one in the chain of International House of Pancakes, headquartered in Burbank. The company has 103 franchised locations in 20 states.

THE CELLARS cocktail lounge in San Rafael is being redecorated, by Dick Saltzman. Besides being a musician and having his trio there on weekends, he's also an interior decorator by profession. He's already completed the bandstand.

If you go along with Arthur Murray, whose favorite dance he says is the bossa nova, Walt Ulner, playing with Dick's group, switches to classical guitar and quiet bossa nova two or three times during the evenings.

NICK REYNOLDS of the Kingston Trio, who has been visiting MacArthur's in San Anselmo recently, holds that the African lobster tails prepared by chef Mike Echavia are the best on the West Coast.

Marinite Assigned To Turkey Training

Peace Corps volunteer Brook A. Kraeger of 111 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to Turkey for a short training period rather than going directly to Pakistan as originally planned.

Kraeger was due to leave for Pakistan when the war between that country and India broke out. Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, in the announcement of the reassignment, said that training periods in a third country were not unusual, regardless of questions of international tension.

School Night

Del Mar School in the Reed District will hold a back-to-school night at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday to acquaint parents with their children's teachers and school programs.

Video Educational Director Named

Roland E. Fenz of 839 Greenberry Lane, Lucas Valley, has been named director of development for educational television station KQED, Channel 9. He will be in charge of a program in the next two years to increase public support for the viewer-sponsored station.

He has been assistant for development to the president of Menlo School and College, Menlo Park.

Second Cluster

Col. Lester B. Johnson of 30 Via Belardo, Greenbrae, has been awarded the second oak leaf cluster to the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service while acting as adviser to the director of personnel, director of finance and general bureau of the Imperial Iranian Gendarmerie while in Iran, July, 1962, to July, 1965.

A "thrill ride" was added to the Mill Valley-Mount Tamalpais Scenic Railway when gravity cars ran from the top of the mountain to Mur Woods.

Hamburger and CHAMPAGNE?

Well, not for *every*body.

You have to be 21 and come over to Sam's in Tiburon to get it.

And, if you find fulfillment in the works of Edgar Guest, Paul Harvey, Daddy Warbucks, Jane Addams, Norman Rockwell, and Henry Doelger... you might prefer to stick with Sam's tried and true Burger & Beer.

But if a spark of the bon vivant burns in your soul, your taste will be abundantly rewarded with this bizarre combination.

Sam's Anchor Cafe has even bottled its own champagne for the occasion.

That would be Sam's in Tiburon.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Visiting Fireman Means Chance To Catch Up On What's Current

There is nothing quite like having a house visitor from out of town to help you brush up on your dining out routine — especially when it's number one and only son, home for a few days after several long years in the halls of ivy.

Naturally his visit last week was an occasion to celebrate, with sorties into the dineries and night spots of Marin. It was our first chance in many a semester to show him off.

The only trouble was—there weren't enough days in his brief stay here to make all the rounds.

An expressed interest in the celestial food of China led us to Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate one night. The last time he was at home Northgate was only a blueprint. There, too, we hoped to catch the organ music of Bill McCoy, forgetting it was the time of year for name organists to gather at their convention at Hoberg's.

So we missed out on Bill, but he is back now—and also playing the Baldwin in a program direct from Lin Fa Gardens featured each Thursday over KTIM from 12:30 to 1:45 p.m.

Anyway — after a thorough testing of Lom Hin's dishes, from lobster Cantonese to won ton to delicate, bite-size bits of beef, Larry graded them all A-plus. He put us to shame with his obvious mastery of the chopsticks and the food before him vanished with almost Eastern magic. It is truly remarkable what broad fields of learning are encompassed in a Ph.D. these days.

And who else but a doctor of chemistry would be so precise in his formulas as to require that half a banana be crushed and blended in his daquiri?

IT WAS at Ondine the following night that in some measure we were able to demonstrate our own research experience. He had never before tasted a Margarita. For that matter, neither had his sire—in just that form. The joint father and son experimentation that ensued resulted in a pronouncement of excellence.

But it was at the table we were able to score our biggest impression—thanks to chef Alfred Roblin's sublime sauce on the fish and the smooth blending of a fresh spinach salad by maitre d' Gilbert Barthe. We had a moment or two of concern when the entree was served, since Larry had never been known to be overly fond of either lamb or stringbeans in his younger years.

We need not have worried. He ate both with gusto, and even the announcement that Shirley Temple Black was sitting two tables away from us, or the view from the window of Frank Werner's yacht moored at the dock below failed to spark as much enthusiasm. I had told him once that only the French know how to cook lamb. Now he's convinced Pop was right.

Later, downstairs in the Trident, we managed to find seats to hear Jon Hendricks, who I must admit does show originality and skill in his vocals. (He's still booked there.) And even in Madison, Wis., it seems they have heard of Sally Stanford. Ergo, nothing would do but that we should stop at the Valhalla.

NOW IN THE PROCESS of being sold is De La Montanya's in San Geronimo. Dean and Irene, who have had this about 14 months, are going back to ranching. The transaction was handled by Bob Rivers.

The buyers are Dee and Raymond Brunal of San Francisco, both of whom are experienced in the restaurant business. It's quite likely Dee will be dining room hostess and Ray will handle the bar. No change of ownership, of course, until transfer of the liquor license is approved. That should be around the end of October.

The Brunals have no plans yet for operational changes, but the place will have a new name—or perhaps an old one. It may be known again as the Oak Tree Inn—same as it was before the De La Montanyas and before the Lucchesis had it. Dee and Ray will move to Marin from San Francisco.

IT GIVES ME no small amount of personal pleasure to report that a pair of my favorite people at Franchini's Chateau became man and wife last Friday.

The ceremony was held in Carson City and the participants were Roy J. Franchini and Bess Scofield. You should be able to offer them your congratulations and best wishes sometime this weekend when they return from the honeymoon.

LAST YEAR, Nave Lanes in Ignacio presented its first "Fiesta Italiana" for Columbus Day and brought in something like 350 people to celebrate.

On Oct. 11, it's to be offered again. The price of $3 per person includes a choice from about 35 restaurant dishes on an all-you-can-eat basis. And this is one time when Bill Nave Sr. puts on an apron and does the cooking. His list of dishes looks like it was printed in Milano.

It's a festive occasion with Italian music and merriment. Reservations will have to be made for this extravaganza, and three separate times are scheduled for the tables—5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

NOW FEATURED by chef and co-owner Gordon Jones at Rubini's in Fairfax are abalone steak and filet of sole — both Mornay and Florentine.

I UNDERSTAND that all the ground clearing between Second and Fourth Streets, San Rafael, east of Rudy's Liquor Store and Bob's Mobil Service at the beginning of the Miracle Mile is preparation for a new pancake house—one in the chain of International House of Pancakes, headquartered in Burbank. The company has 103 franchised locations in 20 states.

THE CELLARS cocktail lounge in San Rafael is being redecorated, by Dick Saltzman. Besides being a musician and having his trio there on weekends, he's also an interior decorator by profession. He's already completed the bandstand.

If you go along with Arthur Murray, whose favorite dance he says is the bossa nova, Walt Ulner, playing with Dick's group, switches to classical guitar and quiet bossa nova two or three times during the evenings.

NICK REYNOLDS of the Kingston Trio, who has been visiting MacArthur's in San Anselmo recently, holds that the African lobster tails prepared by chef Mike Echavia are the best on the West Coast.

Marinite Assigned To Turkey Training

Peace Corps volunteer Brook A. Kraeger of 111 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to Turkey for a short training period rather than going directly to Pakistan as originally planned.

Kraeger was due to leave for Pakistan when the war between that country and India broke out. Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, in the announcement of the reassignment, said that training periods in a third country were not unusual, regardless of questions of international tension.

School Night

Del Mar School in the Reed District will hold a back-to-school night at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday to acquaint parents with their children's teachers and school programs.

Video Educational Director Named

Roland E. Fenz of 839 Greenberry Lane, Lucas Valley, has been named director of development for educational television station KQED, Channel 9. He will be in charge of a program in the next two years to increase public support for the viewer-sponsored station.

He has been assistant for development to the president of Menlo School and College, Menlo Park.

Second Cluster

Col. Lester B. Johnson of 30 Via Belardo, Greenbrae, has been awarded the second oak leaf cluster to the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service while acting as adviser to the director of personnel, director of finance and general bureau of the Imperial Iranian Gendarmerie while in Iran, July, 1962, to July, 1965.

A "thrill ride" was added to the Mill Valley-Mount Tamalpais Scenic Railway when gravity cars ran from the top of the mountain to Mur Woods.

Novato Hopes For Gain In Fire Service Rating

The Novato fire department has been officially complimented on improvements it has made and Chief George J. Cavallero hopes a reduction in insurance rates will result.

The compliments came in a letter from E. C. Adams, division engineer for Pacific Fire Rating Bureau in San Francisco.

The bureau completed a survey of the district to see if it should receive a lower rating last December. Cavallero expects the new rate to come in about three weeks.

"Measurable improvements have been made and a revised evaluation of the fire defense facilities is in preparation," Adams wrote.

"We offer congratulations on the improvements made in the fire protection facilities of your district."

Cavallero said that the last time that the district was surveyed for a rating was in 1954. At that time, it went from a Class 7 to a Class 5 district. A change in classification of one class saves the homeowner about 35 cents per $100 in fire insurance rates, he said.

The chief hopes for a Class 4 rating this time.

Bircher Replies To GOP Charges

SANTA ANA (AP)—A Santa Ana Republican says charges that the John Birch Society has infiltrated the GOP will hurt the party.

State Sen. John G. Schmitz, said many Birch members were Republicans before they joined the Society.

Earlier this week, Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said the Society had infiltrated the GOP.

"I'm sure he's not referring to me," said Schmitz yesterday. "I'm a Republican who infiltrated the John Birch Society. This is the same worn-out routine which Morton's side used in the 1964 election campaign. It didn't help Barry Goldwater and it won't help the Republican Party now."

Two Marinites Train In Navy

William H. Baldwin, 18, son of Mrs. Betty M. Baldwin, 315 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, and Bruce I. Bowles, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark Bowles, 66 Crooked Avenue, San Anselmo, enlisted in the Navy this week at the San Rafael Navy Recruiting Office.

Baldwin, a June graduate of San Rafael High School, entered the Sea Bees for four years. Bowles, a June Sir Francis Drake High School graduate, enlisted in the high school graduate training program for four years.

They will spend the next 10 weeks at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

Dirksen Criticizes Poverty War Lagging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders claim the administration's war on poverty is lagging, "chaotic" in administration and should have a full-time director.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., told a joint news conference yesterday that "despite the press agentry of the current war on poverty," progress on he problem has been "slower during the past four years than it was during the first term of the last Republican udministration."

To Special School

Airman James C. Buskirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Buskirk of 19-A Warner Court, San Rafael, has been selected for training at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., as an aircraft maintenance specialist. He recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Marinite Appointed Consultant For State

Herbert Witt of 105 La Verne Avenue, Mill Valley, has been appointed consultant to the State Department of Finance to train auditors in the use of statistical sampling techniques. He will conduct special training classes to improve auditing effectiveness.

Witt is an employee of the Defense Contract Auditing Agency.

County Ordered To Redistrict

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Supreme Court is ordering Santa Clara County to reapportion its five supervisorial districts again ithin 90 days.

All seven justices ruled yesterday that the Board of Supervisors must reapportion again along lines that would give no district less than 17 per cent of the county's population or more than 23 per cent.

Last year's court-ordered reapportionment plan by the supervisors left one district with 96,000 population — 12 per cent of the county's citizens — and another district with 186,000 — 23.4 per cent of the population.

FUN FOR THE SPIRIT

As part of "Spirit Week," the freshman class at Novato High School yesterday sponsored the "black bottom ball" in the gymnasium during the lunch hour. Groups of students took turns at pushing or kicking a six-foot ball around the gym, trying to reach the opponent's side. Biggest gains were made when the ball could be kicked high into the air. "Spirit Week" concludes with a dance in the gymnasium tonight. (Independent-Journal photo)

Marin Rights Group To Seek Integration

Neighborhood councils are slated to be formed throughout Marin to work to achieve harmonious integration of whites and Negores.

The Neighborhood Council Task Force of the Marin County Human Rights Commission agreed last night the main purpose of the councils should be to work for integration.

Councils will work to bring about "the moral and intellectual attitude whereby integration will be harmoniously accomplished," the task force said.

"Like a Selma wall, we have a Marin wall, and the primary objective is to break this wall down," said Rev. Karl Botermans, temporary chairman of the task force.

After a two and one-half hour discussion, the task force considered starting an experimental neighborhood council in the Marinwood area, as a pilot project.

Robert N. Jackson of 258 Etta Court, Marinwood, a representative of Marin County Friendship House, was asked to investigate the possibility of forming a council in his neighborhood.

During the session, attended by 16 representatives of eight civic and human rights groups, there were suggestions that Santa Venetia or Fairfax might be appropriate areas for an experimental neighborhood council.

A mimeographed sheet distributed to the audience listed the possible council activities as:

1. Inviting minority families into neighborhoods.
2. Facilitating the renting and purchase of homes for minorities.
3. Establishing neighborhood education programs related to minority-majority relationships.
4. Providing moral support to any minority in the neighborhood to facilitate assimilation.
5. To deal with such tensions and conflicts that may arise as a result of neighborhood integration.

Organizations represented at the session were Marin Mississippi Freedom Committee, Marin County Labor Council, League of Women Voters, Council on Religion and Race, Marin Committee for Fair Play Marin Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, Marin County Friendship House and Catholic Interracial Council.

Task force members are Botermans, Rev. John O'Connor and Mrs. Iniece Bailey, all members of the human rights commission, and Bremond.

Barry Forecasts Viet Cease Fire

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater said last night he thought there possibly would be a cease fire in Viet Nam in two or three months.

Goldwater also told a Press Club Forum that he generally supported President Johnson's policies in the Asian war. He added that he doubted the Communist Viet Cong could resist sustained American pressure.

The 1964 GOP presidential candidate also warned that America's armed forces may be required to see service in many parts of the world "for many years to come."

New Manager Appointed By Hub Chamber

Max S. Martin, temporary secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce since January, yesterday resigned that post. Mrs. Philip Haley of Greenbrae will become secretary-manager on a permanent basis Monday.

Martin took the job on a temporary basis when George G. Washburn was fired as secretary-manager. The Chamber office will stay in his insurance office at 731 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The chamber also named Arthur Hofmann to replace George Butts, who resigned from the board of directors Sept. 2.

The chamber designated Oct. 14-16 as "Yellow Tag Days" in San Anselmo to coincide with "Shop in Marin Month" organized by the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

Dikes For Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—A billion dollar plan is being drawn up for constructing coastal embankments in East Pakistan to tame the almost annual tidal waves that sweep north out of the Bay of Bengal. One cyclone and tidal wave May 12 killed more than 17,000 persons.

Most of the land in Mill Valley was a part of the original Mexican land grant to Capt. William Richardson, Rancho Saucelito.

Tiburon Behavior Group Holds Workshop Discussion

About 175 Tiburon Peninsula parents and pupils turned out last night at Del Mar School for a workshop discussion on a behavior code for sixth, seventh and eighth graders.

The code, called the "Peninsula Key," outlines suggested behavior for youths in dating, party-going, telephoning, dress, smoking and drinking.

Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps made three points: (1) parents must have faith in their children; (2) parents and children must communicate, and (3) parents must set good examples.

Last night's session was the first in what it is hoped will be annual workshops for parents and pupils, said Mrs. Walter H. Buchen, chairman.

The meeting was jointly sponsored by the Reed School Districe and the Reed Parent-Teachers Club.

Fairfax Postpones Planned Unit Talks

Consideration of the planned unit development proposal by Farr Associates for land between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Olema Drive was put over until Oct. 28 last night by the Fairfax Planning Commission because requested new plans had not been turned in by the developer.

John J. Hourihan of 61 San Gabriel Drive, was seated as a new member of the commission, replacing former chairman Capt. Dan M. Miller for the remainder of the term, to end at the end of this year.

Pope Responds To New Crowds

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope Paul Americans will see may appear to be a vastly different man from the Pope Paul Romans see.

Travel does things to him.

In the Holy Land and India he seemed to be a warmer man, responding to the crowds around him and evoking a response.

At home, in his own diocese of Rome, he is often taken for granted. The crowds are used to seeing pontiffs, and sometimes it seems they lack enthusiasm.

Those who know Pope Paul say he is a warm but basically shy person who finds it difficult to stir a crowd without some help from the crowd itself.

When he travels, things are different. He is swept up in meeting new people and seeing new things. The crowds are livelier than Rome's. They haven't seen a Pope before.

"They inspire him, and he inspires them," said a Vatican prelate who traveled with Pope Paul to India and the Holy Land.

His aides will never forget how he led thousands of Indian school children singing a hymn. He stood on a platform and waved his arms like a choir leader. His steel-blue eyes were shining.

At the Vatican, where he appears in public at least once a week, the slightly built pontiff often seems to be a stern, ascetic figure.

Only on rare occasions does he show in Rome the spirit he displays when traveling. One such instance was his visit to a Gypsy camp outside Rome last Sunday, his 68th birthday. He joined the Gypsies in rhythmic handclapping as they sang a Gypsy melody.

But it was a crowd of Gypsies, not Romans.

Pope Paul and the Romans are old acquaintances.

Of the 45 years since he became a priest, he has spent 35 in Rome or at the Vatican. He was a prominent aide to Popes Pius XI and Pius XII.

But his background is north Italian.

He was born Giovanni Battista—John the Baptist—Montini Sept. 26, 1897, in the northern town of Concesio, five miles north of Brescia. His father ran a Roman Catholic daily in Brescia, a journalistic background that Pope Paul has often recalled. On his flight from Rome to Bombay, at an altitude of 30,000 feet, Pope Paul gave history's first papal news conference, answering questions of newsmen who flew with him to India.

Giovanni Battista Montini was ordained a priest in 1920. After three years of graduate studies in Rome and a year in Warsaw, Poland, as secretary to the apostolic nuncio, he entered the Vatican Secretariat of State. He rose steadily. Pius XI made him substitute secretary of state in 1937, and Pius XII promoted him to prosecretary of state in 1952.

The career in the secretariat ended after 31 years, when Pius XII sent him north to Milan as archbishop of the most important diocese in Italy outside Rome.

Eight years later, in June 1963, Giovanni Battista Montini returned to Rome for the conclave of cardinals that elected him successor to Pope John XXIII.

Study Released On Ways To Meet Needs In Travel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If scientists are right, the only way around may be up, down or wet.

Future transportation, according to a study released yesterday by North American Aviation, will involve plenty of flying, traveling in tunnels and boat rides.

"We're at a crossroads," said Gov. Edmund G. Brown when the study was released, "and freeways are abviously not the answer to handle the 40 million people we expect in this state by the year 2000."

The study, prepared under a $100,000 state contract, added:

It's difficult to move people and goods around the state now, and in 50 years, it'll be five to seven times more difficult.

Suggestions included:

High speed trains and tunnels.

Vertical takeoff and landing aircraft capable of whisking a businessman from his office roof to his front yard.

Hydrofoil ships to ferry passengers and freight.

Electronic freeways that automatically guide and space vehicles, reducing accidents and making smog-producing motors obsolete.

Produce that can be piped to market.

DEWITT K. MacDONALD Jr.
Heads bond campaign

Chairman Set In Tamalpais Bond Drive

Dewitt K. MacDonald Jr., San Rafael lawyer and resident of Greenbrae, has been named general chairman for the Tamalpais High School District bond campaign.

High school trustees are asking voters to approve $5,750,000 in bonds to build the first phase of a new high school in San Geronimo Valley and complete Redwood High School in Larkspur. The election is set for Nov. 16.

MacDonald is amember of the law firm of Nelson, Boyd, Menary, and MacDonald. He has lived in Greenbrae for nine years. He and his wife have three children in Kentfield Elementary District schools.

Mrs. Richard Melbostad of Mill Valley, member of the board, has been acting chairman for the campaign. She will continue as board representative to the steering committee.

Some Of Zip Gone From Postal Zip Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postal authorities are confident they can iron out some kinks that have taken a bit of zip out of the zip code.

There's nothing wrong with the five-number code itself, postal planners insist. But they concede they have found what they call "some small bugs" in the complex of 553 sectional centers organized to put the zip into the nationwide routing and distribution of mail.

Outgoing Postmaster General John A. Gronouski celebrated the establishment of the last of the elaborately plotted centers July 1 with the proud declaration that the center network provided the core of "the first all-new mail distribution and routing system since the advent of the railroads."

Gronouski, now preparing to take up the post of ambassador to Poland, also said the sectional establishment would assure the sending of all mail "by the most direct route possible to its destination."

But that's precisely where the bugs got into the act. It appears that in some places the appointed rounds of mail deliverers are more roundabout than the most direct routes envisioned by the planners.

Gronouski was not the first postmaster general to decry primary reliance on a distribution system which, despite increased use of airplanes and motor vehicles, was geared to mail trains.

As late as 1930 there were more than 10,000 trains carrying mail, about 27 billion pieces of it. Now more than 82 billion pieces of mail are moving each year, but there are only 1,100 mail trains.

Primary dependence on trains led naturally to the designation of postal gateways to which mail from a distance was routed for redistribution, as, for example, to Jacksonville for distribution through most of Florida.

Having decided to use the best available means of moving the mails, postal experts spotted 553 section centers around the country at the apparent hubs of converging transportation links and assigned to each center some 60 or 70 satellite post offices.

That's where the zip code gets into the system, for the first three digits identify the sectional center.

But that's also the place in the system where some trouble is brewing. A postal aide describes the simplest form of the problem this way:

Towns A and B are 30 miles apart, and historically mails have moved between them directly. But the experts, looking at the country as a whole and looking to the future availability of better transportaton, attached the two satellite towns to separate hub centers.

Strict adherence to the letter of the master plan could mean, then, that mail addressed from one town to the other would go first to a sectional center, and could travel two or three times the direct mileage between them. For the code directs mail from one center to another for redistribution to its own satellites.

The total U.S. resident population June 1, 1965, was 163,644,000 — an increase of 1.3 per cent over June 1964, according to Census Bureau estimates. The new figure represents an increase of eight per cent since April 1, 1960.

Hearing Due Monday On Cluster Plan

A "cluster zoning" ordinance will be given a public hearing by the San Rafael City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

The proposal is to amend the zoning ordinance to authorize cluster developments by use permit in all residential zones. The planning commission has approved the idea.

The long-awaited slope policy amendment to the subdivision ordinance also was scheduled for hearing at Monday's council meeting, but the planning department has asked it be postponed to Oct. 18.

Report of a study of the effects of replacing diagonal parking with parallel parking on Fourth Street is to be presented.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen will recommend purchase of 1,000 parking meters, claiming some of the present meters are antiquated and inoperative.

An ordinance creating a city finance department is to be introduced. Effect of this will be to make a separate department of the finance office which is now under the city clerk.

Republican League Elects

William A. Exline of Terra Linda, a television sales executive, last night was elected president of the California Republican League of Marin County.

League members met in the San Rafael courthouse, with Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito, organizational committee chairman, presiding.

Other officers elected are as follows:

Peter Gottheiner of Greenbrae, vice president; Mary Lee of San Rafael, secretary; John T. McClennan of San Rafael, treasurer; Eleanor Colton of San Anselmo, precinct chairman; Aldo R. Valiani of Sausalito, sergeant at-arms. Directors are Marrian Comstock of Corte Madera, Charles L. Dyer of Terra Linda, Roger K. Anderson of Novato, and Maloa Trimble of Tiburon.

The new officers will serve for the rest of this calendar year.

Mastrangelo, who headed organization of the Marin Chapter has been elected regional director of the California Republican League.

Pope Responds To New Crowds

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope Paul Americans will see may appear to be a vastly different man from the Pope Paul Romans see.

Travel does things to him.

In the Holy Land and India he seemed to be a warmer man, responding to the crowds around him and evoking a response.

At home, in his own diocese of Rome, he is often taken for granted. The crowds are used to seeing pontiffs, and sometimes it seems they lack enthusiasm.

Those who know Pope Paul say he is a warm but basically shy person who finds it difficult to stir a crowd without some help from the crowd itself.

When he travels, things are different. He is swept up in meeting new people and seeing new things. The crowds are livelier than Rome's. They haven't seen a Pope before.

"They inspire him, and he inspires them," said a Vatican prelate who traveled with Pope Paul to India and the Holy Land.

His aides will never forget how he led thousands of Indian school children singing a hymn. He stood on a platform and waved his arms like a choir leader. His steel-blue eyes were shining.

At the Vatican, where he appears in public at least once a week, the slightly built pontiff often seems to be a stern, ascetic figure.

Only on rare occasions does he show in Rome the spirit he displays when traveling. One such instance was his visit to a Gypsy camp outside Rome last Sunday, his 68th birthday. He joined the Gypsies in rhythmic handclapping as they sang a Gypsy melody.

But it was a crowd of Gypsies, not Romans.

Pope Paul and the Romans are old acquaintances.

Of the 45 years since he became a priest, he has spent 35 in Rome or at the Vatican. He was a prominent aide to Popes Pius XI and Pius XII.

But his background is north Italian.

He was born Giovanni Battista—John the Baptist—Montini Sept. 26, 1897, in the northern town of Concesio, five miles north of Brescia. His father ran a Roman Catholic daily in Brescia, a journalistic background that Pope Paul has often recalled. On his flight from Rome to Bombay, at an altitude of 30,000 feet, Pope Paul gave history's first papal news conference, answering questions of newsmen who flew with him to India.

Giovanni Battista Montini was ordained a priest in 1920. After three years of graduate studies in Rome and a year in Warsaw, Poland, as secretary to the apostolic nuncio, he entered the Vatican Secretariat of State. He rose steadily. Pius XI made him substitute secretary of state in 1937, and Pius XII promoted him to prosecretary of state in 1952.

The career in the secretariat ended after 31 years, when Pius XII sent him north to Milan as archbishop of the most important diocese in Italy outside Rome.

Eight years later, in June 1963, Giovanni Battista Montini returned to Rome for the conclave of cardinals that elected him successor to Pope John XXIII.

Study Released On Ways To Meet Needs In Travel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If scientists are right, the only way around may be up, down or wet.

Future transportation, according to a study released yesterday by North American Aviation, will involve plenty of flying, traveling in tunnels and boat rides.

"We're at a crossroads," said Gov. Edmund G. Brown when the study was released, "and freeways are abviously not the answer to handle the 40 million people we expect in this state by the year 2000."

The study, prepared under a $100,000 state contract, added:

It's difficult to move people and goods around the state now, and in 50 years, it'll be five to seven times more difficult.

Suggestions included:

High speed trains and tunnels.

Vertical takeoff and landing aircraft capable of whisking a businessman from his office roof to his front yard.

Hydrofoil ships to ferry pas- freight.

Electronic freeways that automatically guide and space vehicles, reducing accidents and making smog-producing motors obsolete.

Produce that can be piped to market.

Coffee Sales Aid Angola's Economy

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Angola's trade showed a balance of $17.3 million for the first five mnths of this year. This was over nearly $2 million more than the previous year.

Coffee counted for the largest contribution among exports with 12,844 tons valued at $6.3 million.

About 12,000 people earn a living in New York driving taxis.

DEWITT K. MacDONALD Jr.
Heads bond campaign

Chairman Set In Tamalpais Bond Drive

Dewitt K. MacDonald Jr., San Rafael lawyer and resident of Greenbrae, has been named general chairman for the Tamalpais High School District bond campaign.

High school trustees are asking voters to approve $5,750,000 in bonds to build the first phase of a new high school in San Geronimo Valley and complete Redwood High School in Larkspur. The election is set for Nov. 16.

MacDonald is amember of the law firm of Nelson, Boyd, Menary, and MacDonald. He has lived in Greenbrae for nine years. He and his wife have three children in Kentfield Elementary District schools.

Mrs. Richard Melbostad of Mill Valley, member of the board, has been acting chairman for the campaign. She will continue as board representative to the steering committee.

Some Of Zip Gone From Postal Zip Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postal authorities are confident they can iron out some kinks that have taken a bit of zip out of the zip code.

There's nothing wrong with the five-number code itself, postal planners insist. But they concede they have found what they call "some small bugs" in the complex of 553 sectional centers organized to put the zip into the nationwide routing and distribution of mail.

Outgoing Postmaster General John A. Gronouski celebrated the establishment of the last of the elaborately plotted centers July 1 with the proud declaration that the center network provided the core of "the first all-new mail distribution and routing system since the advent of the railroads."

Gronouski, now preparing to take up the post of ambassador to Poland, also said the sectional establishment would assure the sending of all mail "by the most direct route possible to its destination."

But that's precisely where the bugs got into the act. It appears that in some places the appointed rounds of mail deliverers are more roundabout than the most direct routes envisioned by the planners.

Gronouski was not the first postmaster general to decry primary reliance on a distribution system which, despite increased use of airplanes and motor vehicles, was geared to mail trains.

As late as 1930 there were more than 10,000 trains carrying mail, about 27 billion pieces of it. Now more than 82 billion pieces of mail are moving each year, but there are only 1,100 mail trains.

Primary dependence on trains led naturally to the designation of postal gateways to which mail from a distance was routed for redistribution, as, for example, to Jacksonville for distribution through most of Florida.

Having decided to use the best available means of moving the mails, postal experts spotted 553 section centers around the country at the apparent hubs of converging transportation links and assigned to each center some 60 or 70 satellite post offices.

That's where the zip code gets into the system, for the first three digits identify the sectional center.

But that's also the place in the system where some trouble is brewing. A postal aide describes the simplest form of the problem this way:

Towns A and B are 30 miles apart, and historically mails have moved between them directly. But the experts, looking at the country as a whole and looking to the future availability of better transportaton, attached the two satellite towns to separate hub centers.

Strict adherence to the letter of the master plan could mean, then, that mail addressed from one town to the other would go first to a sectional center, and could travel two or three times the direct mileage between them. For the code directs mail from one center to another for redistribution to its own satellites.

The total U.S. resident population June 1, 1965, was 163,644,000 — an increase of 1.3 per cent over June 1964, according to Census Bureau estimates. The new figure represents an increase of eight per cent since April 1, 1960.

Hearing Due Monday On Cluster Plan

A "cluster zoning" ordinance will be given a public hearing by the San Rafael City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

The proposal is to amend the zoning ordinance to authorize cluster developments by use permit in all residential zones. The planning commission has approved the idea.

The long-awaited slope policy amendment to the subdivision ordinance also was scheduled for hearing at Monday's council meeting, but the planning department has asked it be postponed to Oct. 18.

Report of a study of the effects of replacing diagonal parking with parallel parking on Fourth Street is to be presented.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen will recommend purchase of 1,000 parking meters, claiming some of the present meters are antiquated and inoperative.

An ordinance creating a city finance department is to be introduced. Effect of this will be to make a separate department of the finance office which is now under the city clerk.

Republican League Elects

William A. Exline of Terra Linda, a television sales executive, last night was elected president of the California Republican League of Marin County.

League members met in the San Rafael courthouse, with Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito, organizational committee chairman, presiding.

Other officers elected are as follows:

Peter Gottheiner of Greenbrae, vice president; Mary Lee of San Rafael, secretary; John T. McClennan of San Rafael, treasurer; Eleanor Colton of San Anselmo, precinct chairman; Aldo R. Valiani of Sausalito, sergeant at-arms. Directors are Marrian Comstock of Corte Madera, Charles L. Dyer of Terra Linda, Roger K. Anderson of Novato, and Maloa Trimble of Tiburon.

The new officers will serve for the rest of this calendar year.

Mastrangelo, who headed organization of the Marin Chapter has been elected regional director of the California Republican League.

Surgery Ends Deformity For Mexican Boy

PALO ALTO (AP)—A delicate operation, rarely performed on a teen-ager, has corrected a gaping hole which 13-year-old Antonio Victorio of Mexico has had in his upper lip since birth.

The deformity had caused so much teasing that Antonio dropped out of school at La Azteca, in Sonora where he was living with his grandmother.

Fr. James Poggi of St. Joseph Seminary, Mountain View, met Antonio and notified friends at Stanford. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rangle of Menlo Park brought the boy by auto to Palo Alto.

Two successful operations were performed, in February and last week. Dr. Robert Chase executive head of the department of surgery at Stanford University School of Medicine, said such a cleft lip and palate usually are corrected in children of this country between the ages of six months and two years.

The boy is living with Mr. and Mrs. Barney Cervantes and their six children in Mountain View. He is learning to speak English.

Boat Dwellers Deny Ducking Sewer Hookup

A spokesman for Waldo Point houseboat dwellers denied today that any has been put adrift in Richardson Bay to escape being forced to connect to a sewer.

Dean M. Jennings of the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn. flatly contradicted a statement by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, that nine of the house boats had been cut loose to become transient vessels as a means of avoiding the sewer requirement.

Jennings said only three house boats are anchored out in Richardson Bay, and they are there because no more berths are available. They have been there several months, he said.

Houseboat dwellers have been given an order from the Bay Area Pollution Control Board that they will be illegal if not hooked up to sanitary facilities by Nov. 15. Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors are working on an assessment district to provide sewer in the area from Sausalito's northern city limits up to Richardson Bay Bridge.

Tax Rates Lower For Small Schools

Look at the disparity in finances of Marin's school districts from another angle, and you might find a strong argument for keeping small school districts.

That is from the tax rate angle.

County Auditor-Controler Michael Mitchell yesterday cited figures showing the range in percentage of local money supporting the districts. He said the smaller districts generally required the highest percentage of local support and this might be an argument for unification.

Lincoln School District, for instance, with 13 pupils, spends $1,415 per pupil with 91.1 per cent of that in local money.

But Lincoln has a tax rate of only 55.5 cents per $100 of assessed value per pupil comes to $96,660, the highest of any district in the county.

By contrast, Dixie School District, with 4,200 pupils, has an assessed valuation of only $8,115 per pupil. The Dixie tax rate is $3.125 per $100 assessed valuation. Mitchell's figures showed that Dixie's expenditure of $542.88 per pupil was supported by only 56.7 in local money.

Reed School District, which Mitchell cited as the highest in per cent of local money in districts with more than 200 pupils, has an assessed valuation per pupil of $23,532 and a tax rate of $3.275 per $100 assessed valuation.

Reed has 1,600 pupils, spends $862 per pupil and supports this with 83.6 per cent in local money.

One of the main reasons for the difference between Reed and Dixie is that the latter qualifies as an "impoverished district" under the state aid formula, where Reed does not.

Fertility Drug User Has Quads

MANHASSET, N.Y. (UPI)—The birth of quadruplets, three boys and a girl to Mrs. Sheila Sklar was announced today by the North Shore Hospital.

The three boys were born first, followed by the girl.

The first boy weighed six pounds at birth. Weights of the others were not immediately available.

Mrs. Sklar, who had taken clomiphene, a drug used to induce ovulation, lives in Hartsdale, N.Y.

There have been several multiple births around the world as result of women taking a variety of fertility-producing drugs which induce the pituitary gland to manufacture ovum-maturing hormones.

Problems, Problems

NEW DELHI (AP)—A number of New Delhi's major streets had become too congested, so they were widened. Now the city has another problem: Light poles which were moved back are amidst tall trees and the streets are considered to be too dark.

Some rich homes in India have wash basins in dining rooms for it is a custom to wash hands before and after eating.

Civil Air Patrol To Be In Test

Members of the Marin Squadron 4, Civil Air Patrol, and Marin residents in the Sonoma Squadron 42, will participate tomorrow and Sunday in a statewide test to be staged at a secret location.

Members will participate in a search for a simulated plane crash, and in the rescue of injured passengers, carrying them to safety over difficult terrain. The U.S. Air Force will grade the test.

Anne Stine Ingstad in August, 1964 in L'Anse au Meadow, Newfoundland, found a piece of carved soapstone which served as a flywheel on a wool-spinning spindle. The find supports the claim that Norsemen colonized the New World long before Columbus.

NEW CORTE MADERA SHOWROOMS OPENED

J and B Ford Sales, formerly on East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, occupied its new showrooms on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, this week, in time to display the 1966 line of Fords. The building covers 22,000 square feet of floor space. Facilities include a complete service department with 25 stalls, new repair equipment and a sound system to all departments.

Emporium Votes To Split Stock

Directors of The Emporium Capwell Co. have voted to split the common stock two for one and reduce the par value per share from $10 to $5.

The action is subject to approval by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares.

The board also declared a dividend of 32½ cents per share (16¼ cents on the new split stock) payable Jan. 3, 1966 to stockholders of record November 17, 1965.

The declaration of this dividend places the stock on an indicated annual rate of $1.30 per share as compared with the present rate of $1.20 per share.

Many Losses Erased; Early Profits Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market erased many losses and showed a mixed pattern at the close today.

In early trading profits were taken in many of the high-flyers which were prominent in the September advance. Makers of color television sets also backed away from recent gains.

Aerospace stocks were strong at the start and most kept part of their gains at the end.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.4 million shares compared with 8.68 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Profit taking hit a number of the recent speculative favorites and spread to such recently-strong groups as electronics and airlines. In a second-day reaction to the award of the $2 billion contract for the huge C5A plane to Lockheed, that stock trimmed an early gain of about 2½ to a fraction while the unsuccessful bidders, Boeing and Douglas Aircraft, rebounded about a point each from Thursday's sharp losses.

SCM Corp., ranging between a gain and a loss as more profits were taken in it, looked like the most active stock and was almost even late in the day.

Radio Corp. was heavily traded and down nearly a point. Zenith lost more than a point, Raytheon and Sperry Rand fractions.

Losses of about 2 each were taken by Delta Airlines, Northwest Airlines and National Airlines as profits were taken in them. Eastern gained about 1½, American a fraction.

Kaiser Dividend Set

OAKLAND—Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 22½ cents per share on the corporation's common stock. The dividend is payable Nov. 30, 1965, to stockholders of record Nov. 9.

Components Industry Is Set Up

A new division of G.T.I. Corp. of Meadville, Pa., to serve the semi-conductor industry in the western United States will be headquartered in San Rafael.

The new operation, G.T.I. Components, is at 27 Jordan Street, where it replaces Saegertown Components, an operation of the Saegertown, Pa., division of G.T.I. David S. Wilson, who was plant manager, will serve as the new division's general manager.

Richard H. Rudolph, president of G.T.I., said the corporation's diverse resources will be drawn together in the new operation to provide "local product and engineering service for the semi-conductor industry's need for wire and glass seal components as used in transistors, diodes, integrated circuits and other solid state devices."

The San Rafael facility has been in existence since 1961 and employs 94 people in a 'round-the-clock, three-shift operation. Wilson said under the new arrangement the plant is expected to increase its staff to 150-175 employees within the next year. Wilson has been in charge of the plant since early 1963.

Besides the formation of G.T.I. Components, the corporation has made three acquisitions during the past 10 months: Dytronics, Inc., Leesburg, Ind.; Clover Industries, Inc., Tonawanda, N.Y., and Beal Brothers, Inc., Hadley, Pa.

Hertz To Buy Fleets

NEW YORK—The Hertz Corp. announced that it plans a record purchase of 63,000 new 1966 cars and trucks valued at $215 million.

Emporium Votes To Split Stock

Directors of The Emporium Capwell Co. have voted to split the common stock two for one and reduce the par value per share from $10 to $5.

The action is subject to approval by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares.

The board also declared a dividend of 32½ cents per share (16¼ cents on the new split stock) payable Jan. 3, 1966 to stockholders of record November 17, 1965.

The declaration of this dividend places the stock on an indicated annual rate of $1.30 per share as compared with the present rate of $1.20 per share.

Many Losses Erased; Early Profits Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market erased many losses and showed a mixed pattern at the close today.

In early trading profits were taken in many of the high-flyers which were prominent in the September advance. Makers of color television sets also backed away from recent gains.

Aerospace stocks were strong at the start and most kept part of their gains at the end.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.4 million shares compared with 8.68 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Profit taking hit a number of the recent speculative favorites and spread to such recently-strong groups as electronics and airlines. In a second-day reaction to the award of the $2 billion contract for the huge C5A plane to Lockheed, that stock trimmed an early gain of about 2½ to a fraction while the unsuccessful bidders, Boeing and Douglas Aircraft, rebounded about a point each from Thursday's sharp losses.

SCM Corp., ranging between a gain and a loss as more profits were taken in it, looked like the most active stock and was almost even late in the day.

Radio Corp. was heavily traded and down nearly a point. Zenith lost more than a point, Raytheon and Sperry Rand fractions.

Losses of about 2 each were taken by Delta Airlines, Northwest Airlines and National Airlines as profits were taken in them. Eastern gained about 1½, American a fraction.

Components Industry Is Set Up

A new division of G.T.I. Corp. of Meadville, Pa., to serve the semi-conductor industry in the western United States will be headquartered in San Rafael.

The new operation, G.T.I. Components, is at 27 Jordan Street, where it replaces Saegertown Components, an operation of the Saegertown, Pa., division of G.T.I. David S. Wilson, who was plant manager, will serve as the new division's general manager.

Richard H. Rudolph, president of G.T.I., said the corporation's diverse resources will be drawn together in the new operation to provide "local product and engineering service for the semi-conductor industry's need for wire and glass seal components as used in transistors, diodes, integrated circuits and other solid state devices."

The San Rafael facility has been in existence since 1961 and employs 94 people in a 'round-the-clock, three-shift operation. Wilson said under the new arrangement the plant is expected to increase its staff to 150-175 employees within the next year. Wilson has been in charge of the plant since early 1963.

Besides the formation of G.T.I. Components, the corporation has made three acquisitions during the past 10 months: Dytronics, Inc., Leesburg, Ind.; Clover Industries, Inc., Tonawanda, N.Y., and Beal Brothers, Inc., Hadley, Pa.

'Total Theater' Dance Creator Not Very Pleased With Critics

By ALAN ADELSON

Life is supposed to be hard for avant garde artists.

Ann Halprin may live in prosperity with her landscape-architect husband in a sprawling Kent Woodlands home, but the modern dance innovator suffers the strain of going unrecognized, scorned, misunderstood, and ridiculed by what she describes as "the ill-informed, distinterested art critics of the United States."

Returned this week from a European tour with her "total theater" show, "Parades and Changes," Mrs. Halprin found an incident in Warsaw had created a splash of publicity.

Founder of the Marin Dancers Workshop in 1950, Mrs. Halprin included a scene in her new show in which naked dancers slowly dance with a huge length of paper. The nudes wrap themselves in the paper, shaded to match their own skin. They create, according to Mrs. Halprin, a unity of sound by flicking and tearing the paper as they wind themselves in it.

LIKE A BUTTERFLY

"Its like a transformation of the skin—as a butterfly might do . . . . We dance without clothes because there is no need for clothes—there's certainly no sex involved," said the dance innovator.

Officials of Warsaw's Autumn Arts Festival didn't feel the risk was worth taking last week, and Mrs. Halprin's "butterflies" were required to wear leotards after their first performance.

"It didn't matter if we couldn't put on that particular episode of the show, since we have many more prepared than could ever be given in one performance," said Mrs. Halprin.

The principle behind Mrs. Halprin's "total theater" is the gradual development of a performance from a bare, empty theater to an intricate, captivating series of dramatic enounters on the stage and throughout the audience. Everything is supposed to happen in front of the audience — including costume changes, she said.

"We are trying to represent the huge and minute episodes of daily life. Every member of the audience should see himself in our episodes," she declared.

INTO AUDIENCE

Besides the nude scene, Mrs. Halprin's company presents scenes where cast members filter out into a totally dark theater, beaming flashlights and whispering to one another heavily decorate themselves with odd objects so that they are forced to walk with grotesque contortions to maintain their balance, embrace one another for lengthly moments on stage, and drag one another around like bags of dirty laundry.

All of the odd situations which Mrs. Halprin contrives for her dances are pre-arranged, but dancers may act at will in reacting to each episode, she said.

NON-OBJECTIVE

Though she doesn't like the term, the shows different scenes are abstract and only vaguely mirror real situations, so observers must decide for themselves what is being depicted on stage.

Mrs. Halprin proudly displayed a pile of "rave notices" by top European critics, but complained that her company and work is too little known at home.

"We're famous in Europe, but people have hardly heard of us in Marin County, where we live, and create our performances," she said.

"It's odd, really, that we have to travel so far to get the acclaim we deserve, but I don't mind—as long as we can get out of here and perform occassionally."

Judge Named Heir To His Wife's Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Thomas C. Yager has been named sole beneficiary and executor of the estate of his bride of three days.

Mrs. Eileen Keliher Jeffers Yager, 61, disappeared from their honeymoon yacht last May 6, less than 72 hours after they were married May 3 by Roman Catholic James Francis Cardinal McIntyre. Her body was never found.

Mrs. Yager's will, dated May 3, was filed yesterday for probate proceedings. It left all "to my beloved husband." Mrs. Yager was the adopted daughter of the late Union Pacific Railroad president William Jeffers, who reportedly left her about $500,000.

Yager's attorney earlier announced that the 47-year-old jurist intends to memorialize his and his wife's ideals with charitable gifts — probably exceeding the amount of Yager's inheritance.

Brown Criticized For Farmers Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly minority leader Robert Monagan, a potential candidate for governor in 1966, has accused Gov. Edmund G. Brown of "deceit" for "slapping another tax" on farmers.

The Tracy Republican said at a news conference here yesterday he had been informed the Employment Department was sending auditors into the fields to collect disability insurance contributions from farmers.

He said the contributions were designed to provide braceros and other foreign workers with disability insurance. But he claimed most of the intended beneficiaries were not around long enough to benefit.

Anti-Viet Nam Group Tones Down Tactics

BERKELEY (UPI)—The Viet Nam Day Commitee, which has staged a series of protests against American involvement in the Viet Nam war, has announced it will demonstrate outside the Oakland Army Terminal Oct. 15.

However, spokesmen for the militant group emphasized it would make no attempt to enter the terminal or otherwise break the law. Earlier the group had threatened to invade the terminal by climbing fences, to block entrances to the facility and perform other acts of "civil disobedience."

Fortune Booth

Theater in Marin, a newly formed theatrical group, will operate a fortune telling booth at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Town and Country Club in Fairfax, with "Madam Charlatana" on hand to read fortunes.

Split Districts May Provide Flood Control

It will be necessary to form two separate flood control districts in the Ross Valley if different rates are to be charged for maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said today.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested Tuesday that those areas above the first phase of the project, which is to end at the southern limits of the Town of Ross, pay only one-third of the maintenance, while those below pay two-thirds.

Cities in the upper valley have balked at paying the maintenance charge and the Army project cannot get started until there is agreement.

A 1961 estimate on maintenance was $15,000 a year. County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said today the figure now could be higher. He has asked a new estimate.

Supervisors will meet with representatives of Ross Valley cities at the San Anselmo City Hall at 8 p.m., Oct. 14, in an attempt to reach accord.

Rick Kasnoff Leads Drake Freshmen

Rick Kasnoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kasnoff, 15 Carlson Avenue, San Anselmo, has been elected freshman class president at Sir Francis Drake High School. He received 227 votes to Marc Jones's 107 votes.

Lynne Williams was elected vice-president with 84 votes. Opposing candidates were Lamar Faulkner, who received 49; Theodore Gill, 80; Philip Homer, 36; Larry Kirkendall, 39, and Marti Walter, 45 votes.

Rosana Orr was elected secretary, receiving 149 votes. She defeated Christine Fairchild, 125; Lynne Gadsby, 29; Lauren Kealey, 39 and Denise Truitt, 22 votes.

Alicia Snyder defeated Elaine Strahlendorf, to become treasurer, 169 votes to 112.

Dodgers 'Zero' In On Flag: Magic Is 2

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The magic number was two for the Los Angeles Dodgers today as the hour of truth approaches in their run for the National League pennant.

They defeated the Milwaukee Braves last night, 4-0, to remain two games in front of the San Francisco Giants, who whipped Cincinnati in the afternoon, 5-3.

It was the Dodgers 13th straight victory, longest string of wins since they had an identical string in the late spring of 1962. It was the seventh shutout in the 13 games, and a crowd of 36,006 was on hand.

Right-hander Don Drysdale limited the Braves to three hits in winning his 23rd game, his seventh blank job for the season. For 4 2-3 innings, he held Milwaukee hitless.

"Naw, I wasn't going for a no-hitter," said Drysdale. "I was just trying to keep them from scoring."

Southpaw Claude Osteen (15-14) was set to pitch for Los Angeles tonight, and a win would cinch at least a tie for the Dodgers. Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan nominated Denny LeMaster (6-13) to try to stop the Dodgers.

Drysdale retired the first 14 batters in order last night, but Felipe Alou interrupted the show with a single to left.

The next seven Braves went down, but Drysdale ran into a brief threat when Joe Torre singled and took third on Mike de la Hoz' double, leading off the eighth.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, had staked Don to two runs in the second and one each in the fifth and sixth.

"I was fortunate to shut out a team like Milwaukee. Everybody chipped in to help," said Drysdale.

Told that he had thrown but 89 pitches, Drysdale noted:

"That'll help in case I have to pitch Sunday."

He paused, then drew a laugh with, "Of course, I'd just as soon not have to pitch Sunday. I'd rather be a spectator."

To elaborate, everyone in the Dodger roster hopes the pennant will be settled tomorrow afternoon. Who pitches Sunday would be immaterial.

"All I want," said Manager Walt Alston, "is two more."

Alston pointed out that relief artist Ron Perranoski has now had two nights of non-labor, thanks to Don and Sandy Koufax's 2-hit shutout the night before.

"Ron can use it," said Alston.

"Maybe he'll get rusty," someone volunteered.

"No, not Perranoski," Alston replied with a broad grin.

Drysdale got two hits and drove in a run, boosting his batting average to .302, to lead the club in hitting.

Pitchers aren't supposed to lead clubs in batting, but then that's the Dodgers.

Bragan used five pitchers without much luck. Hank Fischer, now 8-9, was the loser.

PREPS START PLAYING FOR KEEPS TOMORROW

Their practice season behind them, Marin Athletic League football teams start the league championship race tomorrow with three games on tap.

In the afternoon it's Tamalpais vs. San Rafael at Kentfield, 1:30 p.m. and Terra Linda at Novato at 2. Tomorrow night Drake tackles Marin Catholic at Kentfield, 8 o'clock. Turn to page 18 for a rundown on all local high school and junior college grid activities this weekend, plus a look at the West Coast college scene.

Also on page 18 are the I-J's Fearless, Peerless Pigskin Prognosticators' predictions for major prep, college and pro games.

Hollywood Finish Keeps Giants Alive—Barely

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

A Great Life—If You Week-End; Oldest Grid Rivalry In Marin

Still grasping for a last straw in the dying summer winds? Need a pick-me-up as your Giants face an almost impossible task? Feeling down in the dumps? Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Well, here are some figures I collected at Candlestick yesterday that may add a spark to that flicker in your heart:

The Giants play best of all on weekends, having won 13 of 23 games on Fridays this year, 17 of 25 Saturday games and 20 out of 29 Sunday outings. With nothing but a Friday, Saturday and Sunday remaining on their calendar, there's hope, gang, there is hope.

Let's just hope the Dodgers weaken while we week-end.

More fuel: Tonight's starter Bobby Bolin (13-5) is 7-1 lifetime against Cincinnati and 3-0 this season against the Reds.

HOW'S THIS for a fast-finish by the top two teams: The Dodgers were 20-7 and Giants 21-9 in September. But the days grow short, when you reach September. Sounds like a good line for a song. Think I'll work on it.

Meantime, let's go Bolin tonight.

PREDICTION: At precisely 1 p.m. Sunday Herman Franks will say, "We're going to play one game at a time."

And immediately after the final out Sunday, Mr. Franks will utter his other classic line, to-wit: "There's no tomorrow." (My, but I'm getting more good song material today.)

WOULDN'T YOU call Hopalong Orlando Cepeda's charitable contribution to the Giant cause yesterday a case of aid FROM the knee-dy? Oh. I didn't think so.

IN THE NOT-too-distant past, when you and I were young, Maggie, the Tamalpais-San Rafael high school football rivalry was the biggest thing in Marin sports.

Dating back to 1905, this is one of the oldest prep athletic feuds in the state. Probably because there wasn't much else to do in those days, fans went wild when the Bulldogs and Indians met. Campus raids, bon fires, parades and good old fashioned street fights highlighted every game. Big Game fever mounted weeks in advance and exploded on the day of the game.

Well, those were the good old days. Growth of the county and new rivalries have considerably lessened the Tam-San Rafael feud. Tomorrow at Kentfield these fine old institutions meet again on the gridiron for about the 60th time, but it just ain't THE Big Game anymore. I wonder how many old grads will be in the stands?

Time marches on! Darn it.

FOOTBALL INDEED is a contact sport. Take the case of Novato High's star place-kicker Bill Coots, who wears contact lenses. Just before Novato rallied to tie Petaluma 20-20 last week, Coots lost his contact cheaters, so it was a blurred football he kicked for the vital extra point that would have meant a dramatic Novato victory. But the blurred football missed the blurred uprights and the 20-20 on the scoreboard was NOT Coots' vision. What a spectacle! All in favor say Eye.

I'm getting cornea and cornea, so I'd better quit while I'm behind.

Mrs. Martens Is Tourney Winner

Mrs. H. E. Martens of the Presido Golf Club won low net honors yesterday in guest day action at the Meadow Club in Fairfax. Mrs. Martens shot a 92, and with 21 handicap, came out with a 71.

Mrs. Frank Boyer won the hole-in-one contest, reaching four feet from the cup. Class winners were:

Class A — Mrs. R. Waidman, 81-7—74; Mrs. John Lesoine, 91-16—75; Mrs. Tony Bailey, 81-4—77.

Class B — Mrs. Elmer Martin, 95-18—77; Mrs. R. E. Belli, 95-17—78; Mrs. Louis Sandoval, 96-18—78; Mrs. C. W. Morrill, 97-19—78.

Class C — Mrs. J. S. Harrison, 94-21—73; Mrs. Arnold Nutting, 97-21—76; Mrs. M. Davis, 99-21—78.

San Rafael Triumphs

San Rafael Class C basketballers topped Novato 34-30 yesterday at Novato. Larry Schmidt led the winners with 8 points.

Marin Cagers Win

Led by Robert McCarthy's 11 points, Marin Catholic's Class C basketball team whipped Drake 35-14 yesterday on the winners' court.

A Real Test For Mr. Brodie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie's superlative passing average for the San Francisco 49ers meets a real test Sunday in Baltimore.

Brodie leads all National Football League passers with 30 completions in 40 attempts. He has tossed for 505 yards gained.

Part of his success may have been due to the porous defense of the Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

But the Baltimore Colts, however, have a great front line and an outstanding secondary.

An effective ground game has aided Brodie this year. Coach Jack Christiansen has gathered together a fine assortment of runners who keep the opposition's defense honest.

Y. A. Tittle, the 49ers quarterback coach, has had quarterbacks Brodie, George Mira and Bill Kilmer perfecting little things — especially the timing and coordination between passers and receivers.

Ex-Giant Jones Is MVP At 39

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — At 39, the well-travelled Sam Jones has earned the award of most valuable pitcher in the International League.

The former major leaguer posted a 12-4 record as a relief pitcher in helping the Columbus Jets win the International League pennant.

DODGERS SWINGING TOWARD TITLE

The Forgotten Man

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They called him "the forgotten man." People said he lacked desire. The more cruel ones called him a malingerer, a guy who looked for excuses not to play.

The army of critics grew in number and the accusers became bolder when Orlando Cepeda was forced out of action virtually all year because of a winter knee operation.

The same people who had cheered him for his great slugging years ever since the Giants moved to San Francisco in 1958, the ones who had adopted him as their own, nicknaming him "The Baby Bull," now looked upon him with suspicion.

It was as if it was his fault that the Giants were now trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League pennant race by two games instead of leading by a comfortable margin.

Orlando Cepeda, a kind and sensitive man, and a great ball player, is well aware of the cruel and injust things said about him by unthinking people and he cannot find it in his heart to forgive them.

Yesterday afternoon, after he had stepped up to the plate as a pinch hitter and slammed 3-2 pitch by Joe Nuxhall for a two-run homer that gave the Giants a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, keeping the Giants' pennant hopes alive, the pride of Ponce, Puerto Rico, couldn't restrain himself any longer.

It was part exhiliaration, part relief, part redemption and part defiance that prompted him to give vent to his pent-up thoughts.

"I know what people say," he said his voice choking with emotion. "They say I don't want to play. . .

"They talk that I am faking it. I don't understand people who say such terrible things about me. People who say such untruths don't deserve to live.

"I have pride. God gave me ability to play baseball. It's my living. It's the thing I can do best. Why should I not want to do what I know best?

"For two years I played on a knee that hurt every time I put pressure on it. I played when I should not have played. I did not even tell my manager.

"You can ask my wife, Anna, how many mornings I could hardly get out of bed to go to the ball park. But I never told anybody. Even after the operation, I tried to play too soon. That's why I hurt the knee again. If I didn't want to play, why have I worked so hard with exercises and weights? Why did I take four injections in my knee just three weeks ago?"

Cepeda underwent surgery on his right knee last Dec. 7. The knee was still sore when he reported to spring training. Overzealous in his efforts to get in shape, he re-injured the knee and it grew worse. He started only four games all season and didn't finish one. His efforts have been confined to pinch hitting.

This is the fellow who as the Giants' only .300 hitter last year. The 28-year-old strong boy batted .304, hammered 31 home runs and drove in 97 runs. Over the past four years, he has averaged 36 home runs and 112 runs batted in.

It is no wonder Herman Franks, the Giants' manager, said after Cepeda's game winning home run:

"I wonder what would have happened had Orlando been able to play all year?"

Cepeda must wonder, too.

When Franks sent him up to pinch hit for winning pitcher Masanori Murakami with the score tied in the ninth inning, one out and a runner on base, he said to Cepeda:

"You owe me one. If you don't hit a home run for me, don't ever speak to me again."

Cepeda strode to the plate and promptly smacked his first home run of the season.

Cepeda grinned broadly as he told of the little repartee on the dugout steps between himself and the manager.

"Herman's a great man," he said. "And I feel bad for him. We want so much to win the pennant for him. But we're not there yet. We got a little ways to go."

"Now I feel I belong to the ball club," Cepeda went on. "This is the first time I did something for the club.

"It killed me that I could not help. All year I feel empty. It's been so very, very hard. I know I wasn't earning my money. Today I think I earned my salary."

Cepeda's salary reportedly is $53,000. He has been to bat only 32 times this season, collecting six hits.

That comes to $8,833.33 a base hit.

Bolin Vs. Reds' Ellis Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—"We ain't dead yet," said San Francisco Manager Herman Franks in a paraphrase of Charlie Dressen's once famous quote that "the Giants is dead."

In the first break they have had since coming home a week ago, the Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, yesterday, and it came on as dramatic a moment as any conceived by a Hollywood script writer.

With one out, the score tied 3-3, Franks guessed right for a change and sent Orlando Cepeda up as a pinch-hitter for relief pitcher Masanori Murakami.

Orlando, once the darling "Baby Bull" of San Francisco fans and lately just another guy on the bench because of a prolonged knee injury, worked the count to 3-2 on Reds pitcher Joe Nuxhall.

With Tom Haller aboard Orlando hit Nuxhall's next serve high and far over the centerfield fence, then jogged triumphantly around the bases in what had to be his biggest moment of otherwise a wasted season.

Haller had reached first by forcing Hal Lanier, who had opened the fateful bottom of the ninth with his third hit, a single. Lanier previously had hit two doubles.

Franks, beside himself because of the Giants' apparent lack of clutch-hiting in the last four games, said Cepeda was "ordered" to hit the homer.

"I told him to hit one for me or don't bother talking to me again," Franks explained, smiling for the first time in more than a week as his Giants stayed alive in the waning National League pennant chase.

"He owed me one at this stage," Franks continued, and then thought out loud "I wonder what would have happened if he played all year."

The homer was Cepeda's first of 1965 and only his sixth hit overall. It came on his 32nd at bat.

He didn't have much trouble negotiating the bases on his homer but the trace of a limp was there.

"My leg is okay," Cepeda explained, "But it still is a little weak."

Franks said Nuxhall "was made to order for Cepeda."

By that, he explained that Orlando still doesn't have his timing and with a pitcher such as Nuxhall, who doesn't throw fast balls, Cepeda had a good chance to get the fat part of his bat on the ball.

Homers by Vada Pinson, Deron Johnson (both off Juan Marichal) and Frank Robinson accounted for all the Cincinnati runs. The Giants scored a single run in the first inning on two singles and Willie Mays' sacrifice fly, one in the fourth on Jim Hart's homer and one in the eighth on a double by Hart and a single by Jay Alou.

Tonight, with only three games left to play, Bob Bolin (13-5) goes against Sammy Ellis (21-10). On Saturday, Bob Shaw (16-8) opposes Jim O'Toole (3-9) and in Sunday's finale it will be Marichal (22-13) against Jim Maloney (20-9).

Marichal started for the Giants yesterday and left in the bottom of the seventh when he dislocated his left thumb while running out a double. The injury was not believed serious enough to prevent him from pitching in what could be the game that decides the N.L. pennant.

Murakami took over for Marichal yesterday and the only hit he gave up in two innings was Robinson's homer. Cepeda's homer took care of matters, though, and rewarded Murakami with his fourth victory in five decisions. Nuxhall, who went all the way, took his fourth loss against 11 victories.

Dodgers 'Zero' In On Flag: Magic Is 2

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The magic number was two for the Los Angeles Dodgers today as the hour of truth approaches in their run for the National League pennant.

They defeated the Milwaukee Braves last night, 4-0, to remain two games in front of the San Francisco Giants, who whipped Cincinnati in the afternoon, 5-3.

It was the Dodgers 13th straight victory, longest string of wins since they had an identical string in the late spring of 1962. It was the seventh shutout in the 13 games, and a crowd of 36,006 was on hand.

Right-hander Don Drysdale limited the Braves to three hits in winning his 23rd game, his seventh blank job for the season. For 4 2-3 innings, he held Milwaukee hitless.

"Naw, I wasn't going for a no-hitter," said Drysdale. "I was just trying to keep them from scoring."

Southpaw Claude Osteen (15-14) was set to pitch for Los Angeles tonight, and a win would cinch at least a tie for the Dodgers. Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan nominated Denny LeMaster (6-13) to try to stop the Dodgers.

Drysdale retired the first 14 batters in order last night, but Felipe Alou interrupted the show with a single to left.

The next seven Braves went down, but Drysdale ran into a brief threat when Joe Torre singled and took third on Mike de la Hoz' double, leading off the eighth.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, had staked Don to two runs in the second and one each in the fifth and sixth.

"I was fortunate to shut out a team like Milwaukee. Everybody chipped in to help," said Drysdale.

Told that he had thrown but 89 pitches, Drysdale noted:

"That'll help in case I have to pitch Sunday."

He paused, then drew a laugh with, "Of course, I'd just as soon not have to pitch Sunday. I'd rather be a spectator."

To elaborate, everyone in the Dodger roster hopes the pennant will be settled tomorrow afternoon. Who pitches Sunday would be immaterial.

"All I want," said Manager Walt Alston, "is two more."

Alston pointed out that relief artist Ron Perranoski has now had two nights of non-labor, thanks to Don and Sandy Koufax's 2-hit shutout the night before.

"Ron can use it," said Alston.

"Maybe he'll get rusty," someone volunteered.

"No, not Perranoski," Alston replied with a broad grin.

Drysdale got two hits and drove in a run, boosting his batting average to .302, to lead the club in hitting.

Pitchers aren't supposed to lead clubs in batting, but then that's the Dodgers.

Bragan used five pitchers without much luck. Hank Fischer, now 8-9, was the loser.

PREPS START PLAYING FOR KEEPS TOMORROW

Their practice season behind them, Marin Athletic League football teams start the league championship race tomorrow with three games on tap.

In the afternoon it's Tamalpais vs. San Rafael at Kentfield, 1:30 p.m. and Terra Linda at Novato at 2. Tomorrow night Drake tackles Marin Catholic at Kentfield, 8 o'clock. Turn to page 18 for a rundown on all local high school and junior college grid activities this weekend, plus a look at the West Coast college scene.

A Great Life–If You Week-End; Oldest Grid Rivalry In Marin

Still grasping for a last straw in the dying summer winds? Need a pick-me-up as your Giants face an almost impossible task? Feeling down in the dumps? Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Well, here are some figures I collected at Candlestick yesterday that may add a spark to that flicker in your heart:

The Giants play best of all on weekends, having won 13 of 23 games on Fridays this year, 17 of 25 Saturday games and 20 out of 29 Sunday outings. With nothing but a Friday, Saturday and Sunday remaining on their calendar, there's hope, gang, there is hope.

Let's just hope the Dodgers weaken while we week-end.

More fuel: Tonight's starter Bobby Bolin (13-5) is 7-1 lifetime against Cincinnati and 3-0 this season against the Reds.

HOW'S THIS for a fast-finish by the top two teams: The Dodgers were 20-7 and Giants 21-9 in September. But the days grow short, when you reach September. Sounds like a good line for a song. Think I'll work on it.

Meantime, let's go Bolin tonight.

PREDICTION: At precisely 1 p.m. Sunday Herman Franks will say, "We're going to play one game at a time."

And immediately after the final out Sunday, Mr. Franks will utter his other classic line, to-wit: "There's no tomorrow." (My, but I'm getting more good song material today.)

WOULDN'T YOU call Hopalong Orlando Cepeda's charitable contribution to the Giant cause yesterday a case of aid FROM the knee-dy? Oh. I didn't think so.

IN THE NOT-too-distant past, when you and I were young, Maggie, the Tamalpais-San Rafael high school football rivalry was the biggest thing in Marin sports.

Dating back to 1905, this is one of the oldest prep athletic feuds in the state. Probably because there wasn't much else to do in those days, fans went wild when the Bulldogs and Indians met. Campus raids, bon fires, parades and good old fashioned street fights highlighted every game. Big Game fever mounted weeks in advance and exploded on the day of the game.

Well, those were the good old days. Growth of the county and new rivalries have considerably lessened the Tam-San Rafael feud. Tomorrow at Kentfield these fine old institutions meet again on the gridiron for about the 60th time, but it just ain't THE Big Game anymore. I wonder how many old grads will be in the stands?

Time marches on! Darn it.

FOOTBALL INDEED is a contact sport. Take the case of Novato High's star place-kicker Bill Coots, who wears contact lenses. Just before Novato rallied to tie Petaluma 20-20 last week, Coots lost his contact cheaters, so it was a blurred football he kicked for the vital extra point that would have meant a dramatic Novato victory. But the blurred football missed the blurred uprights and the 20-20 on the scoreboard was NOT Coots' vision. What a spectacle! All in favor say Eye.

I'm getting cornea and cornea, so I'd better quit while I'm behind.

A Real Test For Mr. Brodie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie's superlative passing average for the San Francisco 49ers meets a real test Sunday in Baltimore.

Brodie leads all National Football League passers with 30 completions in 40 attempts. He has tossed for 505 yards gained.

Part of his success may have been due to the porous defense of the Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

But the Baltimore Colts, however, have a great front line and an outstanding secondary.

An effective ground game has aided Brodie this year. Coach Jack Christiansen has gathered together a fine assortment of runners who keep the opposition's defense honest.

Y. A. Tittle, the 49ers quarterback coach, has had quarterbacks Brodie, George Mira and Bill Kilmer perfecting little things — especially the timing and coordination between passers and receivers.

The Forgotten Man

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They called him "the forgotten man." People said he lacked desire. The more cruel ones called him a malingerer, a guy who looked for excuses not to play.

The army of critics grew in number and the accusers became bolder when Orlando Cepeda was forced out of action virtually all year because of a winter knee operation.

The same people who had cheered him for his great slugging years ever since the Giants moved to San Francisco in 1958, the ones who had adopted him as their own, nicknaming him "The Baby Bull," now looked upon him with suspicion.

It was as if it was his fault that the Giants were now trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League pennant race by two games instead of leading by a comfortable margin.

Orlando Cepeda, a kind and sensitive man, and a great ball player, is well aware of the cruel and injust things said about him by unthinking people and he cannot find it in his heart to forgive them.

Yesterday afternoon, after he had stepped up to the plate as a pinch hitter and slammed 3-2 pitch by Joe Nuxhall for a two-run homer that gave the Giants a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, keeping the Giants' pennant hopes alive, the pride of Ponce, Puerto Rico, couldn't restrain himself any longer.

It was part exhiliaration, part relief, part redemption and part defiance that prompted him to give vent to his pent-up thoughts.

"I know what people say," he said his voice choking with emotion. "They say I don't want to play. . .

"They talk that I am faking it. I don't understand people who say such terrible things about me. People who say such untruths don't deserve to live.

"I have pride. God gave me ability to play baseball. It's my living. It's the thing I can do best. Why should I not want to do what I know best?

"For two years I played on a knee that hurt every time I put pressure on it. I played when I should not have played. I did not even tell my manager.

"You can ask my wife, Anna, how many mornings I could hardly get out of bed to go to the ball park. But I never told anybody. Even after the operation, I tried to play too soon. That's why I hurt the knee again. If I didn't want to play, why have I worked so hard with exercises and weights? Why did I take four injections in my knee just three weeks ago?"

Cepeda underwent surgery on his right knee last Dec. 7. The knee was still sore when he reported to spring training. Overzealous in his efforts to get in shape, he re-injured the knee and it grew worse. He started only four games all season and didn't finish one. His efforts have been confined to pinch hitting.

It is no wonder Herman Franks, the Giants' manager, said after Cepeda's game winning home run:

"I wonder what would have happened had Orlando been able to play all year?"

Cepeda must wonder, too.

When Franks sent him up to pinch hit for winning pitcher Masanori Murakami with the score tied in the ninth inning, one out and a runner on base, he said to Cepeda:

"You owe me one. If you don't hit a home run for me, don't ever speak to me again."

"It killed me that I could not help. All year I feel empty. It's been so very, very hard. I know I wasn't earning my money. Today I think I earned my salary."

Cepeda's salary reportedly is $53,000. He has been to bat only 32 times this season, collecting six hits.

That comes to $8,833.33 a base hit.

Marin Prep Grid Championship Race Opens Tomorrow

Unbeaten Terra Linda, Novato Elevens Clash

Novato High School's Hornets football team, thought to have the best chance of dethroning Drake for Marin Athletic League championship honors, plays host to the Terra Linda High School Trojans tomorrow in opening round league action.

That game on the Hornets' playground gets under way at 2 p.m.

Both teams are unbeaten going into the league opener. Terra Linda whipped Clayton Valley 19-0 and beat Ukiah 12-6 in its two non-league encounters. Novato opened the season with a 20-0 drubbing of College Park and then tied tough Petaluma 20-20.

It has been a great start for two new head coaches. Brad Squires was an assistant coach at Terra Linda last year and Harry Moore was an assistant at Novato, and both moved up to the head coaching spots for this season.

Terra Linda will be going into the game tomorrow yith no major injuries, and Squires is thankful for that. "We don't have much depth this year," said Squires. "We can't afford too many injuries."

John Clifford, top runner for the Trojans, may be slowed down a little because of a charley horse, but chances are he'll be okay by gametime.

Terra Linda quarterback Sid Norman has been working on short pass plays this past week of practice, trying to pick out more receivers. He has been mainly throwing to wingback John Forry, his top receiver, and as a result, Ukiah was double and triple-manning him.

Squires knows he doesn't have an easy job in front of him. "Novato could be the toughest team we face all season, only time will tell," he said. Squires has inserted a few new plays for tomorrow's game because he knows his team has been well scouted. "But we have no changes in personnel," he said.

Because of his lack of depth, Squires feels the weather should play an important role in tomorrow's game. "We don't have the manpower for a lot of heat." And if this Indian summer continues in Marin, it should be pretty hot on the field in Novato.

Like Terra Linda, Novato will open the league season with no major injuries, so Moore hasn't changed any of his starting lineup.

The Hornets will not have any tricks up their sleeves, and Moore says they'll stick with their "ground 'em out" type offense. "We hope to beat Terra Linda on our basic stuff," said Moore, and that basic stuff is muscle. Novato has some big boys in that front wall and tailback Dick Otis, the league's top runner last year, is a hard-nosed lad who can pick up the yardage. He reeled off 269 yards in the two practice games.

"We have a good line," said Moore, "but Terra Linda has a fine line too. Terra Linda is a spirited ball club, and we know we can't let up against them."

A "standing room only" crowd is expected for this grid battle, which should be quite a scrap.

Probably starting offensive lineups:

TERRA LINDA

NOVATO

REDWOOD IN NON-LEAGUE TILT TONIGHT

Redwood High School Giants, first team with a bye in the Marin Athletic League, entertain Salinas High gridders tonight in a practice game at Kentfield, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Giants will be trying for their third straight non-league victory, after posting a pair of upsets on the slate. Redwood was expected to lose its games with Mount Diablo and DeAnza, but instead won 'em, 6-0 and 14-12.

Redwood will again be displaying its new brand of football tonight, and it's an exciting offense. Quarterback Dane Durham gets the direct snap from center on some plays, and on other plays the ball is centered to his left to either the halfback or fullback.

UNBEATENS

San Rafael, Tam Vie At Kentfield

San Rafael and Tamalpais high schools open the Marin Atheletic League football campaign tomorrow when they clash in Kentfield at 1:30.

The Bulldogs of San Rafael and Indians of Mill Valley will be going into the game with unbeaten records after practice game triumphs. San Rafael, favored to beat the Indians, whipped McClymonds of Oakland 8-0 and Montgomery of Santa Rosa 13-7. Tam surprised Riordan 14-12 and then upended Skyline of Oakland 16-6.

The game will be broadcast over Radio Station KTIM, live from Kentfield.

Willie Hector, head coach at Tam, feels tomorrow's game with San Rafael will be the roughest test yet for his chargers. "We'll just have to play hard-nosed football," said Hector.

CHIEF INDIAN

A big part of the Indians' attack is the running of sophomore halfback Mike Fowler. After running wild and scoring both touchdowns against Riordan of San Francisco, Fowler was stopped cold by Skyline. With Fowler not able to get the wide stuff, the Indians instead sent fullback Kirk Sparks up the middle and that paid off.

"The kids are really up for this game," said Hector. "We want to get out of the second division and get some respect in this league."

Over at the San Rafael camp the injury list lengthens. Coach Bob Muster learned of bad news concerning one of his top linemen, Mike Rosso, hurt in the Montgomery game. He will be out for the remainder of the season because of a knee injury. "The was one of the best linemen we've had," said Muster. Rosso, who was a tackle on offense and middle linebacker on defense, is now scheduled for a knee operation, said Muster.

Quarterback Roger Widmer, also hurt in the Montgomery game, will suit up but will not see much action. Bill Joost will start in his place. First string end Joe Cunningham is still out, along with Roger's brother, Jay Widmer. And it doesn't end there. Defensive back Ward Hayter is definitely out of the game with a shoulder injury, and so is defensive tackle Scott Anderson, with a hurt toe.

Because of all the injuries, Muster had his boys in contact drills, but stayed away from scrimmaging all week. "But we've got a group of boys," tremendous attitude in the face said Muster. "They have a tremendous attitude in the face of all those injuries."

Probable starting lineups:

TAMALPAIS

SAN RAFAEL

Sam Crowell, le; Ken Beerbower, lt; Gordon Jones, lg; Darryl Ralston, c; Ed Pascoe, rg; John Balzan, rt; Bill Tetu, re; Bill Joost, qb; Shawn Easley, lh; Tom Gagen, fb; Rocky Shone, rh.

Lefty Star Leads Bears Vs. Invading Kansas '11'

Left-handed Dan Berry, the quarterback who nearly engineered a major upset a week ago, leads the California Bears tomorrow at Berkeley in their clash with Kansas as both seek their first 1965 victory.

California fell to Notre Dame 48-6 in the opener and trailed Michigan 10-0 at halftime last Saturday before Berry pulled the club together, finally bowing 10-7.

A quick runner, the junior college transfer from San Diego must be watched closely on the option run-pass plays.

Aerial minded Kansas lost to Texas Tech 26-6 in a windstorm shortened opener and then fell to Arizona 23-15. Quarterbacks Bill Fenton and Bob Skahan share the throwing with Sim Stokes the favorite receiver.

The Jayhawks were hurt when Willie Ray Smith, who caught a scoring pass on a 97-yard play against Texas Tech, injured his left knee against Arizona. Coach Jack Mitchell shifted Stokes from slot back to split end and put sophomore Dick Abernethy into the backfield.

"We've got to win somewhere and it's probably going to be out there," Mitchell declared.

Lloyd Reist, Tom Relles and Ron Minamide again are slated to open in the California offensive backfield.

Coach Ray Willsey of California commented, "We hope our defense can hold Kansas, if not shut them out. Perhaps Kansas will provide more color than we will, but we are hoping for our first win."

Berry provides the Bears a triple threat back. In addition to running and passing, he leads the Pacific Athletic Conference in punting with an average of 42.9 yards for his 14 kicks.

The kickoff is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. with a crowd of about 35,000 anticipated in Cal's Memorial Stadium.

Semi-Pro Builders Now Play Under Palms Name

Whitey Litchfield, owner of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael and big Marin County sports enthusiast, has re-entered the semi-pro baseball scene.

Litchfield has taken over the winter sponsorship of a fine baseball team that has been playing under the banners of the Billings-Hutchison Builders for the past five years.

The team, now playing under the name of "Litchfields," will be competing in the San Francisco Triple A Winter League which starts play Sunday, Oct. 17. Manager of the team is Joe Anselmo of San Rafael. Most of the players on the team are Marin residents and some are playing minor league baseball.

Litchfield is no stranger to semi-pro baseball and he is well remembered as a Little League booster and sponsor. He also had a team in the Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League last year.

Following the completion of the winter league, in which all games will be played in San Francisco, the Litchfields will play home games in San Rafael.

The team, under the new sponsorship, will play the Flying Goose nine in a practice game Sunday, 2 p.m., at Garrigan field in San Francisco. Scheduled to pitch for Litchfields Sunday are Ron Cole and Steve Milier, two Houston Astros minor leaguers.

Strawberry Swim Club Elects New Officers

Strawberry Swim Club, meeting this week at Strawberry Point School, elected new officers.

They are Don Fraser, president; Alfred Goldberg, vice president, and Mrs. Louise Jadot, secretary. New board members are Mrs. Margaret O'Brien and Lawrence E. Brock.

Clippers Race This Weekend

The 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championship series will be held tomorrow and sunday on Richardson Bay.

This year's entry list is larger than ever and promises to provide stiff competition for the small boat sailors. Last year's champ, Scott Harris, is favored to repeat.

Two races will be held Sunday.

TWO NIGHT GAMES ON GRID MENU TOMORROW

Marin County football fans will have two Saturday night attractions on the calendar this week—one on home soil and the other abroad.

Drake High's Pirates open defense of their Marin Athletic League title against the Marin Catholic Wildcats at 8 tomorrow night while at the same time at Vallejo's Corbus Field the College of Marin Tars battle the Vallejo Junior College Falcons. Advance stories on those important games will appear in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

What's This? A Free Title Fight On TV?

NEW YORK (AP) — Fight fans around the country may get one of their rare free looks these nights at a live title scrap on television if negotiations are completed with a network for the Joey Giardello-Dick Tiger middleweight bout.

Champion fights on home television used to be as common as situation comedy shows and soap operas. In recent years, most of the big fights have gone on closed circuit television to theaters and arenas.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, said yesterday he is negotiating a deal for home television of Giardello's title defense against ex-champ Dick Tiger of Nigeria at the Garden, Oct. 21.

If the deal is made, the metropolitan area may be blacked out of the television to protect the live gate.

The fighters resumed training today after interrupting their daily grind yesterday to sign official contracts at offices of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Giardello has been guaranteed $50,000, or 40 per cent of the net receipts and television payments. Tiger, who lost the crown to the Cherry Hill, N.J., veteran Dec. 7, 1963, will get the challenger's end of a $15,000 guarantee, or 20 per cent of everything.

Tam Runners Win

Tamalpais varsity cross country runners edged Drake 27-29 yesterday on the 1.8 mile Drake course. Drake junior varsity runners avenged the loss by turning back Tam, 25-30, in the inverted scoring system.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Slated

Southern Marin's Punt, Pass and Kick contest will be held Oct. 9, 10 a.m., on the Optimist field at Project 17, it was announced yesterday by the Mill Valley Recreation and Parks Department.

Entry blanks can be picked up at J and B Ford Co., or from the afterschool playground leaders at Old Mill and Edna Maguire schools. Entry deadline is Oct. 8.

The national contest is open to boys 8 through 13.

Indians At Air Force; Trojans Seek Revenge

Southern California's Trojans gun to avenge their big disappointment of 1964 when they battle the football forces of Oregon State at the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday night.

A year ago, the two clubs didn't play each other and wound up tied for the Pacific Athletic Conference crown with 3-1 records. The conference voted the Rose Bowl bid to OSU on the same day the Trojans finished their season with a 20-17 upset over previously unbeaten Notre Dame.

This time, USC goes into the game with a 1-0-1, record, having downed Wisconsin and fought a 20-20 tie with Minnesota. Oregon State beat Illinois 12-10, then fell to Iowa 27-7.

Mike Garrett, leading the PAC rushers with 300 yards for his two outings, leads the Southern California attack in this first conference game of the campaign.

Washington State's surprising Cougars, with victories over Iowa and Minnesota, take on neighboring Idaho while the other PAC clubs continue their intersectional battling.

California entertains Kansas, Stanford plays at Air Force, UCLA at Penn State, Ohio State at Washington in a televised game, and Brigham Young at Oregon.

San Jose plays host to Utah State in a night game between independents while Hawaii, still seeking its first mainland triumph, meets University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Quarterback Tom Roth leads Washington State's bid to win three-in-a-row but the Cougars must stop big Ray McDonald, the Vandal fullback who has gained 162 yards rushing in two gams. Also the Idaho defense has allowed an average of only 73 yards per game rushing while losing to Washington and beating San Jose State.

Stanford, held to a 7-7 tie by a stubborn Navy defense, aims to develop more offense against the Air Force which has beaten the Indians in the only two previous meetings. A week ago, the Falcons came back from a 21-0 deficit against powerful Nebraska for a 21-17 final score as Paul Stein's passes riddled the Cornhuskers.

UCLA had an open date last Saturday to prepare for Penn State. Each club has played and lost to Michigan State this year—The Bruins 13-3 and the Nittany Lions 23-0.

Pacific Tennis Tourney Upset

BERKELEY (AP) — Chuck Darley, a University of California sophomore, is the surprise in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Darley, 19, upset seeded Richard Russell of Kingston, Jamaica, yesterday 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Darley, not seeded, was Cal's frosh captain and comes from Rochester, Minn.

Darley is paired against Frank Froehling of Miami today.

Both top-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and second-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced yesterday. Drysdale defeated Lew Gerrard of New Zealand, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Ralston downed Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., 8-6, 6-3.

Marin Prep Grid Championship Race Opens Tomorrow

Unbeaten Terra Linda, Novato Elevens Clash

Novato High School's Hornets football team, thought to have the best chance of dethroning Drake for Marin Athletic League championship honors, plays host to the Terra Linda High School Trojans tomorrow in opening round league action.

That game on the Hornets' playground gets under way at 2 p.m.

Both teams are unbeaten going into the league opener. Terra Linda whipped Clayton Valley 19-0 and beat Ukiah 12-6 in its two non-league encounters. Novato opened the season with a 20-0 drubbing of College Park and then tied tough Petaluma 20-20.

It has been a great start for two new head coaches. Brad Squires was an assistant coach at Terra Linda last year and Harry Moore was an assistant at Novato, and both moved up to the head coaching spots for this season.

Terra Linda will be going into the game tomorrow yith no major injuries, and Squires is thankful for that. "We don't have much depth this year," said Squires. "We can't afford too many injuries."

John Clifford, top runner for the Trojans, may be slowed down a little because of a charley horse, but chances are he'll be okay by gametime.

Clippers Race This Weekend

The 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championship series will be held tomorrow and sunday on Richardson Bay.

This year's entry list is larger than ever and promises to provide stiff competition for the small boat sailors. Last year's champ, Scott Harris, is favored to repeat.

Two races will be held Sunday.

TWO NIGHT GAMES ON GRID MENU TOMORROW

Marin County football fans will have two Saturday night attractions on the calendar this week—one on home soil and the other abroad.

Drake High's Pirates open defense of their Marin Athletic League title against the Marin Catholic Wildcats at 8 tomorrow night while at the same time at Vallejo's Corbus Field the College of Marin Tars battle the Vallejo Junior College Falcons. Advance stories on those important games will appear in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

What's This? A Free Title Fight On TV?

NEW YORK (AP) — Fight fans around the country may get one of their rare free looks these nights at a live title scrap on television if negotiations are completed with a network for the Joey Giardello-Dick Tiger middleweight bout.

Champion fights on home television used to be as common as situation comedy shows and soap operas. In recent years, most of the big fights have gone on closed circuit television to theaters and arenas.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, said yesterday he is negotiating a deal for home television of Giardello's title defense against ex-champ Dick Tiger of Nigeria at the Garden, Oct. 21.

If the deal is made, the metropolitan area may be blacked out of the television to protect the live gate.

The fighters resumed training today after interrupting their daily grind yesterday to sign official contracts at offices of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Giardello has been guaranteed $50,000, or 40 per cent of the net receipts and television payments. Tiger, who lost the crown to the Cherry Hill, N.J., veteran Dec. 7, 1963, will get the challenger's end of a $15,000 guarantee, or 20 per cent of everything.

Tam Runners Win

Tamalpais varsity cross country runners edged Drake 27-29 yesterday on the 1.8 mile Drake course. Drake junior varsity runners avenged the loss by turning back Tam, 25-30, in the inverted scoring system.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Slated

Southern Marin's Punt, Pass and Kick contest will be held Oct. 9, 10 a.m., on the Optimist field at Project 17, it was announced yesterday by the Mill Valley Recreation and Parks Department.

Entry blanks can be picked up at J and B Ford Co., or from the afterschool playground leaders at Old Mill and Edna Maguire schools. Entry deadline is Oct. 8.

The national contest is open to boys 8 through 13.

Indians At Air Force; Trojans Seek Revenge

Southern California's Trojans gun to avenge their big disappointment of 1964 when they battle the football forces of Oregon State at the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday night.

A year ago, the two clubs didn't play each other and wound up tied for the Pacific Athletic Conference crown with 3-1 records. The conference voted the Rose Bowl bid to OSU on the same day the Trojans finished their season with a 20-17 upset over previously unbeaten Notre Dame.

This time, USC goes into the game with a 1-0-1, record, having downed Wisconsin and fought a 20-20 tie with Minnesota. Oregon State beat Illinois 12-10, then fell to Iowa 27-7.

Mike Garrett, leading the PAC rushers with 300 yards for his two outings, leads the Southern California attack in this first conference game of the campaign.

Washington State's surprising Cougars, with victories over Iowa and Minnesota, take on neighboring Idaho while the other PAC clubs continue their intersectional battling.

California entertains Kansas, Stanford plays at Air Force, UCLA at Penn State, Ohio State at Washington in a televised game, and Brigham Young at Oregon.

San Jose plays host to Utah State in a night game between independents while Hawaii, still seeking its first mainland triumph, meets University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Quarterback Tom Roth leads Washington State's bid to win three-in-a-row but the Cougars must stop big Ray McDonald, the Vandal fullback who has gained 162 yards rushing in two gams. Also the Idaho defense has allowed an average of only 73 yards per game rushing while losing to Washington and beating San Jose State.

Stanford, held to a 7-7 tie by a stubborn Navy defense, aims to develop more offense against the Air Force which has beaten the Indians in the only two previous meetings. A week ago, the Falcons came back from a 21-0 deficit against powerful Nebraska for a 21-17 final score as Paul Stein's passes riddled the Cornhuskers.

UCLA had an open date last Saturday to prepare for Penn State. Each club has played and lost to Michigan State this year —The Bruins 13-3 and the Nittany Lions 23-0.

Pacific Tennis Tourney Upset

BERKELEY (AP) — Chuck Darley, a University of California sophomore, is the surprise in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Darley, 19, upset seeded Richard Russell of Kingston, Jamaica, yesterday 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Darley, not seeded, was Cal's frosh captain and comes from Rochester, Minn.

Darley is paired against Frank Froehling of Miami today.

Both top-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and second-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced yesterday. Drysdale defeated Lew Gerrard of New Zealand, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Ralston downed Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., 8-6, 6-3.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Giant Pitching Staff Did A Fine Job—And So Did Franks

CONNOLLY

The Giants needed "IT" starting off the season, tried valiantly and got some relief without "IT" in mid-season, and then, when they sighted the promised land of a pennant, the "IT" they had been struggling with all season withered, wilted and completely sagged from over-exertion and fell apart.

I'm referring, of course, to the pitching staff of the S.F. club. You can't fault them; you can't say they quit. They just wore themselves out fighting odds too long to sustain them in a head-to-head crisis.

The sagging pitching staff didn't get too much help from the bombing bats of the slugging regulars, either. When the club did hit, they, the pitchers, really didn't need so much of it. But it seemed whenever the pitchers could crawl out of a bad situation with a couple basehits, our slugging friends deserted them.

THE FIRST signs of giant rigor mortis set in following defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals, who themselves had been laying dormant for many days. You could detect tenseness all along the line, including the great Willie Mays and the even languid Willie McCovey. But those members of the Giants who could "take it" were greatly outnumbered by those who didn't have the experience needed for a gruelling "pressure struggle" demanded this season.

THERE MAY be some critics who will challenge the managerial tactics of Herman Franks, a freshman manager. But Herman had no other alternative than to "chew up" his pitching staff. He was "short" from the kickoff both in talent and in numbers. He did the best he could with an ordinary lot.

Herman's development of the bullpen to the high point of efficiency can be blamed on the failure of his starting pitchers When the starters began to weaken, the extra load on the relievers was increased and it sagged along with the ever-weakening bats of the booming Giant fence busters.

THOSE WHO like Manager Walter Alston point out he preserved sanity among his regular starters and never once endangered them for regular use. In that respect he wasn't much different from Manager Franks, except the Dodgers' regular pitchers were a lot sturdier and much more effective than were the Giant flingers.

It is pretty evident that a ball club with pennant aspirations can hardly expect it without at least one effective southpaw. The Giants never had one all year, except what was prouded in relievers like Masanori Murakami, Bill Henry and the vet, Warren Spahn, a late starter.

IF THE rebuilding plans of the Giants are in the hands of Manager Herman you can just bet he'll go after a strong hitting shortstop-second base combination. Those two items should rate high priority during the coming winter trading season.

In case you're looking for something to blame for the Giants' slide, it is easy to point to the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro unpleasantness. That ruckus broke up the Giant pitching continuity, for sure, and while it cemented the players' will to win, etc., the club never quite recovered. And neither did Juan.

Pro Cagers Play 2 In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The champion Boston Celtics provide the first home opposition for the San Francisco Warriors tonight at the Cow Palace.

It will be the second part of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Lakers meet the Cincinnati Royals in the opening contest of the first league twin bill ever played in San Francisco starting at 7 o'clock.

On hand will be rookie forward Rick Barry, who has scored more than 20 points in each of the two exhibitions between San Francisco and the Cincinnati Royals.

Sisler Out As Manager Of Reds?

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Outspoken Dick Sisler admitted today reports that he was about to be fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds have him worried "and if they are true I wish they'd make the announcement soon."

Sisler, whose one-year contrac runs out on the last day of the 1965 season, said he thought he had done a good job with the Reds this year, "when you consider what happened to our pitching."

"Our hitting was just great," he said, "but our pitching let us down.

"If our pitching had been as good this year as it was in 1964, I honestly think we would have won the National League pennant.

"When four of the pitchers you are depending on all come down with elbow injuries then you are in trouble, deep trouble, and that's what happened to us."

Sisler, named interim manager in mid-1964 to fill in for the then ailing Fred Hutchinson, almost won the flag for the Reds a year ago, taking them to the final day of the season before the St. Louis Cardinals swept through.

"We might have won it this year if Sammy Ellis was as good in the second half of the season as he was in the first," Sisler expalined. "And if Joe Nuxhall, Joey Jay, Jim Maloney and John Tsitouris hadn't been shelved one time or another by elbow injuries, who knows, we may have had the flag all wrapped up by now instead of just playing out the season."

The Reds were eliminated from the flag chase on Wednesday when they lost their third straight game to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Now, with three games left to play, they are fighting to hold third place from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Giant Pitching Staff Did A Fine Job—And So Did Franks

CONNOLLY

The Giants needed "IT" starting off the season, tried valiantly and got some relief without "IT" in mid-season, and then, when they sighted the promised land of a pennant, the "IT" they had been struggling with all season withered, wilted and completely sagged from over-exertion and fell apart.

I'm referring, of course, to the pitching staff of the S.F. club. You can't fault them; you can't say they quit. They just wore themselves out fighting odds too long to sustain them in a head-to-head crisis.

The sagging pitching staff didn't get too much help from the bombing bats of the slugging regulars, either. When the club did hit, they, the pitchers, really didn't need so much of it. But it seemed whenever the pitchers could crawl out of a bad situation with a couple basehits, our slugging friends deserted them.

THE FIRST signs of giant rigor mortis set in following defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals, who themselves had been laying dormant for many days. You could detect tenseness all along the line, including the great Willie Mays and the even languid Willie McCovey. But those members of the Giants who could "take it" were greatly outnumbered by those who didn't have the experience needed for a gruelling "pressure struggle" demanded this season.

THERE MAY be some critics who will challenge the managerial tactics of Herman Franks, a freshman manager. But Herman had no other alternative than to "chew up" his pitching staff. He was "short" from the kickoff both in talent and in numbers. He did the best he could with an ordinary lot.

Herman's development of the bullpen to the high point of efficiency can be blamed on the failure of his starting pitchers When the starters began to weaken, the extra load on the relievers was increased and it sagged along with the ever-weakening bats of the booming Giant fence busters.

THOSE WHO like Manager Walter Alston point out he preserved sanity among his regular starters and never once endangered them for regular use. In that respect he wasn't much different from Manager Franks, except the Dodgers' regular pitchers were a lot sturdier and much more effective than were the Giant flingers.

It is pretty evident that a ball club with pennant aspirations can hardly expect it without at least one effective southpaw. The Giants never had one all year, except what was prouded in relievers like Masanori Murakami, Bill Henry and the vet, Warren Spahn, a late starter.

IF THE rebuilding plans of the Giants are in the hands of Manager Herman you can just bet he'll go after a strong hitting shortstop-second base combination. Those two items should rate high priority during the coming winter trading season.

In case you're looking for something to blame for the Giants' slide, it is easy to point to the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro unpleasantness. That ruckus broke up the Giant pitching continuity, for sure, and while it cemented the players' will to win, etc., the club never quite recovered. And neither did Juan.

Pro Cagers Play 2 In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The champion Boston Celtics provide the first home opposition for the San Francisco Warriors tonight at the Cow Palace.

It will be the second part of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Lakers meet the Cincinnati Royals in the opening contest of the first league twin bill ever played in San Francisco starting at 7 o'clock.

On hand will be rookie forward Rick Barry, who has scored more than 20 points in each of the two exhibitions between San Francisco and the Cincinnati Royals.

Sisler Out As Manager Of Reds?

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Outspoken Dick Sisler admitted today reports that he was about to be fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds have him worried "and if they are true I wish they'd make the announcement soon."

Sisler, whose one-year contrac runs out on the last day of the 1965 season, said he thought he had done a good job with the Reds this year, "when you consider what happened to our pitching."

"Our hitting was just great," he said, "but our pitching let us down.

"If our pitching had been as good this year as it was in 1964, I honestly think we would have won the National League pennant.

"When four of the pitchers you are depending on all come down with elbow injuries then you are in trouble, deep trouble, and that's what happened to us."

Sisler, named interim manager in mid-1964 to fill in for the then ailing Fred Hutchinson, almost won the flag for the Reds a year ago, taking them to the final day of the season before the St. Louis Cardinals swept through.

"We might have won it this year if Sammy Ellis was as good in the second half of the season as he was in the first," Sisler expalined. "And if Joe Nuxhall, Joey Jay, Jim Maloney and John Tsitouris hadn't been shelved one time or another by elbow injuries, who knows, we may have had the flag all wrapped up by now instead of just playing out the season."

The Reds were eliminated from the flag chase on Wednesday when they lost their third straight game to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Now, with three games left to play, they are fighting to hold third place from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Many Fire Station Open Houses Set For Fire Prevention Week

All fire departments in Marin will distribute brochures on fire protection to schools and in public places, and most departments will conduct open houses during Fire Prevention Week, starting Sunday.

Several companies will give special demonstrations at schools of equipment or of particular fire hazards. Movies and film strips will be shown and school contests will be staged.

San Rafael engine and truck companies will visit each school in the district to give talks on fire prevention. Equipment will be displayed and fire operations will be demonstrated at special shows 6 to 8 p.m. next Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 9.

The Sausalito Fire Department will demonstrate its snorkel truck 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Central and Bayside schools in Sausalito. A contest will be held for posters and composition of limericks on fire prevention in Sausalito schools.

Children in the schools will also be asked to take home inspection forms for home fire safety, to be signed by parents.

The Kentfield Fire Department will give home fire demonstrations and hand out special brochures on fire dangers in woods and brush land. Tamalpais Fire District will give demonstrations of stove and oven fires, showing how they may be prevented or handled.

Marinwood's fire department will give a demonstration in use of fire extinguishers for school teachers.

The Novato department will place posters in public places, barber shops, beauty shops and professional waiting rooms, in addition to distributing home inspection blanks through the schools.

Open houses are set 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily for the Alto, Fairfax, Larkspur, Marin County, San Anselmo, Ross, Tiburon, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Kentfield firehouses.

School demonstrations have been set by the Novato, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Larkspur, San Anselmo, San Rafael, Kentfield and Terra Linda departments.

Ike Bemused Over Actions In Emergency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he often wonders why he did not perform better during the crises of his administration.

Eisenhower told a Washington Post Book and Author lunch yesterday that he had been checking the statements he made at the time of the Suez crisis, the Little Rock school integration episode and other highlights of his eight years in the White House while writing a two-volume history of his presidency.

Often, he said, he gets a mental picture of himself at the time. "You see a poor, rather stupid fellow sitting behind a desk and you wonder why he couldn't do better than that. Unfortunately, that picture comes up too often," he said.

Freighter, Barge Collide In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Japanese freighter Louisiana Maru and a train barge collided off Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay at 7:09 a.m. today, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard said there were no reports of injuries.

The Japanese ship dropped anchor while the training barge continued on. The freighter had minor damage to its bow, the Coast Guard said.

Yerba Buena is adjacent to Treasure Island.

The Coast Guard said it had no idea what caused the collision.

Enrollment Off At U.C. Berkeley

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California enrollment in the undergraduate and graduate schools at Berkeley dropped 2.5 per cent this fall.

The university released figures yesterday showing a 6.5 per cent drop in the undergraduate body. There are now 16,588 undergraduates.

The graduate body increased 5 per cent to 10,131, but there as an overall decline.

Two Men, A Girl Held In Shooting Of Taxi Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Yellow Cab driver was shot and robbed by a customer at Bush and Baker streets in San Francisco last night, police said.

Cab driver Jack Sperry, about 50, as described in fair condition at Children's Hospital. A bullet was lodged in his jaw.

Police arrested two men and a 15-year-old girl, seen fleeing the scene in a 1965 car, several hours after the pre-midnight shooting.

Duane Gray, 21, and Clarence Tomando, 22, were booked on suspicion of shooting and suspicion of robbery. It was not immediately learned who had fired the revolver.

The girl, whose identity was withheld, as turned over to juvenile authorities.

Spring Arrives For Antarctica

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Air traffic to U.S. bases in the Antarctic resumed today with the end of winter there.

Four ski-equipped Navy Hercules transports left just after midnight for the 2,250-mile flight to the main American base at McMurdo Sound.

The planes carried 4,300 pounds of mail for the 289 Americans who have spent six months of winter isolation on the southernmost continent. The planes also carried 134 passengers.

Many Fire Station Open Houses Set For Fire Prevention Week

All fire departments in Marin will distribute brochures on fire protection to schools and in public places, and most departments will conduct open houses during Fire Prevention Week, starting Sunday.

Several companies will give special demonstrations at schools of equipment or of particular fire hazards. Movies and film strips will be shown and school contests will be staged.

San Rafael engine and truck companies will visit each school in the district to give talks on fire prevention. Equipment will be displayed and fire operations will be demonstrated at special shows 6 to 8 p.m. next Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 9.

The Sausalito Fire Department will demonstrate its snorkel truck 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Central and Bayside schools in Sausalito. A contest will be held for posters and composition of limericks on fire prevention in Sausalito schools.

Children in the schools will also be asked to take home inspection forms for home fire safety, to be signed by parents.

The Kentfield Fire Department will give home fire demonstrations and hand out special brochures on fire dangers in woods and brush land. Tamalpais Fire District will give demonstrations of stove and oven fires, showing how they may be prevented or handled.

Marinwood's fire department will give a demonstration in use of fire extinguishers for school teachers.

The Novato department will place posters in public places, barber shops, beauty shops and professional waiting rooms, in addition to distributing home inspection blanks through the schools.

Open houses are set 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily for the Alto, Fairfax, Larkspur, Marin County, San Anselmo, Ross, Tiburon, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Kentfield firehouses.

School demonstrations have been set by the Novato, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Larkspur, San Anselmo, San Rafael, Kentfield and Terra Linda departments.

P-TA Needs Volunteers In Sausalito

Positions are now open for volunteer-assistants in the varied programs of the Sausalito School District Parent-Teacher Assn.

Tutors, library aides, teacher aides, room mothers and playground and lunchroom aides are being recruited Many hours have been contributed in the first three categories by women living elsewhere than in Sausalito, and it is hoped more will be interested this year.

Tutors assist in the Marin Study Center program to provide students in grades 3-12 with help in subjects of special interest or difficulty. It will begin its third year with a parent-tutor orientation program Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Richardson Bay School auditorium.

Prospective tutors, who need not be professional teachers, may apply to Mrs. Iniece Bailey of Mill Valley, program coordinator, or to her assistant, Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

Library aides make it possible for the libraries at Central and Richardson Bay Schools to remain open during the lunch hours. Volunteers assist children in finding books and checking them out at a time when the library is normally closed. Those interested in helping at Richardson Bay may call Mrs. Andrew Kozak of Sausalito of Mrs. Dorothy Tolpegin, librarian; at Central School, Mrs. Nancy Polk of Marin City or Mrs. Estelle Sutherlin, librarian.

Those wishing information may call the principal of the school in which they would like to serve: A. L. Anderson at Central School; R. W. Magnuson at Bayside and Manzanita; or R. D. Thomson at Richardson Bay.

Room mothers help teachers with parties, outings and special events requiring extra personnel or supplied supplies. Mrs. Eugene Huggins of Sausalito is in charge.

ASIA SPOTLIGHTED

A Never-Performed Chopin Work Uncovered By Pianists

By MOLLY MARIN

Culmination of a James Bond-type adventure came last week for Mill Valley's internationally known concert pianists Milton and Peggy Salkind when they received a photostatic copy of a never performed four-hand, one-piano work by Chopin.

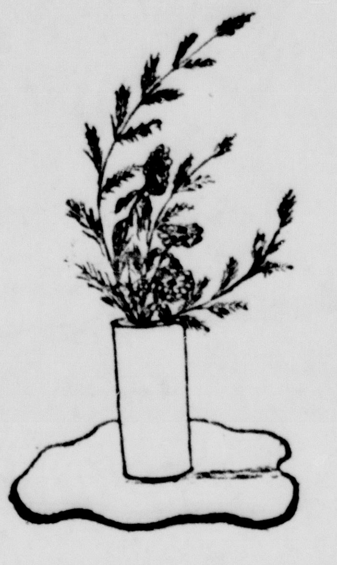
On a concert tour last spring they were riding on a train from Rome to Florence when they read a little item in the paper about the work being discovered in a private home in Florence. Never published, it was thought to have been lost during World War II.

The Salkinds had several interviews in Poland regarding it and, through friends in West Berlin who had other influential friends, they finally obtained rights to give the first performance in America. They will give the very first performance, however, in a concert next month in Vancouver, Canada.

After spending considerable time studying the new work, they say it is very good and are delighted to be able to add it to their repertoire.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY MILLARD HEILBRON entertained Sunday at a cocktail party at their home in Mill Valley honoring their future daughter-in-law, Mary Leigh Ferrell. Mary, who is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lee F. Ferrell of Scott Air Force Base, Ill., will become the bride of the Heilbrons' son, Henry Millard Heilbron Jr. of Mill Valley on Dec. 18. Among the 70 guests attending the party were 27 cousins from both sides of the Heilbron family.

MRS. MERVYN COWEN'S home on the Belvedere Lagoon was the scene of a luncheon party last week marking the end of the summer session of the Sausalito Woman's Club clay modeling class. When the clubhouse closed at the end of its year, Mrs. Cowen continued the class in Belvedere as instructor.



Among guests were Mesdames Richard E. Cruikshank, W. T. Duggan, Robert M. Gunn, Cyril G. Hansen, Clyde Hooper, Felix J. Johnson, Walter Lord, Robert McGill, Clayton D. Mote, Morton Meyer, Merrell A. Sission, James W. Smith, Chester V. Solberg, Jack Summerill, Leonard S. Wood and Ray Zimmer.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY A. RASLEY of Sausalito have as their guest Mrs. Rasley's niece, Mrs. Watson MacNaught of Canada. Mrs. MacNaught, wife of the minister of mines and technical survey for Canada, arrived from British Columbia where she and her husband attended a mines ministers' conference at Victoria.

THE KENT O. SEYMOURS are being feted at a number of bon voyage parties preceding their three months' around-the-world tour starting Oct. 9. Among them — Saturday the William A. Hamiltons will be hosts at a dinner party for 25 guests at their home in Mill Valley. Last Saturday Mrs. E. M. Shelton was hostess at a dinner for 12 at her home in Belvedere, and the preceding weekend the Hugh Carruthers entertained honoring the Seymours at a dinner party at their home in Kent Woodlands.

The Seymours will take the "C. C. Dant," a new ship, to Japan and fly the remainder of the trip. Points on their itinerary will be India, Egypt, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Holy Land before they continue their around-the-world journey. They expect to spend about a week at Christmas in Poona, India, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaplan Werner. Susan and her husband, both graduate students at Harvard, will be stopping in Mill Valley en route to India next week, where she will be doing work on a doctorate in anthropology and he in political science.

While the Seymours are gone their house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Dickens, who have just sold their Mill Valley home.

MRS. HELEN KITCHAK and Donald F. Donohue of Novato were married in Reno on Sept. 20. The new Mrs. Donohue is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Kane of San Rafael and Mr. Donohue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Frank Donohue of Novato. Mr. Donohue is the owner of the Novato Theater and Tiburon Playhouse. They will reside in Novato.

BRIDAL SHOWERS have been given to honor Christopher Vogel, who will become the bride of Robert Eugene Maxwell of Long Beach this winter. The bride-elect, who is the daughter of the Arthur P. Vogels of Tiburon, was feted by Donna Schneider at the Lagoon home of her parents, the Russell Schneiders, and also at a party at the Belvedere island home of Mrs. E. Lincoln Gould. The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Maxwell of Long Beach, has just completed four years with the Marine Corps.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WEATHERSTONE of Novato arrived home Wednesday after a 10 day stay at the Reef Hotel on Waikiki Beach in Honolulu.

Roberta Rice Bride Of William B. Cole

Roberta Torrey Rice of Palos Verdes Estates became the bride of William Bonar Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cole of Ross, at 4 p.m. on Sept. 11 at St. Francis Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Robert Tourigney performed the double ring ceremony in which Roberta, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Angell Rice of Palos Verdes Estates, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length white satin gown in empire style trimmed in pearl and lace appliques.

Cathy Cole of Ross, sister of the bridegroom, wore an empire styled gown of green satin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids, identically dressed, were Lynne Thomas of Palos Verdes Estates, and Mesdames Henry Curci of Monterey, Dennis Goering of Houston and Harold Dawson of Chico.

Serving his brother as best man was Perry Walker Cole of Georgetown, Md., and ushering were John Pelkan of Belvedere, Peter Brown of Walnut Grove, Harold Engle of Ross, Earll Riley III of San Marino, Herbert Haworth of Piedmont and John and Peter Rice of Los Angeles, brothers of the bride.

Following a reception at the home of the bride, the couple boarded a helicopter to the airport in Los Angeles and a wedding trip to Acapulco.

The bride was graduated from Katharine Branson School and University of California, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. The bridegroom, a former member of the Bachelors in San Francisco, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Pre-School Child Perks Up To Hoot 'N Holler Reading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Parents reading to pre-school children often must whistle, wheeze or sneeze, hoot and holler.

Making all those noises, as required by a particular story, enlivens the reading. It also helps to develop reading readiness in children.

But there's no rest for the weary. The reading aloud should continue even after the children are of school age, say the editors of Encyclopedia Americana. It helps improve the children's study habits.

ENCOURAGE FAMILY get-togethers where the members read aloud, the editors said. This stimulates intellectual curiosity. And once the curiosity has been awakened, it doesn't take too much more to instill a desire to study.

In addition to reading aloud, you can start the ignition system of a child's intellectual curiosity by encouraging lively discussions around the dinner table.

Subjects can range all the way from son's school activities to a report by his father on what happened that day in the business world. Also bring up national events and sports.

Also in the brain-nurturing department, consider this: there isn't any doubt that if Dad spends his evenings in front of the television set, son and daughter will, too.

Reading by parents is a far better example than is parental squatting in front of television sets all the time.

CREATING THE PROPER physical environment is an important second step towards developing good study habits. While every youngster can't have his own room, each should have a nook of his own somewhere in the house. It ought to be organized and decorated to make study enjoyable.

A third important consideration: establishing a sensible study routine. It may seem onerous. But once it is done, you'll wonder why you didn't do it years ago.

The average student in junior high school needs from 12 to 15 hours a week for homework, and the need for the average high school student jumps from 15 to 18 hours.

The simplest method for establishing the right study routine: sit down with child and plan a schedule, much as you plan the family budget or a cleaning schedule.

'MAGIC LADY' INTRODUCED

Members welcomed prospective members at the B'nai B'rith Women, TaMar Chapter's Blintz Brunch yesterday. Prospective member Mrs. Bernard Stein, seated, enjoyed the antics of Mesdames William Falcon, hostess with wand, and Stephen Cohen, president, as they introduced the "Magic Lady" dummy. Miss de Ryk Will Marry John Keating

Mr. and Mrs. William F. de Ryk of San Rafael are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Joan de Ryk to John Joseph Keating Jr.

Margaret is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. She is now employed as a dental assistant.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating of San Rafael. His sister is Mrs. Edwin Gearhart of Sacramento. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin, and is now employed with Marin County Abstract and Title Co.

The wedding has been set for Jan. 8 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael.

Welcome Club Sets Luncheon

The Welcome Wagon Club of Marin County will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show at Peacock Gap Country Club on Oct. 12 for the benefit of the Kindergarten for Mentally Retarded Children.

There will be a social hour at 11 a.m. and luncheon at noon. Mrs. Harry Dunkerton of Kentfield is chairman, and Mrs. Yvonne Mumma of Terra Linda is co-chairman.

The committee members are Mesdames Charles Mills, Kentfield; Harold Malloy, Glenwood; Thomas Irvine, San Rafael, and Wendell Reilly, San Rafael.

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes Is Bride In San Francisco

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes became the bride of John Omizzolo of Belvedere in a ceremony performed Tuesday by Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Sullivan of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates. He is the owner of the Veneto Restaurant in San Francisco. The marriage took place in a Fairmont Tower suite which also was the site of a reception for their immediate families.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harold A. Nichelini of Larkspur, served as matron of honor. Best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Tony Cincotta of San Francisco.

After a wedding trip in the Northwest the couple will reside at 45 Eagle Dr., Novato.

THE KENT O. SEYMOURS are being feted at a number of bon voyage parties preceding their three months' around-the-world tour starting Oct. 9. Among them — Saturday the William A. Hamiltons will be hosts at a dinner party for 25 guests at their home in Mill Valley. Last Saturday Mrs. E. M. Shelton was hostess at a dinner for 12 at her home in Belvedere, and the preceding weekend the Hugh Carruthers entertained honoring the Seymours at a dinner party at their home in Kent Woodlands.

The Seymours will take the "C. C. Dant," a new ship, to Japan and fly the remainder of the trip. Points on their itinerary will be India, Egypt, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Holy Land before they continue their around-the-world journey. They expect to spend about a week at Christmas in Poona, India, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaplan Werner. Susan and her husband, both graduate students at Harvard, will be stopping in Mill Valley en route to India next week, where she will be doing work on a doctorate in anthropology and he in political science.

While the Seymours are gone their house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Dickens, who have just sold their Mill Valley home.

MRS. HELEN KITCHAK and Donald F. Donohue of Novato were married in Reno on Sept. 20. The new Mrs. Donohue is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Kane of San Rafael and Mr. Donohue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Frank Donohue of Novato. Mr. Donohue is the owner of the Novato Theater and Tiburon Playhouse. They will reside in Novato.

BRIDAL SHOWERS have been given to honor Christopher Vogel, who will become the bride of Robert Eugene Maxwell of Long Beach this winter. The bride-elect, who is the daughter of the Arthur P. Vogels of Tiburon, was feted by Donna Schneider at the Lagoon home of her parents, the Russell Schneiders, and also at a party at the Belvedere island home of Mrs. E. Lincoln Gould. The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Maxwell of Long Beach, has just completed four years with the Marine Corps.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WEATHERSTONE of Novato arrived home Wednesday after a 10 day stay at the Reef Hotel on Waikiki Beach in Honolulu.

Roberta Rice Bride Of William B. Cole

Roberta Torrey Rice of Palos Verdes Estates became the bride of William Bonar Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cole of Ross, at 4 p.m. on Sept. 11 at St. Francis Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Robert Tourigney performed the double ring ceremony in which Roberta, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Angell Rice of Palos Verdes Estates, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length white satin gown in empire style trimmed in pearl and lace appliques.

Cathy Cole of Ross, sister of the bridegroom, wore an empire styled gown of green satin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids, identically dressed, were Lynne Thomas of Palos Verdes Estates, and Mesdames Henry Curci of Monterey, Dennis Goering of Houston and Harold Dawson of Chico.

Serving his brother as best man was Perry Walker Cole of Georgetown, Md., and ushering were John Pelkan of Belvedere, Peter Brown of Walnut Grove, Harold Engle of Ross, Earll Riley III of San Marino, Herbert Haworth of Piedmont and John and Peter Rice of Los Angeles, brothers of the bride.

Following a reception at the home of the bride, the couple boarded a helicopter to the airport in Los Angeles and a wedding trip to Acapulco.

The bride was graduated from Katharine Branson School and University of California, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. The bridegroom, a former member of the Bachelors in San Francisco, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Pre-School Child Perks Up To Hoot 'N Holler Reading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Parents reading to pre-school children often must whistle, wheeze or sneeze, hoot and holler.

Making all those noises, as required by a particular story, enlivens the reading. It also helps to develop reading readiness in children.

But there's no rest for the weary. The reading aloud should continue even after the children are of school age, say the editors of Encyclopedia Americana. It helps improve the children's study habits.

ENCOURAGE FAMILY get-togethers where the members read aloud, the editors said. This stimulates intellectual curiosity. And once the curiosity has been awakened, it doesn't take too much more to instill a desire to study.

In addition to reading aloud, you can start the ignition system of a child's intellectual curiosity by encouraging lively discussions around the dinner table.

Subjects can range all the way from son's school activities to a report by his father on what happened that day in the business world. Also bring up national events and sports.

Also in the brain-nurturing department, consider this: there isn't any doubt that if Dad spends his evenings in front of the television set, son and daughter will, too.

Reading by parents is a far better example than is parental squatting in front of television sets all the time.

CREATING THE PROPER physical environment is an important second step towards developing good study habits. While every youngster can't have his own room, each should have a nook of his own somewhere in the house. It ought to be organized and decorated to make study enjoyable.

A third important consideration: establishing a sensible study routine. It may seem onerous. But once it is done, you'll wonder why you didn't do it years ago.

The average student in junior high school needs from 12 to 15 hours a week for homework, and the need for the average high school student jumps from 15 to 18 hours.

The simplest method for establishing the right study routine: sit down with child and plan a schedule, much as you plan the family budget or a cleaning schedule.

'MAGIC LADY' INTRODUCED

Members welcomed prospective members at the B'nai B'rith Women, TaMar Chapter's Blintz Brunch yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. William F. de Ryk of San Rafael are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Joan de Ryk to John Joseph Keating Jr.

Margaret is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. She is now employed as a dental assistant.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating of San Rafael. His sister is Mrs. Edwin Gearhart of Sacramento. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin, and is now employed with Marin County Abstract and Title Co.

The wedding has been set for Jan. 8 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael.

Welcome Club Sets Luncheon

The Welcome Wagon Club of Marin County will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show at Peacock Gap Country Club on Oct. 12 for the benefit of the Kindergarten for Mentally Retarded Children.

There will be a social hour at 11 a.m. and luncheon at noon. Mrs. Harry Dunkerton of Kentfield is chairman, and Mrs. Yvonne Mumma of Terra Linda is co-chairman.

The committee members are Mesdames Charles Mills, Kentfield; Harold Malloy, Glenwood; Thomas Irvine, San Rafael, and Wendell Reilly, San Rafael.

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes Is Bride In San Francisco

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes became the bride of John Omizzolo of Belvedere in a ceremony performed Tuesday by Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Sullivan of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates. He is the owner of the Veneto Restaurant in San Francisco. The marriage took place in a Fairmont Tower suite which also was the site of a reception for their immediate families.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harold A. Nichelini of Larkspur, served as matron of honor. Best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Tony Cincotta of San Francisco.

After a wedding trip in the Northwest the couple will reside at 45 Eagle Dr., Novato.

Shorter Boots

As the boot rises in fashion's esteem, it is actually moving lower on the leg, reports Leather Industries of America. Most popular heights to be reached this season will be ankle and below-calf levels, so flattering with the new shorter skirts. Where taller boots are seen, they will be leg-hugging and simple, keeping fashion focus on the beauty of the leather.

To Remove Tar

The outside of orange or lemon peel, rubbed on the skin, will help to remove tar stains picked up on beaches.

Rattan Baskets

Plunge rattan mail baskets into warm suds occasionally and use a stiff brush to work the dirt from the crevices. Rinse thoroughly, shake off excess water and rehang the basket to dry.

Important 'Don'ts' For Glass Fabrics

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI) — Care of curtains or draperies made of fiberglas involves three important "don'ts".

These are: Don't put the fabric in a washing machine. Some fiberglas fabrics are machine washable, but most are not. Don't dry clean. Don't iron. Dry cleaning solvents will dissolve the finish which protects the fabric and keeps it supple. Ironing will also damage. The fabrics are "ironed" forever when they leave the factory.

ON THE AFFIRMATIVE side, here are suggestions for care of the fabrics.

Gently shake out dust and dirt. Since dirt cannot penetrate glass fibers, much of the soil can be removed this way.

Remove weights and hooks and place the draperies lengthwise in a tub of warm water containing suds of a mild detergent. Remove spots or stains by carefully working the detergent into the wet fabric with fingertips.

LET THE FABRIC soak 30 minutes, then swish to float off dirt. Rinse thoroughly in clean, warm water. Bleaching is not desirable, and colored or printed fiberglas should never be bleached. If necessary, a perborate (never chlorine) bleach can be used on white.

Drip dry the fabrics, hanging them over a shower rod or clothesline. Re-hang draperies when all the excess moisture is gone, without the touch of an iron. To prevent soil and wear, hang draperies so they do not rub against window sills, radiators or floors. Use fingers to smooth out hems and take out any creases.

Parent-Teacher Assn. Sets Italian Dinner, Program

The San Clemente Parent-Teacher Assn. plans to take 300 families on a two-hour gourmet tour of Italy on Oct. 20, when they will host the first of San Clemente's family dinner nights. Theme of the dinner will be "Buon Prango in Italia" and will feature Italian cusine. Mrs. Jay Simon is in charge assisted by Mesdames Jack Feldman, Richard Spawn, John Gilbert, Henry Bigall, Robert Tiboli, Robert Troppmann, George Hebbard, William Whiteside, John Nichols and Sam Bunnell.

Following dinner an entertaining program of Italian folk dancing will be provided by the Marin Folk Dance Council.

Robert Johnson, principal, will be in charge of entertainment provided by fifth and sixth grade students.

The dinner will be held in San Clemente's multi-use room starting at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are sold at the San Clemente School library between noon and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and by Mrs. Simon.

There are some 450 amateur radio enthusiasts in Marin County. And of that number, approximately 100 belong to the Marin Amateur Radio Club, active in a wide variety of community service programs. Just how these "hams" serve their fellow Marinites, and disaster victims at distant points as well, will be told in tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine. It is the story of an unusual hobby that has many practical uses.

St. Raphael's Parochial School is a familiar landmark almost in the heart of San Rafael's business district. In a faraway Mexican village, there is another school that bears the same name —and which has close ties to the Marin school. It is St. Raphael del Sur, built by Los Amigos volunteers in the town of La Viellta. Margaret Zimmerman reports on this humanitarian project and its Marin links tomorrow.

Squeeze Tube Hassle Still On In Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — The problem of the big squeeze continues on the home front.

It divides families, causes arguments—and, for all practical purposes, defies solution.

It has to do with how to squeeze a toothpaste tube.

"Most women squeeze tubes haphazardly, while men usually squeeze from the bottom," said Rudi Schenk, a pioneer in the collapsible metal tube industry.

Schenk, whose career in the industry began in 1919, was instrumental in developing the first assembly-line methods of producing tubes.

He said the hassle began when toothpaste was first tubed in 1892.

Now, as Schenk sees it, the correct approach to a toothpaste tube is: Squeeze from the bottom and roll up the tube as you go along.

Most men use the correct approach because they're more technically minded than women, said Schenk.

"Women are impatient when it comes to mechanical matters," said Schenk. They just go ahead and squeeze the tube without giving it a second thought."

The situation may become even more complicated in view of the trend toward packaging everything from ski wax and court plaster to cosmetics and food in metal tubes.

Already such food products as mustard, cheese, anchovy paste, peanut butter, jam and cake frosting are sold in metal tubes.

The conflict may even spread to coffee.

Marin Dance Co-Op Plans Fall Registration Tomorrow

Just back from a European-Scandinavian triumph, Ann Halprin once again renews her interest in the Marin Dance Co-op. For the 17th season here in Marin County, Ann Halprin, Colly Goldsmith and Consuelo Sandoval will be instructing creative dance for pre-schoolers through high school students. This dance group is open to boys and girls.

Fall semester will begin on Oct. 9, with registration tomorrow between 10 and noon at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera.

Kindergarten groups will be under the instruction of Carolyn Goldsmith; the first grade through 8th grade will be taught by Ann Halprin; the teen-age group will be taught by Consuelo Sandoval.

Squeeze Tube Hassle Still On In Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — The problem of the big squeeze continues on the home front.

It divides families, causes arguments—and, for all practical purposes, defies solution.

It has to do with how to squeeze a toothpaste tube.

"Most women squeeze tubes haphazardly, while men usually squeeze from the bottom," said Rudi Schenk, a pioneer in the collapsible metal tube industry.

Schenk, whose career in the industry began in 1919, was instrumental in developing the first assembly-line methods of producing tubes.

He said the hassle began when toothpaste was first tubed in 1892.

Now, as Schenk sees it, the correct approach to a toothpaste tube is: Squeeze from the bottom and roll up the tube as you go along.

Most men use the correct approach because they're more technically minded than women, said Schenk.

"Women are impatient when it comes to mechanical matters," said Schenk. They just go ahead and squeeze the tube without giving it a second thought."

The situation may become even more complicated in view of the trend toward packaging everything from ski wax and court plaster to cosmetics and food in metal tubes.

Already such food products as mustard, cheese, anchovy paste, peanut butter, jam and cake frosting are sold in metal tubes.

The conflict may even spread to coffee.

Marin Dance Co-Op Plans Fall Registration Tomorrow

Just back from a European-Scandinavian triumph, Ann Halprin once again renews her interest in the Marin Dance Co-op. For the 17th season here in Marin County, Ann Halprin, Colly Goldsmith and Consuelo Sandoval will be instructing creative dance for pre-schoolers through high school students. This dance group is open to boys and girls.

Fall semester will begin on Oct. 9, with registration tomorrow between 10 and noon at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera.

Kindergarten groups will be under the instruction of Carolyn Goldsmith; the first grade through 8th grade will be taught by Ann Halprin; the teen-age group will be taught by Consuelo Sandoval.

Supervisors Made Blunder In Fairchild Tax Decision

We believe the Marin County Board of Supervisors blundered in its 3-2 decision to relieve Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. of the $7,377 penalty for understating its holdings during the past three years.

Not only was it a blunder; we consider it an affront to the other taxpayers who faithfully report their property values or suffer the consequences.

(Fairchild has paid the $29,500 in back taxes; it is the penalty for mis-stating the property values that is under consideration.)

The reasoning used by the majority of the supervisors seems shaky at best: That Fairchild should not be held responsible for errors or possibly fraudulent acts of the tax consultant, James C. Tooke, who prepared the property statement.

As one dissenting supervisor promptly pointed out, this could serve as a precedent for any individual taxpayer to hire a tax expert, then plead complete innocence and non-responsibility for the actions of the hired consultant.

We believe the proper stand should be to hold the company responsible for the $7,377 penalty. If the company has grievances against the tax consultant whom it hired to do the work, this should be a private matter between the company and the tax consultant.

The county should not maneuver itself into a position of serving as "collection agency" for the property owner.

A penalty for mis-stating the facts, or at least a penalty for late payment, is due and owing from the Fairchild property. It should not be the role of the supervisors to exonerate one of the principal responsible parties and to pinpoint the responsibility elsewhere.

The county has injected itself into a private argument between the tax consultant and client when it could have simply held the property owner responsible, period.

What action, if any, the company can or wants to take against an agent of its own choosing should be the company's concern, not Marin County's.

We hope our supervisors will reconsider. Their decision could start a dangerous precedent.

Carrow Sitting On Sidelines—May Be McCarthy Opposition

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

MAYOR ROBERT D. Carrow of Novato, who ran unsuccessfully for the state Assembly against Bill Bagley in 1962, may have his sights set on the State Senate race next year.

We doubt that he's made a definite decision as yet. It may all hinge on how the senate district is reapportioned.

At present, Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, a Republican, represents one county, Marin. If realignment brings Sonoma and Napa Counties into the same district, then Democrat Joe Rattigan of Sonoma may have to battle it out with McCarthy for the one senate seat.

Rattigan is a Democrat of considerable stature. It is not likely that Democrat Carrow will go up against incumbent Democrat Rattigan.

BUT IF SENATOR Rattigan were to accept a judgeship and get out of the political scene, then it certainly wouldn't be surprising to see Carrow try for the senate.

We have very few "announced" candidates thus far, but several who seem to be showing some interest.

George McCabe of Santa Rosa appears to be gunning for another chance at Don Clausen's Congressional seat. At the same time, rumors persist that he's interested in some statewide position in the field of education.

Supervisor Tom Storer of Inverness is also showing up at the right places and should be considered a dark horse in the Congressional race.

IN THE ASSEMBLY, Republican Bill Bagley is in quite solidly, and the reapportionment is not likely to hurt him. He now represents Marin and Sonoma Counties. Voter registration in those two counties show a Democratic edge of 51.5 per cent.

With the reapportionment, if Marin and one-half of Sonoma become one district, the Democratic registration will drop to 49.8 per cent, giving the Republicans a slight edge.

The Democrats so far don't seem to be grooming anyone to oppose Bagley for the Assembly seat. The only one that looks anything like a possible candidate is Thomas Skornia of Ross, a young and articulate attorney.

He's head of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, and has been active in the study of reapportionment problems in the First Congressional District caucus. You'll probably be hearing more about him, if not the coming elections, then two years from now.

LIBBY SMITH of Kent Woodlands is reported to be writing a book on local elections. She'd be a natural for such a publication.

She's a former newspaperwoman, and has been active in politics all the way from the local to the national, winding up as treasurer in the Kennedy Administration.

FRED ULLNER of Larkspur, who is dissolving the New Conservative Party to back Ronald Reagan, spoke up this week on another front.

As director of the Republicans for Conservative Action, he is asking Governor Brown to call out the National Guard to halt the teach-in demonstration scheduled in mid-October at the Oakland Army Terminal by the Viet Nam Day Committee.

Such a demonstration is a "disgrace to the state and to the nation," Ullner asserts.

Court's Redistrict Demands Challenged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The United States Supreme Court has declared that both houses of all state legislatures must be apportioned and elected by and from districts based on population only. This is cause for grave concern. It removes the checks and balances in lawmaking so wisely set up by the makers of our national and state constitutions and the very foundation of our governmental system.

The United States Supreme Court is a judicial body. Its powers and duties are listed in the United States Constitution. Determining the method of apportioning and electing the members of the state legislatures is not one of those powers or duties. That right is reserved to the states themselves. The Supreme Court is not a law-making body. However, the Supreme Court may declare unconstitutional any states law which is contrary to the Constitution.

The Constitution provides that the members of the Upper House of Congress (Senators) are to be elected by and from geographical districts and members of the Lower House (Representatives) are to be elected by and from population districts within each state. It can not be unconstitutional for the states to use this identical system in apportioning and electing its own state legislators, as they have been doing since the United States was founded.

Then by what Constitutional right or judicial reasoning did the Supreme Court make this decision?

Gasoline Tax Profit Grabbers Lambasted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Here's a bouquet of poison oak to the few independent Marin service station operators who failed to reduce their prices on Sept. 1 when the state gasoline tax was reduced one cent per gallon. These men should change their trade to carpentry where chiseling is a legitimate activity.

Fortunately, these stations are rather easy to spot as most of them are ashamed to display their prices openly. This makes it easy to recognize them and to avoid patronizing them.

Convert Courthouse To Other Purposes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael business community will have lost its mind if it lets the old Courthouse go down to destruction! In a totally undistinguished, Topsy - grown, dragged out, mixture of routine glass fronts and weary old stuccos, all set to a fixed line for miles, the Courthouse and its little park is the lone spot of human warmth and congeniality in the whole business area.

Here the visitor, or the native, can stop and pause a moment and feel that this spot is the center of the town which gives a tone and meaning to the whole. Its worth cannot be measured in actual dollars, but I am convinced that as it stands, the Courthouse is worth far more to San Rafael than any flashy, built-up, commercial exploitation can be.

I would heartily second Mr. Scruggs suggestion of a few days ago that the Courthouse be used to best advantage. Buy it with a bond issue, floated by the business community. Attract the tourist with a worthy museum on the ground floor. Turn the upper floors into high-grade professional offices. Tear down the ugly annex (a horrid symbol of the County's past short sightedness).

If the above program cannot be self-financing at the price San Rafael is being asked to pay the County, I would heartily suggest that the County take on some share of the burden of retaining this monument of the past, either by subsidizing the project for part of the deficit, or by reducing its asking price.

Gallinas Park Issue Has Contradictions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Rumbles have been heard regarding the abolishment of the Gallinas Community Services District, consisting of approximately 470 homes in the northerly portion of Santa Venetia, governed by a board of five directors with full tax levying powers. Taxpayers of Marin may be interested in what they may inherit and why.

Protests of the majority of residents attending meetings of the board of directors have been ignored. Volunteers to help build a community hall have been refused on the basis that all work must be done by a licensed contractor hiring union help. Yet, the board passed these recommendations of their park consultant, Robert Tanem, who is not a licensee of the State Board of Landscape Architects.

Tucked away in one corner of the district, a mother's tennis court and toddler's lot, within toddling distance of few, but within toddling distance of the homes of all board members. The second park will be, according to a $300 artist's conception, a beautiful lawn and pine trees, fenced and padlocked at night. Estimated cost, $22,000. The third park, future questionable.

The public was informed that Tanem's planning was voluntary. However, he presented a bill of $1,200 at the board's last meeting, which they would not discuss. Mathematically, according to fee resolutions of their minutes, a second bill for $1,200 will be presented when bids are accepted and an additional 5 per cent of contracts when work is completed. Total fee, $3,500. The estimated maintenance for each park is $300 per month. Mr. Tanem has the present maintenance contract for our dividing strip. Who will benefit from this project?

President Johnson Is Winning Europe Support For Policies

LONDON—Throughout most of Western Europe, confidence in and support for U.S. policy are higher than at any time since President Kennedy's masterly handling of the Cuban missile crisis.

In the wake of this Soviet - U.S. confrontation in 1962, American prestige soared among all the Atlantic allies. European statesmen saw this as JFK's crucial test and when he handled it decisively, carefully, and successfully — without war — all Europe breathed a tremendous sigh of relief.

They have not had the same confidence in President Johnson.

But they are beginning to get it.

There are two reasons for this:

1. Mr. Johnson is disproving the premature cliche, that while he was deft and resourceful in domestic affairs, he was clumsy and heavy-handed in foreign affairs.

2. Several events over which the President had no direct control are taking shape in such a way as to show the validity of the course Mr. Johnson has been following and are improving the image of the U.S. in Europe.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S initiatives in five areas of foreign policy are winning him wider respect over here:

His tactful even-handedness in the India-Pakistan war and his subordinating of his own role to that of the U.N.

His creative proposal to join with the Soviets in destroying a substantial number of atomic bombs.

His patient negotiation of a new treaty with Panama granting Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

His evident eagerness to remove U.S. Marines from the Dominican Republic as soon as a stable regime emerges.

His measured use of power to defend South Vietnam without bringing Red China into the conflict.

THIS PATTERN OF U.S. policy has just brought cordial words from the London Sunday Telegraph, which especially praises the President for giving the United Nations a full chance to mediate the India-Pakistan war without Communist wrecking tactics.

'The Americans have won," the Telegraph said, "by suppressing favoritism toward Pakistan, by fingering instead of rattling the sabre against China, by using economic and financial pressure discreetly, and by working with the Russians through the United Nations."

The President's handling of foreign affairs, as seen in Western Europe, has also had some unearned dividends.

JOHNSON COULD not have foreseen that his repeated offer of a peaceful settlement in Vietnam would bring such bald disdain from Red China as to make Washington seem downright pacifist compared to Peking. It is now increasingly evident that it is not the U.S. which is blocking the way to the conference table.

The President's willingness to pursue a "parallel policy" with Moscow in the India-Pakistan conflict is warmly welcomed here.

Civil Rights People Ready To Grab

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Civil rights and other activists are busily getting ready to make the most for themselves of the new $1.78-billion anti-poverty program just authorized by Congress.

Envisioned in these unpublicized activist preparations is a wide range of "grass-roots" propaganda and politics-loaded activists—job training, vocational rehabilitation, employment counseling, job corps, welfare programs, consumer education, birth control, legal aid, neighborhood centers, domestic peace corps.

While the $1.78-billion anti-poverty budget is tagged as the principal source of funds for these ambitious promotional plans, it's not the only one. Various other beautifully endowed Great Society programs also will be tapped.

Virtually all of them are made-to-order for this.

A GRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION is the Delta Opportunity Corp., an outgrowth of a $1-4-million Head Start project for pre-school negro children in Mississippi. A private, non-profit organization with church and educational sponsorship, it contemplates seeking federal grants from the anti-poverty and other Great Society budgets.

For example, Delta, which has applied for a Mississippi state charter, proposes to ask for money to "bring running water and flush plumbing" to 10 Delta counties. These funds would come from the $55 million matching-grant program, under the Farmers Home Administration, to assist non-profit organizations to install water and sewer systems in areas of 5,500 or less.

ALSO ON THE Delta Corporation's aspiring agenda is going after funds from the Regional Development Act, with $3.5 billion in federal grants and loans over five years to aid economically depressed rural sections.

Masterminding the Delta Opportunity Corp. is the same group that conducted the $1.4-million child development (Head Start) project—irately assailed as a "staging ground" for freedom marches and other civil rights demonstrations.

DURING THE SENATE'S consideration of the $1.78-billion anti-poverty authorization bill, the following revealing discussion took place—without any effect on the final vote, which approved the legislation 46 to 22:

Sen. Frank Lausche, D-O: "Where was this rock-and-roll program?"

Senator Peter Dominick, R-Colo.: "In Chicago."

Lausche: "And it is a part of an economic opportunity program on which the taxpayers' money is being spent."

Dominick: "That is correct."

Lausche: "Where was the program in which taxpayers' money was spent to teach how weight can be reduced?"

Dominick: "That was in Ypsilante, Mich."

Lausche: "These programs now are part of the general laws."

Dominick: "That is correct. They are part of the so-called anti-poverty program. Also part of that program is a Head Start project in Indianapolis, Ind., with a $1,094,000 budget. Fully two-thirds of that budget is going for salaries of administrators, consultants, coordinators, teachers, office help, and other employes. And there is still another one from Gum Springs, Va. Citizens there are up in arms over a $74,000 anti-poverty budget, of which $56,722 is going for salaries of the staff."

FEDERAL RESERVE insiders are saying that longtime Chairman William McChesney Martin has been offered the presdency of one of the oldest and biggest banks in New York City.

George Romney has decided not to seek the seat of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., next year. Close friends of Romney have let National Republican Chairman Ray Bliss know that Romney has decided to seek re-lection.

Moon Mullins Faces Eradication Effort

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Haven't you done anything about (ugh!) Moon Mullins yet. It's terrible, and you're so slow about things! A friend and I have been working on a petition to get rid of him! Others have joined the MMWD (Moon Mullins Wipeout Department), and we'll send in the petition as soon as we're through. It's a real petition, not just names from the phone book, and we've been working hard. We'll be disappointed if you don't get rid of him.

Thank you, and wish us good luck!

Court's Redistrict Demands Challenged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The United States Supreme Court has declared that both houses of all state legislatures must be apportioned and elected by and from districts based on population only. This is cause for grave concern. It removes the checks and balances in lawmaking so wisely set up by the makers of our national and state constitutions and the very foundation of our governmental system.

The United States Supreme Court is a judicial body. Its powers and duties are listed in the United States Constitution. Determining the method of apportioning and electing the members of the state legislatures is not one of those powers or duties. That right is reserved to the states themselves. The Supreme Court is not a law-making body. However, the Supreme Court may declare unconstitutional any states law which is contrary to the Constitution.

The Constitution provides that the members of the Upper House of Congress (Senators) are to be elected by and from geographical districts and members of the Lower House (Representatives) are to be elected by and from population districts within each state. It can not be unconstitutional for the states to use this identical system in apportioning and electing its own state legislators, as they have been doing since the United States was founded.

Then by what Constitutional right or judicial reasoning did the Supreme Court make this decision?

Gasoline Tax Profit Grabbers Lambasted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Here's a bouquet of poison oak to the few independent Marin service station operators who failed to reduce their prices on Sept. 1 when the state gasoline tax was reduced one cent per gallon. These men should change their trade to carpentry where chiseling is a legitimate activity.

Fortunately, these stations are rather easy to spot as most of them are ashamed to display their prices openly. This makes it easy to recognize them and to avoid patronizing them.

Convert Courthouse To Other Purposes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael business community will have lost its mind if it lets the old Courthouse go down to destruction! In a totally undistinguished, Topsy - grown, dragged out, mixture of routine glass fronts and weary old stuccos, all set to a fixed line for miles, the Courthouse and its little park is the lone spot of human warmth and congeniality in the whole business area.

Here the visitor, or the native, can stop and pause a moment and feel that this spot is the center of the town which gives a tone and meaning to the whole. Its worth cannot be measured in actual dollars, but I am convinced that as it stands, the Courthouse is worth far more to San Rafael than any flashy, built-up, commercial exploitation can be.

I would heartily second Mr. Scruggs suggestion of a few days ago that the Courthouse be used to best advantage. Buy it with a bond issue, floated by the business community. Attract the tourist with a worthy museum on the ground floor. Turn the upper floors into high-grade professional offices. Tear down the ugly annex (a horrid symbol of the County's past short sightedness).

If the above program cannot be self-financing at the price San Rafael is being asked to pay the County, I would heartily suggest that the County take on some share of the burden of retaining this monument of the past, either by subsidizing the project for part of the deficit, or by reducing its asking price.

Gallinas Park Issue Has Contradictions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Rumbles have been heard regarding the abolishment of the Gallinas Community Services District, consisting of approximately 470 homes in the northerly portion of Santa Venetia, governed by a board of five directors with full tax levying powers. Taxpayers of Marin may be interested in what they may inherit and why.

Protests of the majority of residents attending meetings of the board of directors have been ignored. Volunteers to help build a community hall have been refused on the basis that all work must be done by a licensed contractor hiring union help. Yet, the board passed these recommendations of their park consultant, Robert Tanem, who is not a licensee of the State Board of Landscape Architects.

Tucked away in one corner of the district, a mother's tennis court and toddler's lot, within toddling distance of few, but within toddling distance of the homes of all board members. The second park will be, according to a $300 artist's conception, a beautiful lawn and pine trees, fenced and padlocked at night. Estimated cost, $22,000. The third park, future questionable.

The public was informed that Tanem's planning was voluntary. However, he presented a bill of $1,200 at the board's last meeting, which they would not discuss. Mathematically, according to fee resolutions of their minutes, a second bill for $1,200 will be presented when bids are accepted and an additional 5 per cent of contracts when work is completed. Total fee, $3,500. The estimated maintenance for each park is $300 per month. Mr. Tanem has the present maintenance contract for our dividing strip. Who will benefit from this project?

President Johnson Is Winning Europe Support For Policies

LONDON—Throughout most of Western Europe, confidence in and support for U.S. policy are higher than at any time since President Kennedy's masterly handling of the Cuban missile crisis.

In the wake of this Soviet - U.S. confrontation in 1962, American prestige soared among all the Atlantic allies. European statesmen saw this as JFK's crucial test and when he handled it decisively, carefully, and successfully — without war — all Europe breathed a tremendous sigh of relief.

They have not had the same confidence in President Johnson.

But they are beginning to get it.

There are two reasons for this:

1. Mr. Johnson is disproving the premature cliche, that while he was deft and resourceful in domestic affairs, he was clumsy and heavy-handed in foreign affairs.

2. Several events over which the President had no direct control are taking shape in such a way as to show the validity of the course Mr. Johnson has been following and are improving the image of the U.S. in Europe.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S initiatives in five areas of foreign policy are winning him wider respect over here:

His tactful even-handedness in the India-Pakistan war and his subordinating of his own role to that of the U.N.

His creative proposal to join with the Soviets in destroying a substantial number of atomic bombs.

His patient negotiation of a new treaty with Panama granting Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

His evident eagerness to remove U.S. Marines from the Dominican Republic as soon as a stable regime emerges.

His measured use of power to defend South Vietnam without bringing Red China into the conflict.

THIS PATTERN OF U.S. policy has just brought cordial words from the London Sunday Telegraph, which especially praises the President for giving the United Nations a full chance to mediate the India-Pakistan war without Communist wrecking tactics.

'The Americans have won," the Telegraph said, "by suppressing favoritism toward Pakistan, by fingering instead of rattling the sabre against China, by using economic and financial pressure discreetly, and by working with the Russians through the United Nations."

The President's handling of foreign affairs, as seen in Western Europe, has also had some unearned dividends.

JOHNSON COULD not have foreseen that his repeated offer of a peaceful settlement in Vietnam would bring such bald disdain from Red China as to make Washington seem downright pacifist compared to Peking. It is now increasingly evident that it is not the U.S. which is blocking the way to the conference table.

The President's willingness to pursue a "parallel policy" with Moscow in the India-Pakistan conflict is warmly welcomed here.

Civil Rights People Ready To Grab

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Civil rights and other activists are busily getting ready to make the most for themselves of the new $1.78-billion anti-poverty program just authorized by Congress.

Envisioned in these unpublicized activist preparations is a wide range of "grass-roots" propaganda and politics-loaded activists—job training, vocational rehabilitation, employment counseling, job corps, welfare programs, consumer education, birth control, legal aid, neighborhood centers, domestic peace corps.

While the $1.78-billion anti-poverty budget is tagged as the principal source of funds for these ambitious promotional plans, it's not the only one. Various other beautifully endowed Great Society programs also will be tapped.

Virtually all of them are made-to-order for this.

A GRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION is the Delta Opportunity Corp., an outgrowth of a $1-4-million Head Start project for pre-school negro children in Mississippi. A private, non-profit organization with church and educational sponsorship, it contemplates seeking federal grants from the anti-poverty and other Great Society budgets.

For example, Delta, which has applied for a Mississippi state charter, proposes to ask for money to "bring running water and flush plumbing" to 10 Delta counties. These funds would come from the $55 million matching-grant program, under the Farmers Home Administration, to assist non-profit organizations to install water and sewer systems in areas of 5,500 or less.

ALSO ON THE Delta Corporation's aspiring agenda is going after funds from the Regional Development Act, with $3.5 billion in federal grants and loans over five years to aid economically depressed rural sections.

Masterminding the Delta Opportunity Corp. is the same group that conducted the $1.4-million child development (Head Start) project—irately assailed as a "staging ground" for freedom marches and other civil rights demonstrations.

DURING THE SENATE'S consideration of the $1.78-billion anti-poverty authorization bill, the following revealing discussion took place—without any effect on the final vote, which approved the legislation 46 to 22:

Sen. Frank Lausche, D-O: "Where was this rock-and-roll program?"

Senator Peter Dominick, R-Colo.: "In Chicago."

Lausche: "And it is a part of an economic opportunity program on which the taxpayers' money is being spent."

Dominick: "That is correct."

Lausche: "Where was the program in which taxpayers' money was spent to teach how weight can be reduced?"

Dominick: "That was in Ypsilante, Mich."

Lausche: "These programs now are part of the general laws."

Dominick: "That is correct. They are part of the so-called anti-poverty program. Also part of that program is a Head Start project in Indianapolis, Ind., with a $1,094,000 budget. Fully two-thirds of that budget is going for salaries of administrators, consultants, coordinators, teachers, office help, and other employes. And there is still another one from Gum Springs, Va. Citizens there are up in arms over a $74,000 anti-poverty budget, of which $56,722 is going for salaries of the staff."

FEDERAL RESERVE insiders are saying that longtime Chairman William McChesney Martin has been offered the presdency of one of the oldest and biggest banks in New York City.

George Romney has decided not to seek the seat of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., next year. Close friends of Romney have let National Republican Chairman Ray Bliss know that Romney has decided to seek re-lection.

Riverside Newspaperman Studies Workings Of Sausalito Schools

A man named Salditch with sleepy eyes came to our office on Mill Valley's Fleet Street the other day.

He said he works in the Sacramento bureau for the Riverside Press and is doing a story on the Sausalito School District's change in life.

Martin Salditch said that desegregation is a vital thing in Riverside and, to emphasize, said two weeks ago an old school used by Negroes and Mexicans in Riverside, was burned. The loss was six of eight classrooms plus the auditorium.

PEOPLE THERE have demonstrated with freedom schools, as Sausalito did, and public protests for desegregated, better schools.

Salditch said he had heard of Sasualito before but never Mill Valley. We told him we had heard of Riverside. He said he works in the State Capitol which he finds a lively place for a reporter and that, after Sasualito-Mill Valley, he goes next to Berkeley to write about schools there.

SAUSALITO SCHOOL District trustees patiently and dutifully plugged their way through a long agenda Monday night. Then, at about 11:30 p.m., after taking up one piece of business concerning a program for first graders where a 6-year-old could operate a movie making machine, the very able board president Dave Freedheim said:

"It is unfortunate we are so encumbered with business concerns of operating this $900,000 operation that we never get a chance to see these things (curriculum). If it takes special meetings I would recommend that we should come in and have these reports that we have now at the beginning rather than end of the meeting."

THREE MOTHERS also patient, also dutiful, applauded loudly, their few hand claps rocketing sounds off the ceiling and down to the highly polished wood floor.

Mill Valley gardener Bob Byrnes says he will be "dog-sitting" for a gardening customer for the next couple of weeks, a new task. Byrnes said the house he lives in on Dell Street was bought by his grandmother years ago for $100 in a district then called "Jagtown." Asked why the name, he said because that area then had three bars.

Waitress Bernie Brown at Meier's Bakery in Mill Valley got off an hour extra on Wednesday after a smoke fire. "I can't breathe smoke," she said. "It's my asthma."

JESSICA LIPPITT thinks Alaska is real "boss." She is studing English, political science, European history, public speaking and Spanish at the University of Alaska near Fairbanks.

Impressed so far with the university, she writes her parents also of the countryside: "The moon is bigger than life . . . most shattering exprience so far was the first time I saw the Northern Lights—I couldn't speak for the rest of the night. Never before such eerieness, mystery . . . ."

Found in the handcrafts from Europe store in Sausalito were four scraps of paper, apparently a list of gifts to be purchased by small tykes. They read: "Robin, pepermint, cinamom." "Kathy, cinimon, pepermint;" "Lindy, root beer, cinamon (M);" and "Martha L. Raspberry, 2. blackberry." Good old cinamom.

And on Fleet Street the fever is on. James McElhinney walked into our office Wednesday. A building and maintenance man, he seemed very nosy until we realiized he carried a small radio in his chest pocket and was listening to the game. Asked for the score, he replied "three to nothing, St. Louis." Whaddayathink? we asked. "Looks bad," he answered.

ART BUCHWALD

It Looks As If Representatives Are Fooling With A Hot Tamale

WASHINGTON — Last week the House of Representatives passed, overwhelmingly, a resolution calling for the use of force by any American nation, if necessary, to prevent a Communist takeover in any Western hemisphere country. The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Armistead I. Seldon Jr. of Alabama has produced a furor in Latin America and almost every country has denounced it. It also has caused new criticism of the United States - Latin American policy.

Despite this I am happy to report that the Republic of Enchilada is not only supporting the House of Representatives resolution, but is planning to act on it. It has never been a secret that Enchilada's arch enemy is Upper Tamale, which lies just across the vale of Chili.

FOR YEARS Enchilada and Upper Tamale have had a border dispute about the vale, and Enchilada has been looking for an excuse to attack Upper Tamale. But they have been held back by the OAS treaty which forbids one country in the Western hemisphere from attacking another.

As soon as the resolution was passed, Gen. El Finco, the president of Enchilada, called his parliament, which he had dissolved four months ago, back to session, and in an impassioned pro - United States speech said, "Thanks to the American House of Representatives, which has just passed a resolution saying any American republic can attack any other American republic if there is a question of a Communist government, I am suggesting we attack Upper Tamale immediately.

AS EVERYONE in Enchilada knows, Upper Tamale is lousy with Communists, and its leader, Gen. Frijoles, is nothing more than a Castro pawn who would enslave all of South America.

"It is the duty of Enchiladans to wipe out the forces of subversion in this hemisphere no matter where they might be and I am asking the United States through the Alliance for Progress to send us 200 B-52 bombers, 400 Patton tanks, and 1,000 Hawk missiles to see that this menace is eradicated, so all of South America may live in peace and freedom. I am also asking this parliament to pass unanimously a resolution thanking the American legislators for making this attack on Upper Tamale possible."

President El Finco not only got a standing ovation, but was carried out of the parliament building on the shoulders of his personal bodyguard. Only three students were killed during the demonstration.

BUT AT THE moment that Gen. El Finco was speaking in Enchilada, Gen. Frijoles was addressing his senate.

He told them, "I am happy to announce today that the mother of all freedom-loving countries in South America, our own Upper Tamale, is now prepared to strike a blow against communism in the vale of Chili. The leftist-dominated, Red-infiltrated subversive government of Enchilada must be taught a lesson once and for all. I hold here in my hand evidence that Gen. El Finco is the illegitimate son of Mao Tse-tung.

WE CAN NO longer sit idly by and see a Communist takeover of Enchilada. Our ambassador in Washington is now negotiating through the Alliance for Progress for 250 fighter planes, 100 nuclear submarines, and 350 tons of nauseous tear gas, which we will use to wipe Enchilada off the face of the earth."

The Upper Tamale senate passed a resolution in support of Gen. Frijoles. This made him so pleased he gave an amnesty to 5,000 members of the opposition political party who had been languishing in jail.

TO SHOW his gratitude to the United States House of Representatives, Gen. Frijoles ordered his students not to burn down a USIA library for 30 days.

So, while many South American countries may be critical of the Selden resolution, there are at least two Latin countries who are for it. There won't be a "commie government" safe in South America after this.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Board's Caution Commended On Fair Officials' Pay Hikes

FUSSELMAN

EACH WEEK there are so many items of concern to the tax paying citizens of our county, which merit thorough thought and discussion, that it is difficult to determine which to comment on. I was impressed by one article in the I-J, Wednesday: "Supervisors Balk At Fair Aides' Raises . . . and held up approval of the proposed fair budget for next year. Increases proposed by fair Mgr. Marcelle B. McCoy include boosts from $650 to $753 per month for herself," along with raises for a part-time secretary and an annual salary of $6,550 for the fair's designer, an increase from $4,550. Then from $1,500 to $2,000 for publicity director. Now this may seem of no concern to taxpayers because the funds come from pari-mutuel race track money. The point is that one never knows what amounts Sacramento will approve, with the inevitable result that deficits for operation would be requested from local taxes.

THERE IS one situation that I find, on investigation, was not correctly presented to the supervisors by the administrator. This has to do with a proposed activity center for older adults at the Civic Center. This proposal would create an opportunity for seniors to perform services for others in a number of fields.

I hope that this will be completely explained and developed. It is a real worthwhile approach.

IN THE Sept. 3 column I listed many questions which should be answered before any hasty action is taken on better commute transportation. Therefore, we should all be delighted to have read the story in the I-J and in the city papers that the $65,000 study project by the Division of Bay Toll Crossings was scheduled to come up with a final report in May, 1967—and that the emphasis would be on "impartiality."

Undoubtedly many of you saw and heard E. R. Foley, division chief engineer, make the announcement on TV. I thought he was quite impressive. In this same connection, most interesting and fascinating was the proposal by the space scientist-engineer for a rapid transit plan which could be used for both Marin and Peninsula commuters—a tube system with compressed air propulsion. His statement of costs was most amazingly low as compared with any present concepts. This idea is certainly worth consideration during the study project.

It is good to see the thinking is moving into the professional field.

P.S. Just after typing this column, I heard over the radio that the President had signed a bill authorizing millions for federal aid to develop high-speed commute services in metropolitan areas.

Historic Collection For State

ORANGE HOUSE (AP) — A Yuba County family is giving the state an historic collection, including a wagon and trailer used to transport freight to Sierra gold mines.

The family of the late Joseph Wood, who died this month at 90, presented the collection of wagons and farm equipment to the state Division of Beaches and Parks.

Wood, a former wagon driver, stored the equipment on his ranch, near a once - thriving stage coach station 25 miles northeast of Marysville.

The collection includes eight wagons, a complete blacksmith shop, a cart used to break in horses and a wooden hay rake.

The Wood family was told the collection will be restored by the state agency to its original condition, where possible. The commission is deciding where to display the articles.

The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Armistead I. Seldon Jr. of Alabama has produced a furor in Latin America and almost every country has denounced it. It also has caused new criticism of the United States - Latin American policy.

Despite this I am happy to report that the Republic of Enchilada is not only supporting the House of Representatives resolution, but is planning to act on it. It has never been a secret that Enchilada's arch enemy is Upper Tamale, which lies just across the vale of Chili.

FOR YEARS Enchilada and Upper Tamale have had a border dispute about the vale, and Enchilada has been looking for an excuse to attack Upper Tamale. But they have been held back by the OAS treaty which forbids one country in the Western hemisphere from attacking another.

As soon as the resolution was passed, Gen. El Finco, the president of Enchilada, called his parliament, which he had dissolved four months ago, back to session, and in an impassioned pro - United States speech said, "Thanks to the American House of Representatives, which has just passed a resolution saying any American republic can attack any other American republic if there is a question of a Communist government, I am suggesting we attack Upper Tamale immediately.

AS EVERYONE in Enchilada knows, Upper Tamale is lousy with Communists, and its leader, Gen. Frijoles, is nothing more than a Castro pawn who would enslave all of South America.

"It is the duty of Enchiladans to wipe out the forces of subversion in this hemisphere no matter where they might be and I am asking the United States through the Alliance for Progress to send us 200 B-52 bombers, 400 Patton tanks, and 1,000 Hawk missiles to see that this menace is eradicated, so all of South America may live in peace and freedom. I am also asking this parliament to pass unanimously a resolution thanking the American legislators for making this attack on Upper Tamale possible."

President El Finco not only got a standing ovation, but was carried out of the parliament building on the shoulders of his personal bodyguard. Only three students were killed during the demonstration.

BUT AT THE moment that Gen. El Finco was speaking in Enchilada, Gen. Frijoles was addressing his senate.

He told them, "I am happy to announce today that the mother of all freedom-loving countries in South America, our own Upper Tamale, is now prepared to strike a blow against communism in the vale of Chili. The leftist-dominated, Red-infiltrated subversive government of Enchilada must be taught a lesson once and for all. I hold here in my hand evidence that Gen. El Finco is the illegitimate son of Mao Tse-tung.

WE CAN NO longer sit idly by and see a Communist takeover of Enchilada. Our ambassador in Washington is now negotiating through the Alliance for Progress for 250 fighter planes, 100 nuclear submarines, and 350 tons of nauseous tear gas, which we will use to wipe Enchilada off the face of the earth."

The Upper Tamale senate passed a resolution in support of Gen. Frijoles. This made him so pleased he gave an amnesty to 5,000 members of the opposition political party who had been languishing in jail.

TO SHOW his gratitude to the United States House of Representatives, Gen. Frijoles ordered his students not to burn down a USIA library for 30 days.

So, while many South American countries may be critical of the Selden resolution, there are at least two Latin countries who are for it. There won't be a "commie government" safe in South America after this.

Opening lead — ♡ K

South ruffed the second heart, drew three rounds of trumps and led out two top diamonds. East's heart discard was a shock.

Since South's trumps were all gone he could not ruff out the jack of diamonds and still get back to his hand for the rest of the suit.

TRIES FINESSE

He cashed the queen of diamonds to discard a spade from dummy and tried the spade finesse in the hope of limiting the spade loss to one trick.

No luck. The spades broke badly, and South was down one.

If you're not running for reelection you might point out that South's contract is cold against any break and that he doesn't need a law to protect him.

MUST FINESSE

South should draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy and then lead a diamond to finesse with the 10.

The contract is safe whether the finesse wins or loses.

If the finesse wins, South can take three more diamonds to discard two low spades from dummy. Then he leads spades, giving up one spade trick at most.

If the diamond finesse loses, South can take the spade return with dummy's ace and lead dummy's other diamond to run the rest of the suit.

South discards all of dummy's low spades on the diamonds, and ruffs his spade at the end nical about hands like this can't expect to get the bridge playing vote—unless he introduces an even better law—to abolish the number 1400.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ A Q J 6 4
♥ Q 7
♦ 5 3
♣ Q 10 9 5
What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

The hand is not quite worth an opening bid, largely because the two unsupported queens are not really worth two points each.

If you changed the queen of hearts to a small heart and the queen of clubs to the ace of clubs, the point count would be unchanged, but the hand would then be worth an opening bid of one spade.

Hospitals Needed

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Government figures show that Nepal, with 1,157 hospital beds available at present, has only one bed for every 8,634 persons. A program is under way to alleviate the situation.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 1, the 274th day of 1965 with 91 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

American Novelist Faith Baldwin was born on this day in 1893.

On this day in history:

In 1903, the first baseball World Series got underway at Boston with the Boston American League team playing the National League team from Pittsburgh. Boston won.

In 1908, Henry Ford introduced the Model T Ford.

In 1938, German troops crossed into the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia.

In 1962, James H. Meredith Jr. became the first Negro to register at the University of Mississippi.

A thought for the day—Writer Anne Morrow Lindbergh said "One can never pay in gratitude; one can only pay 'in kind' somewhere else in life."

TIME AND TIDE

He cashed the queen of diamonds to discard a spade from dummy and tried the spade finesse in the hope of limiting the spade loss to one trick.

No luck. The spades broke badly, and South was down one.

If you're not running for reelection you might point out that South's contract is cold against any break and that he doesn't need a law to protect him.

MUST FINESSE

South should draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy and then lead a diamond to finesse with the 10.

The contract is safe whether the finesse wins or loses.

If the finesse wins, South can take three more diamonds to discard two low spades from dummy. Then he leads spades, giving up one spade trick at most.

If the diamond finesse loses, South can take the spade return with dummy's ace and lead dummy's other diamond to run the rest of the suit.

South discards all of dummy's low spades on the diamonds, and ruffs his spade at the end nical about hands like this can't expect to get the bridge playing vote—unless he introduces an even better law—to abolish the number 1400.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ A Q J 6 4
♥ Q 7
♦ 5 3
♣ Q 10 9 5

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

The hand is not quite worth an opening bid, largely because the two unsupported queens are not really worth two points each.

If you changed the queen of hearts to a small heart and the queen of clubs to the ace of clubs, the point count would be unchanged, but the hand would then be worth an opening bid of one spade.

Hospitals Needed

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Government figures show that Nepal, with 1,157 hospital beds available at present, has only one bed for every 8,634 persons. A program is under way to alleviate the situation.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 1, the 274th day of 1965 with 91 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

American Novelist Faith Baldwin was born on this day in 1893.

On this day in history:

In 1903, the first baseball World Series got underway at Boston with the Boston American League team playing the National League team from Pittsburgh. Boston won.

In 1908, Henry Ford introduced the Model T Ford.

In 1938, German troops crossed into the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia.

In 1962, James H. Meredith Jr. became the first Negro to register at the University of Mississippi.

A thought for the day—Writer Anne Morrow Lindbergh said "One can never pay in gratitude; one can only pay 'in kind' somewhere else in life."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

1000 stations overnight. Gulf comes West in a big way!

Gulf service stations are now part of the Western landscape.

The Gulf Orange Disc, familiar to 35 million motorists in 33 Eastern and Midwest states, now identifies 1000 former stations of the Wilshire Oil Company. And things are different under the big orange and blue Gulf sign.

Gulf Gasolines are designed for the West.

Gulftane®—A lower priced gasoline for many older and economy cars.

Gulf Half & Half—Only Gulf has it. A Mid-Premium that fills the gap between Regular grade gasolines and Premium...for 8 out of 10 cars.

Gulf Premium No-Nox®—Full horsepower for high compression engines.

Gulfpride,® the world's finest motor oil, is now in stock, as are Gulf batteries and many other Gulf products. All can be charged on your Gulf national Travel Card—good, as well, for your expenses at Holiday Inns of America, Inc. throughout the U.S. and Canada.

For sure, Gulf didn't come West empty handed. They brought along a 64-year-old reputation for quality, service and leadership. Come in soon for a sample of that reputation.

NEVER BEFORE
IN ROSS
Only once in its history does a property like this come on the market. Stately — gracious — formal — in a sunny setting among the trees. Seven bedrooms, 3½ baths, full dining room. Level ground with a children's playhouse in the back garden. It needs some remodeling but it's all wonderful quality to start with. Even the doors are solid hardwood. We have the keys at both our offices.

NEVER BEFORE IN ROSS

Only once in its history does a property like this come on the market. Stately — gracious — formal — in a sunny setting among the trees. Seven bedrooms, 3½ baths, full dining room. Level ground with a children's playhouse in the back garden. It needs some remodeling but it's all wonderful quality to start with. Even the doors are solid hardwood. We have the keys at both our offices.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE SALE

On Thursday, the 14th day of October, 1965, at the hour of 11:00 o'clock A.M., of said day, at the Fourth Street entrance of the Marin County Court House. County of Marin, State of California, CAL-MARIN TITLE COMPANY, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

LOT 183, as shown upon that certain map entitled, "Map of Oak Manor, Unit Three, in the County of Marin, California." recorded August 3, 1956 in Book 9 of Maps, at page 44, Marin County Records.

EXCEPTING and reserving therefrom an easement for drive way purposes over the following described portion:

BEGINNING at a point in the Westerly line of Von Court, said point being the Southeasterly corner of Lot 183, as said Lot and Court are shown on the Map of Oak Manor Unit Three recorded August 3, 1956 in Book 9 of Maps at page 44, Marin County Records; thence along the Southerly line of said Lot 183, North 70° 40' 40" West 29.28 feet; thence leaving said Southerly line, North 75° 35' 07" East 41.59 feet to said Westerly line of Von Court; thence along said Westerly line on a non-tangent curve to the right, whose center bears North 62° 57' 43" West, radius 130 feet, through a central angle of 10° 27' 43" for an arc distance of 23.74 feet to the Point of Beginning.

Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty regarding title, possession or encumbrances to satisfy the obligation secured by and pursuant to the power of sale conferred in a certain deed of trust executed by H. GILBERT ELLIS and LENORE A. ELLIS, his wife, to CAL-MARIN TITLE COMPANY, A California Corporation, as trustee, for the benefit and security of ADALBERT VON ROTZ and MARIE LOUISE VON ROTZ, his wife, as Joint Tenants, dated June 24, 1964, and recorded June 24, 1964, in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Liber 1829 of Official Records at page 157.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
BID #238—BAHIA VISTA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Notice is hereby given that the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael School District, State of California, will receive bids for the erection, construction and completion of a Library, Classrooms and Adjunct Facilities upon public school property at the East San Rafael Elementary School located southeast of the intersection of Canal and Napa Streets, San Rafael, Marin County, State of California, including all necessary labor, materials, services, and transportation. Each bid or proposal to be in accordance with plans, drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for said School District, at the office in the Administration Building, E Street at 3rd Avenue, San Rafael, Marin County, California, where they can be examined and with Cantin and Associates, Architect, 690 Market Street, San Francisco, California, or 1196 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, California, and copies of same may be obtained by General Contractors from said Architect at either office upon deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25,00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids have been opened.

Bidders are hereby further notified that pursuant to the Statutes of State of California or local laws thereto applicable, it shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the general prevailing hourly wage rate and the rate per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract awarded to the successful bidder. All bidders are hereby further notified that they must ascertain from the proper authorities the said wage rates before submitting their bid.

A schedule of the prevailing rates so determined has been approved by the City Board of Education of the said School District and filed with the Secretary of said Board in the offices of the San Rafael School District and said schedule is hereby referred to and by such reference incorporated herein and made a part hereof as fully as though set forth at length.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Bidders shall set forth in the bid the name and location of the mill, shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the Contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of said Superintendent or at the office of said Architect at the addresses hereinabove set forth; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than Thirty-five Thousand Dollars ($35,000.-00), made payable to the order of the said San Rafael School District, shall be sealed and filed with the said Superintendent of Schools at his office on or before 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of the said day, and will be opened and publicly read aloud on Oct. 20, 1965 at or about 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of that day in the office of said Superintendent.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the said School Board.

Successful bidders on labor and material contract work will be required to furnish, in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price a Labor and Material Bond, and a Faithful Performance Bond in the amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price: said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the School Board.

The School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in a bid, or to award a contract on the basis of the proposal which serves the best interest of the School District.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Date Bids will be received: October 20, 1965.

Dated this September 29, 1965.

Berkeleyans Pay Extra To Smoke

BERKELEY (UPI)—Berkeley smokers started paying two cents more a pack today in a tax hike the city hopes will net $236,000 by next July.

The tax was approved by the City Council several months ago.

Berkeley City Manager John Phillips said that Southern California cities with cigarette taxes have reported no big drop in sales.

Those who opposed the tax felt that surrounding cities would gain much of the Berkeley smoking trade.

Pensioner Eats Sharks Happily

VANCOUVER (AP) — Len Righton doesn't fit the usual picture of a man living in retirement.

He fishes for small sharks in Vancouver Harbor and fills his larder with about 200 a year.

"The meat's tasty and boneless," he says. "Sharks haven't a bone in their bodies, only cartilage in the head and spinal column. They're for more nourishing than cod."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Jack Ruby's Disease Results In Many Queries In The Mail

VAN DELLEN

Trial of Jack Ruby focused attention on psychomotor epilepsy. We received many letters from readers wanting to know more about this condition and how it differs from other forms of the disease and protesting the implication that a relationship exists between crime and this disorder.

Epilepsy is a paroxysmal condition precipitated by abnormal electrical discharges in the brain, leading to episodes in which the flow of consciousness is disturbed. Some victims develop convulsions (grand mal); others have momentary blackouts (petit mal). Psychomotor seizures are the third type. The individual is conscious during the attack, at which time he is compeled to perform purposeless acts that are sometimes foolish or harmful.

THESE INCLUDE twisting or writhing movements of the extremities or trunk, smacking movements of the lips, or incoherent speech. Some may walk aimlessly or drive a car for no apparent reason. Others pull off the clothes. The attacks may be of short duration, and the victim may carry out the same act each time or there may be variations.

Some persons develop bouts of temporary insanity lasting days or weeks. The mind is clouded, and the behavior follows an automatic pattern. On coming to, they do not remember what happened. It is here that the Ruby case enters the picture, because a misdemeanor, serious crime, or murder may be committed at this time.

THE BEHAVIOR of the epileptic differs from that of the criminal. The mind is too clouded to make it possible for him to plan a crime. He deals a sudden violent blow to anyone he picks up on the spot. His action is not premeditated, nor does he use a weapon that he carries for this purpose. His crimes are pointless, without motive, and with no planning. In addition, the individual's abnormal mental condition during the seizure usually is quickly detected and he can be institutionalized before he harms himself or someone else.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THEORETICAL

E. Z. writes: Can overeating bring on a second heart attack?

REPLY

This concept is a theory left over from the days when most heart attacks were called "acute indigestion." The usual cause is blockage of a coronary artery. On the other hand, overeating, overexertion, fatigue, and tenseness may contribute by hastening the process.

ACHY MUSCLES

A reader writes: What causes the achy tiredness in my muscles (legs and arms)? This is especially troublesome on damp days?

REPLY

This question is easy to answer if the reader is over 50 years of age. Aching is associated with muscle strain, rheumatism, toxicity, and fatigue.

HARD LUCK

G. H. writes: I have read many articles on how to like living alone but my problem is how to live with a neurotic and like it. After 20 years I'm at my wit's end.

REPLY

Grin and bear it. After 20 years it is too late to send him back to mother.

EAT MEAT

G. S. writes: Should a person with low blood pressure eat meat?

REPLY

Yes. Meat will help improve the sense of well-being, if nothing else.

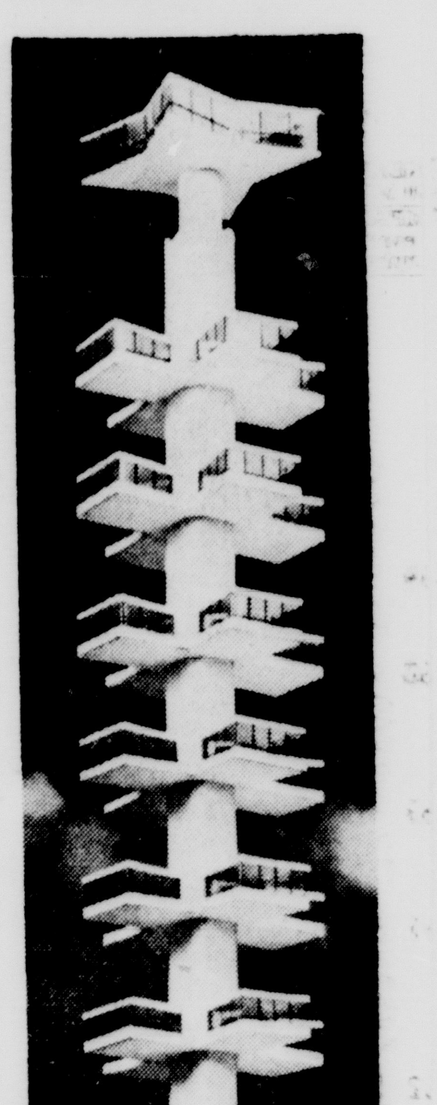
Radical New Design Slated For Hotel



NEW TOWER HOTEL
For Essen, Germany

ESSEN, West Germany — A 311-foot tower hotel, to be a major architectural attraction, is going up in this West German City. The hotel was designed by 34-year-old Horst-Peter Dollinger, of Stuttgart.

Dollinger already has been dubbed "Germany's Le Corbusier."

The hotel is based on a modification of Dollinger's design for apartments which look like trees. It was that idea which earned the architect his first international acclaim.

The pillar portion of the hotel in Essen is to house an elevator constructed of steel, light metal and synthetic materials. The pillar supports 28 branching cabins, each containing two singles and two double-bed accommodations—168 beds in all.

A similar hotel by Dollinger is also scheduled for construction in West Berlin. And the architect has received offers for tower hotels from Stuttgart, South Africa, Lugano, Switzerland, and the U.S.

Meanwhile, Dollinger has been asked to go to work on an unfinished sketch by Le Corbusier of a museum. The skeleton drawing was drawn by the great Swiss architect shortly before his recent death.

Realtors Repeat Stand On Laws

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Real Estate Assn. (CREA) today stands officially opposed to "government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell real estate."

As it closed out its annual convention, delegates approved a statement of policy yesterday submitted by the resolutions committee which asserted:

"The association will at all times use its resources and efforts to defend and preserve the constitutional right of every person in the United States to acquire, to occupy and to dispose of real estate without government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell, and to oppose the enactment of laws at any level directed at the curtailment of these inherent rights."

Medicare Boss Talks To Doctors

CHICAGO (AP) — John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told the nation's doctors today he assumes they will participate fully in the new Medicare program.

Gardner spoke at a national orientation conference of the AMA on the medicare law that was enacted in July.

Gardner's address came on the eve of a meeting of the policy-making American Medical AMA on the Medicare law that Assn. House of Delegates to take a new look at the AMA's stand on the new law.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
BID #238—BAHIA VISTA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Notice is hereby given that the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael School District, State of California, will receive bids for the erection, construction and completion of a Library, Classrooms and Adjunct Facilities upon public school property at the East San Rafael Elementary School located southeast of the intersection of Canal and Napa Streets, San Rafael, Marin County, State of California, including all necessary labor, materials, services, and transportation. Each bid or proposal to be in accordance with plans, drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for said School District, at the office in the Administration Building, E Street at 3rd Avenue, San Rafael, Marin County, California, where they can be examined and with Cantin and Associates, Architect, 690 Market Street, San Francisco, California, or 1196 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, California, and copies of same may be obtained by General Contractors from said Architect at either office upon deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25,00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids have been opened.

Bidders are hereby further notified that pursuant to the Statutes of State of California or local laws thereto applicable, it shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the general prevailing hourly wage rate and the rate per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract awarded to the successful bidder. All bidders are hereby further notified that they must ascertain from the proper authorities the said wage rates before submitting their bid.

A schedule of the prevailing rates so determined has been approved by the City Board of Education of the said School District and filed with the Secretary of said Board in the offices of the San Rafael School District and said schedule is hereby referred to and by such reference incorporated herein and made a part hereof as fully as though set forth at length.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Bidders shall set forth in the bid the name and location of the mill, shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the Contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of said Superintendent or at the office of said Architect at the addresses hereinabove set forth; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than Thirty-five Thousand Dollars ($35,000.-00), made payable to the order of the said San Rafael School District, shall be sealed and filed with the said Superintendent of Schools at his office on or before 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of the said day, and will be opened and publicly read aloud on Oct. 20, 1965 at or about 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of that day in the office of said Superintendent.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the said School Board.

Successful bidders on labor and material contract work will be required to furnish, in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price a Labor and Material Bond, and a Faithful Performance Bond in the amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price; said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the School Board.

The School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in a bid, or to award a contract on the basis of the proposal which serves the best interest of the School District.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Date Bids will be received: October 20, 1965.

Dated this September 29, 1965.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
NO. 77399-JFB

On Friday, the 29th day of October, 1965, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M., of said day, at the Fourth Street entrance to the Court House in the City of San Rafael, in the County of Marin, State of California, Marin Title Guaranty Company, a corporation, as trustee, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, in lawful money of the United States, all payable at the time of sale, the following described real property, situated in the City of San Anselmo, County of Marin, State of California, and described as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING at the Northwest corner of that certain parcel of land described in the deed from Walter Goldman, et ux, to Franklin C. Latcham et ux; recorded July 20, 1962, in Liber 1593 of Official Records at page 234, Marin County Records, and running thence along the Westerly boundary line of said parcel South 17° 30′ East 45.00 feet to a point, thence leaving said Westerly boundary line and running 75° 18′ East 220.00 feet

Berkeleyans Pay Extra To Smoke

BERKELEY (UPI)—Berkeley smokers started paying two cents more a pack today in a tax hike the city hopes will net $236,000 by next July.

The tax was approved by the City Council several months ago.

Berkeley City Manager John Phillips said that Southern California cities with cigarette taxes have reported no big drop in sales.

Those who opposed the tax felt that surrounding cities would gain much of the Berkeley smoking trade.

Pensioner Eats Sharks Happily

VANCOUVER (AP) — Len Righton doesn't fit the usual picture of a man living in retirement.

He fishes for small sharks in Vancouver Harbor and fills his larder with about 200 a year.

"The meat's tasty and boneless," he says. "Sharks haven't a bone in their bodies, only cartilage in the head and spinal column. They're for more nourishing than cod."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Jack Ruby's Disease Results In Many Queries In The Mail

VAN DELLEN

Trial of Jack Ruby focused attention on psychomotor epilepsy. We received many letters from readers wanting to know more about this condition and how it differs from other forms of the disease and protesting the implication that a relationship exists between crime and this disorder.

Epilepsy is a paroxysmal condition precipitated by abnormal electrical discharges in the brain, leading to episodes in which the flow of consciousness is disturbed. Some victims develop convulsions (grand mal); others have momentary blackouts (petit mal). Psychomotor seizures are the third type. The individual is conscious during the attack, at which time he is compeled to perform purposeless acts that are sometimes foolish or harmful.

THESE INCLUDE twisting or writhing movements of the extremities or trunk, smacking movements of the lips, or incoherent speech. Some may walk aimlessly or drive a car for no apparent reason. Others pull off the clothes. The attacks may be of short duration, and the victim may carry out the same act each time or there may be variations.

Some persons develop bouts of temporary insanity lasting days or weeks. The mind is clouded, and the behavior follows an automatic pattern. On coming to, they do not remember what happened. It is here that the Ruby case enters the picture, because a misdemeanor, serious crime, or murder may be committed at this time.

THE BEHAVIOR of the epileptic differs from that of the criminal. The mind is too clouded to make it possible for him to plan a crime. He deals a sudden violent blow to anyone he picks up on the spot. His action is not premeditated, nor does he use a weapon that he carries for this purpose. His crimes are pointless, without motive, and with no planning. In addition, the individual's abnormal mental condition during the seizure usually is quickly detected and he can be institutionalized before he harms himself or someone else.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THEORETICAL

E. Z. writes: Can overeating bring on a second heart attack?

REPLY

This concept is a theory left over from the days when most heart attacks were called "acute indigestion." The usual cause is blockage of a coronary artery. On the other hand, overeating, overexertion, fatigue, and tenseness may contribute by hastening the process.

ACHY MUSCLES

A reader writes: What causes the achy tiredness in my muscles (legs and arms)? This is especially troublesome on damp days?

REPLY

This question is easy to answer if the reader is over 50 years of age. Aching is associated with muscle strain, rheumatism, toxicity, and fatigue.

HARD LUCK

G. H. writes: I have read many articles on how to like living alone but my problem is how to live with a neurotic and like it. After 20 years I'm at my wit's end.

REPLY

Grin and bear it. After 20 years it is too late to send him back to mother.

EAT MEAT

G. S. writes: Should a person with low blood pressure eat meat?

REPLY

Yes. Meat will help improve the sense of well-being, if nothing else.

Radical New Design Slated For Hotel

ESSEN, West Germany — A 311-foot tower hotel, to be a major architectural attraction, is going up in this West German City. The hotel was designed by 34-year-old Horst-Peter Dollinger, of Stuttgart.

Dollinger already has been dubbed "Germany's Le Corbusier."

The hotel is based on a modification of Dollinger's design for apartments which look like trees. It was that idea which earned the architect his first international acclaim.

The pillar portion of the hotel in Essen is to house an elevator constructed of steel, light metal and synthetic materials. The pillar supports 28 branching cabins, each containing two singles and two double-bed accommodations—168 beds in all.

A similar hotel by Dollinger is also scheduled for construction in West Berlin. And the architect has received offers for tower hotels from Stuttgart, South Africa, Lugano, Switzerland, and the U.S.

Meanwhile, Dollinger has been asked to go to work on an unfinished sketch by Le Corbusier of a museum. The skeleton drawing was drawn by the great Swiss architect shortly before his recent death.

Realtors Repeat Stand On Laws

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Real Estate Assn. (CREA) today stands officially opposed to "government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell real estate."

As it closed out its annual convention, delegates approved a statement of policy yesterday submitted by the resolutions committee which asserted:

"The association will at all times use its resources and efforts to defend and preserve the constitutional right of every person in the United States to acquire, to occupy and to dispose of real estate without government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell, and to oppose the enactment of laws at any level directed at the curtailment of these inherent rights."

Medicare Boss Talks To Doctors

CHICAGO (AP) — John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told the nation's doctors today he assumes they will participate fully in the new Medicare program.

Gardner spoke at a national orientation conference of the AMA on the medicare law that was enacted in July.

Gardner's address came on the eve of a meeting of the policy-making American Medical AMA on the Medicare law that Assn. House of Delegates to take a new look at the AMA's stand on the new law.

Secret Service Gets New Power Of Arrest

Kentfield Studies Fire Truck Plan

The Kentfield Fire District commission last night reviewed drawing plans of the $13,000 fire truck it contracted in June to buy from Van Pelt Fire Apparatus in Oakdale.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the plans will be further reviewed before the commission decides to accept them or ask for revisions. The truck will be custom built.

Commissioner Arthur L. Poganski was absent.

Oliver Wendell Holmes described the Supreme Court of the United States in 1913 by saying, "We are very quiet there, but it is the quiet of a storm center."

MARIN FILM FARE

Second, Better Version Of Harlow's Life Shown

By LES DARD

Take heed, moviegoers. The choice between the many good films at Marin area theaters this weekend will not be an easy one.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

One of Hollywood's brightest stars—the platinum blonde sex symbol of the thirties—is brought to life in Joseph E. Levine's production of "Harlow," story of the late Jean Harlow's tempestous, controversial life.

This is the second filming of her story in the last few months, and is by far the better entry.

Playing the role is one of today's young sex symbols—they are a more numerous breed now—Caroll Baker.

Surrounding the centerpiece is a big cast, including Red Buttons as her hard-driving agent, Arthur Landau, and Peter Lawford as her tragic husband, Paul Bern. Angela Lansbury plays her mother, Mama Jean, and Raf Vallone, her stepfather.

Besides seeing Miss Harlow's life, we get a vivid picture of off-screen Hollywood in the Thirties.

Fine adult escapism.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Jules Dassin's "He Who Must Die," is now showing. It is the English dubbed version of the film seen here several years ago.

Dassin's wife, Melina Mercouri stars along with Jean Servais.

The scene is a village in Crete during Turkish domination. It is time for the traditional enactment of the Passion Play. Blessed and absolved of sins, the players find inspiration in their roles.

Their test comes when survivors of a village destroyed by the Turks come seeking help.

Jean-Paul Belmondo stars in the co-feature: "That Man From Rio."

101 DRIVE-IN

"Zorba, the Greek," is an extraordinary film achievement with moments both savage and tender. Anthony Quinn in the title role was considered by many the outstanding actor of 1964.

What one man learns from the other gives the film its major message.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

"In Harm's Way," stunning U.S. Navy adventure in World War II, is now playing.

Principals are hard - bitten career man Capt. John Wayne, his maverick second - in - command, Kirk Douglas, and a warmhearted nurse, Patricia Neal.

RAFAEL THEATER

George Peppard and Tom Coutenay take major roles in "Operation Crossbow."

In the tradition of "Guns of Navarone," this one maintains a high level of suspense throughout and builds up to a tremendous physical climax.

Under the orders of Winston Churchill (Patrick Wymark) and a committee of top military minds like Trevor Howard and John Mills, several young men with fluency in German and a technical background are sent to infiltrate an underground plant where the "New York Rocket" is being assembled. This is the one phase of German rocket experimenting in which the Allies are completely in the dark.

The Germans in this film are not clumsy fools, but dedicated, hard-working human beings. We watch them develop their buzz-bombs and V-2s and are almost happy when they complete the job. Of course, in the end, they are again The Enemy, and deserve all that our bombers can dish out.

NOVATO THEATER

Action, action, action is the byword for "The Sons of Katie Elder," a new breed of Western starting Sunday which should appeal to women as well as men.

When Katie Elder dies, the four bums who are her sons decide it's time to straighten out and make Mama, up there, proud of them. Dean Martin and John Wayne are two of the sons, and Martha Hyer provides romantic interest.

The co-feature is "The Family Jewels," Jerry Lewis's latest, in which he plays a number of roles in his usual hilarious fashion.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Yellow Rolls - Royce," three tales of love, infidelity and adventure is now playing.

A splendidly produced, exciting war picture in the BIG movie tradition.

The co-feature is "The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders."

LARK THEATER and MOTOR MOVIES

Now on screen at both theaters is the third James Bond film "Goldfinger," starring Sean Connery, of course, and featuring a bevy of beauties including Honor Blackman, Shirley Eaton and Tania Miller.

You can't really call yourself a thriller fan if you've missed this one.

A Country Club Gone West
This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.
The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.
But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.
Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,300.

Kentfield Studies Fire Truck Plan

The Kentfield Fire District commission last night reviewed drawing plans of the $13,000 fire truck it contracted in June to buy from Van Pelt Fire Apparatus in Oakdale.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the plans will be further reviewed before the commission decides to accept them or ask for revisions. The truck will be custom built.

Commissioner Arthur L. Poganski was absent.

Oliver Wendell Holmes described the Supreme Court of the United States in 1913 by saying, "We are very quiet there, but it is the quiet of a storm center."

MARIN FILM FARE

Second, Better Version Of Harlow's Life Shown

By LES DARD

Take heed, moviegoers. The choice between the many good films at Marin area theaters this weekend will not be an easy one.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

One of Hollywood's brightest stars—the platinum blonde sex symbol of the thirties—is brought to life in Joseph E. Levine's production of "Harlow," story of the late Jean Harlow's tempestous, controversial life.

This is the second filming of her story in the last few months, and is by far the better entry.

Playing the role is one of today's young sex symbols—they are a more numerous breed now—Caroll Baker.

Surrounding the centerpiece is a big cast, including Red Buttons as her hard-driving agent, Arthur Landau, and Peter Lawford as her tragic husband, Paul Bern. Angela Lansbury plays her mother, Mama Jean, and Raf Vallone, her stepfather.

Besides seeing Miss Harlow's life, we get a vivid picture of off-screen Hollywood in the Thirties.

Fine adult escapism.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Jules Dassin's "He Who Must Die," is now showing. It is the English dubbed version of the film seen here several years ago.

Dassin's wife, Melina Mercouri stars along with Jean Servais.

The scene is a village in Crete during Turkish domination. It is time for the traditional enactment of the Passion Play. Blessed and absolved of sins, the players find inspiration in their roles.

Their test comes when survivors of a village destroyed by the Turks come seeking help.

Jean-Paul Belmondo stars in the co-feature: "That Man From Rio."

101 DRIVE-IN

"Zorba, the Greek," is an extraordinary film achievement with moments both savage and tender. Anthony Quinn in the title role was considered by many the outstanding actor of 1964.

What one man learns from the other gives the film its major message.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

"In Harm's Way," stunning U.S. Navy adventure in World War II, is now playing.

Principals are hard - bitten career man Capt. John Wayne, his maverick second-in-command, Kirk Douglas, and a warmhearted nurse, Patricia Neal.

RAFAEL THEATER

George Peppard and Tom Coutenay take major roles in "Operation Crossbow."

In the tradition of "Guns of Navarone," this one maintains a high level of suspense throughout and builds up to a tremendous physical climax.

Under the orders of Winston Churchill (Patrick Wymark) and a committee of top military minds like Trevor Howard and John Mills, several young men with fluency in German and a technical background are sent to infiltrate an underground plant where the "New York Rocket" is being assembled. This is the one phase of German rocket experimenting in which the Allies are completely in the dark.

The Germans in this film are not clumsy fools, but dedicated, hard-working human beings. We watch them develop their buzz-bombs and V-2s and are almost happy when they complete the job. Of course, in the end, they are again The Enemy, and deserve all that our bombers can dish out.

NOVATO THEATER

Action, action, action is the byword for "The Sons of Katie Elder," a new breed of Western starting Sunday which should appeal to women as well as men.

When Katie Elder dies, the four bums who are her sons decide it's time to straighten out and make Mama, up there, proud of them. Dean Martin and John Wayne are two of the sons, and Martha Hyer provides romantic interest.

The co-feature is "The Family Jewels," Jerry Lewis's latest, in which he plays a number of roles in his usual hilarious fashion.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Yellow Rolls - Royce," three tales of love, infidelity and adventure is now playing.

A splendidly produced, exciting war picture in the BIG movie tradition.

The co-feature is "The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders."

LARK THEATER and MOTOR MOVIES

Now on screen at both theaters is the third James Bond film "Goldfinger," starring Sean Connery, of course, and featuring a bevy of beauties including Honor Blackman, Shirley Eaton and Tania Miller.

You can't really call yourself a thriller fan if you've missed this one.

A Country Club Gone West

This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.

The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.

But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.

Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,300.

A WILD RIDE, A CRASH, A GOOD SAMARITAN

John Sorum of 2194 Novato Boulevard, Novato, cradles 14-year-old Winifred Pritchard of 25 San Joaquin Place, Novato, in his arms after removing her from overturned car in which she and two other teenagers were injured at 6:40 p.m. yesterday. Sorum ran to the crash scene at Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue, near his home. Car driven by Gregory C. Edward, 16, of 2385 Dominic Drive, Novato, missed curve, took out 50 feet of wooden fence and turned end-over-end. California Highway Patrol said it was third accident on or near Eucalyptus Avenue Bridge this week. Edwards was unhurt, but Winifred; her sister Lynn, 15, and Robert Pratt, 16, of 16 St. Johns Court, Novato, were treated for cuts and bruises at Novato General Hospital. Coup, Counter-Coup Create Indonesian Palace Confusion

Mystery Strong-Man Claims Foiling U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—Indonesian Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution has crushed an uprising against President Sukarno and both he and Sukarno are safe and well, Radio Jakarta reported Friday night (Jakarta time.)

The broadcast announcement came a few hours after a revolutionary council led by Lt. Col. Untung, a battalion commander in Sukarno's bodyguard, announced it had seized power and proclaimed itself "the source of all authority."

The Malaysian government radio in Kuala Lumpur, which has been monitoring Jakarta broadcasts, said army units under Gen. Suharto, loyal to Sukarno and Nasution, were instrumental in smashing Untung's power move.

All conflict evidently had not ended. Radio Jakarta said the fighting spread to central Java and the Indonesian army command called on its forces to resist the rebels.

The Jakarta Radio said "those responsible for the coup have been arrested," Malaysian officials reported.

Untung's revolutionary council, during its bid for supremacy, had declared that Sukarno, 64, was "under protection" of the council. This led to speculation that the strongman had been removed. There was no immediate report of Sukarno's whereabouts.

Untung, in a broadcast before the government's countermove, had said he took the action because a number of generals and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency had planned an anti-Sukarno coup.

Radio Jakarta at that time appeared to have been under his control.

An earlier broadcast by Radio Jakarta announced formation of a new, 45-member cabinet laced with perhaps a dozen Communists, but D.N. Aidit, leader of Indonesia's 3 million-member Communist party, was not on the list.

The revolutionary council said it had arrested a number of generals.

Kuala Lumpur radio monitors said Nasution and Suharto, using the crack Siliwangi division, captured the Jakarta government radio station after some fighting.

The Siliwangi division played a major role in putting down rebellions by army colonels in Sumatra in 1958. It recently moved into the city, ostensibly to take part in the armed forces day observances next Tuesday. Untung charged in one broadcast that army generals planned to seize the government before armed forces day.

The Jakarta broadcast anoucing Nasution's victory also said Maj. Gen. Achmad Yani, army commander, and five other loyal generals had been captured by Untung's forces and

CREDIT CARD USE SNAG IS REVEALED

Officials Unsure Which County Employees Are Using Cards; Thorough Checking Due

BY RICHARD LYTTLE

Some Marin County employees hold county gasoline credit cards, and those responsible for keeping track of the cards do not know for sure who holds them.

All cards may be cancelled and new ones issued to tighten controls.

County Garage Supt. Mario T. Balestrieri said today that Shell Oil cards with no cancellation date were out among some employees before he took over his job two years ago.

The county also uses Standard Oil Co. cards. These have a cancellation date and Balestrieri knows who holds the few he has permanently assigned. The sheriff's office has four, two for investigation and two for transportation of prisoners. All other Standard cards are distributed only on a temporary basis for special trips, Balestrieri said.

Though he cannot account for all the Shell cards, the Shell stations get little use, according to Mrs. La Verne Robinson, supervisor of accounting services in the department of public works.

She and Balestrieri are responsible for the credit cards. She has assigned only five on a permanent basis.

LARGEST AREA

Storer, who represents the Fourth District, the largest in area, makes by far the most use of his credit card.

Lindelli uses his only in the winter when called out on emergency road or drainage problems. This comes to about five times a month during the winter at the most, Mrs. Robinson said.

Frost uses his about twice a month during the winter, also when called out on night emergencies, she said. Knutson, who holds both Standard and Shell cards said he used one of them just once during the year and is thinking of turning both cards in to Mrs. Robinson.

TOTAL PURCHASE

Storer, the only supervisor assigned a permanent card, has used it 35 times from January to the end of the last billing period in August, according to public works records. This amounted to purchase of a total $155.36 in gasoline.

He has made purchases with the card while on trips in his county car to a Redwood Empire Assn. meeting in Grants Pass, Ore., to a California Supervisor's Assn. meeting in

District Attorney Bares Twisted Trail Leading To Slaying Charge

By ROSS DAVIS

The "break" in the slaying case of San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari came about in a vague chain of information and a solid jolt of luck, it was revealed today.

The series of events, starting with a conversation by a San Rafael businessman with a district attorney's investigator in the child support division, resulted in filing of murder charges against two former prison parolees, Jack Gorman, 36, and Marc Charles Osuna, 30.

Both were scheduled for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said the businessman, who wished to remain unidentified, first approached Lee Ahern of the child support division about two days after the Labor Day slaying of Ferrari at Mission Inn in San Rafael.

The man named two persons he believed were involved, and who had left Marin County for San Jose.

Bales said the information was given in such a manner that even the San Rafael Police Department was not notified. He said he put his own investigators on the matter.

The pair—both associated with a Hell's Angels motorcycle group—were located.

Both denied any connection, Bales said, but one said he might obtain information. He returned shortly afterward and provided the name of a man who had reportedly been involved in an attempt to obtain weapons.

Bales said this man, in turn, was quizzed by his investigators and provided names of ex-convicts residing in Halfway House in San Francisco, an establishment which helps former inmates in rehabilitation.

At this point, the district attorney said, San Rafael police were advised of developments and telephoned the San Francisco house, requesting several residents, including the persons named, to appear in San Rafael for a "line-up."

Among those coming to the line-up was Harold Frank Percell, 24, a parolee whose later

State Department Denies CIA Plot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department today denied charges that the Central Intelligence Agency was involved in the Indonesian government upheaval.

"Allegations that the CIA was involved in this matter are untrue," the State Department said.

It reported that Washington communication with the U.S. Embassy in Jakarta had been interrupted at one point during the night but was now back in operation.

Telephones Link French, U.S. Aquanauts

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Aquanauts 205 feet below the surface of the Pacific Ocean today completed a historic underwater telephone conversation with six men submerged 330 feet in the Mediterranean Sea.

The call took place between the 10 aquanauts of Sealab 2, submerged off the coast here, and the "oceanauts" in Jacques Consteau's diving bathyscaph who have been living underwater in Monte Carlo Harbor since Sept. 17 at a depth of 330 feet.

The call, placed through the Benthic Communications Laboratory, was a three way conversation between the oceanauts, the aquanauts and Sealab medical officer Capt. George Bond and astronaut - aquanaut M. Scott Carpenter on the surface.

Carpenter returned to the surface last weekend after spending 30 consecutive days underwater in the Sealab.

Grape Festival Set For Day In Fairfax

It's festival time again in Marin.

Tomorrow the 66th anual Sunny Hills Grape Festival will transform the grounds of Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax into an old-fashioned country fair swarming with thousands of festival goers from all over the Bay Area.

Gates will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

More than 1,000 members of the 38 Sunny Hills guilds have been working the year around making their traditional products of straw, felt, ceramics, plastics and any material that stimulates the imagination.

Mrs. Ernest Guy, Grape Festival chairman, said moving to the new location at Marin Town and Country Club presented problems, "but with the help of the Seabees and Marin's Marines, we were able to have booths transported to the grounds and constructed ready to occupy."

The colorful booths will accommodate 64 different features sponsored by Sunny Hills guilds, Junior Auxiliary and various community organizations.

Some of the products featured are: knitted articles by Belvedere Guild 1, items made of straw by Belvedere Guild 3, Children's room accessories by Belvedere Guild 5, decorative articles of plastic crystals by Belveron Gardens Guild, dolls by Hilldale Guild, paper and oriental goods by Kent Woodlands Guild, Children's room accessories made of felt by Lucas Valley Guild, Christmas decorations by Marinwood Guild, straw hats by Roos-Brookwood Guild, aprons and pot holders by Ross Valley Guild, Togs for Tots by

Cambodia Condemns U.N. But Says It Won't Walk Out

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Cambodia announced today it is withdrawing from all but nominal participation in the work of the United Nations.

Cambodian Ambassador Huot Sambath said in a speech to the General Assembly that his government has become disillusioned with the United Nations. He said the U.N. "no longer corresponds to the great hopes we placed in the organization."

"Cambodia does not intend to leave the United Nations," he declared. "We still have hopes that wisdom will prevail. But we are conscious of our powerlessness.

"After stating our point of view, we shall sit in the General Assembly but shall not take part in its commissions, its committees or accept any post suggested to us."

Today, Sambath renewed his government's bitter attacks on the United States and Thailand and appealed once again for U.N. recognition of Communist China. He said the presence of Nationalist China here was "an absurdity."

The United States —not Communist China —is an aggressive power, he asserted.

Girl In Labor Day Slaying Was Friend Of Owner

Mystery of a young girl, key witness in the Labor Day slaying at Mission Inn in San Rafael, was partially dispelled today by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

He declined to name her, but said the 20-year-old brunette was a friend of Leo Albertoni, 49-year-old owner of the inn, and has been grilled several times by his investigators and by San Rafael police.

Bales said the Marin County girl, who once was placed in a San Francisco home as a runaway, had prior knowledge of the Mission Inn's operation, its safe which the robber-killers attempted to have Albertoni open, and the bar's receipts and operation.

However, he said evidence is that the girl did not participate in the crime, and no charge is planned against her.

He said she will be a key witness in trial of Jack Gorman and Marc Charles Osuna, both of whom she knew prior to the killing of bartender Mario Ferrari.

Pakistan Reports More Fighting

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Radio Pakistan reported fresh fighting today between Indian and Pakistani forces on the Kashmir cease-fire line north of Chhamb.

Quoting official sources, the radio said Indian troops attacked last night with artillery and mortars. The Pakistanis fought back, the radio said.

MARIN CULTURE REAL FAR GONE

Five Executed In Market Place

SAIGON (UPI)—Five Vietnamese criminals not identified with the Viet Cong were executed by a firing squad today. It was presumed the Communists would not use the occasion for reprisal slayings of U. S. war prisoners.

The five were put to death in the Central Market Place in downtown Saigon. They had been convicted of such crimes as murder, rape and robbery but were not known to be members of the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong early this week announced they had executed two American prisoners of war in reprisal for the execution last week in Da Nang of three Viet Cong agents.

More than 300 white-uniformed police and army troops surrounded the market place, ringed with shops and stalls.

Taal Volcano Shows Signs Of Erupting

MANILA (UPI) — Scientists today detected new alarming signs from Taal Volcano as rescue teams pressed ahead with the grim task of recovering victims of last Tuesday's violent eruption.

There were conflicting reports of casualties. The official tally from government relief agencies stood at 150 confirmed dead. But scattered field reports from police said 589 bodies had been recovered.

Officials in Batangas province estimated that at least 2,000 persons died.

A UPI team flew over the volcano this morning and spotted smoke pouring from the rim of the main crater for the first time. The Tuesday eruption came from a new crater on the southwest corner of Taal Island.

The weather bureau's geophysical observatory confirmed that smoke has been detected for the first time in the main crater. It also said two minor tremors were recorded last night and early today.

Chief Vulcanologist Arturo Alcaraz, who has been conducting regular ground and aerial surveys around the volcano for the past three days, said the danger of new and deadlier eruptions remained.

Farm Bureau To Fete Teachers

The combined Tomales-Novato center of the Marin County Farm Bureau will hold its annual dinner welcoming new teachers at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the cafeteria at Tomales High School.

This dinner to welcome teachers of Tomales Bay and Tomales High School Districts has been an annual affair of the Tomales center of the Farm Bureau. The Novato center has been combined with the Tomales center.

Guide Dogs for the Blind will present a program after the dinner.

Castro Repeats Open Exit Claim

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro said today he was throwing exit gates from his Communist island completely open and challenged the United States to cooperate through diplomatic channels.

The Cuban prime minister said he would let anyone on the island leave for exile after Oct. 10—a considerably broader offer than the one he made Tuesday.

Castro's promise Tuesday to lift Cuba's sugar cane curtain involved only relatives of persons already living in the United States.

While some dinosaurs were vegetarians others were considered the most vicious meat eaters that ever roamed the earth.

McNamara Cuts Down Army Reserve

WASHINGTON — The organized Army Reserve faced a bleak future today under the Pentagon's plan to bring to combat readiness 145,000 citizen soldiers for possible duty in Viet Nam.

To carry out the new plan, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced yesterday that he had ordered the dissolution of 751 Army Reserve units—including all six of the Reserve's infantry divisions — containing 55,000 men.

He said the "high priority" units selected for intensive training will comprise 135,000 men from the National Guard and only 15,000 from the organized Reserve.

Thus, in effec, what McNamara did was to push ahead with a plan Congress refussd to approve under his proposed merger of the Reserves and the National Guard. Congress rejected this on grounds it should not be carried out in the midst of an emergency such as the Viet Nam war.

But he told his news conference that the new plan was different in that no merger of units is involved. In addition, he said, key members of Congress approved the action in advance.

He got support for this stand from Chairman F. Edward Herbert, D-La., of the House armed services reserves subcommittee. Hebert, issued a statement saying "the action now being taken by the department is within its statutory authority and under the law does not require further congressional action."

The men of the 751 Army Reserve units ordered dissolved now can join other Reserve units or the National Guard. If they don't do either, they will lose their drill pay, which amounts to about six weeks' worth of the pay they would draw at their rank in the regular Army.

A total of 982 units were designated for accelerated training. This involves 72 two-hour drills a year instead of the present 48.

Among units affected is the 63rd reserved division in California.

Treaty For Salt

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Nepal has signed a three-year agreement with India under which India will supply Nepal with 55,000 tons of salt per year.

President Asks New Look At World Monetary System

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told finance ministers and central bankers from scores of countries today "the international monetary system merits a new and imaginative look" to improve the system of currency reserves.

In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Johnson noted that other countries for nearly 20 years have been increasing their reserves at the expense of the United States—because of large annual deficits in the U.S. balance of payments position.

"The long period of large U.S. deficits has come to an end," Johnson said. "If growth is to continue and trade is to expand, we must provide an effective and adequate substitute."

Turning to another subject, Johnson urged that the World Bank and IMF consider the possibility of joining an American-initiated attempt to combat ignorance and illiteracy throughout the world—a plan Johnson will send to Congress next year.

Heavy Bloodshed In Viet Delta Fight

SAIGON (UPI)—Government troops killed at least 68 Viet Cong guerilllas in all-night fighting in the Communist-dominated Mekong Delta 50 miles southwest of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The estimated 1,500 Vietnamese troops attacked a force of almost 1,000 guerrillas yesterday and chased them across the delta rice paddies until early this morning, the spokesman said.

The Communists left 68 bodies behind and may have carried off scores of other dead and wounded. Government casualties were "light," the spokesman said.

Strategic Air Command (SAC) B-52 bombers based on Guam meanwhile attacked a suspected Viet Cong concentration 320 miles northeast of Saigon around noon today. It was the 36th mission of the war for the big U.S. bombers.

The Viet Cong may have been trying to move men and equipment in the area at the time of the attack, the U.S. spokesman said.

Other U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew support for the operation in the delta. A U.S. spokesman disclosed earlier today that two Air Force jets had been shot down yesterday over Communist North Viet Nam, one of them presumably by a Soviet-supplied surface-to-air missile.

If true, it would mark the fourth American plane brought down by one of the missiles known to be in North Vietanamese hands.

Two License Plates Stolen

Thefts of two rear car license plates have been reported in Tiburon.

Mrs. Charles F. Hochgesang of 46 Lower North Terrace reported Wednesday the theft of the rear license plate stolen from her 1962 Oldsmobile parked at her home.

The same day, Ruth A. Levin of 2211 Mar East Street, reported the rear license plate missing from her 1961 Plymouth parked at her home.

High, Low

NEW YORK (UPI) — The highest temperature reported to the U.S. Weather Bureau yesterday, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 95 degrees at Clewiston, Fla., Thermal, and Monterey, Calif. Lowest temperature reported today was 28 degrees at Zuni, N.M., Ely, Reno and Elko, Nev., and Old Town, Maine.

Tuberculin Tests Given Parochial Pupils, Faculty

Of 322 children tuberculin tested this week in Mill Valley's Mount Carmel Parochial School, the one recorded reaction is believed because of prior medication to be a "false positive."

The Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. today reported the reactive child had been vaccinated as an infant with BCG, a vaccine widely used in other counties and one which causes a positive reaction to the tuberculin skin test.

Of the school's total enrollment of 369, only 47 were not tested or did not have tests read. The majority were absent, a few were reported by parents to be known reactors, and several had been tested within recent months.

Also tested were 54 adults who make up the school's full-time and volunteer staff. As of late yesterday, 11 positive reactions had been recorded and 16 tests were yet to be read.

The tests were given Monday by Dr. Patricia Hallinan, assistant county health officer, and Dr. Lorraine McBain. Reading was done yesterday by Dr. Hallinan and Mrs. June Nelson, Health Department clinic nurse.

NEW DELHI (AP)—Narayan Dandekar, a member of Parliament, complained that cattle travel more comfortably than humans on Indian trains.

Saigon Boss Launches 'New Society' Drive

SAIGON (UPI)—Prime Minister Nguyen Cao Ky today announced a government shakeup he said would bring a "new society" to Souh Viet Nam. He said the war was being won on the battlefield and efforts must be made to improve the lot of the peasant through "social revolution."

Ky named former Defense Minister Brig. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co to head a new "super ministry" of war and rural reconstruction. The bureau will send thousands of officials into the country side to try to win the loyalty of the peasants, who comprise 80 per cent of the population.

"The victory is now with us," Ky declared in reviewing the military situation. "Now, our new society should start with the poorest people."

Observers of the Vietnamese political scene believed Ky's blueprint for South Viet Nam was likely to win support from the people.

Reunion In Korea Marred By Tragedy

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — Last week Sgt. 1.C. William F. Hays arrived here for duty with the U.S. Army advisory group in Korea. Thursday night he left aboard a U.S. military plane, accompanying the body of his son home.

His son, Sp. 4 John M. Hays, 20, drowned last weekend in Inchon harbor, 15 miles west of Seoul, while trying to help a stranded boat, a U.S. Army spokesman said.

This is an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

As you can see, this wagon is loaded with reasons for owning a Volkswagen Station Wagon.

There's too much stuff, and not enough wagon. Only about 85 cubic feet worth.

If you owned a box-shaped Volkswagen, you could take all that stuff off the roof and put it inside where it belongs.

The VW holds 170 cubic feet; about twice as much as most regular station wagons.

Which means you can seat 9 people and still have room for all their luggage. (All their luggage means 13 pieces. And you can load it through five big doors.)

Aside from capacity, you also get a sensible little engine that averages 23 miles on a gallon of regular.

And you never have to pay for antifreeze or radiator repair.

There isn't any radiator.

So every time they make a conventional station wagon, they also make an ad for the Volkswagen Station Wagon.

(Secretly, we wish them every success.)

$300,000 Settlement Ordered In Divorce

Janet Jones late yesterday was awarded both an interlocutory and final decree of divorce and a $300,000 settlement against her husband, San Leandro lighting fixture manufacturer Preston Jones.

She also was awarded custody of the son, Preston Daren Jones, 10, and $250 monthly support for the boy. Jones, 52, received "reasonable" visitation rights.

The divorce, granted by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner on grounds of extreme cruelty, ends a legal wrangle which came to trail last Dec. 1. The case involved charges of sexual promiscuity, use of private detectives and tape recorders, and allegations of "fanny pinching."

The settlement also awards Mrs. Jones, 42-year-old former airline stewardess, a half interest in the home at 16 Marina Way, San Rafael, all furnishings at the home, and a Pontiac Grand Prix automobile.

Jones keeps his businesses, retains half interest in a Squaw Valley cabin, and has ownership of The Crystal Bay Motel in Crystal Bay, Nev.

Judge Gardiner ordered Jones to pay federal and state income tax for both Jones and Mrs. Jones for the years, 1959-64; to pay her $70,000 attorney fees, $8,250 to a private detective, and about $80,000 in accounting costs and other expenses.

The couple wed Dec. 23, 1952, in Mexico. They separated in September, 1962.

Army Catches AWOL Soldier In Marin

An AWOL 17-year-old army private, who escaped yesterday from a work detail at the Presidio of San Francisco, was caught last evening when he jumped out a motel window in Stinson Beach.

Patrick Robert Johnson was back in confinement today at the Presidio.

Johnson was nabbed by officers of the Army's criminal investigation detachment as he left Apartment 2 of the Fern Motel at 5:25 p.m.

The private, who went AWOL from Fort Gordon, Ga., Sept. 10, then allegedly made his way across country, stealing two cars en route, walked away from the work detail in San Francisco at 8:40 a.m. yesterday.

He then walked two blocks and entered a house where he attempted to get some civilian clothing. However, a woman occupying the house discovered Johnson and, according to Sausalito police Lt. Ted Zink, "he took off running."

This was similar to the soldier's Sausalito escapade one week ago today.

He reportedly entered the home of Steven M. Ramsey, 214 Bulkley Avenue, and was caught by Mrs. Ramsey ransacking bedroom dresser drawers.

Questioned, he said "I live here" and that he was looking for some clothing. Mrs. Ramsey said the house was hers, whereupon he ran. He was caught by police shortly afterward at Bridgeway and Pine Street.

County Parks Office Filled Temporarily

Walter Horchler, on loan from the Marin County planning staff, today took over as acting county park and recreation director, replacing Kelvin J. Nelson, who left county employ yesterday to take another job.

Applications for the post of park and recreation director are being taken by the county personnel office through this month.

Ukiah, and to a junior supervisors' training session in North Sacramento.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell, who began investigating the situation after the Independent-Journal made inquiries, said that he has found no abuses of the credit card use, "but the operation definitely needs to be tightened up."

The investigation brought to light heavy increase in credit card use by the sheriff's office since the underground gasoline tank at the sheriff's parking area went out of service due to leaks early in June.

In the billing period generally covering the month of May, the sheriff's department used credit cards only 23 times. In the period covering June and July, this use rose to 177, Mrs. Robinson reported.

When gasoline is purchased at a service station, the county loses the advantage of its bulk rate price, plus paying 3 cents per gallon of federal tax not charged on the bulk purchases by the county.

Balestrieri said that a county credit card is now permanently located at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue in San Rafael for use of sheriff's cars.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Ernest N. Kettenhofen also drive unmarked county cars. Kettenhofen's car has been loaned to him for only a few weeks by the public works department, pending his purchase of another auto of his own.

Gnoss makes an effort to fill his tank only at the county garage. He will borrow a county credit card when making a trip out of county.

Supervisors have the option of either driving their own cars and collecting 8 cents a mile while on county business or of getting a county car.

Board members without county cars also receive $25 a month in addition to their $800 monthly salary for road inspection. This in theory, covers 250 miles at 10 cents a mile, Mitchell explained. Only when they travel more than 250 miles on county business in one month may they put in for additional mileage. This supervisors Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker have not done.

Latin Americans Growl Over House 'Gunboat Policy'

Congressmen's Anti-Red Stand Stirs Ants' Nest Below Border

By DANIEL JAMES
Advance News Service

MEXICO CITY — No recent U. S. act, not even the Dominican intervention, has provoked such widespread indignation in Latin America as a House of Representatives resolution approving armed intervention in any hemispheric country threatened by communism.

Latin American parties and leaders of all shades of opinion, leading newspapers and some national legislatures have all strongly protested. They see in it an increasingly belligerent U. S. policy toward this region.

In Mexico, for example, four major newspapers all usually moderate and friendly toward the United States, published editorials on the same day condemning the House resolution passed Sept. 21.

Most Latin Americans are wondering, as one editorial asked, whether the United States is reverting to the hated Monroe Doctorine and accompanying gunboat diplomacy.

Respected and moderate Latin leaders appear taken aback by the House action. They realize it represents merely an expression of the House and is not an act of legislation. Nevertheless, they have the feeling that in some way it reflects administration thinking. There is a tendency here to associate the resolution with the "true sentiments" of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Moderates feel it cuts the ground out from under them, sinec it confirms in many Latin minds the frequent communist charge that the Yankees are at bottom imperialists and wish to ride roughshod over the southern

Possibly the strongest reaction has come, paradoxically, from two of the countries hardest pressed just now by communist guerrilla attacks and communist subversion in general—Peru and Colombia. The Peruvian Chamber of Deputies approved a formal protest. In Colombia, both houses of Congress did.

In Chile, the senators belonging to the dominant Christian Democratic Party also protested formally the House's "unusual resolution," and charged it was designed to torpedo the cherished Latin American principle of self-determination.

The nearest to an official Mexican reaction has come from former Foreign Minister Manuel Tello, who commands great influence in high councils as chairman of the Mexican senates foreign relations committee.

Tello issued a statement which constitutes a polite but strong repudiation of the American congressmen.

"We do not recognize unilateral intervention nor do we subscribe to the thesis that collective intervention is not intervention," it said.

Tello's statement was not only a slap at the House but also a reaffirmation of Mexico's opposition to a resolution passed at the 1961 conference held by the Organization of American States at Punta del Este, Uruguay. It authorized American nations to take action "for their individual or collective self-defense" against "threats or acts of aggression, subversion or other dangers to peace and security resulting from the continued intervention in this hemisphere of Sino-Soviet powers."

Had the House merely reiterated that resolution, some circles here believe, there would have been little outcry. But what galls so many Latins is that part of the U. S. Congress has given the impression of wanting to dictate what Latin America shall or shall not do—as if it owned this part of the world.

American officials here tend to consider the Latin reaction to the resolution as milder than expected but concede that if the 312 votes favoring it express an American consensus then Washington may be in for trouble.

It came at a time the White House is striving to patch up hemispheric relations tattered by the Dominican intervention.

The resolution, passed without debate, was introduced by Rep. Armistead I. Selden Jr., D-Ala., chairman of the House Inter-American Affairs subcommittee. Selden later stoutly defended the Johnson administration against the attack of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., on its Dominican role.

Trouble may occur at the frequently postponed OAS conference scheduled for Rio de Janeiro in a few weeks. Some Latin circles believe that the resolution may aggravate the schisms likely to appear there over the issue of the Dominican intervention.

Dragnet Out After Killing On Muni Bus

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Police today pressed a widespread manhunt for a suspect in the shotgun death of a passenger aboard a crowded Municipal Railway bus.

An all-points bulletin was issued last night for David Hastings, 45, San Francisco. Officers said the suspect boarded a Haight Street bus near Scott Street about 6:30 p.m. carrying a 12-gauge shotgun.

Passengers said the man brushed past the driver, pointed the gun at the chest of Sammie Lee Brown, 42, San Francisco, and shouted, "I thought I told you to leave my wife alone."

Brown tried to push the weapon aside but his assailant yelled, "I'm tired of calling my wife and now I'm gonna shoot you." He pulled the trigger and the blast hit Brown in the chest.

Then the gunman ejected the shell on the floor, got off the bus and into a parked car and drove away.

Investigators said that earlier in the day Hastings had visited his estranged wife, Audrey, 27, at her residence.

He found her talking on the phone to Brown, became angered and left.

Mrs. Hastings told officers she saw her husband get a shotgun from his car. About 30 minues later, Brown left his apartment and went to the bus stop. He was apparently folowed by Hastings, Patrolman Harold Suslow said.

their fate was unknown. It said "cleaning up operations" were under way by Nasution's troops.

After the outburst of Jakarta broadcasts on Nasution's countercoup, the Indonesian radio began playing music, Malaysian monitors said.

Gen. Suharto was described by informed Indonesian sources as a former commander in central Java and a known anti-Communist. Nasution was considered the major obstacle to Communist demands for increased civilian control of the army.

The revolutionary council, labeling its movement the "30th of September Operation," had moved rapidly to attempt to secure its hold. It had announced it would establish civilian - military councils in the provinces, districts and villages.

Untung is a shadowy unknown, unlisted in military lineups because of his relatively low rank.

Judge Tells Why Bail Set In Theft Case

An 18-year-old Sausalito youth was free on only $550 bail set in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a grand theft complaint despite his already facing another felony charge — receiving stolen goods—filed just 10 days ago.

He had been released on his own recognizance on the first complaint, now pending entry of plea before the court.

Judge Peter Allen Smith, who set the $550 bail for Marc Torvend Ford of 405-A Pine Street, said today he was aware of the other felony charge at time of bail setting. But that purpose of bail is mainly to insure a defendant's appearance, rather than to penalize him for previous charges.

He admitted, however, that maybe he should have set a higher bail, $1,000 or $1,500, because bail setting also reflects a duty to protect the county's residents.

Ford and Wilbur John Lum, 19, of 126 Buchanan Street, Sausalito, are charged with theft of $337 cash from Marin Theater in Sausalito on Wednesday. Both were arraigned before Judge Smith yesterday. Ford is scheduled to enter plea Oct. 8. Lum was to plead this afternoon.

Lum is in county jail in lieu of $1,100 bail.

written statement implicated Gorman and Osuna.

Bales said although none of the men in the line-up was identified or connected with the Mission Inn robbery-killing, Percell voluntarily admitted previous knowledge of the planned hold-up—a statement Bales termed as sheer luck.

Osuna and Gorman were arrested shortly afterward.

Bales said today that on a basis of his own investigation of Percell's participation, he has no intention of filing a murder charge against him. He said he is convinced only Gorman and Osuna were actually involved.

Further investigation, however, will determine if any other charge is lodged against Percell, already found to be a parole violator, Bales said.

Purse Snatched, Airman Arrested

An 18-year-old airman was arrested on suspicion of strong-arm robbery last night, 30 minutes after a San Rafael woman reported her purse snatched at F and Latham Streets.

A/3C Kyle Robertson Shakesnider Jr., was stopped by Novato police on Highway 101 at Vallejo Avenue at 11 p.m. as he returned to Hamilton Air Force Base.

The arrest was made at request of San Rafael police after Mrs. Lee Newman, 24 Latham Street, reported the theft of the purse containing an undetermined amount.

Shakesnider was booked at Marin County Jail later and no bail was fixed.

Bullet Wounds Stroke Victim

George Gotelli, 62, of 195 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, was listed in poor condition in Marin General Hospital today from a gun shot wound in his body which police said apparently was self-inflicted.

Gotelli suffered a stroke about 15 years ago which left him partly paralyzed and unable to speak.

Police said that after he was wounded early today, he managed to communicate with Mrs. Stella O'Brien, owner of the property, who called police.

OBITUARIES

Louis J. Celoni Dies At 49

Louis J. Celoni, one of the owners of Celoni's Lounge, Fairfax, died yesterday in a Marin County Hospital after long illness. He was 49.

Celoni lived at 94 Laurel Drive, Fairfax. He came to Fairfax from his native San Francisco with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Geralamo Celoni, 33 years ago and went into business in partnership with his father in operation of the lounge when he became an adult.

More recently he has been operating the lounge in partnership with his brother, Jerome Celoni of Fairfax.

He leaves his wife, Elizabeth; his brother, and three daughters, Madeline, Claudia and Andrea Celoni, all of Fairfax.

He was a member of Fairfax Parlor 307, Native Sons of the Golden West, and San Anselmo American Legion Post 179.

Funeral will be at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. A special prayer service will be held at 8 p.m. today at Chapel of the Hills.

MRS. MABELLE CULPEPPER

They will be conducted by the San Rafael Chapter 215, Order of Eastern Star. Private inurnment will follow.

Mrs. Culpepper, 73, of 440 Oakdale Avenue, Corte Madera, died after a long illness. She was the widow of Archie Lee Culpepper, and both had operated Culpepper Realty Co. A native of Missouri, she was 73.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Pharoah's Daughters of San Anselmo, the Marin County Real Estate Board, California Assn. of Insurance Agents, International Toastmistress' Club, National Federation of Republican Women, Marin Visitors' Bureau and First Church of Christ, Scientist, Larkspur.

Black Point Man First President Of New Group

Col. (Ret.) James S. Sutton of 285 Crest Drive, Novato, last night was elected president of the North Marin chapter of the Marin Conservation League at an organizational meeting at the Novato Community House.

Mrs. Wayne Tharp of Novato was elected vice president, and Mrs. John H. Haines of Novato, secretary.

Those present voted to adopt the constitution and by-laws and policies of the Marin Conservation League. The dues in both organizations will be the same, said Mrs. George Whitten of Novato, the temporary chairman.

The officers agreed to meet at 8 p.m., Oct. 8 at the home of Mrs. Tharp, 775 Atherton Avenue, to set the next meeting date.

Mercury Doesn't Know It's Fall

Yesterday was the last day of September according to the calender, but thermometers thought it was the middle of July.

Temperatures in San Rafael and other parts of Marin County were as high as on many days in mid-summer.

It was balmy and almost breezeless at times, with mercury readings ranging from 80 at Sausalito to 88 in San Anselmo. Other high temperatures recorded were 87 in San Rafael, 86 in Fairfax and 85 in Woodacre.

Those who expect a repeat of last year's October heat wave with thermometers bubbling into the 90s may be disappointed, through.

The Weather Bureau today predicted continued fair weather for the Bay Area, but a little cooler.

San Rafael Burglars Grab $471 In Loot

Thieves entered the home of Mrs. Ada M. Bottini, 41 Jewell Street San Rafael, yesterday and stole $300 in cash and clothing and luggage worth an additional $471, police reported.

Entry was gained by prying open a rear door during the owner's absence.

MARIN MAY TRY FARM PRESERVES

Proposal Would Give Farm, Ranch Operators An Assessment Roll Break

The Marin County Planning Commission Monday will hold a hearing on a proposal to create an agricultural preserve of the 860-acre Green Gulch Ranch in southern Marin.

With creation of the preserve, owners Mr. and Mrs. George Wheelwright can sign a contract with the county assuring agricultural use for at least 10 years. This will allow the assessor to ignore development potential in assessing the land.

Supervisors have asked the planning commission to also consider a master plan for the entire county, designating other lands that could go into agricultural preserve under the recently adopted state law.

The commission meeting begins at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center. The agricultural preserve hearing is number 15 on the agenda.

The commission is also to review the land division ordinance as requested by supervisors, and hold a second hearing on the master plan of the Farr property west of Fairfax, where cluster housing is proposed with an over-all density of 20,000 square feet per home.

CLERIC'S SLAYING CASE NOT ENDED?

Alabama Official Outraged At Acquittal, May Seek New Charges Against Gunman

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (UPI)—Special Deputy Thomas Coleman, acquitted of manslaughter charges in the slaying of a New England civil rights workers, today still faced an assault charge and possible further action by Alabama's outraged attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers declared he was "appalled" at the freeing of Coleman and an aide said Flowers was studying whether any further "legal avenues are available" for prosecution.

Coleman, 52, was cleared of manslaughter charges yesterday by an all white jury in the Aug. 20 shotgun killing of Episcopal seminary student Jonathan Daniels, 26, of Keene, N.H. Coleman still faces trial on an assault charge in the wounding of the Rev. Richard J. Morrisroe of Chicago, a Roman Catholic priest, in the same incident.

Flowers, who attempted unsuccessfully to delay Coleman's trial so he could try for a murder indictment, said the acquittal represented "the democratic processes going down the drain of irrationality, bigotry and improper enforcement of the law."

U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas DeB. Katzenbach said such acquittals "are the price we have to pay for the jury system.

"I think this kind of result is expected from time to time," Katzenbach said. "It is difficult to get convictions in some areas."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., said the verdict shows that "justice is almost an impossibility in the South" and again points out the need for federal anti-lynch legislation.

He said the acquittal "will encourage others to perpetrate violence with impunity upon Negroes and civil rights workers."

The American Civil liberties Union (ACLU) in Washington asked Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black to halt all court proceedings in Lowndes County, pending a hearing on charges that Negroes and women are excluded from the county's juries.

The assault charge still pending against Coleman carries a one-year sentence on conviction but there was the possibility the state might ask for another grand jury to return a stiffer charge of assault with intent to kill.

Daniels was killed and Morrisroe wounded in front of a general store here after their release from jail, where they had been held for a week on charges stemming from their participation in a civil rights demonstration at nearby Fort Deposit.

Dixie Police End Bus Blockade

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP)—State police dragged Negro demonstrators from a street today when the group lay down in an attempt to block school buses carrying white children.

Eleven Negroes, some of them with school books, dropped to the wet pavement when three yellow school buses started to leave for nearby towns where the white pupils attend school. A light rain fell.

When they refused to move, the troopers dragged them out of the street. None was hurt and the demonstrators quickly got up and returned to their cars.

Ecumenical Council Slates Recess Before Going Home

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council, moving quickly towards conclusion will take a week-long vacation later this month and then hold a public session for Pope Paul VI to put into effect various decisions of the gathering.

The more than 2,000 prelates gathered in St. Peters Basilica for today's session were told that there would be a recess from Oct. 17 to 24. In addition, on Nov. 1 there will be a public session "for the pontiff to promulgate any documents which are ready."

It appeared that the documents on "the pastoral duties of bishops" and "on religious orders" would be ready. In addition, an important schema dealing with non-Christians — which includes the much debated section on Jews —probably will be ready, although a final vote has not yet been taken.

It also was publicly announced at the meeting that Pope Paul would address the gathering at their session on Tuesday following his return from the United Nations in New York.

Davidson School To Name Officers

San Rafael's Davidson Junior High School will elect student body officers in balloting next Friday; campaign speeches will be heard Thursday.

Candidates for president are Bebe Anderson, John Bauer and Lowell Widmer, all eighth graders; for vice president, Paul Balestracci, Bill Jacobs and Kathy Kenyon, all seventh graders; for secretary, Dana Jones, Vivian Miller and Barbie Patterson, all eighth graders, and for treasurer, Sherry Gelphman, Larry Hanson and Joann Shortino, all seventh graders.

The first steam-powered water pump designed to fight fires operated in England in 1829. Its debut was met with laughter from onlookers who called it the "steam squirt." Sparks from the smoke stacks of these early horse-drawn fire engines were a fire hazard themselves.

Novato Mother, Child Injured

Mrs. June McDonough, 34, of 596 Arlington Circle, Novato, and her son, Tommy, 4, suffered minor injuries yesterday in an auto crash on Point San Pedro Road south of Main Drive in unincorporated San Rafael, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. McDonough told the patrol she was northbound at 25 miles per hour at 5:15 p.m. when a truck coming from the opposite direction in the wrong lane forced her car into a ditch.

She and her son were to see their own physician.

Drugs Use Award

The Marin County Pharmaceutical Assn. has been awarded second place in an 18-county competition by the Northern California Pharmaceutical Assn. for public education on the use of drugs. The prize was for the association's booth at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross in July.

Bolinas, Inverness Firemen To Remain

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom announced today that his department's one-man outposts in Bolinas and Inverness will not be abandoned.

"We had intended to do this," Bloom said, "but because of the large number of protests, particularly from Sea Haven, we will not do it at this time."

Sea Haven, north of Inverness, is not within the Inverness Public Utilities District, which provides fire protection.

Early last month, Bloom announced he planned to close the station and pointed to the state division of forestry's refusal to recognize the one-man operations.

The state division supports the larger stations with up to 80 per cent of the crew's salary, Bloom explained.

Bloom said residents of Bolinas asked for more time to study the matter before the one-man operation here is withdrawn.

"These men are in the budget until next July," Bloom said. He said they will remain in Inverness and Bolinas at least until then.

Marin Firm Gets Planting Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ivy, shrubbery and trees from Australia, Japan and Algeria as well as native Californian will be used in landscaping the new San Mateo-Hayward Bridge' toll plaza.

The $58,632 landscaping contract was awarded yesterday by the state Division of Bay Toll Crossings to Watkin and Sibbald Associates of San Anselmo.

More than 45,000 shrubs, plants and trees will be set out.

State Reservoirs Still Hold Plenty

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's water picture currently is excellent, with a record total storage reported in major reservoirs, State Water Resources Director William E. Warne said today.

"Even though the heavy rains of December 1964 produced one of the most devastating floods in California's history, they also provided most of the state with an abundant supply of water," Warne said.

The overall outlook is so bright, said Warne, that even if rainfall in the next 12 months were to approach the minimum ever recorded, "careful management would preclude the occurrence of critical water shortages next summer . . ."

State Water Project Ahead Of Schedule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. Brown said today construction of the $2 billion dollar State Water Project is moving ahead on schedule and when completed, it "will make the Panama Canal pale by comparison."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Commonwealth Club here, the governor predicted the taxpayer's investment in the project "will be returned one hundred-fold . . ."

Nassau was a training base for the Royal Air Force during World War II.

Bank Merger Gains With Action In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Banking subcommittee approved today a compromise bank merger bill that would end antitrust action against three of six merged banks involved.

The subcommittee acted after a parliamentary power play that cut off further hearings. Some members had complained that Chairman Wright Patman, D - Tex. was prolonging these to stall off any action by Congress. The prospect of final action this year, however, remained dim in view of the number of legislative steps still required.

The bill would provide that, in future, the Justice Department would have to act within 60 days if it wished to intervene in a bank merger. Three eastern banks were thus involved.

The Justice Department action against Crocker Citizens National Bank of San Francisco and two others would not be blocked. The distinction is based on a decision rendered in a Philadelphia case after the first three of the six mergers were carried out. In the view of some members, this decision put banks contemplating mergers on notice of the chances they were taking.

Patman opposes any relaxation of antitrust laws applying to bank mergers. The Senate has voted to relax these laws and Patman has been accused in some quarters of stalling hearings in hopes Congress will adjourn without final action.

Even if the subcommittee agrees promptly, the legislation would still have to be approved by the full committee and the House, a conference would have to resolve differences with the Senate and both chambers would have to approve the result.

Unless Congress remains in in session longer than is now expected, there is little change for final action this year.

Salvation Army Holds National Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three thousand delegates from 13 western states opened the four-day Salvation Army Centennial Congress today.

Gen. Frederick Coutts of London, international head of the Salvation Army, will address the congress Sunday.

Mask Rule Eased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has lifted a rule requiring airline pilots to wear oxygen masks while flying above 35,000 feet. From now on, one mask only at altitudes above 41,000 feet — a height at which the airlines seldom fly.

Rail Crossing Now In Hands Of State

A complicated legal question of who should pay for installation and maintenance of a railroad crossing signal north of the Marin Civic Center was left in the hands of the State Public Utilities Commission yesterday in San Francisco.

Lawyers for the county and for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad were asked to submit briefs by Oct. 15 after arguing yesterday.

About a year ago the county agreed to install the signals but that the railroad must maintain them.

The signals, not yet installed, would protect a crossing of a road to be built leading from the Civic Center north to the Terra Linda interchange at Highway 101.

The railroad's attorney, Harold S. Lentz, said a new state law requires that in the case of any signal installed after Oct. 1, maintenance costs must be shared between a public agency and the railroad in the same proportions as the installation cost.

The county claimed the new law should apply only to crossings approved by the PUC after Oct. 1.

Marin Dining And Wining

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Visiting Fireman Means Chance To Catch Up On What's Current

There is nothing quite like having a house visitor from out of town to help you brush up on your dining out routine — especially when it's number one and only son, home for a few days after several long years in the halls of ivy.

Naturally his visit last week was an occasion to celebrate, with sorties into the dineries and night spots of Marin. It was our first chance in many a semester to show him off.

The only trouble was—there weren't enough days in his brief stay here to make all the rounds.

An expressed interest in the celestial food of China led us to Lin Fa Gardens at Northgate one night. The last time he was at home Northgate was only a blueprint. There, too, we hoped to catch the organ music of Bill McCoy, forgetting it was the time of year for name organists to gather at their convention at Hoberg's.

So we missed out on Bill, but he is back now—and also playing the Baldwin in a program direct from Lin Fa Gardens featured each Thursday over KTIM from 12:30 to 1:45 p.m.

Anyway — after a thorough testing of Lom Hin's dishes, from lobster Cantonese to won ton to delicate, bite-size bits of beef, Larry graded them all A-plus. He put us to shame with his obvious mastery of the chopsticks and the food before him vanished with almost Eastern magic. It is truly remarkable what broad fields of learning are encompassed in a Ph.D. these days.

And who else but a doctor of chemistry would be so precise in his formulas as to require that half a banana be crushed and blended in his daquiri?

IT WAS at Ondine the following night that in some measure we were able to demonstrate our own research experience. He had never before tasted a Margarita. For that matter, neither had his sire—in just that form. The joint father and son experimentation that ensued resulted in a pronouncement of excellence.

But it was at the table we were able to score our biggest impression—thanks to chef Alfred Roblin's sublime sauce on the fish and the smooth blending of a fresh spinach salad by maitre d' Gilbert Barthe. We had a moment or two of concern when the entree was served, since Larry had never been known to be overly fond of either lamb or stringbeans in his younger years.

We need not have worried. He ate both with gusto, and even the announcement that Shirley Temple Black was sitting two tables away from us, or the view from the window of Frank Werner's yacht moored at the dock below failed to spark as much enthusiasm. I had told him once that only the French know how to cook lamb. Now he's convinced Pop was right.

Later, downstairs in the Trident, we managed to find seats to hear Jon Hendricks, who I must admit does show originality and skill in his vocals. (He's still booked there.) And even in Madison, Wis., it seems they have heard of Sally Stanford. Ergo, nothing would do but that we should stop at the Valhalla.

NOW IN THE PROCESS of being sold is De La Montanya's in San Geronimo. Dean and Irene, who have had this about 14 months, are going back to ranching. The transaction was handled by Bob Rivers.

The buyers are Dee and Raymond Brunal of San Francisco, both of whom are experienced in the restaurant business. It's quite likely Dee will be dining room hostess and Ray will handle the bar. No change of ownership, of course, until transfer of the liquor license is approved. That should be around the end of October.

The Brunals have no plans yet for operational changes, but the place will have a new name—or perhaps an old one. It may be known again as the Oak Tree Inn—same as it was before the De La Montanyas and before the Lucchesis had it. Dee and Ray will move to Marin from San Francisco.

IT GIVES ME no small amount of personal pleasure to report that a pair of my favorite people at Franchini's Chateau became man and wife last Friday.

The ceremony was held in Carson City and the participants were Roy J. Franchini and Bess Scofield. You should be able to offer them your congratulations and best wishes sometime this weekend when they return from the honeymoon.

RECENTLY REDECORATED—Dining room at Lagunitas Lodge has recently been redone in knotty pine walls and beamed ceilings. Shown here are barman Elmo (Skipper) Schivo (left), dining room manager Alice Cortesi and owner Frank McAuliffe. Lunches and dinners are served daily except Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

LAST YEAR, Nave Lanes in Ignacio presented its first "Fiesta Italiana" for Columbus Day and brought in something like 350 people to celebrate.

On Oct. 11, it's to be offered again. The price of $3 per person includes a choice from about 35 restaurant dishes on an all-you-can-eat basis. And this is one time when Bill Nave Sr. puts on an apron and does the cooking. His list of dishes looks like it was printed in Milano.

It's a festive occasion with Italian music and merriment. Reservations will have to be made for this extravaganza, and three separate times are scheduled for the tables—5:30, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

NOW FEATURED by chef and co-owner Gordon Jones at Rubini's in Fairfax are abalone steak and filet of sole — both Mornay and Florentine.

I UNDERSTAND that all the ground clearing between Second and Fourth Streets, San Rafael, east of Rudy's Liquor Store and Bob's Mobil Service at the beginning of the Miracle Mile is preparation for a new pancake house—one in the chain of International House of Pancakes, headquartered in Burbank. The company has 103 franchised locations in 20 states.

THE CELLARS cocktail lounge in San Rafael is being redecorated, by Dick Saltzman. Besides being a musician and having his trio there on weekends, he's also an interior decorator by profession. He's already completed the bandstand.

If you go along with Arthur Murray, whose favorite dance he says is the bossa nova, Walt Ulner, playing with Dick's group, switches to classical guitar and quiet bossa nova two or three times during the evenings.

NICK REYNOLDS of the Kingston Trio, who has been visiting MacArthur's in San Anselmo recently, holds that the African lobster tails prepared by chef Mike Echavia are the best on the West Coast.

Marinite Assigned To Turkey Training

Peace Corps volunteer Brook A. Kraeger of 111 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, has been assigned to Turkey for a short training period rather than going directly to Pakistan as originally planned.

Kraeger was due to leave for Pakistan when the war between that country and India broke out. Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, in the announcement of the reassignment, said that training periods in a third country were not unusual, regardless of questions of international tension.

School Night

Del Mar School in the Reed District will hold a back-to-school night at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday to acquaint parents with their children's teachers and school programs.

Video Educational Director Named

Roland E. Fenz of 839 Greenberry Lane, Lucas Valley, has been named director of development for educational television station KQED, Channel 9. He will be in charge of a program in the next two years to increase public support for the viewer-sponsored station.

He has been assistant for development to the president of Menlo School and College, Menlo Park.

Second Cluster

Col. Lester B. Johnson of 30 Via Belardo, Greenbrae, has been awarded the second oak leaf cluster to the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service while acting as adviser to the director of personnel, director of finance and general bureau of the Imperial Iranian Gendarmerie while in Iran, July, 1962, to July, 1965.

Novato Hopes For Gain In Fire Service Rating

The Novato fire department has been officially complimented on improvements it has made and Chief George J. Cavallero hopes a reduction in insurance rates will result.

The compliments came in a letter from E. C. Adams, division engineer for Pacific Fire Rating Bureau in San Francisco. The bureau completed a survey of the district to see if it should receive a lower rating last December. Cavallero expects the new rate to come in about three weeks.

"Measurable improvements have been made and a revised evaluation of the fire defense facilities is in preparation," Adams wrote.

"We offer congratulations on the improvements made in the fire protection facilities of your district."

Cavallero said that the last time that the district was surveyed for a rating was in 1954. At that time, it went from a Class 7 to a Class 5 district. A change in classification of one class saves the homeowner about 35 cents per $100 in fire insurance rates, he said.

The chief hopes for a Class 4 rating this time.

Bircher Replies To GOP Charges

SANTA ANA (AP)—A Santa Ana Republican says charges that the John Birch Society has infiltrated the GOP will hurt the party.

State Sen. John G. Schmitz, said many Birch members were Republicans before they joined the Society.

Earlier this week, Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said the Society had infiltrated the GOP.

"I'm sure he's not referring to me," said Schmitz yesterday. "I'm a Republican who infiltrated the John Birch Society. This is the same worn-out routine which Morton's side used in the 1964 election campaign. It didn't help Barry Goldwater and it won't help the Republican Party now."

William H. Baldwin, 18, son of Mrs. Betty M. Baldwin, 315 Mountain View Avenue, San Rafael, and Bruce I. Bowles, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark Bowles, 66 Crooked Avenue, San Anselmo, enlisted in the Navy this week at the San Rafael Navy Recruiting Office.

Baldwin, a June graduate of San Rafael High School, entered the Sea Bees for four years. Bowles, a June Sir Francis Drake High School graduate, enlisted in the high school graduate training program for four years.

They will spend the next 10 weeks at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

Dirksen Criticizes Poverty War Lagging

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressional leaders claim the administration's war on poverty is lagging, "chaotic" in administration and should have a full-time director.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., told a joint news conference yesterday that "despite the press agentry of the current war on poverty," progress on he problem has been "slower during the past four years than it was during the first term of the last Republican administration."

County Ordered To Redistrict

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The State Supreme Court is ordering Santa Clara County to reapportion its five supervisorial districts again ithin 90 days.

All seven justices ruled yesterday that the Board of Supervisors must reapportion again along lines that would give no district less than 17 per cent of the county's population or more than 23 per cent.

Last year's court-ordered reapportionment plan by the supervisors left one district with 96,000 population — 12 per cent of the county's citizens — and another district with 186,000 — 23.4 per cent of the population.

FUN FOR THE SPIRIT

As part of "Spirit Week," the freshman class at Novato High School yesterday sponsored the "black bottom ball" in the gymnasium during the lunch hour. Groups of students took turns at pushing or kicking a six-foot ball around the gym, trying to reach the opponent's side. Biggest gains were made when the ball could be kicked high into the air. "Spirit Week" concludes with a dance in the gymnasium tonight. (Independent-Journal photo)

Marin Rights Group To Seek Integration

Neighborhood councils are slated to be formed throughout Marin to work to achieve harmonious integration of whites and Negores.

The Neighborhood Council Task Force of the Marin County Human Rights Commission agreed last night the main purpose of the councils should be to work for integration.

Councils will work to bring about "the moral and intellectual attitude whereby integration will be harmoniously accomplished," the task force said.

"Like a Selma wall, we have a Marin wall, and the primary objective is to break this wall down," said Rev. Karl Botermans, temporary chairman of the task force.

After a two and one-half hour discussion, the task force considered starting an experimental neighborhood council in the Marinwood area, as a pilot project.

Robert N. Jackson of 258 Etta Court, Marinwood, a representative of Marin County Friendship House, was asked to investigate the possibility of forming a council in his neighborhood.

During the session, attended by 16 representatives of eight civic and human rights groups, there were suggestions that Santa Venetia or Fairfax might be appropriate areas for an experimental neighborhood council.

A mimeographed sheet distributed to the audience listed the possible council activities as:

1. Inviting minority families into neighborhoods.

2. Facilitating the renting and purchase of homes for minorities.

3. Establishing neighborhood education programs related to minority-majority relationships.

4. Providing moral support to any minority in the neighborhood to facilitate assimilation.

5. To deal with such tensions and conflicts that may arise as a result of neighborhood integration.

Organizations represented at the session were Marin Mississippi Freedom Committee, Marin County Labor Council, League of Women Voters, Council on Religion and Race, Marin Committee for Fair Play Marin Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, Marin County Friendship House and Catholic Interracial Council.

Task force members are Botermans, Rev. John O'Connor and Mrs. Iniece Bailey, all members of the human rights commission, and Bremond.

Barry Forecasts Viet Cease Fire

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater said last night he thought there possibly would be a cease fire in Viet Nam in two or three months.

Goldwater also told a Press Club Forum that he generally supported President Johnson's policies in the Asian war. He added that he doubted the Communist Viet Cong could resist sustained American pressure.

The 1964 GOP presidential candidate also warned that America's armed forces may be required to see service in many parts of the world "for many years to come."

New Manager Appointed By Hub Chamber

Max S. Martin, temporary secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce since January, yesterday resigned that post. Mrs. Philip Haley of Greenbrae will become secretary-manager on a permanent basis Monday.

Martin took the job on a temporary basis when George G. Washburn was fired as secretary-manager. The Chamber office will stay in his insurance office at 731 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The chamber also named Arthur Hofmann to replace George Butts, who resigned from the board of directors Sept. 2.

The chamber designated Oct. 14-16 as "Yellow Tag Days" in San Anselmo to coincide with "Shop in Marin Month" organized by the Marin County Chamber of Commerce.

Dikes For Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—A billion dollar plan is being drawn up for constructing coastal embankments in East Pakistan to tame the almost annual tidal waves that sweep north out of the Bay of Bengal. One cyclone and tidal wave May 12 killed more than 17,000 persons.

Most of the land in Mill Valley was a part of the original Mexican land grant to Capt. William Richardson, Rancho Saucelito.

Tiburon Behavior Group Holds Workshop Discussion

About 175 Tiburon Peninsula parents and pupils turned out last night at Del Mar School for a workshop discussion on a behavior code for sixth, seventh and eighth graders.

The code, called the "Peninsula Key," outlines suggested behavior for youths in dating, party-going, telephoning, dress, smoking and drinking.

Redwood High School Principal Donald Kreps made three points: (1) parents must have faith in their children; (2) parents and children must communicate, and (3) parents must set good examples.

Last night's session was the first in what it is hoped will be annual workshops for parents and pupils, said Mrs. Walter H. Buchen, chairman.

The meeting was jointly sponsored by the Reed School Districe and the Reed Parent-Teachers Club.

Fairfax Postpones Planned Unit Talks

Consideration of the planned unit development proposal by Farr Associates for land between Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Olema Drive was put over until Oct. 28 last night by the Fairfax Planning Commission because requested new plans had not been turned in by the developer.

John J. Hourihan of 61 San Gabriel Drive, was seated as a new member of the commission, replacing former chairman Capt. Dan M. Miller for the remainder of the term, to end at the end of this year.

Pope Responds To New Crowds

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Pope Paul Americans will see may appear to be a vastly different man from the Pope Paul Romans see.

Travel does things to him.

In the Holy Land and India he seemed to be a warmer man, responding to the crowds around him and evoking a response.

At home, in his own diocese of Rome, he is often taken for granted. The crowds are used to seeing pontiffs, and sometimes it seems they lack enthusiasm.

Those who know Pope Paul say he is a warm but basically shy person who finds it difficult to stir a crowd without some help from the crowd itself.

When he travels, things are different. He is swept up in meeting new people and seeing new things. The crowds are livelier than Rome's. They haven't seen a Pope before.

"They inspire him, and he inspires them," said a Vatican prelate who traveled with Pope Paul to India and the Holy Land.

His aides will never forget how he led thousands of Indian school children singing a hymn. He stood on a platform and waved his arms like a choir leader. His steel-blue eyes were shining.

At the Vatican, where he appears in public at least once a week, the slightly built pontiff often seems to be a stern, ascetic figure.

Only on rare occasions does he show in Rome the spirit he displays when traveling. One such instance was his visit to a Gypsy camp outside Rome last Sunday, his 68th birthday. He joined the Gypsies in rhythmic handclapping as they sang a Gypsy melody.

But it was a crowd of Gypsies, not Romans.

Pope Paul and the Romans are oid acquaintances.

Of the 45 years since he became a priest, he has spent 35 in Rome or at the Vatican. He was a prominent aide to Popes Pius XI and Pius XII.

But his background is north Italian.

He was born Giovanni Battista—John the Baptist—Montini Sept. 26, 1897, in the northern town of Concesio, five miles north of Brescia. His father ran a Roman Catholic daily in Brescia, a journalistic background that Pope Paul has often recalled. On his flight from Rome to Bombay, at an altitude of 30,000 feet, Pope Paul gave history's first papal news conference, answering questions of newsmen who flew with him to India.

Giovanni Battista Montini was ordained a priest in 1920. After three years of graduate studies in Rome and a year in Warsaw, Poland, as secretary to the apostolic nuncio, he entered the Vatican Secretariat of State. He rose steadily. Pius XI made him substitute secretary of state in 1937, and Pius XII promoted him to prosecretary of state in 1952.

The career in the secretariat ended after 31 years, when Pius XII sent him north to Milan as archbishop of the most important diocese in Italy outside Rome.

Eight years later, in June 1963, Giovanni Battista Montini returned to Rome for the conclave of cardinals that elected him successor to Pope John XXIII.

Heads bond campaign

Chairman Set In Tamalpais Bond Drive

Dewitt K. MacDonald Jr., San Rafael lawyer and resident of Greenbrae, has been named general chairman for the Tamalpais High School District bond campaign.

High school trustees are asking voters to approve $5,750,000 in bonds to build the first phase of a new high school in San Geronimo Valley and complete Redwood High School in Larkspur. The election is set for Nov. 16.

MacDonald is amember of the law firm of Nelson, Boyd, Menary, and MacDonald. He has lived in Greenbrae for nine years. He and his wife have three children in Kentfield Elementary District schools.

Mrs. Richard Melbostad of Mill Valley, member of the board, has been acting chairman for the campaign. She will continue as board representative to the steering committee.

Some Of Zip Gone From Postal Zip Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postal authorities are confident they can iron out some kinks that have taken a bit of zip out of the zip code.

There's nothing wrong with the five-number code itself, postal planners insist. But they concede they have found what they call "some small bugs" in the complex of 553 sectional centers organized to put the zip into the nationwide routing and distribution of mail.

Outgoing Postmaster General John A. Gronouski celebrated the establishment of the last of the elaborately plotted centers July 1 with the proud declaration that the center network provided the core of "the first all-new mail distribution and routing system since the advent of the railroads."

Gronouski, now preparing to take up the post of ambassador to Poland, also said the sectional establishment would assure the sending of all mail "by the most direct route possible to its destination."

But that's precisely where the bugs got into the act. It appears that in some places the appointed rounds of mail deliverers are more roundabout than the most direct routes envisioned by the planners.

Gronouski was not the first postmaster general to decry primary reliance on a distribution system which, despite increased use of airplanes and motor vehicles, was geared to mail trains.

As late as 1930 there were more than 10,000 trains carrying mail, about 27 billion pieces of it. Now more than 82 billion pieces of mail are moving each year, but there are only 1,100 mail trains.

Primary dependence on trains led naturally to the designation of postal gateways to which mail from a distance was routed for redistribution, as, for example, to Jacksonville for distribution through most of Florida.

Having decided to use the best available means of moving the mails, postal experts spotted 553 section centers around the country at the apparent hubs of converging transportation links and assigned to each center some 60 or 70 satellite post offices.

That's where the zip code gets into the system, for the first three digits identify the sectional center.

But that's also the place in the system where some trouble is brewing. A postal aide describes the simplest form of the problem this way:

Towns A and B are 30 miles apart, and historically mails have moved between them directly. But the experts, looking at the country as a whole and looking to the future availability of better transportaton, attached the two satellite towns to separate hub centers.

Strict adherence to the letter of the master plan could mean, then, that mail addressed from one town to the other would go first to a sectional center, and could travel two or three times the direct mileage between them. For the code directs mail from one center to another for redistribution to its own satellites.

The total U.S. resident population June 1, 1965, was 163,644,000 — an increase of 1.3 per cent over June 1964, according to Census Bureau estimates. The new figure represents an increase of eight per cent since April 1, 1960.

Hearing Due Monday On Cluster Plan

A "cluster zoning" ordinance will be given a public hearing by the San Rafael City Council at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

The proposal is to amend the zoning ordinance to authorize cluster developments by use permit in all residential zones. The planning commission has approved the idea.

The long-awaited slope policy amendment to the subdivision ordinance also was scheduled for hearing at Monday's council meeting, but the planning department has asked it be postponed to Oct. 18.

Report of a study of the effects of replacing diagonal parking with parallel parking on Fourth Street is to be presented.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen will recommend purchase of 1,000 parking meters, claiming some of the present meters are antiquated and inoperative.

An ordinance creating a city finance department is to be introduced. Effect of this will be to make a separate department of the finance office which is now under the city clerk.

Republican League Elects

William A. Exline of Terra Linda, a television sales executive, last night was elected president of the California Republican League of Marin County.

League members met in the San Rafael courthouse, with Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito, organizational committee chairman, presiding.

Other officers elected are as follows:

Peter Gottheiner of Greenbrae, vice president; Mary Lee of San Rafael, secretary; John T. McClennan of San Rafael, treasurer; Eleanor Colton of San Anselmo, precinct chairman; Aldo R. Valiani of Sausalito, sergeant at-arms. Directors are Marrian Comstock of Corte Madera, Charles L. Dyer of Terra Linda, Roger K. Anderson of Novato, and Maloa Trimble of Tiburon.

The new officers will serve for the rest of this calendar year.

Mastrangelo, who headed organization of the Marin Chapter has been elected regional director of the California Republican League.

Holiday Pays Rare Tribute To Royalty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The only public holiday in the Unitεd tates to honor a king is Kamehameha Day, celebrated each June 11 in Hawaii.

Kamehameha was a Polynesian warrior who united the Hawaiian Islands in peace in the early part of the 19th Century.

Study Released On Ways To Meet Needs In Travel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If scientists are right, the only way around may be up, down or wet.

Future transportation, according to a study released yesterday by North American Aviation, will involve plenty of flying, traveling in tunnels and boat rides.

"We're at a crossroads," said Gov. Edmund G. Brown when the study was released, "and freeways are abviously not the answer to handle the 40 million people we expect in this state by the year 2000."

The study, prepared under a $100,000 state contract, added:

It's difficult to move people and goods around the state now, and in 50 years, it'll be five to seven times more difficult.

Suggestions included:

High speed trains and tunnels.

Vertical takeoff and landing aircraft capable of whisking a businessman from his office roof to his front yard.

Hydrofoil ships to ferry pas-freight.

Electronic freeways that automatically guide and space vehicles, reducing accidents and making smog-producing motors obsolete.

Produce that can be piped to market.

SUPER-TRAIN MAY BE BUILT

In conjunction with President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement of a multi-million dollar experiment with high-speed train service between Boston, New York and Washington earlier this week, the Budd Co. yesterday revealed this model of a streamliner proposed for use between metropolitan centers. The federally-sponsored tests seek trains that can travel up to 125 miles per hour. (AP Wirephoto)

Surgery Ends Deformity For Mexican Boy

PALO ALTO (AP)—A delicate operation, rarely performed on a teen-ager, has corrected a gaping hole which 13-year-old Antonio Victorio of Mexico has had in his upper lip since birth.

The deformity had caused so much teasing that Antonio dropped out of school at La Azteca, in Sonora where he was living with his grandmother.

Fr. James Poggi of St. Joseph Seminary, Mountain View, met Antonio and notified friends at Stanford. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rangle of Menlo Park brought the boy by auto to Palo Alto.

Two successful operations were performed, in February and last week. Dr. Robert Chase executive head of the department of surgery at Stanford University School of Medicine, said such a cleft lip and palate usually are corrected in children of this country between the ages of six months and two years.

The boy is living with Mr. and Mrs. Barney Cervantes and their six children in Mountain View. He is learning to speak English.

Anne Stine Ingstad in August, 1964 in L'Anse au Meadow, Newfoundland, found a piece of carved soapstone which served as a flywheel on a wool-spinning spindle. The find supports the claim that Norsemen colonized the New World long before Columbus.

Boat Dwellers Deny Ducking Sewer Hookup

A spokesman for Waldo Point houseboat dwellers denied today that any has been put adrift in Richardson Bay to escape being forced to connect to a sewer.

Dean M. Jennings of the Marin Boat Dwellers Assn. flatly contradicted a statement by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator, that nine of the house boats had been cut loose to become transient vessels as a means of avoiding the sewer requirement.

Jennings said only three house boats are anchored out in Richardson Bay, and they are there because no more berths are available. They have been there several months, he said.

Houseboat dwellers have been given an order from the Bay Area Pollution Control Board that they will be illegal if not hooked up to sanitary facilities by Nov. 15. Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors are working on an assessment district to provide sewer in the area from Sausalito's northern city limits up to Richardson Bay Bridge.

Problems, Problems

NEW DELHI (AP)—A number of New Delhi's major streets had become too congested, so they were widened. Now the city has another problem: Light poles which were moved back are amidst tall trees and the streets are considered to be too dark.

Some rich homes in India have wash basins in dining rooms for it is a custom to wash hands before and after eating.

Tax Rates Lower For Small Schools

Look at the disparity in finances of Marin's school districts from another angle, and you might find a strong argument for keeping small school districts.

That is from the tax rate angle.

County Auditor-Controler Michael Mitchell yesterday cited figures showing the range in percentage of local money supporting the districts. He said the smaller districts generally required the highest percentage of local support and this might be an argument for unification.

Lincoln School District, for instance, with 13 pupils, spends $1,415 per pupil with 91.1 per cent of that in local money.

But Lincoln has a tax rate of only 55.5 cents per $100 of assessed value per pupil comes to $96,660, the highest of any district in the county.

By contrast, Dixie School District, with 4,200 pupils, has an assessed valuation of only $8,115 per pupil. The Dixie tax rate is $3.125 per $100 assessed valuation. Mitchell's figures showed that Dixie's expenditure of $542.88 per pupil was supported by only 56.7 in local money.

Reed School District, which Mitchell cited as the highest in per cent of local money in districts with more than 200 pupils, has an assessed valuation per pupil of $23,532 and a tax rate of $3.275 per $100 assessed valuation.

Reed has 1,600 pupils, spends $862 per pupil and supports this with 83.6 per cent in local money.

One of the main reasons for the difference between Reed and Dixie is that the latter qualifies as an "impoverished district" under the state aid formula, where Reed does not.

Civil Air Patrol To Be In Test

Members of the Marin Squadron 4, Civil Air Patrol, and Marin residents in the Sonoma Squadron 42, will participate tomorrow and Sunday in a statewide test to be staged at a secret location.

Members will participate in a search for a simulated plane crash, and in the rescue of injured passengers, carrying them to safety over difficult terrain. The U.S. Air Force will grade the test.

Fertility Drug User Has Quads

MANHASSET, N.Y. (UPI)—The birth of quadruplets, three boys and a girl to Mrs. Sheila Sklar was announced today by the North Shore Hospital.

The three boys were born first, followed by the girl.

The first boy weighed six pounds at birth. Weights of the others were not immediately available.

Mrs. Sklar, who had taken clomiphene, a drug used to induce ovulation, lives in Hartsdale, N.Y.

There have been several multiple births around the world as result of women taking a variety of fertility-producing drugs which induce the pituitary gland to manufacture ovum-maturing hormones.

Many Losses Erased; Early Profits Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market erased many losses and showed a mixed pattern at the close today.

In early trading profits were taken in many of the high-flyers which were prominent in the September advance. Makers of color television sets also backed away from recent gains.

Aerospace stocks were strong at the start and most kept part of their gains at the end.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.4 million shares compared with 8.68 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Profit taking hit a number of the recent speculative favorites and spread to such recently-strong groups as electronics and airlines. In a second-day reaction to the award of the $2 billion contract for the huge C5A plane to Lockheed, that stock trimmed an early gain of about 2½ to a fraction while the unsuccessful bidders, Boeing and Douglas Aircraft, rebounded about a point each from Thursday's sharp losses.

SCM Corp., ranging between a gain and a loss as more profits were taken in it, looked like the most active stock and was almost even late in the day.

Radio Corp. was heavily traded and down nearly a point. Zenith lost more than a point, Raytheon and Sperry Rand fractions.

Losses of about 2 each were taken by Delta Airlines, Northwest Airlines and National Airlines as profits were taken in them. Eastern gained about 1½, American a fraction.

CHEVROLET'S 1966 CAPRICE, CHEVELLE COUPES

Two of Chevrolet's additions this year are the Caprice custom coupe (below), one of four top of the line models, and the Chevelle Super Sport 396 coupe above—one of two models in the Chevelle series. Along with these two models Chevrolet offers 48 other models for 1966. Cars will be shown Oct. 7 at De Long Chevrolet, San Rafael; Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet, Corte Madera; Ted Schuman Chevrolet, Novato, and Cheda Chevrolet, Point Reyes.

Emporium Votes To Split Stock

Directors of The Emporium Capwell Co. have voted to split the common stock two for one and reduce the par value per share from $10 to $5.

The action is subject to approval by the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares.

The board also declared a dividend of 32½ cents per share (16¼ cents on the new split stock) payable Jan. 3, 1966 to stockholders of record November 17, 1965.

The declaration of this dividend places the stock on an indicated annual rate of $1.30 per share as compared with the present rate of $1.20 per share.

Components Industry Is Set Up

A new division of G.T.I. Corp. of Meadville, Pa., to serve the semi-conductor industry in the western United States will be headquartered in San Rafael.

The new operation, G.T.I. Components, is at 27 Jordan Street, where it replaces Saegertown Components, an operation of the Saegertown, Pa., division of G.T.I. David S. Wilson, who was plant manager, will serve as the new division's general manager.

Richard H. Rudolph, president of G.T.I., said the corporation's diverse resources will be drawn together in the new operation to provide "local product and engineering service for the semi-conductor industry's need for wire and glass seal components as used in transistors, diodes, integrated circuits and other solid state devices."

The San Rafael facility has been in existence since 1961 and employs 94 people in a 'round-the-clock, three-shift operation. Wilson said under the new arrangement the plant is expected to increase its staff to 150-175 employees within the next year. Wilson has been in charge of the plant since early 1963.

Besides the formation of G.T.I. Components, the corporation has made three acquisitions during the past 10 months: Dytronics, Inc., Leesburg, Ind.; Clover Industries, Inc., Tonawanda, N.Y., and Beal Brothers, Inc., Hadley, Pa.

'Total Theater' Dance Creator Not Very Pleased With Critics

By ALAN ADELSON

Life is supposed to be hard for avant garde artists.

Ann Halprin may live in prosperity with her landscape-architect husband in a sprawling Kent Woodlands home, but the modern dance innovator suffers the strain of going unrecognized, scorned, misunderstood, and ridiculed by what she describes as "the ill-informed, distinterested art critics of the United States."

Returned this week from a European tour with her "total theater" show, "Parades and Changes," Mrs. Halprin found an incident in Warsaw had created a splash of publicity.

Founder of the Marin Dancers Workshop in 1950, Mrs. Halprin included a scene in her new show in which naked dancers slowly dance with a huge length of paper. The nudes wrap themselves in the paper, shaded to match their own skin. They create, according to Mrs. Halprin, a unity of sound by flicking and tearing the paper as they wind themselves in it.

LIKE A BUTTERFLY

"Its like a transformation of the skin—as a butterfly might do . . . . We dance without clothes because there is no need for clothes—there's certainly no sex involved," said the dance innovator.

Officials of Warsaw's Autumn Arts Festival didn't feel the risk was worth taking last week, and Mrs. Halprin's "butterflies" were required to wear leotards after their first performance.

"It didn't matter if we couldn't put on that particular episode of the show, since we have many more prepared than could ever be given in one performance," said Mrs. Halprin.

The principle behind Mrs. Halprin's "total theater" is the gradual development of a performance from a bare, empty theater to an intricate, captivating series of dramatic enounters on the stage and throughout the audience. Everything is supposed to happen in front of the audience — including costume changes, she said.

"We are trying to represent the huge and minute episodes of daily life. Every member of the audience should see himself in our episodes," she declared.

INTO AUDIENCE

Besides the nude scene, Mrs. Halprin's company presents scenes where cast members filter out into a totally dark theater, beaming flashlights and whispering to one another heavily decorate themselves with odd objects so that they are forced to walk with grotesque contortions to maintain their balance, embrace one another for lengthly moments on stage, and drag one another around like bags of dirty laundry.

All of the odd situations which Mrs. Halprin contrives for her dances are pre-arranged, but dancers may act at will in reacting to each episode, she said.

NON-OBJECTIVE

Though she doesn't like the term, the shows different scenes are abstract and only vaguely mirror real situations, so observers must decide for themselves what is being depicted on stage.

Mrs. Halprin proudly displayed a pile of "rave notices" by top European critics, but complained that her company and work is too little known at home.

"We're famous in Europe, but people have hardly heard of us in Marin County, where we live, and create our performances," she said.

"It's odd, really, that we have to travel so far to get the acclaim we deserve, but I don't mind—as long as we can get out of here and perform occassionally."

Fortune Booth

Theater in Marin, a newly formed theatrical group, will operate a fortune telling booth at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Town and Country Club in Fairfax, with "Madam Charlatana" on hand to read fortunes.

Judge Named Heir To His Wife's Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Judge Thomas C. Yager has been named sole beneficiary and executor of the estate of his bride of three days.

Mrs. Eileen Keliher Jeffers Yager, 61, disappeared from their honeymoon yacht last May 6, less than 72 hours after they were married May 3 by Roman Catholic James Francis Cardinal McIntyre. Her body was never found.

Mrs. Yager's will, dated May 3, was filed yesterday for probate proceedings. It left all "to my beloved husband." Mrs. Yager was the adopted daughter of the late Union Pacific Railroad president William Jeffers, who reportedly left her about $500,000.

Yager's attorney earlier announced that the 47-year-old jurist intends to memorialize his and his wife's ideals with charitable gifts — probably exceeding the amount of Yager's inheritance.

Brown Criticized For Farmers Tax

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assembly minority leader Robert Monagan, a potential candidate for governor in 1966, has accused Gov. Edmund G. Brown of "deceit" for "slapping another tax" on farmers.

The Tracy Republican said at a news conference here yesterday he had been informed the Employment Department was sending auditors into the fields to collect disability insurance contributions from farmers.

He said the contributions were designed to provide braceros and other foreign workers with disability insurance. But he claimed most of the intended beneficiaries were not around long enough to benefit.

Anti-Viet Nam Group Tones Down Tactics

BERKELEY (UPI)—The Viet Nam Day Commitee, which has staged a series of protests against American involvement in the Viet Nam war, has announced it will demonstrate outside the Oakland Army Terminal Oct. 15.

However, spokesmen for the militant group emphasized it would make no attempt to enter the terminal or otherwise break the law. Earlier the group had threatened to invade the terminal by climbing fences, to block entrances to the facility and perform other acts of "civil disobedience."

Split Districts May Provide Flood Control

It will be necessary to form two separate flood control districts in the Ross Valley if different rates are to be charged for maintenance of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project, Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said today.

County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested Tuesday that those areas above the first phase of the project, which is to end at the southern limits of the Town of Ross, pay only one-third of the maintenance, while those below pay two-thirds.

Cities in the upper valley have balked at paying the maintenance charge and the Army project cannot get started until there is agreement.

A 1961 estimate on maintenance was $15,000 a year. County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said today the figure now could be higher. He has asked a new estimate.

Supervisors will meet with representatives of Ross Valley cities at the San Anselmo City Hall at 8 p.m., Oct. 14, in an attempt to reach accord.

Rick Kasnoff Leads Drake Freshmen

Rick Kasnoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kasnoff, 15 Carlson Avenue, San Anselmo, has been elected freshman class president at Sir Francis Drake High School. He received 227 votes to Marc Jones's 107 votes.

Lynne Williams was elected vice-president with 84 votes. Opposing candidates were Lamar Faulkner, who received 49; Theodore Gill, 80; Philip Homer, 36; Larry Kirkendall, 39, and Marti Walter, 45 votes.

Rosana Orr was elected secretary, receiving 149 votes. She defeated Christine Fairchild, 125; Lynne Gadsby, 29; Lauren Kealey, 39 and Denise Truitt, 22 votes.

Alicia Snyder defeated Elaine Strahlendorf, to become treasurer, 169 votes to 112.

Dodgers 'Zero' In On Flag: Magic Is 2

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The magic number was two for the Los Angeles Dodgers today as the hour of truth approaches in their run for the National League pennant.

They defeated the Milwaukee Braves last night, 4-0, to remain two games in front of the San Francisco Giants, who whipped Cincinnati in the afternoon, 5-3.

It was the Dodgers 13th straight victory, longest string of wins since they had an identical string in the late spring of 1962. It was the seventh shutout in the 13 games, and a crowd of 36,006 was on hand.

Right-hander Don Drysdale limited the Braves to three hits in winning his 23rd game, his seventh blank job for the season. For 4 2-3 innings, he held Milwaukee hitless.

"Naw, I wasn't going for a no-hitter," said Drysdale. "I was just trying to keep them from scoring."

Southpaw Claude Osteen (15-14) was set to pitch for Los Angeles tonight, and a win would cinch at least a tie for the Dodgers. Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan nominated Denny LeMaster (6-13) to try to stop the Dodgers.

Drysdale retired the first 14 batters in order last night, but Felipe Alou interrupted the show with a single to left.

The next seven Braves went down, but Drysdale ran into a brief threat when Joe Torre singled and took third on Mike de la Hoz' double, leading off the eighth.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, had staked Don to two runs in the second and one each in the fifth and sixth.

"I was fortunate to shut out a team like Milwaukee. Everybody chipped in to help," said Drysdale.

Told that he had thrown but 89 pitches, Drysdale noted:

"That'll help in case I have to pitch Sunday."

He paused, then drew a laugh with, "Of course, I'd just as soon not have to pitch Sunday. I'd rather be a spectator."

To elaborate, everyone in the Dodger roster hopes the pennant will be settled tomorrow afternoon. Who pitches Sunday would be immaterial.

"All I want," said Manager Walt Alston, "is two more."

Alston pointed out that relief artist Ron Perranoski has now had two nights of non-labor, thanks to Don and Sandy Koufax's 2-hit shutout the night before.

"Ron can use it," said Alston.

"Maybe he'll get rusty," someone volunteered.

"No, not Perranoski," Alston replied with a broad grin.

Drysdale got two hits and drove in a run, boosting his batting average to .302, to lead the club in hitting.

Pitchers aren't supposed to lead clubs in batting, but then that's the Dodgers.

Bragan used five pitchers without much luck. Hank Fischer, now 8-9, was the loser.

PREPS START PLAYING FOR KEEPS TOMORROW

Their practice season behind them, Marin Athletic League football teams start the league championship race tomorrow with three games on tap.

In the afternoon it's Tamalpais vs. San Rafael at Kentfield, 1:30 p.m. and Terra Linda at Novato at 2. Tomorrow night Drake tackles Marin Catholic at Kentfield, 8 o'clock. Turn to page 18 for a rundown on all local high school and junior college grid activities this weekend, plus a look at the West Coast college scene.

Also on page 18 are the I-J's Fearless, Peerless Pigskin Prognosticators' predictions for major prep, college and pro games.

Hollywood Finish Keeps Giants Alive—Barely

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

A Great Life—If You Week-End; Oldest Grid Rivalry In Marin

Still grasping for a last straw in the dying summer winds? Need a pick-me-up as your Giants face an almost impossible task? Feeling down in the dumps? Is THAT what's troubling you, Bunkie?

Well, here are some figures I collected at Candlestick yesterday that may add a spark to that flicker in your heart:

The Giants play best of all on weekends, having won 13 of 23 games on Fridays this year, 17 of 25 Saturday games and 20 out of 29 Sunday outings. With nothing but a Friday, Saturday and Sunday remaining on their calendar, there's hope, gang, there is hope.

Let's just hope the Dodgers weaken while we week-end.

More fuel: Tonight's starter Bobby Bolin (13-5) is 7-1 lifetime against Cincinnati and 3-0 this season against the Reds.

HOW'S THIS for a fast-finish by the top two teams: The Dodgers were 20-7 and Giants 21-9 in September. But the days grow short, when you reach September. Sounds like a good line for a song. Think I'll work on it.

Meantime, let's go Bolin tonight.

PREDICTION: At precisely 1 p.m. Sunday Herman Franks will say, "We're going to play one game at a time."

And immediately after the final out Sunday, Mr. Franks will utter his other classic line, to-wit: "There's no tomorrow." (My, but I'm getting more good song material today.)

WOULDN'T YOU call Hopalong Orlando Cepeda's charitable contribution to the Giant cause yesterday a case of aid FROM the knee-dy? Oh. I didn't think so.

IN THE NOT-too-distant past, when you and I were young, Maggie, the Tamalpais-San Rafael high school football rivalry was the biggest thing in Marin sports.

Dating back to 1905, this is one of the oldest prep athletic feuds in the state. Probably because there wasn't much else to do in those days, fans went wild when the Bulldogs and Indians met. Campus raids, bon fires, parades and good old fashioned street fights highlighted every game. Big Game fever mounted weeks in advance and exploded on the day of the game.

Well, those were the good old days. Growth of the county and new rivalries have considerably lessened the Tam-San Rafael feud. Tomorrow at Kentfield these fine old institutions meet again on the gridiron for about the 60th time, but it just ain't THE Big Game anymore. I wonder how many old grads will be in the stands?

Time marches on! Darn it.

FOOTBALL INDEED is a contact sport. Take the case of Novato High's star place-kicker Bill Coots, who wears contact lenses. Just before Novato rallied to tie Petaluma 20-20 last week, Coots lost his contact cheaters, so it was a blurred football he kicked for the vital extra point that would have meant a dramatic Novato victory. But the blurred football missed the blurred uprights and the 20-20 on the scoreboard was NOT Coots' vision. What a spectacle! All in favor say Eye.

I'm getting cornea and cornea, so I'd better quit while I'm behind.

Mrs. Martens Is Tourney Winner

Mrs. H. E. Martens of the Presido Golf Club won low net honors yesterday in guest day action at the Meadow Club in Fairfax. Mrs. Martens shot a 92, and with 21 handicap, came out with a 71.

Mrs. Frank Boyer won the hole-in-one contest, reaching four feet from the cup. Class winners were:

Class A — Mrs. R. Waidman, 81-7—74; Mrs. John Lesoine, 91-16—75; Mrs. Tony Bailey, 81-4—77.

Class B — Mrs. Elmer Martin, 95-18—77; Mrs. R. E. Belli, 95-17—78; Mrs. Louis Sandoval, 96-18—78; Mrs. C. W. Morrill, 97-19—78.

Class C — Mrs. J. S. Harrison, 94-21—73; Mrs. Arnold Nutting, 97-21—76; Mrs. M. Davis, 99-21—78.

San Rafael Triumphs

San Rafael Class C basketballers topped Novato 34-30 yesterday at Novato. Larry Schmidt led the winners with 8 points.

Marin Cagers Win

Led by Robert McCarthy's 11 points, Marin Catholic's Class C basketball team whipped Drake 35-14 yesterday on the winners' court.

A Real Test For Mr. Brodie

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie's superlative passing average for the San Francisco 49ers meets a real test Sunday in Baltimore.

Brodie leads all National Football League passers with 30 completions in 40 attempts. He has tossed for 505 yards gained.

Part of his success may have been due to the porous defense of the Chicago Bears and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

But the Baltimore Colts, however, have a great front line and an outstanding secondary.

An effective ground game has aided Brodie this year. Coach Jack Christiansen has gathered together a fine assortment of runners who keep the opposition's defense honest.

Y. A. Tittle, the 49ers quarterback coach, has had quarterbacks Brodie, George Mira and Bill Kilmer perfecting little things — especially the timing and coordination between passers and receivers.

Ex-Giant Jones Is MVP At 39

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — At 39, the well-travelled Sam Jones has earned the award of most valuable pitcher in the International League.

The former major leaguer posted a 12-4 record as a relief pitcher in helping the Columbus Jets win the International League pennant.

DODGERS SWINGING TOWARD TITLE

Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale, whose three-hit, 4-0 win over Milwaukee last night nudged Los Angeles a giant stride closer to the National League pennant, is shown here about to pop a single to right field to aid in his own cause.

The Forgotten Man

By JOE REICHLER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They called him "the forgotten man." People said he lacked desire. The more cruel ones called him a malingerer, a guy who looked for excuses not to play.

The army of critics grew in number and the accusers became bolder when Orlando Cepeda was forced out of action virtually all year because of a winter knee operation.

The same people who had cheered him for his great slugging years ever since the Giants moved to San Francisco in 1958, the ones who had adopted him as their own, nicknaming him "The Baby Bull," now looked upon him with suspicion.

It was as if it was his fault that the Giants were now trailing the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League pennant race by two games instead of leading by a comfortable margin.

Orlando Cepeda, a kind and sensitive man, and a great ball player, is well aware of the cruel and injust things said about him by unthinking people and he cannot find it in his heart to forgive them.

Yesterday afternoon, after he had stepped up to the plate as a pinch hitter and slammed 3-2 pitch by Joe Nuxhall for a two-run homer that gave the Giants a 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds, keeping the Giants' pennant hopes alive, the pride of Ponce, Puerto Rico, couldn't restrain himself any longer.

It was part exhiliaration, part relief, part redemption and part defiance that prompted him to give vent to his pent-up thoughts.

"I know what people say," he said his voice choking with emotion. "They say I don't want to play. . .

"They talk that I am faking it. I don't understand people who say such terrible things about me. People who say such untruths don't deserve to live.

"I have pride. God gave me ability to play baseball. It's my living. It's the thing I can do best. Why should I not want to do what I know best?

"For two years I played on a knee that hurt every time I put pressure on it. I played when I should not have played. I did not even tell my manager.

"You can ask my wife, Anna, how many mornings I could hardly get out of bed to go to the ball park. But I never told anybody. Even after the operation, I tried to play too soon. That's why I hurt the knee again. If I didn't want to play, why have I worked so hard with exercises and weights? Why did I take four injections in my knee just three weeks ago?"

Cepeda underwent surgery on his right knee last Dec. 7. The knee was still sore when he reported to spring training. Overzealous in his efforts to get in shape, he re-injured the knee and it grew worse. He started only four games all season and didn't finish one. His efforts have been confined to pinch hitting.

This is the fellow who as the Giants' only .300 hitter last year. The 28-year-old strong boy batted .304, hammered 31 home runs and drove in 97 runs. Over the past four years, he has averaged 36 home runs and 112 runs batted in.

It is no wonder Herman Franks, the Giants' manager, said after Cepeda's game winning home run:

"I wonder what would have happened had Orlando been able to play all year?"

Cepeda must wonder, too.

When Franks sent him up to pinch hit for winning pitcher Masanori Murakami with the score tied in the ninth inning, one out and a runner on base, he said to Cepeda:

"You owe me one. If you don't hit a home run for me, don't ever speak to me again."

Cepeda strode to the plate and promptly smacked his first home run of the season.

Cepeda grinned broadly as he told of the little repartee on the dugout steps between himself and the manager.

"Herman's a great man," he said. "And I feel bad for him. We want so much to win the pennant for him. But we're not there yet. We got a little ways to go."

"Now I feel I belong to the ball club," Cepeda went on. "This is the first time I did something for the club.

"It killed me that I could not help. All year I feel empty. It's been so very, very hard. I know I wasn't earning my money. Today I think I earned my salary."

Cepeda's salary reportedly is $53,000. He has been to bat only 32 times this season, collecting six hits.

That comes to $8,833.33 a base hit.

Tam Frosh Clout San Rafael, 25-0

Tamalpais High School's frosh football team opened its season yesterday with a 25-0 drubbing of San Rafael's freshmen.

Ron Small scored three Tam touchdowns on short plunges and Carl Curry scored the other one on a dazzling 93-yard run.

Bolin Vs. Reds' Ellis Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—"We ain't dead yet," said San Francisco Manager Herman Franks in a paraphrase of Charlie Dressen's once famous quote that "the Giants is dead."

In the first break they have had since coming home a week ago, the Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, yesterday, and it came on as dramatic a moment as any conceived by a Hollywood script writer.

With one out, the score tied 3-3, Franks guessed right for a change and sent Orlando Cepeda up as a pinch-hitter for relief pitcher Masanori Murakami.

Orlando, once the darling "Baby Bull" of San Francisco fans and lately just another guy on the bench because of a prolonged knee injury, worked the count to 3-2 on Reds pitcher Joe Nuxhall.

With Tom Haller aboard Orlando hit Nuxhall's next serve high and far over the centerfield fence, then jogged triumphantly around the bases in what had to be his biggest moment of otherwise a wasted season.

Haller had reached first by forcing Hal Lanier, who had opened the fateful bottom of the ninth with his third hit, a single. Lanier previously had hit two doubles.

Franks, beside himself because of the Giants' apparent lack of clutch-hiting in the last four games, said Cepeda was "ordered" to hit the homer.

"I told him to hit one for me or don't bother talking to me again," Franks explained, smiling for the first time in more than a week as his Giants stayed alive in the waning National League pennant chase.

"He owed me one at this stage," Franks continued, and then thought out loud "I wonder what would have happened if he played all year."

The homer was Cepeda's first of 1965 and only his sixth hit overall. It came on his 32nd at bat.

He didn't have much trouble negotiating the bases on his homer but the trace of a limp was there.

"My leg is okay," Cepeda explained, "But it still is a little weak."

Franks said Nuxhall "was made to order for Cepeda."

By that, he explained that Orlando still doesn't have his timing and with a pitcher such as Nuxhall, who doesn't throw fast balls, Cepeda had a good chance to get the fat part of his bat on the ball.

Homers by Vada Pinson, Deron Johnson (both off Juan Marichal) and Frank Robinson accounted for all the Cincinnati runs. The Giants scored a single run in the first inning on two singles and Willie Mays' sacrifice fly, one in the fourth on Jim Hart's homer and one in the eighth on a double by Hart and a single by Jay Alou.

Tonight, with only three games left to play, Bob Bolin (13-5) goes against Sammy Ellis (21-10). On Saturday, Bob Shaw (16-8) opposes Jim O'Toole (3-9) and in Sunday's finale it will be Marichal (22-13) against Jim Maloney (20-9).

Marichal started for the Giants yesterday and left in the bottom of the seventh when he dislocated his left thumb while running out a double. The injury was not believed serious enough to prevent him from pitching in what could be the game that decides the N.L. pennant.

Murakami took over for Marichal yesterday and the only hit he gave up in two innings was Robinson's homer. Cepeda's homer took care of matters, though, and rewarded Murakami with his fourth victory in five decisions. Nuxhall, who went all the way, took his fourth loss against 11 victories.

Marin Prep Grid Championship Race Opens Tomorrow

Unbeaten Terra Linda, Novato Elevens Clash

Novato High School's Hornets football team, thought to have the best chance of dethroning Drake for Marin Athletic League championship honors, plays host to the Terra Linda High School Trojans tomorrow in opening round league action.

That game on the Hornets' playground gets under way at 2 p.m.

Both teams are unbeaten going into the league opener. Terra Linda whipped Clayton Valley 19-0 and beat Ukiah 12-6 in its two non-league encounters. Novato opened the season with a 20-0 drubbing of College Park and then tied tough Petaluma 20-20.

It has been a great start for two new head coaches. Brad Squires was an assistant coach at Terra Linda last year and Harry Moore was an assistant at Novato, and both moved up to the head coaching spots for this season.

Terra Linda will be going into the game tomorrow yith no major injuries, and Squires is thankful for that. "We don't have much depth this year," said Squires. "We can't afford too many injuries."

John Clifford, top runner for the Trojans, may be slowed down a little because of a charley horse, but chances are he'll be okay by gametime.

Terra Linda quarterback Sid Norman has been working on short pass plays this past week of practice, trying to pick out more receivers. He has been mainly throwing to wingback John Forry, his top receiver, and as a result, Ukiah was double and triple-manning him.

Squires knows he doesn't have an easy job in front of him. "Novato could be the toughest team we face all season, only time will tell," he said. Squires has inserted a few new plays for tomorrow's game because he knows his team has been well scouted. "But we have no changes in personnel," he said.

Because of his lack of depth, Squires feels the weather should play an important role in tomorrow's game. "We don't have the manpower for a lot of heat." And if this Indian summer continues in Marin, it should be pretty hot on the field in Novato.

Like Terra Linda, Novato will open the league season with no major injuries, so Moore hasn't changed any of his starting lineup.

The Hornets will not have any tricks up their sleeves, and Moore says they'll stick with their "ground 'em out" type offense. "We hope to beat Terra Linda on our basic stuff," said Moore, and that basic stuff is muscle. Novato has some big boys in that front wall and tailback Dick Otis, the league's top runner last year, is a hard-nosed lad who can pick up the yardage. He reeled off 269 yards in the two practice games.

"We have a good line," said Moore, "but Terra Linda has a fine line too. Terra Linda is a spirited ball club, and we know we can't let up against them."

A "standing room only" crowd is expected for this grid battle, which should be quite a scrap.

Probably starting offensive lineups:

TERRA LINDA

NOVATO

REDWOOD IN NON-LEAGUE TILT TONIGHT

Redwood High School Giants, first team with a bye in the Marin Athletic League, entertain Salinas High gridders tonight in a practice game at Kentfield, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The Giants will be trying for their third straight non-league victory, after posting a pair of upsets on the slate. Redwood was expected to lose its games with Mount Diablo and DeAnza, but instead won 'em, 6-0 and 14-12.

Redwood will again be displaying its new brand of football tonight, and it's an exciting offense. Quarterback Dane Durham gets the direct snap from center on some plays, and on other plays the ball is centered to his left to either the halfback or fullback.

UNBEATENS

San Rafael, Tam Vie At Kentfield

San Rafael and Tamalpais high schools open the Marin Atheletic League football campaign tomorrow when they clash in Kentfield at 1:30.

The Bulldogs of San Rafael and Indians of Mill Valley will be going into the game with unbeaten records after practice game triumphs. San Rafael, favored to beat the Indians, whipped McClymonds of Oakland 8-0 and Montgomery of Santa Rosa 13-7. Tam surprised Riordan 14-12 and then upended Skyline of Oakland 16-6.

The game will be broadcast over Radio Station KTIM, live from Kentfield.

Willie Hector, head coach at Tam, feels tomorrow's game with San Rafael will be the roughest test yet for his chargers. "We'll just have to play hard-nosed football," said Hector.

CHIEF INDIAN

A big part of the Indians' attack is the running of sophomore halfback Mike Fowler. After running wild and scoring both touchdowns against Riordan of San Francisco, Fowler was stopped cold by Skyline. With Fowler not able to get the wide stuff, the Indians instead sent fullback Kirk Sparks up the middle and that paid off.

"The kids are really up for this game," said Hector. "We want to get out of the second division and get some respect in this league."

Over at the San Rafael camp the injury list lengthens. Coach Bob Muster learned of bad news concerning one of his top linemen, Mike Rosso, hurt in the Montgomery game. He will be out for the remainder of the season because of a knee injury. "The was one of the best linemen we've had," said Muster. Rosso, who was a tackle on offense and middle linebacker on defense, is now scheduled for a knee operation, said Muster.

Quarterback Roger Widmer, also hurt in the Montgomery game, will suit up but will not see much action. Bill Joost will start in his place. First string end Joe Cunningham is still out, along with Roger's brother, Jay Widmer. And it doesn't end there. Defensive back Ward Hayter is definitely out of the game with a shoulder injury, and so is defensive tackle Scott Anderson, with a hurt toe.

Because of all the injuries, Muster had his boys in contact drills, but stayed away from scrimmaging all week. "But we've got a group of boys," tremendous attitude in the face said Muster. "They have a tremendous attitude in the face of all those injuries."

Probable starting lineups:

TAMALPAIS

SAN RAFAEL

Sam Crowell, le; Ken Beerbower, lt; Gordon Jones, lg; Darryl Ralston, c; Ed Pascoe, rg; John Balzan, rt; Bill Tetu, re; Bill Joost, qb; Shawn Easley, lh; Tom Gagen, fb; Rocky Shone, rh.

Lefty Star Leads Bears Vs. Invading Kansas '11'

Left-handed Dan Berry, the quarterback who nearly engineered a major upset a week ago, leads the California Bears tomorrow at Berkeley in their clash with Kansas as both seek their first 1965 victory.

California fell to Notre Dame 48-6 in the opener and trailed Michigan 10-0 at halftime last Saturday before Berry pulled the club together, finally bowing 10-7.

A quick runner, the junior college transfer from San Diego must be watched closely on the option run-pass plays.

Aerial minded Kansas lost to Texas Tech 26-6 in a windstorm shortened opener and then fell to Arizona 23-15. Quarterbacks Bill Fenton and Bob Skahan share the throwing with Sim Stokes the favorite receiver.

The Jayhawks were hurt when Willie Ray Smith, who caught a scoring pass on a 97-yard play against Texas Tech, injured his left knee against Arizona. Coach Jack Mitchell shifted Stokes from slot back to split end and put sophomore Dick Abernethy into the backfield.

"We've got to win somewhere and it's probably going to be out there," Mitchell declared.

Lloyd Reist, Tom Relles and Ron Minamide again are slated to open in the California offensive backfield.

Coach Ray Willsey of California commented, "We hope our defense can hold Kansas, if not shut them out. Perhaps Kansas will provide more color than we will, but we are hoping for our first win."

Berry provides the Bears a triple threat back. In addition to running and passing, he leads the Pacific Athletic Conference in punting with an average of 42.9 yards for his 14 kicks.

The kickoff is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. with a crowd of about 35,000 anticipated in Cal's Memorial Stadium.

Semi-Pro Builders Now Play Under Palms Name

Whitey Litchfield, owner of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael and big Marin County sports enthusiast, has re-entered the semi-pro baseball scene.

Litchfield has taken over the winter sponsorship of a fine baseball team that has been playing under the banners of the Billings-Hutchison Builders for the past five years.

The team, now playing under the name of "Litchfields," will be competing in the San Francisco Triple A Winter League which starts play Sunday, Oct. 17. Manager of the team is Joe Anselmo of San Rafael. Most of the players on the team are Marin residents and some are playing minor league baseball.

Litchfield is no stranger to semi-pro baseball and he is well remembered as a Little League booster and sponsor. He also had a team in the Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League last year.

Following the completion of the winter league, in which all games will be played in San Francisco, the Litchfields will play home games in San Rafael.

The team, under the new sponsorship, will play the Flying Goose nine in a practice game Sunday, 2 p.m., at Garrigan field in San Francisco. Scheduled to pitch for Litchfields Sunday are Ron Cole and Steve Milier, two Houston Astros minor leaguers.

Strawberry Swim Club Elects New Officers

Strawberry Swim Club, meeting this week at Strawberry Point School, elected new officers.

They are Don Fraser, president; Alfred Goldberg, vice president, and Mrs. Louise Jadot, secretary. New board members are Mrs. Margaret O'Brien and Lawrence E. Brock.

Clippers Race This Weekend

The 19th annual Clipper Class yachting championship series will be held tomorrow and sunday on Richardson Bay.

This year's entry list is larger than ever and promises to provide stiff competition for the small boat sailors. Last year's champ, Scott Harris, is favored to repeat.

Two races will be held Sunday.

TWO NIGHT GAMES ON GRID MENU TOMORROW

Marin County football fans will have two Saturday night attractions on the calendar this week—one on home soil and the other abroad.

Drake High's Pirates open defense of their Marin Athletic League title against the Marin Catholic Wildcats at 8 tomorrow night while at the same time at Vallejo's Corbus Field the College of Marin Tars battle the Vallejo Junior College Falcons. Advance stories on those important games will appear in tomorrow's Independent-Journal.

What's This? A Free Title Fight On TV?

NEW YORK (AP) — Fight fans around the country may get one of their rare free looks these nights at a live title scrap on television if negotiations are completed with a network for the Joey Giardello-Dick Tiger middleweight bout.

Champion fights on home television used to be as common as situation comedy shows and soap operas. In recent years, most of the big fights have gone on closed circuit television to theaters and arenas.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for Madison Square Garden, said yesterday he is negotiating a deal for home television of Giardello's title defense against ex-champ Dick Tiger of Nigeria at the Garden, Oct. 21.

If the deal is made, the metropolitan area may be blacked out of the television to protect the live gate.

The fighters resumed training today after interrupting their daily grind yesterday to sign official contracts at offices of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Giardello has been guaranteed $50,000, or 40 per cent of the net receipts and television payments. Tiger, who lost the crown to the Cherry Hill, N.J., veteran Dec. 7, 1963, will get the challenger's end of a $15,000 guarantee, or 20 per cent of everything.

Tam Runners Win

Tamalpais varsity cross country runners edged Drake 27-29 yesterday on the 1.8 mile Drake course. Drake junior varsity runners avenged the loss by turning back Tam, 25-30, in the inverted scoring system.

Punt, Pass, Kick Contest Slated

Southern Marin's Punt, Pass and Kick contest will be held Oct. 9, 10 a.m., on the Optimist field at Project 17, it was announced yesterday by the Mill Valley Recreation and Parks Department.

Entry blanks can be picked up at J and B Ford Co., or from the afterschool playground leaders at Old Mill and Edna Maguire schools. Entry deadline is Oct. 8.

The national contest is open to boys 8 through 13.

Indians At Air Force; Trojans Seek Revenge

Southern California's Trojans gun to avenge their big disappointment of 1964 when they battle the football forces of Oregon State at the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday night.

A year ago, the two clubs didn't play each other and wound up tied for the Pacific Athletic Conference crown with 3-1 records. The conference voted the Rose Bowl bid to OSU on the same day the Trojans finished their season with a 20-17 upset over previously unbeaten Notre Dame.

This time, USC goes into the game with a 1-0-1, record, having downed Wisconsin and fought a 20-20 tie with Minnesota. Oregon State beat Illinois 12-10, then fell to Iowa 27-7.

Mike Garrett, leading the PAC rushers with 300 yards for his two outings, leads the Southern California attack in this first conference game of the campaign.

Washington State's surprising Cougars, with victories over Iowa and Minnesota, take on neighboring Idaho while the other PAC clubs continue their intersectional battling.

California entertains Kansas, Stanford plays at Air Force, UCLA at Penn State, Ohio State at Washington in a televised game, and Brigham Young at Oregon.

San Jose plays host to Utah State in a night game between independents while Hawaii, still seeking its first mainland triumph, meets University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Quarterback Tom Roth leads Washington State's bid to win three-in-a-row but the Cougars must stop big Ray McDonald, the Vandal fullback who has gained 162 yards rushing in two gams. Also the Idaho defense has allowed an average of only 73 yards per game rushing while losing to Washington and beating San Jose State.

Stanford, held to a 7-7 tie by a stubborn Navy defense, aims to develop more offense against the Air Force which has beaten the Indians in the only two previous meetings. A week ago, the Falcons came back from a 21-0 deficit against powerful Nebraska for a 21-17 final score as Paul Stein's passes riddled the Cornhuskers.

UCLA had an open date last Saturday to prepare for Penn State. Each club has played and lost to Michigan State this year —The Bruins 13-3 and the Nittany Lions 23-0.

Pacific Tennis Tourney Upset

BERKELEY (AP) — Chuck Darley, a University of California sophomore, is the surprise in the Pacific Coast International Tennis Championships.

Darley, 19, upset seeded Richard Russell of Kingston, Jamaica, yesterday 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Darley, not seeded, was Cal's frosh captain and comes from Rochester, Minn.

Darley is paired against Frank Froehling of Miami today.

Both top-seeded Cliff Drysdale of South Africa and second-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., advanced yesterday. Drysdale defeated Lew Gerrard of New Zealand, 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. Ralston downed Donald Deil of Bethesda, Md., 8-6, 6-3.

Giant Pitching Staff Did A Fine Job—And So Did Franks

CONNOLLY

The Giants needed "IT" starting off the season, tried valiantly and got some relief without "IT" in mid-season, and then, when they sighted the promised land of a pennant, the "IT" they had been struggling with all season withered, wilted and completely sagged from over-exertion and fell apart.

I'm referring, of course, to the pitching staff of the S.F. club. You can't fault them; you can't say they quit. They just wore themselves out fighting odds too long to sustain them in a head-to-head crisis.

The sagging pitching staff didn't get too much help from the bombing bats of the slugging regulars, either. When the club did hit, they, the pitchers, really didn't need so much of it. But it seemed whenever the pitchers could crawl out of a bad situation with a couple basehits, our slugging friends deserted them.

THE FIRST signs of giant rigor mortis set in following defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals, who themselves had been laying dormant for many days. You could detect tenseness all along the line, including the great Willie Mays and the even languid Willie McCovey. But those members of the Giants who could "take it" were greatly outnumbered by those who didn't have the experience needed for a gruelling "pressure struggle" demanded this season.

THERE MAY be some critics who will challenge the managerial tactics of Herman Franks, a freshman manager. But Herman had no other alternative than to "chew up" his pitching staff. He was "short" from the kickoff both in talent and in numbers. He did the best he could with an ordinary lot.

Herman's development of the bullpen to the high point of efficiency can be blamed on the failure of his starting pitchers When the starters began to weaken, the extra load on the relievers was increased and it sagged along with the ever-weakening bats of the booming Giant fence busters.

THOSE WHO like Manager Walter Alston point out he preserved sanity among his regular starters and never once endangered them for regular use. In that respect he wasn't much different from Manager Franks, except the Dodgers' regular pitchers were a lot sturdier and much more effective than were the Giant flingers.

It is pretty evident that a ball club with pennant aspirations can hardly expect it without at least one effective southpaw. The Giants never had one all year, except what was prouded in relievers like Masanori Murakami, Bill Henry and the vet, Warren Spahn, a late starter.

IF THE rebuilding plans of the Giants are in the hands of Manager Herman you can just bet he'll go after a strong hitting shortstop-second base combination. Those two items should rate high priority during the coming winter trading season.

In case you're looking for something to blame for the Giants' slide, it is easy to point to the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro unpleasantness. That ruckus broke up the Giant pitching continuity, for sure, and while it cemented the players' will to win, etc., the club never quite recovered. And neither did Juan.

Sisler Out As Manager Of Reds?

By JOE SARGIS

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Outspoken Dick Sisler admitted today reports that he was about to be fired as manager of the Cincinnati Reds have him worried "and if they are true I wish they'd make the announcement soon."

Sisler, whose one-year contrac runs out on the last day of the 1965 season, said he thought he had done a good job with the Reds this year, "when you consider what happened to our pitching."

"Our hitting was just great," he said, "but our pitching let us down.

"If our pitching had been as good this year as it was in 1964, I honestly think we would have won the National League pennant.

"When four of the pitchers you are depending on all come down with elbow injuries then you are in trouble, deep trouble, and that's what happened to us."

Sisler, named interim manager in mid-1964 to fill in for the then ailing Fred Hutchinson, almost won the flag for the Reds a year ago, taking them to the final day of the season before the St. Louis Cardinals swept through.

"We might have won it this year if Sammy Ellis was as good in the second half of the season as he was in the first," Sisler expalined. "And if Joe Nuxhall, Joey Jay, Jim Maloney and John Tsitouris hadn't been shelved one time or another by elbow injuries, who knows, we may have had the flag all wrapped up by now instead of just playing out the season."

The Reds were eliminated from the flag chase on Wednesday when they lost their third straight game to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Now, with three games left to play, they are fighting to hold third place from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Many Fire Station Open Houses Set For Fire Prevention Week

All fire departments in Marin will distribute brochures on fire protection to schools and in public places, and most departments will conduct open houses during Fire Prevention Week, starting Sunday.

Several companies will give special demonstrations at schools of equipment or of particular fire hazards. Movies and film strips will be shown and school contests will be staged.

San Rafael engine and truck companies will visit each school in the district to give talks on fire prevention. Equipment will be displayed and fire operations will be demonstrated at special shows 6 to 8 p.m. next Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 9.

The Sausalito Fire Department will demonstrate its snorkel truck 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Central and Bayside schools in Sausalito. A contest will be held for posters and composition of limericks on fire prevention in Sausalito schools.

Children in the schools will also be asked to take home inspection forms for home fire safety, to be signed by parents.

The Kentfield Fire Department will give home fire demonstrations and hand out special brochures on fire dangers in woods and brush land. Tamalpais Fire District will give demonstrations of stove and oven fires, showing how they may be prevented or handled.

Marinwood's fire department will give a demonstration in use of fire extinguishers for school teachers.

The Novato department will place posters in public places, barber shops, beauty shops and professional waiting rooms, in addition to distributing home inspection blanks through the schools.

Open houses are set 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily for the Alto, Fairfax, Larkspur, Marin County, San Anselmo, Ross, Tiburon, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Tamalpais, San Rafael and Kentfield firehouses.

School demonstrations have been set by the Novato, Marinwood, Sausalito, Mill Valley, Larkspur, San Anselmo, San Rafael, Kentfield and Terra Linda departments.

Ike Bemused Over Actions In Emergency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he often wonders why he did not perform better during the crises of his administration.

Eisenhower told a Washington Post Book and Author lunch yesterday that he had been checking the statements he made at the time of the Suez crisis, the Little Rock school integration episode and other highlights of his eight years in the White House while writing a two-volume history of his presidency.

Often, he said, he gets a mental picture of himself at the time. "You see a poor, rather stupid fellow sitting behind a desk and you wonder why he couldn't do better than that. Unfortunately, that picture comes up too often," he said.

Freighter, Barge Collide In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Japanese freighter Louisiana Maru and a train barge collided off Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay at 7:09 a.m. today, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard said there were no reports of injuries.

The Japanese ship dropped anchor while the training barge continued on. The freighter had minor damage to its bow, the Coast Guard said.

Yerba Buena is adjacent to Treasure Island.

The Coast Guard said it had no idea what caused the collision.

Trained In Photos

Airman 3c Charles R. Robinson, son of Mrs. Letha Robinson of 128 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, has graduated from the course for photographers at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., and been assigned to Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Enrollment Off At U.C. Berkeley

BERKELEY (AP) — University of California enrollment in the undergraduate and graduate schools at Berkeley dropped 2.5 per cent this fall.

The university released figures yesterday showing a 6.5 per cent drop in the undergraduate body. There are now 16,588 undergraduates.

The graduate body increased 5 per cent to 10,131, but there as an overall decline.

Two Men, A Girl Held In Shooting Of Taxi Driver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Yellow Cab driver was shot and robbed by a customer at Bush and Baker streets in San Francisco last night, police said.

Cab driver Jack Sperry, about 50, as described in fair condition at Children's Hospital. A bullet was lodged in his jaw.

Police arrested two men and a 15-year-old girl, seen fleeing the scene in a 1965 car, several hours after the pre-midnight shooting.

Duane Gray, 21, and Clarence Tomando, 22, were booked on suspicion of shooting and suspicion of robbery. It was not immediately learned who had fired the revolver.

The girl, whose identity was withheld, as turned over to juvenile authorities.

Spring Arrives For Antarctica

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—Air traffic to U.S. bases in the Antarctic resumed today with the end of winter there.

Four ski-equipped Navy Hercules transports left just after midnight for the 2,250-mile flight to the main American base at McMurdo Sound.

The planes carried 4,300 pounds of mail for the 289 Americans who have spent six months of winter isolation on the southernmost continent. The planes also carried 134 passengers.

Electronics Trainee

Airman Stephen W. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. James of 1743 Center Road, Novato, has been selected for training at Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., as a communications-electronics specialist. He recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

P-TA Needs Volunteers In Sausalito

Positions are now open for volunteer-assistants in the varied programs of the Sausalito School District Parent-Teacher Assn.

Tutors, library aides, teacher aides, room mothers and playground and lunchroom aides are being recruited Many hours have been contributed in the first three categories by women living elsewhere than in Sausalito, and it is hoped more will be interested this year.

Tutors assist in the Marin Study Center program to provide students in grades 3-12 with help in subjects of special interest or difficulty. It will begin its third year with a parent-tutor orientation program Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Richardson Bay School auditorium.

Prospective tutors, who need not be professional teachers, may apply to Mrs. Iniece Bailey of Mill Valley, program coordinator, or to her assistant, Mrs. A. C. Anderson.

Library aides make it possible for the libraries at Central and Richardson Bay Schools to remain open during the lunch hours. Volunteers assist children in finding books and checking them out at a time when the library is normally closed. Those interested in helping at Richardson Bay may call Mrs. Andrew Kozak of Sausalito of Mrs. Dorothy Tolpegin, librarian; at Central School, Mrs. Nancy Polk of Marin City or Mrs. Estelle Sutherlin, librarian.

Those wishing information may call the principal of the school in which they would like to serve: A. L. Anderson at Central School; R. W. Magnuson at Bayside and Manzanita; or R. D. Thomson at Richardson Bay.

Room mothers help teachers with parties, outings and special events requiring extra personnel or supplied supplies. Mrs. Eugene Huggins of Sausalito is in charge.

ASIA SPOTLIGHTED

A capacity crowd of 200 women attended the Outdoor Art Club's "Song of India" fashion luncheon yesterday at the clubhouse in Mill Valley. Featured were costumes in Thailand silks and Thai dance performed by Shelley Smith, who was an exchange student from Tamalpais High School to Thailand last year. From left are Mrs. Richard Rider, who modeled one of the silk costumes, Mrs. Alan Ewen, who planned the event, Mrs. E. H. Laid, wearing one of the informal ensembles shown and Shelley Smith.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

A Never-Performed Chopin Work Uncovered By Pianists

By MOLLY MARIN

Culmination of a James Bond-type adventure came last week for Mill Valley's internationally known concert pianists Milton and Peggy Salkind when they received a photostatic copy of a never performed four-hand, one-piano work by Chopin.

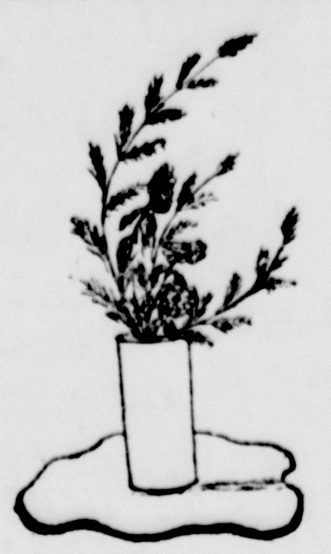
On a concert tour last spring they were riding on a train from Rome to Florence when they read a little item in the paper about the work being discovered in a private home in Florence. Never published, it was thought to have been lost during World War II.

The Salkinds had several interviews in Poland regarding it and, through friends in West Berlin who had other influential friends, they finally obtained rights to give the first performance in America. They will give the very first performance, however, in a concert next month in Vancouver, Canada.

After spending considerable time studying the new work, they say it is very good and are delighted to be able to add it to their repertoire.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY MILLARD HEILBRON entertained Sunday at a cocktail party at their home in Mill Valley honoring their future daughter-in-law, Mary Leigh Ferrell. Mary, who is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lee F. Ferrell of Scott Air Force Base, Ill., will become the bride of the Heilbrons' son, Henry Millard Heilbron Jr. of Mill Valley on Dec. 18. Among the 70 guests attending the party were 27 cousins from both sides of the Heilbron family.

MRS. MERVYN COWEN'S home on the Belvedere Lagoon was the scene of a luncheon party last week marking the end of the summer session of the Sausalito Woman's Club clay modeling class. When the clubhouse closed at the end of its year, Mrs. Cowen continued the class in Belvedere as instructor.



Among guests were Mesdames Richard E. Cruikshank, W. T. Duggan, Robert M. Gunn, Cyril G. Hansen, Clyde Hooper, Felix J. Johnson, Walter Lord, Robert McGill, Clayton D. Mote, Morton Meyer, Merrell A. Sission, James W. Smith, Chester V. Solberg, Jack Summerill, Leonard S. Wood and Ray Zimmer.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY A. RASLEY of Sausalito have as their guest Mrs. Rasley's niece, Mrs. Watson MacNaught of Canada. Mrs. MacNaught, wife of the minister of mines and technical survey for Canada, arrived from British Columbia where she and her husband attended a mines ministers' conference at Victoria.

THE KENT O. SEYMOURS are being feted at a number of bon voyage parties preceding their three months' around-the-world tour starting Oct. 9. Among them — Saturday the William A. Hamiltons will be hosts at a dinner party for 25 guests at their home in Mill Valley. Last Saturday Mrs. E. M. Shelton was hostess at a dinner for 12 at her home in Belvedere, and the preceding weekend the Hugh Carruthers entertained honoring the Seymours at a dinner party at their home in Kent Woodlands.

The Seymours will take the "C. C. Dant," a new ship, to Japan and fly the remainder of the trip. Points on their itinerary will be India, Egypt, Hong Kong, Singapore and the Holy Land before they continue their around-the-world journey. They expect to spend about a week at Christmas in Poona, India, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaplan Werner. Susan and her husband, both graduate students at Harvard, will be stopping in Mill Valley en route to India next week, where she will be doing work on a doctorate in anthropology and he in political science.

While the Seymours are gone their house will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Dickens, who have just sold their Mill Valley home.

MRS. HELEN KITCHAK and Donald F. Donohue of Novato were married in Reno on Sept. 20. The new Mrs. Donohue is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Kane of San Rafael and Mr. Donohue is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Frank Donohue of Novato. Mr. Donohue is the owner of the Novato Theater and Tiburon Playhouse. They will reside in Novato.

BRIDAL SHOWERS have been given to honor Christopher Vogel, who will become the bride of Robert Eugene Maxwell of Long Beach this winter. The bride-elect, who is the daughter of the Arthur P. Vogels of Tiburon, was feted by Donna Schneider at the Lagoon home of her parents, the Russell Schneiders, and also at a party at the Belvedere island home of Mrs. E. Lincoln Gould. The future bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Maxwell of Long Beach, has just completed four years with the Marine Corps.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WEATHERSTONE of Novato arrived home Wednesday after a 10 day stay at the Reef Hotel on Waikiki Beach in Honolulu.

Roberta Rice Bride Of William B. Cole

Roberta Torrey Rice of Palos Verdes Estates became the bride of William Bonar Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Cole of Ross, at 4 p.m. on Sept. 11 at St. Francis Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Robert Tourigney performed the double ring ceremony in which Roberta, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Angell Rice of Palos Verdes Estates, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length white satin gown in empire style trimmed in pearl and lace appliques.

Cathy Cole of Ross, sister of the bridegroom, wore an empire styled gown of green satin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids, identically dressed, were Lynne Thomas of Palos Verdes Estates, and Mesdames Henry Curci of Monterey, Dennis Goering of Houston and Harold Dawson of Chico.

Serving his brother as best man was Perry Walker Cole of Georgetown, Md., and ushering were John Pelkan of Belvedere, Peter Brown of Walnut Grove, Harold Engle of Ross, Earll Riley III of San Marino, Herbert Haworth of Piedmont and John and Peter Rice of Los Angeles, brothers of the bride.

Following a reception at the home of the bride, the couple boarded a helicopter to the airport in Los Angeles and a wedding trip to Acapulco.

The bride was graduated from Katharine Branson School and University of California, where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. The bridegroom, a former member of the Bachelors in San Francisco, was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

Pre-School Child Perks Up To Hoot 'N Holler Reading

NEW YORK (UPI) — Parents reading to pre-school children often must whistle, wheeze or sneeze, hoot and holler.

Making all those noises, as required by a particular story, enlivens the reading. It also helps to develop reading readiness in children.

But there's no rest for the weary. The reading aloud should continue even after the children are of school age, say the editors of Encyclopedia Americana. It helps improve the children's study habits.

ENCOURAGE FAMILY get-togethers where the members read aloud, the editors said. This stimulates intellectual curiosity. And once the curiosity has been awakened, it doesn't take too much more to instill a desire to study.

In addition to reading aloud, you can start the ignition system of a child's intellectual curiosity by encouraging lively discussions around the dinner table.

Subjects can range all the way from son's school activities to a report by his father on what happened that day in the business world. Also bring up national events and sports.

Also in the brain-nurturing department, consider this: there isn't any doubt that if Dad spends his evenings in front of the television set, son and daughter will, too.

Reading by parents is a far better example than is parental squatting in front of television sets all the time.

CREATING THE PROPER physical environment is an important second step towards developing good study habits. While every youngster can't have his own room, each should have a nook of his own somewhere in the house. It ought to be organized and decorated to make study enjoyable.

A third important consideration: establishing a sensible study routine. It may seem onerous. But once it is done, you'll wonder why you didn't do it years ago.

The average student in junior high school needs from 12 to 15 hours a week for homework, and the need for the average high school student jumps from 15 to 18 hours.

The simplest method for establishing the right study routine: sit down with child and plan a schedule, much as you plan the family budget or a cleaning schedule.

Welcome Club Sets Luncheon

The Welcome Wagon Club of Marin County will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show at Peacock Gap Country Club on Oct. 12 for the benefit of the Kindergarten for Mentally Retarded Children.

There will be a social hour at 11 a.m. and luncheon at noon. Mrs. Harry Dunkerton of Kentfield is chairman, and Mrs. Yvonne Mumma of Terra Linda is co-chairman.

The committee members are Mesdames Charles Mills, Kentfield; Harold Malloy, Glenwood; Thomas Irvine, San Rafael, and Wendell Reilly, San Rafael.

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes Is Bride In San Francisco

Patricia Sullivan Byrnes became the bride of John Omizzolo of Belvedere in a ceremony performed Tuesday by Superior Court Judge Byron Arnold.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Sullivan of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates. He is the owner of the Veneto Restaurant in San Francisco. The marriage took place in a Fairmont Tower suite which also was the site of a reception for their immediate families.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harold A. Nichelini of Larkspur, served as matron of honor. Best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Tony Cincotta of San Francisco.

After a wedding trip in the Northwest the couple will reside at 45 Eagle Dr., Novato.

Miss de Ryk Will Marry John Keating

Mr. and Mrs. William F. de Ryk of San Rafael are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Joan de Ryk to John Joseph Keating Jr.

Margaret is a graduate of San Rafael High School and attended College of Marin. She is now employed as a dental assistant.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating of San Rafael. His sister is Mrs. Edwin Gearhart of Sacramento. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin, and is now employed with Marin County Abstract and Title Co.

The wedding has been set for Jan. 8 at St. Paul's Church in San Rafael.

'MAGIC LADY' INTRODUCED

Members welcomed prospective members at the B'nai B'rith Women, TaMar Chapter's Blintz Brunch yesterday. Prospective member Mrs. Bernard Stein, seated, enjoyed the antics of Mesdames William Falcon, hostess with wand, and Stephen Cohen, president, as they introduced the "Magic Lady" dummy. Shorter Boots

As the boot rises in fashion's esteem, it is actually moving lower on the leg, reports Leather Industries of America. Most popular heights to be reached this season will be ankle and below-calf levels, so flattering with the new shorter skirts. Where taller boots are seen, they will be leg-hugging and simple, keeping fashion focus on the beauty of the leather.

Important 'Don'ts' For Glass Fabrics

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI) — Care of curtains or draperies made of fiberglas involves three important "don'ts".

These are: Don't put the fabric in a washing machine. Some fiberglas fabrics are machine washable, but most are not. Don't dry clean. Don't iron. Dry cleaning solvents will dissolve the finish which protects the fabric and keeps it supple. Ironing will also damage. The fabrics are "ironed" forever when they leave the factory.

ON THE AFFIRMATIVE side, here are suggestions for care of the fabrics.

Gently shake out dust and dirt. Since dirt cannot penetrate glass fibers, much of the soil can be removed this way.

Remove weights and hooks and place the draperies lengthwise in a tub of warm water containing suds of a mild detergent. Remove spots or stains by carefully working the detergent into the wet fabric with fingertips.

LET THE FABRIC soak 30 minutes, then swish to float off dirt. Rinse thoroughly in clean, warm water. Bleaching is not desirable, and colored or printed fiberglas should never be bleached. If necessary, a perborate (never chlorine) bleach can be used on white.

Drip dry the fabrics, hanging them over a shower rod or clothesline. Re-hang draperies when all the excess moisture is gone, without the touch of an iron. To prevent soil and wear, hang draperies so they do not rub against window sills, radiators or floors. Use fingers to smooth out hems and take out any creases.

Parent-Teacher Assn. Sets Italian Dinner, Program

The San Clemente Parent-Teacher Assn. plans to take 300 families on a two-hour gourmet tour of Italy on Oct. 20, when they will host the first of San Clemente's family dinner nights. Theme of the dinner will be "Buon Prango in Italia" and will feature Italian cusine. Mrs. Jay Simon is in charge assisted by Mesdames Jack Feldman, Richard Spawn, John Gilbert, Henry Bigall, Robert Tiboli, Robert Troppmann, George Hebbard, William Whiteside, John Nichols and Sam Bunnell.

Following dinner an entertaining program of Italian folk dancing will be provided by the Marin Folk Dance Council.

Robert Johnson, principal, will be in charge of entertainment provided by fifth and sixth grade students.

The dinner will be held in San Clemente's multi-use room starting at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are sold at the San Clemente School library between noon and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, and by Mrs. Simon.

Marjorie Curran Marries Lawrence Poore In Mission

Mission San Rafael Arcangel was the setting on Sept. 1 for the wedding of Marjorie Curran of San Rafael and Lawrence Poore of Belmont.

The Rev. John Kennedy officiated for the 10:30 a.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Curran of San Rafael.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white suit.

Marilee McDonough of San Francisco and Paul Henderson of Belmont City attended the couple.

The bride was graduated from San Rafael High School and is the sister of Pam, Gussie, Kathy and Nolan Curran of San Rafael.

The bridegroom, who is serving with the U. S. Army, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Poore of Belmont City.

Humor Workshop To Be Given By Toastmistresses

"We Can Learn to be Humorous" is the title of a workshop to be given by Marin Toastmistress Club for members and their guests on Thursday at Sabella's Restaurant in Mill Valley. Women interested in learning public speaking are invited to attend the no-host dinner, and the program at 8 p.m. Mrs. Lloyd Allen of Corte Madera is in charge.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Vera Haven of Mill Valley.

Low Wattage

Older people might consider installing low-wattage night lights to provide helpful illumination for hallways. The lights use very little extra electricity.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

There are some 450 amateur radio enthusiasts in Marin County. And of that number, approximately 100 belong to the Marin Amateur Radio Club, active in a wide variety of community service programs. Just how these "hams" serve their fellow Marinites, and disaster victims at distant points as well, will be told in tomorrow's I-J Marin Magazine. It is the story of an unusual hobby that has many practical uses.

St. Raphael's Parochial School is a familiar landmark almost in the heart of San Rafael's business district. In a faraway Mexican village, there is another school that bears the same name —and which has close ties to the Marin school. It is St. Raphael del Sur, built by Los Amigos volunteers in the town of La Viellta. Margaret Zimmerman reports on this humanitarian project and its Marin links tomorrow.

Squeeze Tube Hassle Still On In Family

NEW YORK (UPI) — The problem of the big squeeze continues on the home front.

It divides families, causes arguments—and, for all practical purposes, defies solution.

It has to do with how to squeeze a toothpaste tube.

"Most women squeeze tubes haphazardly, while men usually squeeze from the bottom," said Rudi Schenk, a pioneer in the collapsible metal tube industry.

Schenk, whose career in the industry began in 1919, was instrumental in developing the first assembly-line methods of producing tubes.

He said the hassle began when toothpaste was first tubed in 1892.

Now, as Schenk sees it, the correct approach to a toothpaste tube is: Squeeze from the bottom and roll up the tube as you go along.

Most men use the correct approach because they're more technically minded than women, said Schenk.

"Women are impatient when it comes to mechanical matters," said Schenk. They just go ahead and squeeze the tube without giving it a second thought."

The situation may become even more complicated in view of the trend toward packaging everything from ski wax and court plaster to cosmetics and food in metal tubes.

Already such food products as mustard, cheese, anchovy paste, peanut butter, jam and cake frosting are sold in metal tubes.

The conflict may even spread to coffee.

Marin Dance Co-Op Plans Fall Registration Tomorrow

Just back from a European-Scandinavian triumph, Ann Halprin once again renews her interest in the Marin Dance Co-op. For the 17th season here in Marin County, Ann Halprin, Colly Goldsmith and Consuelo Sandoval will be instructing creative dance for pre-schoolers through high school students. This dance group is open to boys and girls.

Fall semester will begin on Oct. 9, with registration tomorrow between 10 and noon at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera.

Kindergarten groups will be under the instruction of Carolyn Goldsmith; the first grade through 8th grade will be taught by Ann Halprin; the teen-age group will be taught by Consuelo Sandoval.

Red, White Vinyl

Look for the shiny look in many of the young fashions for fall and winter. Many are made in vinyl, and white is a favorite color. One vinyl though is a bright red poncho lined in blue polka dot poplin.

Supervisors Made Blunder In Fairchild Tax Decision

We believe the Marin County Board of Supervisors blundered in its 3-2 decision to relieve Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. of the $7,377 penalty for understating its holdings during the past three years.

Not only was it a blunder; we consider it an affront to the other taxpayers who faithfully report their property values or suffer the consequences.

(Fairchild has paid the $29,500 in back taxes; it is the penalty for misstating the property values that is under consideration.)

The reasoning used by the majority of the supervisors seems shaky at best: That Fairchild should not be held responsible for errors or possibly fraudulent acts of the tax consultant, James C. Tooke, who prepared the property statement.

As one dissenting supervisor promptly pointed out, this could serve as a precedent for any individual taxpayer to hire a tax expert, then plead complete innocence and non-responsibility for the actions of the hired consultant.

We believe the proper stand should be to hold the company responsible for the $7,377 penalty. If the company has grievances against the tax consultant whom it hired to do the work, this should be a private matter between the company and the tax consultant.

The county should not maneuver itself into a position of serving as "collection agency" for the property owner.

A penalty for mis-stating the facts, or at least a penalty for late payment, is due and owing from the Fairchild property. It should not be the role of the supervisors to exonerate one of the principal responsible parties and to pinpoint the responsibility elsewhere.

The county has injected itself into a private argument between the tax consultant and client when it could have simply held the property owner responsible, period.

What action, if any, the company can or wants to take against an agent of its own choosing should be the company's concern, not Marin County's.

We hope our supervisors will reconsider. Their decision could start a dangerous precedent.

REASONS FOR HIRING OLDER WORKERS

The following five advantages of employing senior citizens came out of a recent government survey.

1. They have a better attendance record.
2. Being more careful, they are less prone to accidents.
3. Long experience gives them greater stability, as well as insight and judgment.
4. They are more loyal and appreciative.
5. They require less supervision.

Although older workers have certain limitations and a slower pace, they are ideal especially when quality rather than quantity is desired.

The human dignity of senior citizens and the worthwhile contribution they can make is something none of us should overlook.

You can be sure that God will bless and strengthen whatever steps you take both to appreciate the important contribution that can be made by older persons and help them engage in satisfying endeavors.

"Cast me not off in my old age; as my strength fails, forsake me not." (Psalm 70:9)

Make me mindful, O Holy Spirit, of the needs of older persons and inspire me to help them.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Carrow Sitting On Sidelines—May Be McCarthy Opposition

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

MAYOR ROBERT D. Carrow of Novato, who ran unsuccessfully for the state Assembly against Bill Bagley in 1962, may have his sights set on the State Senate race next year.

We doubt that he's made a definite decision as yet. It may all hinge on how the senate district is reapportioned.

At present, Senate Minority Leader John F. McCarthy, a Republican, represents one county, Marin. If realignment brings Sonoma and Napa Counties into the same district, then Democrat Joe Rattigan of Sonoma may have to battle it out with McCarthy for the one senate seat.

Rattigan is a Democrat of considerable stature. It is not likely that Democrat Carrow will go up against incumbent Democrat Rattigan.

BUT IF SENATOR Rattigan were to accept a judgeship and get out of the political scene, then it certainly wouldn't be surprising to see Carrow try for the senate.

We have very few "announced" candidates thus far, but several who seem to be showing some interest.

George McCabe of Santa Rosa appears to be gunning for another chance at Don Clausen's Congressional seat. At the same time, rumors persist that he's interested in some statewide position in the field of education.

Supervisor Tom Storer of Inverness is also showing up at the right places and should be considered a dark horse in the Congressional race.

IN THE ASSEMBLY, Republican Bill Bagley is in quite solidly, and the reapportionment is not likely to hurt him. He now represents Marin and Sonoma Counties. Voter registration in those two counties show a Democratic edge of 51.5 per cent.

With the reapportionment, if Marin and one-half of Sonoma become one district, the Democratic registration will drop to 49.8 per cent, giving the Republicans a slight edge.

The Democrats so far don't seem to be grooming anyone to oppose Bagley for the Assembly seat. The only one that looks anything like a possible candidate is Thomas Skornia of Ross, a young and articulate attorney.

He's head of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs, and has been active in the study of reapportionment problems in the First Congressional District caucus. You'll probably be hearing more about him, if not the coming elections, then two years from now.

LIBBY SMITH of Kent Woodlands is reported to be writing a book on local elections. She'd be a natural for such a publication.

She's a former newspaperwoman, and has been active in politics all the way from the local to the national, winding up as treasurer in the Kennedy Administration.

FRED ULLNER of Larkspur, who is dissolving the New Conservative Party to back Ronald Reagan, spoke up this week on another front.

As director of the Republicans for Conservative Action, he is asking Governor Brown to call out the National Guard to halt the teach-in demonstration scheduled in mid-October at the Oakland Army Terminal by the Viet Nam Day Committee.

Such a demonstration is a "disgrace to the state and to the nation," Ullner asserts.

Moon Mullins Faces Eradication Effort

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Haven't you done anything about (ugh!) Moon Mullins yet. It's terrible, and you're so slow about things! A friend and I have been working on a petition to get rid of him! Others have joined the MMWD (Moon Mullins Wipeout Department), and we'll send in the petition as soon as we're through. It's a real petition, not just names from the phone book, and we've been working hard. We'll be disappointed if you don't get rid of him.

Thank you, and wish us good luck!

Court's Redistrict Demands Challenged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The United States Supreme Court has declared that both houses of all state legislatures must be apportioned and elected by and from districts based on population only. This is cause for grave concern. It removes the checks and balances in lawmaking so wisely set up by the makers of our national and state constitutions and the very foundation of our governmental system.

The United States Supreme Court is a judicial body. Its powers and duties are listed in the United States Constitution. Determining the method of apportioning and electing the members of the state legislatures is not one of those powers or duties. That right is reserved to the states themselves. The Supreme Court is not a law-making body. However, the Supreme Court may declare unconstitutional any states law which is contrary to the Constitution.

The Constitution provides that the members of the Upper House of Congress (Senators) are to be elected by and from geographical districts and members of the Lower House (Representatives) are to be elected by and from population districts within each state. It can not be unconstitutional for the states to use this identical system in apportioning and electing its own state legislators, as they have been doing since the United States was founded.

Then by what Constitutional right or judicial reasoning did the Supreme Court make this decision?

Gasoline Tax Profit Grabbers Lambasted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Here's a bouquet of poison oak to the few independent Marin service station operators who failed to reduce their prices on Sept. 1 when the state gasoline tax was reduced one cent per gallon. These men should change their trade to carpentry where chiseling is a legitimate activity.

Fortunately, these stations are rather easy to spot as most of them are ashamed to display their prices openly. This makes it easy to recognize them and to avoid patronizing them.

Convert Courthouse To Other Purposes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael business community will have lost its mind if it lets the old Courthouse go down to destruction! In a totally undistinguished, Topsy - grown, dragged out, mixture of routine glass fronts and weary old stuccos, all set to a fixed line for miles, the Courthouse and its little park is the lone spot of human warmth and congeniality in the whole business area.

Here the visitor, or the native, can stop and pause a moment and feel that this spot is the center of the town which gives a tone and meaning to the whole. Its worth cannot be measured in actual dollars, but I am convinced that as it stands, the Courthouse is worth far more to San Rafael than any flashy, built-up, commercial exploitation can be.

I would heartily second Mr. Scruggs suggestion of a few days ago that the Courthouse be used to best advantage. Buy it with a bond issue, floated by the business community. Attract the tourist with a worthy museum on the ground floor. Turn the upper floors into high-grade professional offices. Tear down the ugly annex (a horrid symbol of the County's past short sightedness).

If the above program cannot be self-financing at the price San Rafael is being asked to pay the County, I would heartily suggest that the County take on some share of the burden of retaining this monument of the past, either by subsidizing the project for part of the deficit, or by reducing its asking price.

Gallinas Park Issue Has Contradictions

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Rumbles have been heard regarding the abolishment of the Gallinas Community Services District, consisting of approximately 470 homes in the northerly portion of Santa Venetia, governed by a board of five directors with full tax levying powers. Taxpayers of Marin may be interested in what they may inherit and why.

Protests of the majority of residents attending meetings of the board of directors have been ignored. Volunteers to help build a community hall have been refused on the basis that all work must be done by a licensed contractor hiring union help. Yet, the board passed these recommendations of their park consultant, Robert Tanem, who is not a licensee of the State Board of Landscape Architects.

Tucked away in one corner of the district, a mother's tennis court and toddler's lot, within toddling distance of few, but within toddling distance of the homes of all board members. The second park will be, according to a $300 artist's conception, a beautiful lawn and pine trees, fenced and padlocked at night. Estimated cost, $22,000. The third park, future questionable.

The public was informed that Tanem's planning was voluntary. However, he presented a bill of $1,200 at the board's last meeting, which they would not discuss. Mathematically, according to fee resolutions of their minutes, a second bill for $1,200 will be presented when bids are accepted and an additional 5 per cent of contracts when work is completed. Total fee, $3,500. The estimated maintenance for each park is $300 per month. Mr. Tanem has the present maintenance contract for our dividing strip. Who will benefit from this project?

President Johnson Is Winning Europe Support For Policies

LONDON—Throughout most of Western Europe, confidence in and support for U.S. policy are higher than at any time since President Kennedy's masterly handling of the Cuban missile crisis.

In the wake of this Soviet - U.S. confrontation in 1962, American prestige soared among all the Atlantic allies. European statesmen saw this as JFK's crucial test and when he handled it decisively, carefully, and successfully — without war — all Europe breathed a tremendous sigh of relief.

They have not had the same confidence in President Johnson.

But they are beginning to get it.

There are two reasons for this:

1. Mr. Johnson is disproving the premature cliche, that while he was deft and resourceful in domestic affairs, he was clumsy and heavy-handed in foreign affairs.

2. Several events over which the President had no direct control are taking shape in such a way as to show the validity of the course Mr. Johnson has been following and are improving the image of the U.S. in Europe.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S initiatives in five areas of foreign policy are winning him wider respect over here:

His tactful even-handedness in the India-Pakistan war and his subordinating of his own role to that of the U.N.

His creative proposal to join with the Soviets in destroying a substantial number of atomic bombs.

His patient negotiation of a new treaty with Panama granting Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

His evident eagerness to remove U.S. Marines from the Dominican Republic as soon as a stable regime emerges.

His measured use of power to defend South Vietnam without bringing Red China into the conflict.

THIS PATTERN OF U.S. policy has just brought cordial words from the London Sunday Telegraph, which especially praises the President for giving the United Nations a full chance to mediate the India-Pakistan war without Communist wrecking tactics.

'The Americans have won," the Telegraph said, "by suppressing favoritism toward Pakistan, by fingering instead of rattling the sabre against China, by using economic and financial pressure discreetly, and by working with the Russians through the United Nations."

The President's handling of foreign affairs, as seen in Western Europe, has also had some unearned dividends.

JOHNSON COULD not have foreseen that his repeated offer of a peaceful settlement in Vietnam would bring such bald disdain from Red China as to make Washington seem downright pacifist compared to Peking. It is now increasingly evident that it is not the U.S. which is blocking the way to the conference table.

The President's willingness to pursue a "parallel policy" with Moscow in the India-Pakistan conflict is warmly welcomed here.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Civil Rights People Ready To Grab

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Civil rights and other activists are busily getting ready to make the most for themselves of the new $1.78-billion anti-poverty program just authorized by Congress.

Envisioned in these unpublicized activist preparations is a wide range of "grass-roots" propaganda and politics-loaded activists—job training, vocational rehabilitation, employment counseling, job corps, welfare programs, consumer education, birth control, legal aid, neighborhood centers, domestic peace corps.

While the $1.78-billion anti-poverty budget is tagged as the principal source of funds for these ambitious promotional plans, it's not the only one. Various other beautifully endowed Great Society programs also will be tapped.

Virtually all of them are made-to-order for this.

A GRAPHIC ILLUSTRATION is the Delta Opportunity Corp., an outgrowth of a $1-4-million Head Start project for pre-school negro children in Mississippi. A private, non-profit organization with church and educational sponsorship, it contemplates seeking federal grants from the anti-poverty and other Great Society budgets.

For example, Delta, which has applied for a Mississippi state charter, proposes to ask for money to "bring running water and flush plumbing" to 10 Delta counties. These funds would come from the $55 million matching-grant program, under the Farmers Home Administration, to assist non-profit organizations to install water and sewer systems in areas of 5,500 or less.

ALSO ON THE Delta Corporation's aspiring agenda is going after funds from the Regional Development Act, with $3.5 billion in federal grants and loans over five years to aid economically depressed rural sections.

Masterminding the Delta Opportunity Corp. is the same group that conducted the $1.4-million child development (Head Start) project—irately assailed as a "staging ground" for freedom marches and other civil rights demonstrations.

DURING THE SENATE'S consideration of the $1.78-billion anti-poverty authorization bill, the following revealing discussion took place—without any effect on the final vote, which approved the legislation 46 to 22:

Sen. Frank Lausche, D-O: "Where was this rock-and-roll program?"

Senator Peter Dominick, R-Colo.: "In Chicago."

Lausche: "And it is a part of an economic opportunity program on which the taxpayers' money is being spent."

Dominick: "That is correct."

Lausche: "Where was the program in which taxpayers' money was spent to teach how weight can be reduced?"

Dominick: "That was in Ypsilante, Mich."

Lausche: "These programs now are part of the general laws."

Dominick: "That is correct. They are part of the so-called anti-poverty program. Also part of that program is a Head Start project in Indianapolis, Ind., with a $1,094,000 budget. Fully two-thirds of that budget is going for salaries of administrators, consultants, coordinators, teachers, office help, and other employes. And there is still another one from Gum Springs, Va. Citizens there are up in arms over a $74,000 anti-poverty budget, of which $56,722 is going for salaries of the staff."

FEDERAL RESERVE insiders are saying that longtime Chairman William McChesney Martin has been offered the presdency of one of the oldest and biggest banks in New York City.

George Romney has decided not to seek the seat of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., next year. Close friends of Romney have let National Republican Chairman Ray Bliss know that Romney has decided to seek re-lection.

Riverside Newspaperman Studies Workings Of Sausalito Schools

A man named Salditch with sleepy eyes came to our office on Mill Valley's Fleet Street the other day.

He said he works in the Sacramento bureau for the Riverside Press and is doing a story on the Sausalito School District's change in life.

Martin Salditch said that desegregation is a vital thing in Riverside and, to emphasize, said two weeks ago an old school used by Negroes and Mexicans in Riverside, was burned. The loss was six of eight classrooms plus the auditorium.

PEOPLE THERE have demonstrated with freedom schools, as Sausalito did, and public protests for desegregated, better schools.

Salditch said he had heard of Sasualito before but never Mill Valley. We told him we had heard of Riverside. He said he works in the State Capitol which he finds a lively place for a reporter and that, after Sasualito-Mill Valley, he goes next to Berkeley to write about schools there.

SAUSALITO SCHOOL District trustees patiently and dutifully plugged their way through a long agenda Monday night. Then, at about 11:30 p.m., after taking up one piece of business concerning a program for first graders where a 6-year-old could operate a movie making machine, the very able board president Dave Freedheim said:

"It is unfortunate we are so encumbered with business concerns of operating this $900,000 operation that we never get a chance to see these things (curriculum). If it takes special meetings I would recommend that we should come in and have these reports that we have now at the beginning rather than end of the meeting."

THREE MOTHERS also patient, also dutiful, applauded loudly, their few hand claps rocketing sounds off the ceiling and down to the highly polished wood floor.

Mill Valley gardener Bob Byrnes says he will be "dog-sitting" for a gardening customer for the next couple of weeks, a new task. Byrnes said the house he lives in on Dell Street was bought by his grandmother years ago for $100 in a district then called "Jagtown." Asked why the name, he said because that area then had three bars.

Waitress Bernie Brown at Meier's Bakery in Mill Valley got off an hour extra on Wednesday after a smoke fire.

"I can't breathe smoke," she said. "It's my asthma."

JESSICA LIPPITT thinks Alaska is real "boss." She is studing English, political science, European history, public speaking and Spanish at the University of Alaska near Fairbanks.

Impressed so far with the university, she writes her parents also of the countryside: "The moon is bigger than life . . . most shattering exprience so far was the first time I saw the Northern Lights—I couldn't speak for the rest of the night. Never before such eerieness, mystery . . . ."

Found in the handcrafts from Europe store in Sausalito were four scraps of paper, apparently a list of gifts to be purchased by small tykes. They read: "Robin, pepermint, cinamom." "Kathy, cinimon, pepermint;" "Lindy, root beer, cinamon (M);" and "Martha L. Raspberry, 2. blackberry." Good old cinamom.

And on Fleet Street the fever is on. James McElhinney walked into our office Wednesday. A building and maintenance man, he seemed very nosy until we realiized he carried a small radio in his chest pocket and was listening to the game. Asked for the score, he replied "three to nothing, St. Louis." Whaddayathink? we asked. "Looks bad," he answered.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Board's Caution Commended On Fair Officials' Pay Hikes

EACH WEEK there are so many items of concern to the tax paying citizens of our county, which merit thorough thought and discussion, that it is difficult to determine which to comment on. I was impressed by one article in the I-J, Wednesday: "Supervisors Balk At Fair Aides' Raises . . . and held up approval of the proposed fair budget for next year. Increases proposed by fair Mgr. Marcelle B. McCoy include boosts from $650 to $753 per month for herself," along with raises for a part-time secretary and an annual salary of $6,550 for the fair's designer, an increase from $4,550. Then from $1,500 to $2,000 for publicity director. Now this may seem of no concern to taxpayers because the funds come from pari-mutuel race track money. The point is that one never knows what amounts Sacramento will approve, with the inevitable result that deficits for operation would be requested from local taxes.

FUSSELMAN

THERE IS one situation that I find, on investigation, was not correctly presented to the supervisors by the administrator. This has to do with a proposed activity center for older adults at the Civic Center. This proposal would create an opportunity for seniors to perform services for others in a number of fields.

I hope that this will be completely explained and developed. It is a real worthwhile approach.

IN THE Sept. 3 column I listed many questions which should be answered before any hasty action is taken on better commute transportation. Therefore, we should all be delighted to have read the story in the I-J and in the city papers that the $85,000 study project by the Division of Bay Toll Crossings was scheduled to come up with a final report in May, 1967—and that the emphasis would be on "impartiality."

Undoubtedly many of you saw and heard E. R. Foley, division chief engineer, make the announcement on TV. I thought he was quite impressive. In this same connection, most interesting and fascinating was the proposal by the space scientist-engineer for a rapid transit plan which could be used for both Marin and Peninsula commuters—a tube system with compressed air propulsion. His statement of costs was most amazingly low as compared with any present concepts. This idea is certainly worth consideration during the study project.

It is good to see the thinking is moving into the professional field.

P.S. Just after typing this column, I heard over the radio that the President had signed a bill authorizing millions for federal aid to develop high-speed commute services in metropolitan areas.

Historic Collection For State

ORANGE HOUSE (AP) — A Yuba County family is giving the state an historic collection, including a wagon and trailer used to transport freight to Sierra gold mines.

The family of the late Joseph Wood, who died this month at 90, presented the collection of wagons and farm equipment to the state Division of Beaches and Parks.

Wood, a former wagon driver, stored the equipment on his ranch, near a once - thriving stage coach station 25 miles northeast of Marysville.

The collection includes eight wagons, a complete blacksmith shop, a cart used to break in horses and a wooden hay rake.

The Wood family was told the collection will be restored by the state agency to its original condition, where possible. The commission is deciding where to display the articles.

ART BUCHWALD

It Looks As If Representatives Are Fooling With A Hot Tamale

WASHINGTON — Last week the House of Representatives passed, overwhelmingly, a resolution calling for the use of force by any American nation, if necessary, to prevent a Communist takeover in any Western hemisphere country. The resolution, sponsored by Rep. Armistead I. Seldon Jr. of Alabama has produced a furor in Latin America and almost every country has denounced it. It also has caused new criticism of the United States - Latin American policy.

Despite this I am happy to report that the Republic of Enchilada is not only supporting the House of Representatives resolution, but is planning to act on it. It has never been a secret that Enchilada's arch enemy is Upper Tamale, which lies just across the vale of Chili.

FOR YEARS Enchilada and Upper Tamale have had a border dispute about the vale, and Enchilada has been looking for an excuse to attack Upper Tamale. But they have been held back by the OAS treaty which forbids one country in the Western hemisphere from attacking another.

As soon as the resolution was passed, Gen. El Finco, the president of Enchilada, called his parliament, which he had dissolved four months ago, back to session, and in an impassioned pro - United States speech said, "Thanks to the American House of Representatives, which has just passed a resolution saying any American republic can attack any other American republic if there is a question of a Communist government, I am suggesting we attack Upper Tamale immediately.

AS EVERYONE in Enchilada knows, Upper Tamale is lousy with Communists, and its leader, Gen. Frijoles, is nothing more than a Castro pawn who would enslave all of South America.

"It is the duty of Enchiladans to wipe out the forces of subversion in this hemisphere no matter where they might be and I am asking the United States through the Alliance for Progress to send us 200 B-52 bombers, 400 Patton tanks, and 1,000 Hawk missiles to see that this menace is eradicated, so all of South America may live in peace and freedom. I am also asking this parliament to pass unanimously a resolution thanking the American legislators for making this attack on Upper Tamale possible."

President El Finco not only got a standing ovation, but was carried out of the parliament building on the shoulders of his personal bodyguard. Only three students were killed during the demonstration.

BUT AT THE moment that Gen. El Finco was speaking in Enchilada, Gen. Frijoles was addressing his senate.

He told them, "I am happy to announce today that the mother of all freedom-loving countries in South America, our own Upper Tamale, is now prepared to strike a blow against communism in the vale of Chili. The leftist-dominated, Red-infiltrated subversive government of Enchilada must be taught a lesson once and for all. I hold here in my hand evidence that Gen. El Finco is the illegitimate son of Mao Tse-tung.

WE CAN NO longer sit idly by and see a Communist takeover of Enchilada. Our ambassador in Washington is now negotiating through the Alliance for Progress for 250 fighter planes, 100 nuclear submarines, and 350 tons of nauseous tear gas, which we will use to wipe Enchilada off the face of the earth."

The Upper Tamale senate passed a resolution in support of Gen. Frijoles. This made him so pleased he gave an amnesty to 5,000 members of the opposition political party who had been languishing in jail.

TO SHOW his gratitude to the United States House of Representatives, Gen. Frijoles ordered his students not to burn down a USIA library for 30 days.

So, while many South American countries may be critical of the Selden resolution, there are at least two Latin countries who are for it. There won't be a "commie government" safe in South America after this.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There Should Be A Law Against Unlucky Breaks In Two Suits

Any congressman who wants to be reelected should introduce a law to prohibit two suits from breaking badly in the same hand.

Something has to be done about this, or half the bridge players in the country will go broke.

Opening lead — ♡ K

South ruffed the second heart, drew three rounds of trumps and led out two top diamonds. East's heart discard was a shock.

Since South's trumps were all gone he could not ruff out the jack of diamonds and still get back to his hand for the rest of the suit.

TRIES FINESSE

He cashed the queen of diamonds to discard a spade from dummy and tried the spade finesse in the hope of limiting the spade loss to one trick.

No luck. The spades broke badly, and South was down one.

If you're not running for reelection you might point out that South's contract is cold against any break and that he doesn't need a law to protect him.

MUST FINESSE

South should draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy and then lead a diamond to finesse with the 10.

The contract is safe whether the finesse wins or loses.

If the finesse wins, South can take three more diamonds to discard two low spades from dummy. Then he leads spades, giving up one spade trick at most.

If the diamond finesse loses, South can take the spade return with dummy's ace and lead dummy's other diamond to run the rest of the suit.

South discards all of dummy's low spades on the diamonds, and ruffs his spade at the end nical about hands like this can't expect to get the bridge playing vote—unless he introduces an even better law—to abolish the number 1400.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ A Q J 6 4
♥ Q 7
◆ 5 3
♣ Q 10 9 5

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

The hand is not quite worth an opening bid, largely because the two unsupported queens are not really worth two points each.

If you changed the queen of hearts to a small heart and the queen of clubs to the ace of clubs, the point count would be unchanged, but the hand would then be worth an opening bid of one spade.

Hospitals Needed

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Government figures show that Nepal, with 1,157 hospital beds available at present, has only one bed for every 8,634 persons. A program is under way to alleviate the situation.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Oct. 1, the 274th day of 1965 with 91 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter; the morning star is Jupiter; the evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

American Novelist Faith Baldwin was born on this day in 1893.

On this day in history:

In 1903, the first baseball World Series got underway at Boston with the Boston American League team playing the National League team from Pittsburgh. Boston won.

In 1908, Henry Ford introduced the Model T Ford.

In 1938, German troops crossed into the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia.

In 1962, James H. Meredith Jr. became the first Negro to register at the University of Mississippi.

A thought for the day—Writer Anne Morrow Lindbergh said "One can never pay in gratitude; one can only pay 'in kind' somewhere else in life."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

1000 stations overnight. Gulf comes West in a big way!

Gulf service stations are now part of the Western landscape.

The Gulf Orange Disc, familiar to 35 million motorists in 33 Eastern and Midwest states, now identifies 1000 former stations of the Wilshire Oil Company. And things are different under the big orange and blue Gulf sign.

Gulf Gasolines are designed for the West.

Gulftane®—A lower priced gasoline for many older and economy cars.

Gulf Half & Half—Only Gulf has it. A Mid-Premium that fills the gap between Regular grade gasolines and Premium...for 8 out of 10 cars.

Gulf Premium No-Nox®—Full horsepower for high compression engines.

Gulfpride,® the world's finest motor oil, is now in stock, as are Gulf batteries and many other Gulf products. All can be charged on your Gulf national Travel Card—good, as well, for your expenses at Holiday Inns of America, Inc. throughout the U.S. and Canada.

For sure, Gulf didn't come West empty handed. They brought along a 64-year-old reputation for quality, service and leadership. Come in soon for a sample of that reputation.

Gulf®

Gulf Oil Corporation...One of the world's great oil companies

NEVER BEFORE
IN ROSS
Only once in its history does a property like this come on the market. Stately — gracious — formal — in a sunny setting among the trees. Seven bedrooms, 3½ baths, full dining room. Level ground with a children's playhouse in the back garden. It needs some remodeling but it's all wonderful quality to start with. Even the doors are solid hardwood. We have the keys at both our offices.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
BID #238—BAHIA VISTA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Notice is hereby given that the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael School District, State of California, will receive bids for the erection, construction and completion of a Library, Classrooms and Adjunct Facilities upon public school property at the East San Rafael Elementary School located southeast of the intersection of Canal and Napa Streets, San Rafael, Marin County, State of California, including all necessary labor, materials, services, and transportation. Each bid or proposal to be in accordance with plans, drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the office of the Superintendent of Schools for said School District, at the office in the Administration Building, E Street at 3rd Avenue, San Rafael, Marin County, California, where they can be examined and with Cantin and Associates, Architect, 690 Market Street, San Francisco, California, or 1196 Boulevard Way, Walnut Creek, California, and copies of same may be obtained by General Contractors from said Architect at either office upon deposit of twenty-five dollars ($25,00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids have been opened.

Bidders are hereby further notified that pursuant to the Statutes of State of California or local laws thereto applicable, it shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the general prevailing hourly wage rate and the rate per diem wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed, for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract awarded to the successful bidder. All bidders are hereby further notified that they must ascertain from the proper authorities the said wage rates before submitting their bid.

A schedule of the prevailing rates so determined has been approved by the City Board of Education of the said School District and filed with the Secretary of said Board in the offices of the San Rafael School District and said schedule is hereby referred to and by such reference incorporated herein and made a part hereof as fully as though set forth at length.

It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Bidders shall set forth in the bid the name and location of the mill, shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the Contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of said Superintendent or at the office of said Architect at the addresses hereinabove set forth; shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for not less than Thirty-five Thousand Dollars ($35,000.00), made payable to the order of the said San Rafael School District, shall be sealed and filed with the said Superintendent of Schools at his office on or before 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of the said day, and will be opened and publicly read aloud on Oct. 20, 1965 at or about 3:00 o'clock, P.M., of that day in the office of said Superintendent.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the said School Board.

Successful bidders on labor and material contract work will be required to furnish, in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price a Labor and Material Bond, and a Faithful Performance Bond in the amount of one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price; said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the School Board.

The School Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informality in a bid, or to award a contract on the basis of the proposal which serves the best interest of the School District.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Date Bids will be received: October 20, 1965.
Dated this September 29, 1965.
Signed: BERT C. CORONA
Clerk of the Board of Education San Rafael City Schools

Berkeleyans Pay Extra To Smoke

BERKELEY (UPI)—Berkeley smokers started paying two cents more a pack today in a tax hike the city hopes will net $236,000 by next July.

The tax was approved by the City Council several months ago.

Berkeley City Manager John Phillips said that Southern California cities with cigarette taxes have reported no big drop in sales.

Those who opposed the tax felt that surrounding cities would gain much of the Berkeley smoking trade.

Pensioner Eats Sharks Happily

VANCOUVER (AP) — Len Righton doesn't fit the usual picture of a man living in retirement.

He fishes for small sharks in Vancouver Harbor and fills his larder with about 200 a year.

"The meat's tasty and boneless," he says. "Sharks haven't a bone in their bodies, only cartilage in the head and spinal column. They're for more nourishing than cod."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Jack Ruby's Disease Results In Many Queries In The Mail

VAN DELLEN

Trial of Jack Ruby focused attention on psychomotor epilepsy. We received many letters from readers wanting to know more about this condition and how it differs from other forms of the disease and protesting the implication that a relationship exists between crime and this disorder.

Epilepsy is a paroxysmal condition precipitated by abnormal electrical discharges in the brain, leading to episodes in which the flow of consciousness is disturbed. Some victims develop convulsions (grand mal); others have momentary blackouts (petit mal). Psychomotor seizures are the third type. The individual is conscious during the attack, at which time he is compeled to perform purposeless acts that are sometimes foolish or harmful.

THESE INCLUDE twisting or writhing movements of the extremities or trunk, smacking movements of the lips, or incoherent speech. Some may walk aimlessly or drive a car for no apparent reason. Others pull off the clothes. The attacks may be of short duration, and the victim may carry out the same act each time or there may be variations.

Some persons develop bouts of temporary insanity lasting days or weeks. The mind is clouded, and the behavior follows an automatic pattern. On coming to, they do not remember what happened. It is here that the Ruby case enters the picture, because a misdemeanor, serious crime, or murder may be committed at this time.

THE BEHAVIOR of the epileptic differs from that of the criminal. The mind is too clouded to make it possible for him to plan a crime. He deals a sudden violent blow to anyone he picks up on the spot. His action is not premeditated, nor does he use a weapon that he carries for this purpose. His crimes are pointless, without motive, and with no planning. In addition, the individual's abnormal mental condition during the seizure usually is quickly detected and he can be institutionalized before he harms himself or someone else.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

THEORETICAL

E. Z. writes: Can overeating bring on a second heart attack?

REPLY

This concept is a theory left over from the days when most heart attacks were called "acute indigestion." The usual cause is blockage of a coronary artery. On the other hand, overeating, overexertion, fatigue, and tenseness may contribute by hastening the process.

ACHY MUSCLES

A reader writes: What causes the achy tiredness in my muscles (legs and arms)? This is especially troublesome on damp days?

REPLY

This question is easy to answer if the reader is over 50 years of age. Aching is associated with muscle strain, rheumatism, toxicity, and fatigue.

HARD LUCK

G. H. writes: I have read many articles on how to like living alone but my problem is how to live with a neurotic and like it. After 20 years I'm at my wit's end.

REPLY

Grin and bear it. After 20 years it is too late to send him back to mother.

EAT MEAT

G. S. writes: Should a person with low blood pressure eat meat?

REPLY

Yes. Meat will help improve the sense of well-being, if nothing else.

Radical New Design Slated For Hotel

ESSEN, West Germany — A 311-foot tower hotel, to be a major architectural attraction, is going up in this West German City. The hotel was designed by 34-year-old Horst-Peter Dollinger, of Stuttgart.

Dollinger already has been dubbed "Germany's Le Corbusier."

The hotel is based on a modification of Dollinger's design for apartments which look like trees. It was that idea which earned the architect his first international acclaim.

The pillar portion of the hotel in Essen is to house an elevator constructed of steel, light metal and synthetic materials. The pillar supports 28 branching cabins, each containing two singles and two double-bed accommodations—168 beds in all.

A similar hotel by Dollinger is also scheduled for construction in West Berlin. And the architect has received offers for tower hotels from Stuttgart, South Africa, Lugano, Switzerland, and the U.S.

Meanwhile, Dollinger has been asked to go to work on an unfinished sketch by Le Corbusier of a museum. The skeleton drawing was drawn by the great Swiss architect shortly before his recent death.

Realtors Repeat Stand On Laws

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Real Estate Assn. (CREA) today stands officially opposed to "government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell real estate."

As it closed out its annual convention, delegates approved a statement of policy yesterday submitted by the resolutions committee which asserted:

"The association will at all times use its resources and efforts to defend and preserve the constitutional right of every person in the United States to acquire, to occupy and to dispose of real estate without government dictation as to who shall buy, occupy or sell, and to oppose the enactment of laws at any level directed at the curtailment of these inherent rights."

Medicare Boss Talks To Doctors

CHICAGO (AP) — John W. Gardner, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, told the nation's doctors today he assumes they will participate fully in the new Medicare program.

Gardner spoke at a national orientation conference of the AMA on the medicare law that was enacted in July.

Gardner's address came on the eve of a meeting of the policy-making American Medical AMA on the Medicare law that Assn. House of Delegates to take a new look at the AMA's stand on the new law.

Secret Service Gets New Power Of Arrest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said yesterday President Johnson had signed into law a bill to permit Secret Service agents to make on-the-spot arrests in certain circumstances without a warrant.

This makes the Secret Service authority comparable to that of FBI agents and federal marshals. Previously, the Secret Service had no authority to arrest persons without a warrant, even if they appeared to be a threat to the president.

Hungry Suspect?

LUDHIANA, India (AP) — An accused embezzler on trial here snatched a document from a witness, chewed it quickly and swallowed. The judge then added another charge—theft of a document.

Kentfield Studies Fire Truck Plan

The Kentfield Fire District commission last night reviewed drawing plans of the $13,000 fire truck it contracted in June to buy from Van Pelt Fire Apparatus in Oakdale.

Fire Chief Kenneth Kamp said the plans will be further reviewed before the commission decides to accept them or ask for revisions. The truck will be custom built.

Commissioner Arthur L. Poganski was absent.

Oliver Wendell Holmes described the Supreme Court of the United States in 1913 by saying, "We are very quiet there, but it is the quiet of a storm center."

MARIN FILM FARE

Second, Better Version Of Harlow's Life Shown

By LES DARD

Take heed, moviegoers. The choice between the many good films at Marin area theaters this weekend will not be an easy one.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

One of Hollywood's brightest stars—the platinum blonde sex symbol of the thirties—is brought to life in Joseph E. Levine's production of "Harlow," story of the late Jean Harlow's tempestous, controversial life.

This is the second filming of her story in the last few months, and is by far the better entry.

Playing the role is one of today's young sex symbols—they are a more numerous breed now—Caroll Baker.

Surrounding the centerpiece is a big cast, including Red Buttons as her hard-driving agent, Arthur Landau, and Peter Lawford as her tragic husband, Paul Bern. Angela Lansbury plays her mother, Mama Jean, and Raf Vallone, her stepfather.

Besides seeing Miss Harlow's life, we get a vivid picture of off - screen Hollywood in the Thirties.

Fine adult escapism.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Jules Dassin's "He Who Must Die," is now showing. It is the English dubbed version of the film seen here several years ago.

Dassin's wife, Melina Mercouri stars along with Jean Servais.

The scene is a village in Crete during Turkish domination. It is time for the traditional enactment of the Passion Play. Blessed and absolved of sins, the players find inspiration in their roles.

Their test comes when survivors of a village destroyed by the Turks come seeking help.

Jean-Paul Belmondo stars in the co-feature: "That Man From Rio."

101 DRIVE-IN

"Zorba, the Greek," is an extraordinary film achievement with moments both savage and tender. Anthony Quinn in the title role was considered by many the outstanding actor of 1964.

What one man learns from the other gives the film its major message.

PLAYHOUSE TIBURON

"In Harm's Way," stunning U.S. Navy adventure in World War II, is now playing.

Principals are hard - bitten career man Capt. John Wayne, his maverick second - in - command, Kirk Douglas, and a warmhearted nurse, Patricia Neal.

RAFAEL THEATER

George Peppard and Tom Coutenay take major roles in "Operation Crossbow."

In the tradition of "Guns of Navarone," this one maintains a high level of suspense throughout and builds up to a tremendous physical climax.

Under the orders of Winston Churchill (Patrick Wymark) and a committee of top military minds like Trevor Howard and John Mills, several young men with fluency in German and a technical background are sent to infiltrate an underground plant where the "New York Rocket" is being assembled. This is the one phase of German rocket experimenting in which the Allies are completely in the dark.

The Germans in this film are not clumsy fools, but dedicated, hard-working human beings. We watch them develop their buzz-bombs and V-2s and are almost happy when they complete the job. Of course, in the end, they are again The Enemy, and deserve all that our bombers can dish out.

NOVATO THEATER

Action, action, action is the byword for "The Sons of Katie Elder," a new breed of Western starting Sunday which should appeal to women as well as men.

When Katie Elder dies, the four bums who are her sons decide it's time to straighten out and make Mama, up there, proud of them. Dean Martin and John Wayne are two of the sons, and Martha Hyer provides romantic interest.

The co-feature is "The Family Jewels," Jerry Lewis's latest, in which he plays a number of roles in his usual hilarious fashion.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"The Yellow Rolls - Royce," three tales of love, infidelity and adventure is now playing.

A splendidly produced, exciting war picture in the BIG movie tradition.

The co-feature is "The Amorous Adventures of Moll Flanders."

LARK THEATER and MOTOR MOVIES

Now on screen at both theaters is the third James Bond film "Goldfinger," starring Sean Connery, of course, and featuring a bevy of beauties including Honor Blackman, Shirley Eaton and Tania Miller.

You can't really call yourself a thriller fan if you've missed this one.

A Country Club Gone West

This is history and you can live in the middle of it. Overlooking the Valley of the Moon, this is one of the most beautiful landscapes in Northern California. The first people to live here were the Poma Indians. Later it was part of the holdings of General Vallejo. Today's owners have turned it into a most unusual land development—Diamond A Ranch Estates.

The landscape, with its streams, waterfalls, wild grass, and oak trees, has been left intact. No sidewalks, no street lights, no cramped crowding of house upon house. The land has been divided into parcels of 1½ to 2½ acres. Only one house may be built on a plot. You choose your own architect and contractor. Diamond A sells space. There is room to be alone here.

But Diamond A Ranch Estates is a community in the true sense of the word. Recreation facilities are being built to include stables, tennis courts, swimming pool. A country club gone west.

Close to the delightful town of Sonoma, and only 30 minutes from San Rafael, Diamond A Ranch Estates is a shrewd investor's dream, with homesites priced from $9,300.
